"Growers from our area testified that wheat and barley scab has robbed Minnesota of well over $1.2 billion through reduced yields over the past four years. University scientists say that progress is being made toward scab-resistant varieties of wheat and barley, and that the funding will help speed research along."

Sen. Stumpf also authored a bill to provide $100,000 over the next two years to the U of M for a spring wheat breeder position. Again, the significant loss of yield impressed the legislators to step up research for scab-resistant varieties of wheat.

For the first time the Legislature provided $100,000 to the university for research in canola production. This is an important cash crop in Canada and is responsible for a great deal of that country's agricultural exports—including sales to the U.S. The United States produces less than a quarter of the canola oil used here and the market is growing in this nation and other countries.

Because canola doesn't require additional equipment that a wheat grower doesn't already have, it is being touted as a good rotational crop for wheat. Early reports from growers indicate that it might even help slow down wheat blight in fields where canola was grown the previous year. The research being done to make this crop even more suited to Minnesota will provide more detailed answers.

A bill that Sen. Stumpf authored to fund research for making paper from wheat and barley straw failed to gain passage. Wheat and barley grower organizations are looking at ways to use their crops to make new "value-added" products and keep profits closer to the communities where the crops are grown.

"Although the bill didn't receive funding this year," the senator said, "several legislators showed interest and the grower organizations are pursuing other funding sources. With a great deal of help from wheat and barley grower associations, I am continuing to look into the exciting possibilities of wheat and barley straw paper."

"One issue that I have heard a great deal of complaint about is the state's restrictive individual sewage treatment system (ISTS) regulations," he added. "Over the past few years, the state Pollution Control Agency (PCA) has tried to put a 'one-size-fits-all' solution on sewage treatment systems throughout the state. Unfortunately, the 'one-size' doesn't work too well for us in northwest Minnesota where the water table is higher than most other parts of the state."

This was the year in which the PCA was to make its recommendations for major ISTS policy changes to the Legislature. A group of legislators primarily from greater Minnesota worked to make sure rural concerns would be reflected in state law. Several county officials from this area were very involved in the bill hearing process and had an important impact on the final outcome of the bill.

"The final bill should go a long way toward making ISTS laws work better in our area," Stumpf said. "Counties will now adopt their own ISTS ordinances which reflect state guidelines, and will have more opportunities to opt out of state rules when local conditions make conformance difficult or inappropriate. For my part, I served on the conference committee that ironed out the differences between the House and Senate versions of the bill."

"ISTS is one of those areas of policy that probably isn't too exciting to most people, unless you've been required to spend tens of thousands of dollars to conform to an excessive law. Then, you might be excited! The changes we made this year should provide important safeguards to groundwater without making landowners break their budgets."

Persons with questions or comments about these or any other state law changes are invited to write Sen. Stumpf at G-24 Capitol Building, 75 Constitution Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55155-1606 or call 612-296-8660.

Number of farms in MN is the same as in 1996

Number of farms in Minnesota in 1997 is unchanged from last year at 87,000, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Service. The number has remained constant since 1995 when it climbed to 87,000 from a seven-year decline to a low of 85,000 in 1984.

Total farmland in Minnesota at 29.8 million acres is also unchanged from last year. Average farm size is 343 acres.

Farms by sales groups in Minnesota showed farm numbers in the $1,000 to $9,999 group at 33,000—up 2,000 from 1996, and numbers in the $10,000 to $99,999 group at 31,000—down by 2,000.

Farm numbers in the $100,000 and over sales group remained the same at 23,000.

Number of farms in the United States in 1997 is estimated at 2.06 million, down less than one percent from last year. Total land in farms of 968 million acres is also down less than one percent and the average farm size at 470 acres remains unchanged.

Greatest decreases in farm numbers were in the South and in the North Central Regions, each down 0.4 percent. The West region had the greatest increase in farm numbers at 0.7 percent.

Nationally the number of farms with sales between $1,000 and $9,999 increased to 1,032,510 from 1,021,110 in 1996. Those with sales from $10,000 to $99,999 decreased to 678,500 from 705,100 and the $100,000 and over group increased by 10,000 to 347,900.

Marshall-Beltrami SWCD receives grant funding

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) has received almost $5,000 in funding for the 1997-98 fiscal year for the State Cost-share program.

This money is to help get conservation practices applied on the land. Cost-share assistance applications are taken on a first-come first-served basis and we already have a list of interested landowners. The program is open to individuals, groups, or units of government. Maximum cost-share rate is 75 percent in high priority areas.

Approved practices include: erosion control structures, strip cropping, diversions, storm water control systems, field windbreaks, animal waste control systems, and critical area stabilization.

Additionally the SWCD is waiting for the State Board of Water and Soil Resources to approve funding of farmstead windbreaks as was made available in the last legislative session. This could be a big help during the change from ACP practices to the EQIP program in the Farm Services Agency and the uncertainty of federal funding.

Special cost-share funding is still available for anyone who had flood related damages. To find out if a project fits this category, contact the SWCD office as soon as possible.

Another change this year is that for any slippage on projects or cancellations, the money will remain in Area 1 instead of being returned to the state. This gives the SWCD the opportunity to receive roll-over funds without competing for them on a state-wide basis.

Dry conditions ideal for cyst nematode damage

Dry conditions in portions of the Midwest have left soybean fields more vulnerable to soybean cyst nematode attacks, reports Bruce Burger Novartis Seeds agronomist for Iowa. If conditions are right, the parasitic roundworm can reduce yields on infested fields as much as 80 percent.

The nematode, which feeds on soybean roots, does its worst damage when plants are stressed for water. As the pest searches for nutrients, it penetrates inner root tissues, obstructing the soybean's water and nutrient transport system. As a result, the plant is more susceptible to drought stress and plant diseases.

Growers often mistake above-ground systems of nematode infestations for damage from compaction, iron deficiency chlorosis, nutrient deficiencies, drought stress, herbicide injury or plant diseases. According to Burger, the only way growers can accurately diagnose nematode damage in the field is to observe the adult females and egg-containing cysts on plant roots. The pinhead sized cysts appear as tiny lemon-shaped objects and are much smaller than the nitrogen nodules also found on soybean roots.

Once present in the soil, Burger says growers may never completely eliminate the pest. However, producers can manage nematode populations to reduce soybean yield loss. Rotating to non-host crops such as corn, oat and alfalfa is one way to reduce nematode numbers. Some researchers now suspect crops such as peas may actually promote nematode egg hatch, further lowering pest populations.

Another nematode management tool is planting resistant soybean varieties. When growers uses resistant soybeans, nematode populations usually decline because the juveniles are unable to feed on the resistant plants' roots. However, in any naturally infested field, a few nematodes may survive and reproduce. As a result, Burger advises producers to use resistant varieties in conjunction with long-term crop rotation systems.

Waste pesticides collected exceed 1 million pounds

The total amount of waste pesticides collected for safe disposal by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture's Waste Pesticide Collection Program exceeds 1 million pounds.

"The program's goal is removing old and unusable pesticides from our state," said MDA Commissioner Gene Hugoson. "Collecting and destroying these toxic products eliminates any possibility they would end up in a landfill or our ground water."

Waste pesticide collection begin in 1990. Participants typically deliver unwanted pesticides to drop-off sites temporarily set up to accept the unusuable waste. More than 200 drop-off sites have been arranged in the seven years the program has operated, several in many counties, but at least one in every Minnesota county.

Statewide waste pesticide amounts collected by the MDA have surpassed 1 million pounds:

- 114,000 pounds from seven metropolitan area counties,
- 76,000 pounds from eight northeast counties,
- 196,000 pounds from 14 northwest counties;
- 145,000 pounds from 9 west central counties;
- 127,000 pounds from 14 east central counties;
- 168,000 pounds from 17 southwest counties;
- 189,000 pounds from 18 southeast counties.

The program is funded by pesticide registration fees paid by manufacturers selling pesticides in Minnesota. All collected pesticides get special handling and are eventually destroyed at a hazardous waste incinerator.

Grant dollars available for dairy teams

Commissioner Gene Hugoson of the Minnesota Department of Agriculture has announced the availability of $870,000 in grant dollars for dairy diagnostic teams. The funding, appropriated in the 1997 Legislative session, is to be used for educational delivery teams to work with dairy farmers to increase their profitability and sustainability.

"This is exciting news for our dairy farmers," Commissioner Hugoson said. "Minnesota dairy farmers have been struggling due to milk pricing issues and the opportunity for some of those farmers to become more efficient through the assistance of a diagnostic team will undoubtedly help keep some of them in business."

Minnesota currently is losing an average of two dairy farms a day and has lost over 2,000 farms since 1995. In the same time period 10,000 cows have been lost with the average size of dairy farms in Minnesota increasing from 51 to 57 cows.

"The dairy industry is the backbone of the state's agricultural industry," Hugoson sated. "We need to make sure our farmers have the opportunity to succeed in this highly competitive industry — thereby maintaining the important processing infrastructure we have in Minnesota.

Applicant programs must consist of farm business management instructors, dairy extension specialists and dairy industry partners. The purpose is to establish educational delivery teams to provide appropriate technologies including rotational grazing and other sustainable agriculture methods applicable to small and medium-sized dairy farms throughout the dairy-producing regions of the state. The services must be delivered at minimal or no cost to the farmer.

Interested parties are encouraged to contact Amy Janke at the Minnesota Department of Agriculture for a grant application at 612-296-2880.

Combining swaths of grain cut three days earlier was no problem on the Ev Ault farm southwest of Thief River Falls Thursday. The wheat tested 12.1 percent moisture and was considered to be of fair quality although the yield was low. Ault said the harvest has been the driest in years so far and the grain threshes easily and can be stored without additional drying. Small grain crops in the area vary widely in quality and yield but have been generally fair to poor. Later seeded crops are expected to be in even poorer condition, according to Pennington county extension educator Howard Person, who predicts that yields and quality will get worse as the harvest progresses.

Fact sheets help Ag producers evaluate CRP options

Landowners whose CRP contracts are expiring may be interested in the Minnesota CRP Information Series, a set of 12 fact sheets produced by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture to help producers evaluate a number of post CRP management options and issues.

About 900,000 acres will be released from CRP in Minnesota this fall. The CRP Information Series focuses on alternatives to returning CRP land to row crop production. Producers whose CRP land is highly erodible, in particular, may want to consider alternatives that allow them to keep the land in grass. Other themes in the series include evaluating the condition of CRP land for future uses, leasing the land, and producing renewable energy.

Minnesota Department of Agriculture Commissioner Gene Hugoson encourages farmers to consider the options that are available for fragile lands. "We hope farmers will read this material and seriously consider these alternatives to row crop production," said Hugoson. "Even if they are not planted with row crops, these lands can still have productive uses and economic value."

Individual titles in the Minnesota CRP Information Series include: Renovating for Forage Production, Controlled Grazing, Harvesting Hay and Silage, Energy for Biomass, Harvesting the Wind, Converting to Organic Production, Persistence of Planted Forages, Weeds and Pocket Gophers, Basic Considerations for Leasing Post-CRP Land, Maintaining Conservation Benefits on Leased Land, Selected a Lease Type, and Recreational Leases.

The fact sheets in the Minnesota CRP Information Series were written by authors from several different organizations. The series was produced by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture with funding provided by the Minnesota Legislature as recommended by the Legislative Commission on Minnesota Resources.

The fact sheets will be available separately or as a set from the Minnesota Department of Agriculture and the University of Minnesota Extension Service. A flyer that describes each of the fact sheets is also available. To order copies or for more information, contact Barbara Weisman, Sustainable Agriculture Program, Minnesota Department of Agriculture, 90 West Plato Blvd., St. Paul MN 55107, 612-282-6831 or 612-296-7673.

USDA Under Secretary to visit Valley

Miley Gonzalez, U.S. department of agriculture under secretary for research, education and economies, will visit the northern Red River Valley September 4 and 5 for a first hand look at how fusarium head blight, or scab, is affecting the region's wheat and barley crops.

Gonzalez, who will be accompanied by senior administration officials from the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, will survey the wheat and barley harvest, inspect scab in the field and see how growers are managing the effects of the disease. Current research efforts (state and federal) to combat the disease will be discussed during the tour. There will be a stop at a country grain elevator to evaluate the effects of scab and vomitoxin on grain handling and marketing.

Gonzalez will visit the ND Mill in Grand Forks, where vomitoxin testing, and scab's effects on durum wheat and grain processing will be discussed. Leaders of wheat and barley commodity groups, crop scientists and research officials, and agri-business leaders will also meet with the under secretary, to discuss how the federal government may assist in solving the scab problem.

"This is the fifth straight year the Valley has been socked with scab, and this year may be the worst since 1993, when scab in the Northern Plains caused $1 billion in losses," says Tim Dufault, president of the Minnesota Association of wheat Growers, who extended the invitation to Gonzalez to visit the Valley region during harvest.

"It is not hyperbole when we say that this disease threatens to destroy the small grains production sectors in our region. This disease is deserving of high-level USDA attention," says Dufault.

Gonzalez was appointed under secretary for research, education and economies earlier this month, replacing Catherine Woteki, who became the first under secretary for food safety. Prior to his USDA post, Gonzalez served as associate dean and director for academic programs at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at New Mexico State University.

MN Board of Animal Health holds meeting

Minnesota Board of Animal Health is holding its fall meeting at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, September 19, at the USDA, ARS, North Central Soil Conservation Research Lab, 803 Iowa Avenue, Morris, MN.

Among the items the board will be considering will be a discussion on funding for an educational and testing program for Johne's disease in cattle in Minnesota.

The board will also discuss a request for consideration of the use of a movement certificate in place of a certificate of veterinary inspection for swine entering Minnesota.

The Board of Animal Health is the state agency responsible for administering disease control and eradication programs in livestock.

The public is invited to attend and participate in this meeting.

Applications for sustainable farming grants available

Minnesota Department of Agriculture (MDA) is now accepting applications for grants from Minnesota farmers, researchers and educators who have innovative ideas for sustainable farming systems. The MDA's Sustainable Agriculture Program has $210,000 to award to grant projects during this fiscal year. New this year, previous grant recipients who have completed projects are now eligible to apply for funding to continue their projects or try new ideas.

Minnesota Department of Agriculture Commissioner Gene Hugoson said, "The Department's grant program has a national reputation for quality and results. These grants encourage farmers and their advisors to try creative options that are critical to the future well being of the agricultural economy, the environment and rural communities. Insights gained are shared with the whole community because each grant recipient holds field days to demonstrate and discuss what was learned."

Funding up to $25,000 is available for three-year projects that benefit the environment, increase farm net profits and improve farm family quality of life. Successful grant projects in the past have included rotational grazing systems, Swedish-style deep litter bedding of hogs, weed control, alternative fertilizers, strip cropping, processing and direct marketing strategies, tillage comparisons, composting, cover crop and more. Groups of farmers have the option to apply to use the first year of a three-year project to engage in the intensive planning and goal development needed for complex, multi-participant projects. Implementation of on-farm research and demonstration activities would take place based on and following this planning phase.

One hundred thirty-two grants have been awarded to projects throughout the state since 1989. A farm family in Chisago County is experimenting with a hoop house hog facility. They are studying the odor reduction, economics, feed conversion and energy savings of this deep litter system compared to their modern confinement system.

Several projects are looking for ways to improve forage quantity and quality. A farmer in Aitkin County is testing the surface application of four liming materials to hay fields and pastures. Russ Mathison from the North Central Experiment Station in partnership with the Itasca County SWCD is testing three different forage mixtures for persistence and quality under intensive rotational grazing conditions in northeast Minnesota.

Projects must be conducted on farms in Minnesota. Joint applications for watershed projects or from farmer groups are encouraged. Matching funds may increase the level of funding available for multi-participant projects.

Applications are available now and completed applications must be received at MDA by 4:30 CST on Monday, December 15. An independent panel of farmers and agricultural specialists will review applications. Applications and more information are available from the Minnesota Department of Agriculture by contacting Wayne Monsen, Grant and Loan Program coordinator, Sustainable Agriculture Program, MDA, 90 W. Plato Blvd., St. Paul, MN 55107, (612) 282-2261.

Mooney, Prowlers winners in season opener at Old Mill

A 1-2 finish by Becky Mooney and Amber Klinker led the Thief River Falls girls to a 1997 season-opening win at the Warren-Alvarado-Oslo Invitational high school cross country meet.

There were just three schools fielding complete girls teams and four with complete boys teams that ran the trails at Old Mill State Park.

Thief River Falls girls wound up with 50 points, followed by Tri-County with 58 and Warroad 86.

Warroad boys won with a 20-point day, followed by Crookston with 62, Tri-County 66, and Thief River Falls 95.

"We did okay," reported first-year Thief River Falls head coach Terri Ueland. "The girls did a good job. We've got some work to do with the boys, but they have a lot of new runners who are just finding out what the sport is really like."

The Prowlers will run in the Roseau Invitational Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

Varsity Girls

Andrea Olin was a winner in the 200 freestyle Tuesday as the Thief River Falls girls hosted Bagley/Fosston in their 1997 high school swimming opener at the Franklin Middle School pool. The Prowlers won the dual 112-56.

TRF beats EGF 5-3 in girls tennis dual

Straight-set sweeps at all three doubles carried Thief River Falls past host East Grand Forks 5-3 Tuesday in girls high school tennis.

It was the second win in as many duals for the Prowlers, who have also competed in a pair of early-season invitational meets.

Katie Harbott-Lesley Ihle, Beth Padilla-Heather Hanson and Becca Leach-Jenni Gonsorowski formed the Prowlers' winning doubles combinations. They also picked up singles victories by Beth Goddard at No. 1 and Eeva Young at No. 3.

TRF 5, EGF 2

■ Singles - 1. Beth Goddard (TRF) def. Laura Smette 6-4, 7-6. 2. Heather Johnson (EGF) def. Toni LaMoine 6-2, 6-0. 3. Eeva Young (TRF) def. Katie Junkert 6-2, 6-1. 4. Gina Hussy (EGF) def. Jen Kimball 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

TRF JV 5, EGF JV 1

■ Doubles - (TRF results) Dede Gally-Kim Kirkeide won 6-0, 6-1. Heidi Young-Karen Christensen won 6-0, 6-1. Kara Skiple-Katie Liden won 6-2, 7-6 (6-6). Carissa Hendrickson-Nicole Wiseth won 7-5, 6-2. Jamilya Ismailova-Kyle McFarlane lost 4-6, 7-6. Kim Schneider-Heidi Young won 6-3, 6-2.

RLCC fielding veteran 1997 volleyball squad

A veteran Red Lake County Central team looks to match last year's success when the Mustangs open the 1997 high school volleyball season Tuesday against at Kittson County North.

A year ago a 22-9 finish for the Oklee/Plummer cooperative included a Sub-Section 31A title and a third place showing in the Section 8A tournament.

Reason for optimism is the presence of nine seniors, most of them key contributors to last year's success.

"We should be as strong, or stronger than last year," predicted Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray.

Led by Angie Chervestad, Jenny Brekkestran and Jenni Mortnville, the Mustangs have an impressive line-up of hitters. Frances Hilgeman will be the setter.

"We've got some big hitters," acknowledged Bray. "If we can pass, we should be okay."

MCC football builds on '96 improvement

Improvement in the won-loss column a year ago gives Marshall County Central a building block on which to start the 1997 high school football season, according to head coach Kent Warne.

The Nordics, after 1-7, 0-8, 1-7, and 0-7 finishes the previous five seasons, came up with a 2-5 showing in 1996, which included a 32-16 Section 4 loss to unbeaten Nine-Man power Norman County East.

"Hopefully we can build on last year," said Warne, who is in his sixth year as the Nordics' coach. "We hope to be competitive."

But it won't be an easy task. "We're a lot smaller and we don't have a lot of experience in the line," explained Warne.

The backfield, however, is solid, with seniors Garrett Magner (5-9, 200) and Matt Nelson (5-10, 160), along with sophomore 5-10, 170 Bjorn Halvorson (5-10, 170) all returning. Senior Dayton Elseth (5-9, 165), who sat out last year because of an injury, returns to the program this fall and will quarterback the Nordics.

Magner and Halvorson are also key players on defense at linebacker, and Nelson heads the Nordics' secondary. Junior Eric Moose (5-10, 160) is one of the leaders in the offensive and defensive lines.

Wolverines figure they have competitive team

Wolverines Figure

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke went from a 4-15 record in 1995 to 12-10 last fall under first-year head high school volleyball coach Jean Schulz. While the improvement might not be quite as dramatic this time, Schulz nevertheless looks for the Wolverines' climb to continue.

"We hope to improve our record from last year when we were third in the (North Border) conference," said Schulz. "I think we'll be competitive. We've got some pretty strong kids who should be pretty good hitters."

Senior Kristin Halvorson has the ability to light things up with her hitting, and has a support group with players like juniors Dana Wiseth and Jaci Watne.

Wiseth is a solid all-round player who will also be called on to do some setting, along with seniors Jenny Nelson and Lori Hagen, plus junior Abby Schuler.

"The talent (on the team) is pretty even," noted Schulz, who is working hard in practice to improve upon the Wolverines' quickness.

New coach leads Gators volleyball program this fall

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River has its fourth head volleyball coach in as many years this fall with Christine Adrian taking over the duties.

Gwen Borgen completed a 16-year career as a head coach in 1994. Christi Anderson (1995) and Mark Quennette (1996) both had just one-year reigns as the Gators' head coach.

Adrian, a Roseau native, taught and coached at the younger level in Park Rapids last year. She has coached in the Roseau Junior Olympic program the past five years.

She takes over a team that was 9-17 a year ago.

Top returning players off that team are seniors Stephanie Sparby, Tiffany Hagen and Kristen Wollin, along with junior Kelsey Foldesi.

Sparby is the team's setters. Hagen, Wollin and Foldesi are all strong hitters.

"I really don't know what the rest of the teams in the area are like, but I think we should be competitive," said Adrian.

TRF sophomores win season opener 20-14

Thief River Falls jumped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead, fell behind 20-14 in the third quarter, but came back for a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns to beat Crookston 28-20 Thursday in a season-opening sophomore football game.

Wade Haviland scored on a 21-yard run and Nick Drees scored from one yard out for the Thief River Falls first quarter touchdowns. Drees scored both final-quarter touchdowns on runs of 16 and 55 yards. He also had a pair of two-point conversions.

Thief River Falls sophomores play host to East Grand Forks Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Thief River Falls swimmers open with 112-56 win...

Prowlers have strong debut

Surprising even the coaching staff, the Thief River Falls girls turned in some eye-opening times Tuesday while beating Bagley/Fosston 112-56 in a season-opening high school swimming dual at the Franklin Middle School pool.

"Our goal for the meet," explained Brian Olson, who is coaching the team, along with Shon Thompson, "was to come up with five sectional qualifiers. Instead, we qualified kids in every event. We did not expect that. It was phenomenal. We're always setting goals for the kids, but we can't keep up with them the way they're swimming right now."

The final point spread was a surprise, too, according to Olson. "We didn't expect to score like that," he said. "It was a lot closer meet than the score might indicate. They (Bagley/Fosston) kept the pressure on. They were close in almost every race. They pushed us."

Young Nordics face challenge

■ MCC volleyball team has just two seniors

Mark Jorgenson thought 1996 was going to be his final year as Marshall County Central head high school volleyball coach. Think again. School officials persuaded him to return for a ninth year this fall.

It'll be another challenging season for the Nordics, whose once powerful program slipped to 3-23 last year.

"We're pretty young and inexperienced," pointed out Jorgenson. "There's going to be a lot of on-the-job training."

Only returning starter is senior Miki Waterworth. Senior Katie Kilen and sophomore Kristi Kilen have some varsity experience.

Sophomores Holly Augustine, Tiffany Bring and Mandi Blawat lead the list of varsity newcomers.

"We're going to try to weather the storm," offered Jorgenson. "Our biggest problem at the start will probably be serve receiving. The younger kids just aren't used to to the speed and the power at this level."

The Nordics host Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke in their 197 opener Tuesday.

Prowlers open 1997 volleyball schedule against Crookston

Thief River Falls will open its 1997 high school volleyball season Tuesday at home against Crookston. Junior varsity match starts at 6 p.m., with the varsity match to follow – at approximately 7:30.

The Prowlers, led by first-year co-head coaches Amy Roche and Bruce Jean, will be on the road Thursday with a match at Stephen-Argyle.

Thief River Falls hosted preseason jamborees Wednesday and Friday. The Prowlers have three returning starters in senior Desirae Alberg and juniors Taya Hunt and Lindsay Drury, along with two other returning letter winners - senior Holly Bjorgaard and junior Laura Follett.

LHS freshmen down Grand Forks Central in '97 football opener

Justin Skjerven threw three touchdown passes Thursday as the Lincoln High School freshmen opened their 1997 football season with a 34-8 win over Grand Forks Central.

Ben Myers caught touchdown passes of 10 and 5 yards, and Nate Sorvig hauled in a 20-yard toss.

Thief River Falls also scored on runs of 60 yards by Paul Leister and 30 yards by Brian Loe, along with conversion runs by Loe and Josh Gryskiewicz.

The winners had quarter leads of 8-0, 22-0 and 34-0.

Mustangs make big plays, win by 54-28

Defense and special teams played a major role in the outcome Thursday as Red Lake County Central overwhelmed Tri-County 54-28 in season-opening high school football at Plummer.

It was a successful return to Nine-Man football for the Mustangs after struggling the past four years in Class C, which included a winless 1996 season.

"It was a great start," acknowledged Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "It was very surprising – not that we won, but we were really expecting something a little different."

Red Lake County Central scored on a safety, two interception returns and a punt return. The Mustangs also set up touchdowns with two blocked punts and another interception.

Nick Waldal and Benji Kvasager returned interceptions for touchdowns; David Fox had a 34-yard punt return that set up a touchdown, punts blocked by Steve McMullen and Kyle Lefehrve set up scores; and an intercepted by Matt Hruby led to a touchdown.

In addition, Mark Lorenson opened the game with a 15-yard field goal and his kickoffs into the end zone kept Tri-County from gaining field position after the Red Lake County Central scores.

The Mustangs, ahead 13-0 at the end of the first quarter, put the game away with a 41-point second quarter.

A balanced Red Lake County Central running game featured Brandon Tougas with 44 yards on 18 carries, Matt Hruby 42 yards on five attempts and Lorenson with 41 yards on just two rushes. Lorenson was 3-for-5 passing for 33 yards.

Defensively, Kyle Lefehrve was in on 11 tackles for the Mustangs, while Tougas, Wade Westlake and Nick Waldal each had a hand in nine tackles.

Grants offered for community-based planning projects

Minnesota Planning is accepting grant proposals for community-based, comprehensive planning pilot projects. Counties and groups of local governments are eligible to apply. Three grants of about $50,000 each will be awarded. The application, available on Minnesota Planning's web site:

www.mnplan.state.mn.us, must be submitted by September 30, 1997.

"We are creating a new, statewide framework for local comprehensive planning," said Ann Schluter, director of Minnesota Planning. "Broad public participation and cooperation among neighboring communities set this process apart from other planning approaches."

The pilot projects are part of the Common Ground project at Minnesota Planning, which will work with local communities as they develop their plans. The goal of the pilot projects is to gain a better understanding of how to develop community-based plans, including public input, coordination among governments, resolving disputes and the costs of preparing plans.

The Community Based Planning Act, a new state law, encourages cooperative planning among neighboring communities, provides grants for developing the plans, and calls for state review of local plans for consistency with 11 goals. Planning and technology grants beyond the pilot projects will be available beginning July 1998.

Minnesota Planning is a state agency that develops long-range plans for Minnesota, encourages public participation in the state's future and coordinates activities among state agencies, the Legislature and other units of government.

Western staff services teams with Polaris Ind.

Western Staff Services has announced the opening of an on-site staffing support office in Roseau's Polaris Industries facility. Western Staff Services' on-site office will assume responsibility for Polaris' temporary staffing needs including recruiting, applicant training and orientation, and temporary workforce management.

Western has already successfully launched an on-site service location at Polaris' Osceola facility in Wisconsin. "We are pleased to partner with Western in Roseau. For nearly three years, Western has provided quality service at our Wisconsin location and we look forward to forming a winning team here in Roseau," said Polaris Human Resource Manager Dave Swedberg.

Western's Area Manager Kathy Bourke is responsible for overseeing both Polaris on-site operations. "We are looking forward to joining Roseau's business community and providing many employment opportunities to local job-seekers," Bourke said.

Western will also be welcoming Polaris' temporary employees formerly employed by BB Diversified Services to Western's local on-site team. "I am confident that Western will take good care of my people during and after the transition to Western," said BB Diversified President John Johnson. "Western's services will be great for Polaris and the community."

Western Staff Services provides temporary staffing services through a network of over 390 company-owned, franchised and licensed offices in the United States and five foreign countries.

HISTORY

The city's name comes from Badger Creek, which runs through the city, which in turn got it's name from the animal by the same name. In years past, this animal was quite common in the area. There are still signs of the animal near and around the city of Badger.

The first record of the beginning of the town of Badger was the establishment of a post office on December 28, 1889, with Elias B. Irish as the first postmaster. However, Badger was still a part of Skagen Township and not a separate entity at this time. On October 8, 1906, the townspeople voted in favor of the dissolution 41 to 3 and became separate from the township of Skagen.

In the very early hours of October 7, 1927, Badger experienced its most devastating fire, when an entire city block burned. Six business buildings were lost in the fire. However, Badger quickly bounced back. Unbelievably, six years later, minus one day, Badger was again visited by a disastrous fire which laid low another entire business block.

COMMUNITY

The community of Badger now supports a post office, grocery store, grain elevator, cafe, two banks, insurance agency, electrician business, two gas stations (one with a convenience store), Veterans of Foreign Wars club, off sale liquor store, commercial supply store/auctioneer service, new recreation center and city offices, fire department, lumber yard, farm implement dealership, governmental/Head Start office, five apartment complexes and three churches.

In 1989, Badger built a new school, after a fire destroyed the old school in 1987. Badger's school sports activities are combined with the Greenbush and Middle River schools and the teams are known as the Gators.

New Crookston High School gets rebate

Crookston - Crookston High School's new geo-thermal heating and cooling system has already paid off. Ottertail Power company recently presented the district with a rebate check for $60,359.36.

The rebate is based on $14 for every 1,000 BTU's of heating capacity of the system. The rebate program is available to anyone who puts in a geo-thermal heating/cooling system. Crookston Daily Times

East Polk County Heritage Days and Country Fair Sept. 5 - 7

Fosston - East Polk County's 3rd Annual Heritage Days and an Old-fashioned Country Fair will be held September 5, 6 and 7 at the fair grounds, and the numerous events planned promise "something for everyone."

-Buttons are being sold to help offset the costs of the three days of food and fun. The Thirteen Towns

Wannaska teacher pleads guilty to theft

Roseau - Wannaska resident and third-grade teacher Walter Storey received a stay of adjudication on the felony theft charge and was placed on five years probation at an omnibus hearing held recently.

He was also ordered to pay $12,000 restitution for funds he embezzled during his time as acting treasurer of the Riverside Lutheran Church of Wannaska. He has already paid back $12,000 of the $22,000 he embezzled since 1992.

During the hearing District Court Judge Dennis Murphy reviewed a letter from Riverside Church asking for leniency on Storey's behalf. Roseau Times-Region

Many events planned for Blast to Brooks Sept. 6

Brooks - A 9 a.m. flag raising and prayer service at the Community Homes on Main Street in Brooks will kick-off day of activities at the 26th annual Blast to Brooks celebration on Saturday, September 6.

Some of the other planned activities are a bake sale, lunch, parades, childrens games, turkey bowling, Sumo wrestling, softball tournaments and a street dance. The Gazette

Kittson County harvest about half complete

Hallock - With the harvest about 50 percent complete, it doesn't look too good for area wheat fields according to Kittson County Agriculture Extension Educator Curtis Nyegaard.

Scab is causing problems in the wheat quality and test weights are "so-so." One good thing is the high protein content.

Sunflower midge is causing poor quality sunflowers. The number of acres of sunflowers planted is down from 35,000 acres of sunflowers last year to 11,000 acres this year.

So far the sugarbeet and canola crops look good, and Nyegaard said growers are hoping to get 16 to 18 tons of sugarbeets per acre. Kittson County Enterprise

Medical Center annual meeting to be Monday

Annual meeting of Northwest Medical Center (NWMC) Association will be conducted Monday, September 8, at 7 p.m. in the Summit Room of the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Primary business to be transacted at the meeting will be the election of five directors to serve on the board. Candidates nominated for three-year terms on the board expiring in September of the year 2000 are Roger DeLap, Kenneth Froschheiser, Thomas P. Kays and Lawrence McDowell. Candidate for a one-year term to expire in September of 1998 is Gerald Wigness.

Under by-laws of Northwest Medical Center, nominations are received well in advance of the annual meeting and no nominations are accepted at the meeting.

Reports from various officers and committees will be presented along with a review of the past year at NWMC, health care industry trends, and an educational presentation by Terry DeMars entitled "Breaking the Web: A Community Vision for Helping Troubled Kids."

Expected to present reports will be Tom Kays, chairman of the board of directors; Robert Dicken, M.D., for the medical staff; and Dick Spyhalski, president and chief executive officer.

Registration for the meeting will begin at approximately 6:30 p.m. in the corridor adjacent to the Summit Room and voting will also take place at that time. Chairman Kays will declare the polls closed at or about 7:15 p.m.

A free cholesterol screening will be available to those attending the annual meeting.

Profiles of Candidates

Roger DeLap is city administrator for the City of Thief River Falls, a native of the community and holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration/management from Bemidji State University. He and his wife Carol have three daughters, Kari Jo, Lisa and Lori.

Roger serves on the accounting advisory board for Northland Community and Technical College and numerous city council boards and commissions. He is a member of Trinity Lutheran Church, American Legion Post 117 and has served for the past six years on the NWMC board.

Kenneth Froschheiser, Thief River Falls chief of police, has a [illegible] degree from Northland Community College and a bachelor of science degree from Bemidji State University. He was a member of the 111th session of the FBI Academy and has prior service on the NWMC board.

Ken and his wife Joyce have three children, Dena Boutain, Karla and Jared Brandt. He is active in the School District 564 has enrollment drop by 26

For the second consecutive year and the second time in seven years, opening day enrollment in School District 564 has declined. First day total for the 1997-98 school year Tuesday was 2,318—26 fewer than a year ago and the lowest enrollment since 2,328 was recorded on the 1990-91 school opening.

The total includes 10 students in Early Childhood Special Education (12 fewer than a year ago) and 80 full-time equivalent students in the Alternative Learning Center (the same number as recorded last year.)

Enrollment dropped by 37 in kindergarten through fifth grade at Challenger elementary school from 944 a year ago to 907 this year. This is the third straight year that K-5 enrollment has been less than four figures.

In grades six through eight at Franklin middle school enrollment climbed by 13 from 585 in 1996 to 598 in 1997.

At Lincoln high school, student numbers in grades nine through 12 dropped by two from 735 last year to 733 Tuesday.

The opening day total of 2,318 was 28 fewer than the year-end total of 2,346 last spring and 15 fewer than the 2,333 projected for the start of the 1997-98 school term.

Enrollment in K-5 at 907 was 65 fewer than year-end enrollment and 39 fewer than projected. Grades 6-8 enrollment of 598 was 11 over the 587 recorded at year-end and one more than the [illegible] projected. Number enrolling in grades 9-12 of 733 was 26 more than at year-end and 23 more than the 710 projected.

Smallest class in the district this year is first grade at 133, a drop of eight from the class of 141 that entered kindergarten last fall and down 13 from the 1996-97 year-end enrollment of 148. Second smallest class is grade five with 144 and third smallest is grade two with 147.

Largest class in the district this year is the seventh grade with 205, up three from 202 at the end of the 1996-97 school year and up one from the 201 who entered sixth grade last year. Second largest is the eighth grade with 202 and third largest is the 10th grade at 198.

The junior class with 185 members is up from 170 at year-end and 17 higher than the 168 projected. As entering sophomores last year, the class had only 173 members.

As in many school districts throughout the area, District 564 has its highest numbers in the upper grades. The four grades at Lincoln senior high average 183, the three grades at Franklin average 199 and the six grades (including kindergarten) at Challenger average only 149.

Opening day enrollment record for School District 564 was set in 1974 when there were 3,295 students enrolled in grades K-12. From that high point, enrollment numbers fell every year until 1990 when enrollment jumped to 2,328 from a low of 2,278 in 1989. That 2,278 remains the lowest enrollment while this year's enrollment of 2,318 is the second lowest since the record high was recorded in 1974.

Opening day enrollment figures are used for comparison only and may well fluctuate for various reasons within the first few days of classes, according to school officials.

With few exceptions, area school enrollments decline

Opening day enrollments at area schools Tuesday for the 1997-1998 school year showed mostly declines from a year ago, with only a few schools having an increase from either last year's opening day or the year-end enrollment this spring.

Exceptions were at Goodridge, where enrollment of 235 was up five from 230 at year-end and Plummer, where enrollment of 207 was up nine from 198 at year-end.

Enrollment of 255 at Oklee was down about 25 from year-end, 391 at Newfolden was down 16 from 407 last spring, 220 at Grygla was down 12 from 232 at year end, 570 at Greenbush-Middle River was down 20 from opening day in 1996; 236 at Badger was down three from year-end; 388 at Tri-County in Karlstad was down 21 from opening day last year, 484 at Red Lake Falls was down about 25 from opening day last year; 1,553 at Roseau was down five from last year, 1,540 at Warroad was down 22 from 1,562 on opening day last year, and 757 at Warren-Alvarado-Oslo was down 16 from last year.

In a number of area schools the larger classes for the most part are in the upper grades with smaller class sizes in elementary grades indicating continued reduced enrollments in future years. Some schools also have fairly wide fluctuations in class size from one grade to another which creates difficulty in scheduling the school day.

A summary of opening day 1997-98 school year enrollments by grade from area schools as collected by the Northern Watch is as follows:

Goodridge

Kindergarten, 1[illegible]; grade 1, 15; grade 2, 12; grade 3, 17; grade 4, 18; grade 5, 14; grade 6, 17; grade 7, 20; grade 8, 17; grade 9, 19; grade 10, 22; grade 11, 21 and grade 12, 26. Total, 235.

Non-public schools in area attract students

Non-public schools in northwest Minnesota seem to be growing or holding their own with 1997-1998 school year enrollment, according to a phone survey conducted by the Northern Watch.

St. Bernard's School
Thief River Falls

Largest of these schools in the Northern Watch circulation area is St. Bernard's Catholic school in Thief River Falls where enrollment is up in nearly every grade and total enrollment of 144 this year is up 33 over the 111 enrolled a year ago.

A pre-kindergarten class for three-year-olds which meets Tuesdays and Thursdays has 19 students and a pre-kindergarten class for four and five-year-olds that meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday has 25 students.

Enrollment in other classes at St. Bernard's includes kindergarten, 28; grade 1, 14; grade 2, 17; grade 3, 17; grade 4, 11; and grade 5, 13.

Our Saviour's Christian Academy
Thief River Falls

At Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls, there are a total of 44 students enrolled, about the same number as a year ago. The enrollment includes 14 in the primary grades, seven in intermediate classes and 17 in high school. Two students are enrolled in kindergarten and three in preschool.

St. Joseph's School
Red Lake Falls

St. Joseph's Catholic school in Red Lake Falls has a total of 76 students in kindergarten through sixth

HISTORY

The city's name comes from Badger Creek, which runs through the city, which in turn got it's name from the animal by the same name. In years past, this animal was quite common in the area. There are still signs of the animal near and around the city of Badger.

The first record of the beginning of the town of Badger was the establishment of a post office on December 28, 1889, with Elias B. Irish as the first postmaster. However, Badger was still a part of Skagen Township and not a separate entity at this time. On October 8, 1906, the townspeople voted in favor of the dissolution 41 to 3 and became separate from the township of Skagen.

In the very early hours of October 7, 1927, Badger experienced its most devastating fire, when an entire city block burned. Six business buildings were lost in the fire. However, Badger quickly bounced back. Unbelievably, six years later, minus one day, Badger was again visited by a disastrous fire which laid low another entire business block.

COMMUNITY

The community of Badger now supports a post office, grocery store, grain elevator, cafe, two banks, insurance agency, electrician business, two gas stations (one with a convenience store), Veterans of Foreign Wars club, off sale liquor store, commercial supply store/auctioneer service, new recreation center and city offices, fire department, lumber yard, farm implement dealership, governmental/Head Start office, five apartment complexes and three churches.

In 1989, Badger built a new school, after a fire destroyed the old school in 1987. Badger's school sports activities are combined with the Greenbush and Middle River schools and the teams are known as the Gators.

Medical Center annual meeting to be Monday

Annual meeting of Northwest Medical Center (NWMC) Association will be conducted Monday, September 8, at 7 p.m., in the Summit Room of the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Primary business to be transacted at the meeting will be the election of five directors to serve on the board. Candidates nominated for three-year terms on the board expiring in September of the year 2000 are Roger DeLap, Kenneth Froschheiser, Thomas P. Kays and Lawrence McDowell. Candidate for a one-year term to expire in September of 1998 is Gerald Wigness.

Under by-laws of Northwest Medical Center, nominations are received well in advance of the annual meeting and no nominations are accepted at the meeting.

Reports from various officers and committees will be presented along with a review of the past year at NWMC, health care industry trends, and an educational presentation by Terry DeMars entitled "Breaking the Web: A Community Vision for Helping Troubled Kids."

Expected to present reports will be Tom Kays, chairman of the board of directors, Robert Dicken, M.D., for the medical staff, and Dick Spylalski, president and chief executive officer.

Registration for the meeting will begin at approximately 6:30 p.m. in the corridor adjacent to the Summit Room and voting will also take place at that time. Chairman Kays will declare the polls closed at or about 7:15 p.m.

A free cholesterol screening will be available to those attending the annual meeting.

Profiles of Candidates

Roger DeLap is city administrator for the City of Thief River Falls, a native of the community and holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration/management from Bemidji State University. He and his wife Carol have three daughters, Kari Jo, Lisa and Lori.

Roger serves on the accounting advisory board for Northland Community and Technical College and numerous city council boards and commissions. He is a member of Trinity Lutheran Church, American Legion Post 117 and has served for the past six years on the NWMC board.

Kenneth Froschheiser, Thief River Falls chief of police, has a two-year degree from Northland Community College and a bachelor of science degree from Bemidji State University. He was a member of the 111th session of the FBI Academy and has prior service on the NWMC board.

Ken and his wife Joyce have three children, Dena Bruton, Karla and Jared Brandt. He is active in the

Wannaska teacher pleads guilty to theft

Roseau - Wannaska resident and third-grade teacher Walter Storey received a stay of adjudication on the felony theft charge and was placed on five years probation at an omnibus hearing held recently.

He was also ordered to pay $12,000 restitution for funds he embezzled during his time as acting treasurer of the Riverside Lutheran Church of Wannaska. He has already paid back $12,000 of the $22,000 he embezzled since 1992.

During the hearing District Court Judge Dennis Murphy reviewed a letter from Riverside Church asking for leniency on Storey's behalf. Roseau Times-Region

Brooks - A 9 a.m. flag raising and prayer service at the Community Homes on Main Street in Brooks will kick-off day of activities at the 26th annual Blast to Brooks celebration on Saturday, September 6.

Some of the other planned activities are a bake sale, lunch, parades, childrens games, turkey bowling, Sumo wrestling, softball tournaments and a street dance. The Gazette

Kittson County harvest about half compete

Hallock - With the harvest about 50 percent complete, it doesn't look too good for area wheat fields according to Kittson County Agriculture Extension Educator Curtis Nyegaard.

Scab is causing problems in the wheat quality and test weights are "so-so." One good thing is the high protein content.

Sunflower midge is causing poor quality sunflowers. The number of acres of sunflowers planted is down from 35,000 acres of sunflowers last year to 11,000 acres this year.

So far the sugarbeet and canola crops look good, and Nyegaard said growers are hopeing to get 16 to 18 tons of sugarbeets per acre. Kittson County Enterprise

School District 564 has enrollment drop by 26

For the second consecutive year and the second time in seven years, opening day enrollment in School District 564 has declined. First day count for the 1997-98 school year Tuesday was 2,318, 26 fewer than a year ago and the lowest enrollment since 2,328 was recorded on the 1990-91 school opening.

The total includes 10 students in Early Childhood Special Education (12 fewer than a year ago) and 80 full-time equivalent students in the Alternative Learning Center (the same number as recorded last year.)

Enrollment dropped by 37 in kindergarten through fifth grade at Challenger elementary school from 944 a year ago to 907 this year. This is the third straight year that K-5 enrollment has been less than four figures.

In grades six through eight at Franklin middle school enrollment climbed by 13 from 585 in 1996 to 598 in 1997.

At Lincoln high school, student numbers in grades nine through 12 dropped by two from 735 last year to 733 Tuesday.

The opening day total of 2,318 is 28 fewer than the year end total of 2,346 last spring and 15 fewer than the 2,333 projected for the start of the 1997-98 school term.

Enrollment in K-5 at 907 is 65 fewer than year end enrollment and 19 fewer than projected. Grades 6-8 enrollment of 598 was 11 over the 587 enrolled at year end and one more than the 597 projected. Number enrolling in grades 9-12 of 733 was 26 more than at year end and 23 more than the 710 projected.

Smallest class in the district this year is first grade at 133, a drop of eight from the class of 141 that entered kindergarten last fall and down 13 from the 1996-97 year end enrollment of 148. Second smallest class is grade five with 144 and third smallest is grade two with 147.

Largest class in the district this year is the seventh grade with 205, up three from 202 at the end of the 1996-97 school year and up one from the 201 who entered sixth grade last year. Second largest is the eighth grade with 202 and third largest is the 10th grade at 198.

The junior class with 185 members is up from 178 at year end and 17 higher than the 168 projected. As entering sophomores last year, the class had only 173 members.

As in many school districts throughout the area, District 564 has its highest numbers in the upper grades. The four grades at Lincoln senior high average 183, the three grades at Franklin average 199 and the six grades including kindergarten at Challenger average only 149.

Opening day enrollment record for School District 564 was set in 1974 when there were 3,295 students enrolled in grades K-12. From that high point, enrollment numbers fell every year until 1990 when enrollment jumped to 2,328 from a low of 2,278 in 1989. That 2,278 remains the lowest enrollment while this year's enrollment of 2,318 is the second lowest since the record high was recorded in 1974.

Opening day enrollment figures are used for comparison only and may well fluctuate for various reasons within the first few days of classes, according to school officials.

With few exceptions, area school enrollments decline

Opening day enrollments at area schools Tuesday for the 1997-1998 school year showed mostly declines from a year ago, with only a few schools having an increase from either last year's opening day or the year-end enrollment this spring.

Exceptions were at Goodridge, where enrollment of 235 was up five from 230 at year-end and Plummer, where enrollment of 207 was up nine from 198 at year-end.

Enrollment of 255 at Oklee was down about 25 from year-end, 391 at Newfolden was down 16 from 407 last spring, 220 at Grygla was down 12 from 232 at year end, 570 at Greenbush-Middle River was down 20 from opening day in 1996, 236 at Badger was down three from year-end, 388 at Tri-County in Karlstad was down 21 from opening day last year, 484 at Red Lake Falls was down about 25 from opening day last year, 1,553 at Roseau was down five from last year, 1,540 at Warroad was down 22 from 1,562 on opening day last year, and 757 at Warren-Alvarado-Oslo was down 16 from last year.

In a number of area schools the larger classes for the most part are in the upper grades with smaller class sizes in elementary grades indicating continued reduced enrollments in future years. Some schools also have fairly wide fluctuations in class size from one grade to another which creates difficulty in scheduling the school day.

A summary of opening day 1997-98 school year enrollments by grade from area schools as collected by the Northern Watch is as follows:

Goodridge

Kindergarten, 14; grade 1, 15; grade 2, 12; grade 3, 17; grade 4, 18; grade 5, 14; grade 6, 17; grade 7, 20; grade 8, 17; grade 9, 19; grade 10, 22; grade 11, 21 and grade 12, 26. Total, 235.

Plummer

Non-public schools in area attract students

Non-public schools in northwest Minnesota seem to be growing or holding their own with 1997-1998 school year enrollment, according to a phone survey conducted by the Northern Watch.

St. Bernard's School
Thief River Falls

Largest of these schools in the Northern Watch circulation area is St. Bernard's Catholic school in Thief River Falls where enrollment is up in nearly every grade and total enrollment of 144 this year is up 33 over the 111 enrolled a year ago.

A pre-kindergarten class for three-year-olds which meets Tuesdays and Thursdays has 19 students and a pre-kindergarten class for four and five-year-olds that meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday has 25 students.

Enrollment in other classes at St. Bernard's includes kindergarten, 28; grade 1, 14; grade 2, 17; grade 3, 17; grade 4, 11; and grade 5, 13.

Our Saviour's Christian Academy
Thief River Falls

At Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls there are a total of 44 students enrolled, about the same number as a year ago. The enrollment includes 14 in the primary grades, seven in intermediate classes and 17 in high school. Two students are enrolled in kindergarten and three in preschool.

St. Joseph's School
Red Lake Falls

St. Joseph's Catholic school in Red Lake Falls has a total of 76 students in kindergarten through sixth

A BOLD LOOK AT BEDTIME.

The day ends with a ritual. You wash. You brush. You reflect on the ability of some things to get better with age. Like the beautifully sculpted lines of Kohler's Revival™ faucet – with a style as graceful as the turn-of-the-century era that inspired it. If bedtime doesn't look inspired it. If bedtime doesn't look this timeless in your bathroom, look to our Kohler® Registered Show-room and expert design staff, before another evening goes by.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

How about a few more canning recipes! These are for relishes and pickles.

Here's an old-fashioned recipe that would be great with any sandwich, hamburger or hot dog:

CHOW-CHOW

12 1/2 pounds green tomatoes
8 large onions
10 green bell peppers
3 tablespoons salt
6 hot peppers, chopped
1 quart vinegar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon cloves
3 tablespoons dry mustard
Few bay leaves
1 3/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup horseradish

Chop tomatoes, onions and peppers together and cover with the salt. Let stand overnight.

Drain above and add hot peppers, vinegar, spices (tied in cheesecloth bag) and sugar. Allow to boil slowly until tender (about 15 minutes). Add horseradish.

Pack into sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Put on cap, screw band firmly tight, and process in boiling water bath for 5 minutes. (Makes 6 pints.)

This would be a great side dish for any number of main dishes and it uses up the end of the garden goodies:

CORN RELISH

20 ears corn
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped red pepper
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 1/2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon turmeric
2 1/2 cups white vinegar
2 cups water

Drop ears of corn in boiling water and boil 5 minutes. Dip in cold water. Cut from cob and measure to make 10 cups.

Combine corn with remaining ingredients and boil 15 minutes. Pack into sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Put on cap, screw firmly tight and process 15 minutes in boiling water bath. (Makes 5-6 pints.)

All right - just try making your own this year and you might never go back to bottled:

TOMATO KETCHUP

12 1/2 pounds ripe tomatoes
2 medium onions
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
2 cups cider vinegar
1 1/2 tablespoons broken stick cinnamon
1 tablespoon whole cloves
3 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1 tablespoon paprika
1 cup sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons salt

Wash and slice tomatoes and boil until soft.

In another kettle, slice onions. Cover with small quantity of water and cook until tender.

Run onions and tomatoes through a sieve and mix together. Add cayenne pepper and boil mixture rapidly until it has been reduced to about one half of the original volume.

Place vinegar in an enamel pan and add a spice bag containing the cinnamon, cloves and garlic. Allow this to simmer about 30 minutes, then bring to a boil. Place cover on pan and remove from heat. Let stand in covered pan until ready to use.

When tomato mixture has cooked down, add vinegar mixture (should be 1 1/4 cups). Add paprika, sugar and salt and boil rapidly until thick (10 minutes).

Pour while boiling into sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Put on cap and screw firmly tight. Process in boiling water bath 5 minutes. (Makes 6 pints.)

Here's an old favorite that you might enjoy trying this year:

DILL PICKLES

Soak medium cucumbers overnight in a brine made of 1 1/2 cups of salt to 4 quarts of water.

Make a canning brine of 10 quarts water, 1 quart vinegar and 2 cups salt and boil 10 minutes. Let this brine stand overnight.

In morning, drain cucumbers and place in sterilized jars with small bunches of dill. If desired, 1 cup of grated horseradish and 1 cup mustard seed may be used with the dill by placing a small amount of each in each jar.

Pack cucumbers tightly. Add small red pepper to each jar, if desired.

Cover cucumbers in jars with cold canning brine. Put on cap, screwing tightly. These will ferment for 3 or 4 days. When fermentation has ceased (bubbling), screw the band firmly tight and process in water bath for 15 minutes.

Another way to use those green tomatoes this fall - be ready to spend 3 days on this one:

GREEN TOMATO SWEET PICKLES

16 cups sliced green tomatoes
1/4 cup salt
1/2 tablespoon powdered alum
3 cups vinegar (5 percent acidity)
1 cup water
4 cups sugar
1 tablespoon mixed spices
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1 tablespoon mustard seed

Slice tomatoes. Sprinkle with salt and allow to stand overnight.

Next morning, drain and pour 2 quarts of boiling water over the tomatoes with 1/2 tablespoon of powdered alum. Let stand 20 minutes.

Drain and cover with cold water and drain.

Combine vinegar, water, sugar and spices (tie spices loosely in bag). Bring to a boil. Pour this over the tomatoes and let stand overnight.

On the third day, bring the pickles and solution to a boil. Pack into sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Screw top on firmly tight an process in boiling water bath 5 minutes. (Makes 8 pints.)

Public duck banding event at Agassiz

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge is having an evening of duck banding with the public on Tuesday, September 16. Individuals or groups of people interested in attending need to notify the refuge before this day. The refuge telephone number is 218-449-4115.

Fifty people signed up on a first come-first served basis will be allowed to participate. Participants will need to be at refuge headquarters by 5:30 p.m. Banding will be completed by dark.

Participants can assist with banding ducks or just come to observe. Proper clothes or rain wear is recommended for assisting with banding ducks. If it is raining or ground conditions are too wet for Tuesday evening, banding will be cancelled and rescheduled for Thursday, September 18. If both these evenings are rained out then this banding evening will be on Tuesday, September 23.

Participants will learn banding techniques including baiting, rocket and net set up, caging, handling, and sexing and aging of mallard ducks. Usually several other species of ducks are caught, providing an opportunity to compare duck species. This is a hands on experience for participants to learn about waterfowl.

Agassiz refuge plans September open house

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge Headquarters office will be open on Sunday, September 14, from 1 to 7 p.m. At 2 p.m. a program will be presented on waterfowl identification and waterfowl hunting. Refuge personnel will be giving the program at the refuge office. With waterfowl hunting starting soon this program will be a good refresher for all waterfowl hunters.

Refuge tours will be offered at 3 and 5 p.m. Tours last up to two hours. Five people can be accommodated per tour. Persons interested in signing up for one of the tours can call before September 14 or stop at the office to reserve a time. The phone number for the refuge office is 218-449-4115. West Farmers Pool Dike road will be open for public travel, weather permitting.

Birds and mammals of many species can be observed from roads or public use facilities on the refuge. Many species of birds have been and will continue to be on their migration south. Birds have molted their bright feathers in exchange for duller colored feathers making identification more difficult and challenging. An appreciation for nature begins in the outdoors providing good, wholesome entertainment.

The refuge office is located 23 miles northeast of Thief River Falls on Marshall County road 7. Visitors have the opportunity to view wildlife displays and to discuss natural resources with refuge personnel. Lost Bay Habitat Drive and the Maakstad Hiking Trail are open during the snow free months. The 100 foot Observation Tower will be open. The Agassiz bookshop will be open and items for sale include wildlife books, carved animals and Agassiz shirts.

Property rights topic of meet

Sen. Dan Stevens of Mora will make Thief River Falls one of his stops on a tour of 12 Minnesota communities to discuss legislation he has introduced in the state legislature called the Minnesota Property Owners Bill of Rights.

The meeting in Thief River Falls will be Wednesday, September 10, at 11 a.m. at the Best Western Inn. Other sessions are planned in Two Harbors, Cloquet, Virginia, International Falls, Brainerd, St. Cloud, Marshall, New Ulm, Owatonna, Winona and St. Paul.

The meetings are free and open to the public and all persons interested in private property rights are encouraged to attend.

"This legislation will outline for the first time the rights of property owners in respect to their relationship with local, state and federal governments," Sen. Stevens said. "The intent is to put into law that government must compensate for action that reduces property value or causes hardship and expense to property owners."

The legislation was introduced late in the 1997 session and the senator will be calling for hearings as soon as the 1998 session begins. He said he is making the speaking tour at his own expense "to educate the public on what is happening in Minnesota.

"We must make it clear that 'property' includes all the uses that can be made of a holding—the very uses that give property its value, the taking of which diminishes that value," he added.

Plot tour Sept. 11 shows Hairy Vetch Interseeding

Results of interseeding the legume Hairy Vetch in sunflower and corn crops will be shown at a field tour to be conducted Thursday, September 11, beginning at 3 p.m. A bus will leave from the Minnesota Wheat Growers building south of Red Lake Falls on Highway 32.

The legume was interseeded at the four-leaf growth stage of sunflower in 10-acre plots of 12 producers in Red Lake and Pennington counties by broadcast in front of the tractor at field cultivation, according to Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator.

During the bus tour five or six farm plots will be visited. Tour participants can park their vehicles in the parking lot near the Wheat Growers building.

Hairy Vetch has the ability to fix nitrogen, produce a cover to protect the soil from erosion, produce a legume biomass that can be worked into the soil in the fall or spring, or may be used as a forage crop, Person added.

Following the tour a meal will be served and information obtained from '96 studies will be presented.

Co-sponsors of the tour are the University of Minnesota extension service, Minnesota Department of Agriculture Energy and Sustainable Agriculture program, Soil and Water Conservation District, Natural Resource Conservation Service and Lake Agassiz Sustainable Farming Association.

For additional information contact extension educator Hans Kandel at 218-253-2897 in Red Lake Falls.

Candidates file for local offices

Tuesday, September 9, is the final day to file for office in School District 564 and the City of Thief River Falls.

As of Friday morning, two candidates had filed for the three year term on the board for School District 564. The candidates are Dr. Charles Winjum and Vern Kappes. No one has filed for the five year term.

Also as of Friday morning, only incumbents had filed for positions on the city council. Four three-year positions on the council will be up for election this year including Mayor, Alderman at Large, Ward 2 and Ward 4. The incumbents, Robert Reeve, Ken Schmalz, Dave Carlson and Don Barron, have filed applications of candidacy.

Individuals interested in running for office have until the close of business on Tuesday, September 9, to file for any of the elected positions.

Fall Rally Day September 7

Fall Rally Day will be held Sunday, September 7 at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Thief River Falls. Special guests at the 10 a.m. worship and Sunday school service will be the David Lysaker family - Faith Puppeteers - of Pelican Rapids.

All ages are captivated by the Bible stories dramatically portrayed by the Faith Puppeteers using a large theatre complete with lights, sets and special effects.

Everyone is welcome to attend. A potluck picnic will follow the service at Oakland Park.

Keep guard up despite drop in holiday deaths

Despite the reduction in Labor Day weekend traffic fatalities from 12 a year ago to three in 1997, the Minnesota State Patrol is urging drivers not to let their guard down when they drive.

"We are pleased that the number of fatalities is down over this major holiday," said Major Anne Beers, "but we don't want to minimize the fact that every death is a tragedy. Remember to buckle up, obey the speed limits and drive sober."

Troopers from the state patrol are investigating the three fatal crashes.

This year, prostate cancer will be detected in more than 300,000 men and more than 41,000 will die from the disease.

Even Royalty Couldn't Escape Drunk Driver

In the early hours following the initial news of the injury and then death of England's Princess Diana in an automobile crash in Paris, France, the fingers of blame were consistently pointed at photographers reportedly following the car in which she was riding.

It wasn't until a couple of days later that the news media reported that the driver of the car had a blood alcohol content more than three times the level that constitutes intoxication as a driving offense in France.

So it turns out that the estranged wife of Prince Charles, the mother of future King William of England and the world's most photographed woman died violently at age 36 as the victim of a drunk driver.

Suddenly the role of the paparazzi—the scum of professional photographers who prey on the discretions of celebrities and sell their photos to sleazy tabloid publications around the world—was diminished in the fatal crash. Their dogging of the princess may well have been true, but it was nothing new to her. She had endured it—by her behavior had invited it and when it suited her purposes she had used it—for some time. Rather it was apparently the impaired judgment of the professional driver at the wheel which brought the life of Diana, Princess of Wales, to its untimely end.

It is amazing how a lesser member of a royal family that is useless in a governmental sense could generate the attention given not only in her home country but in the United States and around the world. Her visibility thrived on scandal—her own and her former husband's infidelity—and what in polite society should be an embarrassment. Indeed, Prince Philander and Lady Lust have been an embarrassment to the higher order of British royalty and to all decent British citizens.

Quite likely Charles and Diana would have been tucked by the press into the dusty corners of Buckingham Palace had they contented themselves with acting like royalty or even like proper commoners. Their rejection of a principled lifestyle and a preference for dallying outside of matrimony made them fair game for the rumor mill and the tabloids.

While Prince Charles earned the specter of a spoiled rich kid who never grew up to accept responsibility, Diana was looked upon by many as first a victim and then a champion of resistance to the stuffiness of the aristocracy. She had an impish, mischievous air, flirtatious eyes and a femininity that seemed always photogenic and, despite her not infrequent protestations of invasion of privacy, was willing to exploit her photogenity whenever it suited her purposes.

It is easy to condemn the paparazzi for their blatant intrusion into the private lives of public figures, but if there were no intrusive interest by the public there would be no market for their product. And if public figures conducted themselves with some restraint and propriety, there would be no compromising photo opportunities for the photographers.

Diana, by most accounts of people who claimed to know her, was considered genuine, charming, friendly and sincere in her recent expressions and demonstrations of concern for people consistently ignored by nobility. They chose to look past her immorality, or to consider it some sort of proof that she was human, and praised her training of her children by word if not by example.

It is obvious that Princess Di had a unique impact on untold millions of people. Why else would a newspaper in the remote reaches of northwestern Minnesota use her death as the subject of an editorial?

Senseless, unnecessary death is always tragic, whether it comes by the hundreds to sleeping villagers in an Algerian massacre or to a princess and her companions in a speeding car in a Paris tunnel. The additional tragedy of the crash in Paris was that it could have been prevented with better awareness and judgment.

Northland Audit Is Serving Its Purpose

Independent audits are intended to bring to attention faults and irregularities in accounting as well as a reconciliation of income and expenditures and a final balancing of the books. They also have the purpose of providing suggestions for correction of areas determined to be problems.

The recent audit report for Northland Community and Technical College appears to be serving its purpose by identifying a number of problem areas and suggesting means to prevent recurrence. President Orley Gunderson has accepted the findings in the audit and with members of his business staff and other key personnel is implementing corrective procedures.

It appears from the audit report that the business operations at the college got out of hand when Northland Community College and the local campus of Northwest Technical College merged and the combined campus was absorbed into the newly-created Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU). There were too many accounting systems, too many loose ends, too much unfamiliar territory and not enough trained or experienced people to cover all the bases.

In this atmosphere of confusion and consolidation of duties, it was expedient to let procedures that would take extra time and effort slip by in favor of doing the major things that had to be done. Now that situations have stabilized, the auditors have charted a course to follow and personnel changes and additions have been and are being made, it may be expected that corrections will continue to take place and necessary checks and balances will be implemented to prevent recurrence of the same problems.

It must be recognized, however, that the best accounting procedures can not totally overcome a lack of good judgment by people in responsible positions. Favoritism pointed out by the auditors in several actions by the vice president can not be tolerated in such a public position.

We agree with Dr. Gunderson that the audit was a healthy thing for Northland and we believe it came none too soon. The president is wise in requesting a follow-up audit next year to determine how well the house is in order. If the MnSCU office does not authorize the Office of the Legislative Auditor to do so, it may be advisable for Northland to incur such an audit itself, particularly in the areas of concern expressed in the current report.

There was little in the audit report to indicate that regular students at the college weren't getting what they paid for in terms of education. As a result, procedural problems had no impact on the role of the college as an institution for learning. That is a point that is truly worthy of note and must be emphasized.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

BSU offers fall classes in Thief River Falls

Bemidji State University will be offering three interactive television courses in Thief River Falls this fall.

The offerings are part of the University's extension program that includes the delivery of nearly 50 courses to 15 cities in Minnesota in such areas as nursing, industrial technology, professional education, environmental studies, social work, accounting, psychology, continuing education and business administration.

Interactive television is a method of delivering courses that allows an instructor at one location to be simultaneously seen and heard by students in one or more locations. Students at each site can similarly respond to the instructor and one another.

Pre-registration for interactive television courses is recommended to allow adequate time for receiving textbooks and other class materials.

The courses in Thief River Falls, which will be available on the Northland Community and Technical College campus, include (course number, title, credits; meeting days and times, starting dates):

- Education 602, Comparative Education, 3 credits graduate level, Tuesdays 6-9 p.m., starting September 9;
- Education 631, Methods of Educational Research, 3 credits graduate level, Wednesdays 6-9 p.m., starting September 10,
- Nursing 350, Special Topics: Issues in Adolescent Health, 3 credits undergraduate level, Wednesdays 6-10 p.m., starting September 10.

With few exceptions, area school enrollments decline

grade 5, 23, grade 6, 24; grades 5 and 6 (combined class), 18, grade 7, 50, grade 8, 35; grade 9, 61, grade 10, 36, grade 11, 57, and grade 12, 51. Total, 484.

Primary reason for the decline of about 15 in enrollment at the high school in Red Lake Falls is the closing of the Global Studies Institute which had provided about that number of foreign students last year.

Greenbush-Middle River

Kindergarten, 46; grade 1, 29; grade 2, 41; grade 3, 30, grade 4, 37; grade 5, 47; grade 6, 38, grade seven, 45; grade 8, 41, grade 9, 49, grade 10, 53; grade 11, 59; and grade 12, 55. Total, 570

Badger

Kindergarten, 17; grade 1, 20; grade 2, 15, grade 3, 16; grade 4, 14; grade 5, 18; grade 6, 24; grade 7, 25; grade 8, 20, grade 9, 15; grade 10, 18; grade 11, 13; and grade 12, 21. Total, 236

Tri-County at Karlstad

Kindergarten, 18, grade 1, 19, grade 2, 26; grade 3, 25, grade 4, 25; grade 5, 33; grade 6, 24, grade 7, 39, grade 8, 22; grade 9, 39; grade 10, 39; grade 11, 38, and grade 12, 41. Total, 388.

School officials said they expect the enrollment to increase from first day numbers when the pressure of the harvest season decreases, but that numbers will still be under the 400 mark.

Roseau

Kindergarten, 101; grade 1, 126, grade 2, 113; grade 3, 131; grade 4, 111; grade 5, 125; grade 6, 125, grade 7, 119, grade 8, 128; grade, 9, 122, grade 10, 134, grade 11, 106; and grade 12, 112. Total, 1,553.

Roseau school district operates kindergarten through grade three with 71 students at Wannaska and grades four through six with 72 students at Malung. These numbers are included in the district total above.

Warroad

Kindergarten, 104; grade 1, 103, grade 2, 134; grade 4, 122, grade 5, 136, grade 6, 125, grade 7, 114, grade 8, 107, grade 9, 119, grade 10, 129, grade 11, 101; and grade 12, 102. Total, 1,540.

grade this year, a drop of just two from a year ago.

Enrollment for 1997-1998 at St. Joseph by grades includes kindergarten, 13; grade 1, 11; grade 2, 9, grade 3, 11, grade 4, 13, grade 5, 8, and grade 6, 11.

Heritage Christian School Karlstad

Exactly the same number of students as a year ago are enrolled at Heritage Christian School in Karlstad where the 50 students in kindergarten through grade 12 includes youngsters registered to attend kindergarten which doesn't start until January.

The enrollment includes 33 in the Younger Learning Center, which covers kindergarten through grade six, and 17 in the Older Learning Center, which includes grades seven through 12.

Roseau Christian School Roseau

Roseau Christian School has had a drop of a student or two from last year in the elementary school with nine enrolled in kindergarten through sixth grade this year. No high school is being offered this year, however, while there were eight to 10 in that department last year. High school age students have either transferred into the public schools or are being home-schooled.

Borderland Christian School Warroad

Formerly located at Williams, the Borderland school has 17 students enrolled this year in kindergarten through ninth grade. The school offers classes through grade 12 but has no students enrolled in the upper three grades this year. A comparison with enrollment a year ago and a listing of students by grade was not available.

Open house for parents Tues. at Lincoln HS

Open house for parents of Lincoln high school students will be conducted Tuesday, September 9, starting at 6 p.m.

The open house will focus on the student's schedule and provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to meet or become better acquainted. Students can provide parents with a copy of their class schedule.

Newfolden prepares for Newfest '97 celebration

Newfest '97 will take place Friday through Sunday, September 12-14, at Newfolden under sponsorship of a number of community organizations and business places.

Registration is open for public participation in a number of areas.

- A country market will be sponsored by the Newfolden Women's Club in the community center Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. To reserve a table, contact Mary Anderson at 874-4793.
- A 4-H fun run (two mile or five-mile) will start with registration at 8:30 a.m. Saturday from the Westaker Lutheran Church parking lot, sponsored by the New Maine 4-H club.
- Horseshoe tournament registration will open at 10 a.m. at the horseshoe field with match times announced at registration.
- Talent night, sponsored as a fund-raiser for the Marshall County Central Spanish club, will take place at 7:30 p.m. at the Newfolden elementary school. Those interested in participating may contact Margot Oahl at Marshall County Central high school.

Newfest opens Friday at 7 p.m. with the Marshall County Central Nordics hosting East Grand Forks Sacred Heart in high school football. Also at 7 p.m. a game night will be sponsored by the American Legion Post at the community center. From 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. the Morgan Ellingson Band will play for dancing at the Hobo Haus ($2 cover charge).

Opening event Saturday will be the pancake and sausage breakfast served at the Newfolden elementary school from 7 to 10 a.m. Admission will be a Newfest button which can be purchased for $2 at Newfolden business places.

The numbered button is also an entry in a drawing for more than 125 prizes. Winning numbers will be posted in stores and at the community center on Saturday. Persons must have the correct numbered button with them to claim any of the prizes.

Also at 7 a.m. the first clue will be given in the youth treasure hunt. Additional clues will be posted hourly at the community center.

Cartoon kegger at 8:30 a.m., Bar Olympics at 9 a.m. and a nickel scramble at 9:30 a.m. will be sponsored by the Hobo Haus. From 10 a.m. to 12 noon carnival games will be available in the area behind Marshall County State Bank.

Real Troopers puppet performance will be from 11 to 11:30 a.m. and Real Troopers hands on puppets, face painting and karaoke from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. across from the community center, sponsored by Early Childhood Family Education and Head Start.

Newfest parade, sponsored by the Newfolden Lions club, will step out at 1 p.m. Line-up at the city park will begin at 12 noon.

Morgan Ellingson Band will play from 2 to 4 p.m. in the band shell by the community center and carnival games presented by the Evangelical Free Church youth group will be offered during the same two hours behind Marshall County State Bank.

Firemen's fund-raising supper will be served from 4:30 to 7 p.m. at the community center with the menu including escalloped potatoes, ham, corn, bread and cake.

Following the 7:30 p.m. talent night show at the elementary school, a dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Hobo Haus.

To raise funds for community activities, Newfolden Lions Club will sponsor a Sunday brunch September 14 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the community center.

At 1 p.m. Sunday a one-pitch softball tournament will be held at the Marshall County Central ball field. Contact Ron Kragness for entry information.

Music fest sponsored by the Newfolden Lions Club will start at 2 p.m. at the Newfolden community center and lunch will be served by the senior citizens organization.

James Simmons completes cadet basic training

Cadet basic training is a six-week summer program that instructs new cadets in basic military skills and prepares them for entry in the US Corps of Cadets at the Academy. The US Military Academy is a four-year military and educational institution whose purpose is to provide the nation with leaders of character who serve the common defense. Upon graduation, the cadet receives a bachelor's degree and a commission as second lieutenant in the Army.

Simmons is a 1997 graduate of Roseau High School and the son of Scott and Melinda Simmons of Roseau.

Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates at your job at no obligation to you.

Lindsay Drury (right) and Holly Bjorgaard of the Prowlers went for the ball at the net in Thief River Falls' 1997 season-opening high school volleyball match against Crookston Tuesday.

TRF outlasts Crookston 3-2 in high school volleyball...

Prowlers win marathon opener

First match for new Thief River Falls co-head high school volleyball coaches Amy Roche and Bruce Jean was a nerve-tester Tuesday as the Prowlers outlasted Crookston in a two-hour marathon 15-17, 15-5, 15-11, 15-17, 15-9.

The extended five-set match produced some impressive numbers for the winners. Hitters Lisa Dicken (21 kills), Lindsay Drury (20) and Desirae Alberg (10) led the attack, while setters Taya Hunt (35 assists) and Erica McGeary (26) put the offense in motion.

It was team effort that netted the season-opening win, noted Jean. "Everyone came out and played," he said. "It was a great all-around night for our kids. They took what the defense gave them. Our quick-sets were there. We need to work on some timing, but all-in-all, it was a good night."

Down 15-14, Crookston gained a side-out on a service foul and won the first game 17-15 behind the hitting of Jenny Boll and Katie Rains.

Thief River Falls led Game 2 from start to finish, with back-to-back aces by Hunt helping turn a 9-5 lead into a 15-5 win.

Game 3 was tied at 10-10 before Thief River Falls took over down the stretch, taking the lead on a kill by Hunt and finishing it on a spike by Dicken just inside the back line.

Crookston kept the match going, however, with its second 17-15 victory of the night in Game 4. It was a see-saw affair that was deadlocked for the longest time at 14-14 and again at 15-15 before the Pirates' Tiffany Hasbrouk found a hole in the middle of the Thief River Falls defense for a 16-15 lead and then ended it with a block.

Dicken was a key player as the Prowlers broke away from an 8-8 tie in Game 5. Drury drilled a ball off a Crookston blocker to make it 11-8, then Dicken put one away for point No. 12, found the floor with a tap for No. 13 and went through a blocker for No. 14. McGeary served an ace for the match point.

Thief River Falls was a 15-11, 15-3 winner in the junior varsity match.

RLCC opens year with 3-0 win over Kittson Co. North

Red Lake County Central came up with 14 service aces Tuesday in a 15-4, 15-8, 15-3 season-opening high school volleyball win at Kittson County North.

Angie Chervestad had seven kills for the Mustangs, while Jenni Morinville and Jenny Brekkestran both had four.

A 100 percent Red Lake County Central serving performance in Game 1 set the stage for the sweep.

"We played pretty well," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray, "but our defense still needs work."

Wolverines vs. Nordics

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke was a 15-10, 15-2, 13-15, 15-6 winner over Marshall County Central in a Tuesday opener for both teams that was played at Newfolden.

"We started out pretty well," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson, "but we started to fall apart, and we're so young we don't know what to do when things start to go wrong. It's a learning experience for our kids. Most of them have never played at this level before."

Northland volleyball looks like contender

Shari Olson knows what her team can do. What the Northland Community and Technical College head volleyball coach doesn't know is how that talent stacks up to the rest of the Minnesota Community College Conference.

She's confident the Pioneers will be competitive. "We should be able to play with anybody in the conference," said Olson, who is beginning her third year at Northland. "We've got a good group of athletes. It's the most athletic team we've had."

It's a team that seemed to click from the start, according to Olson. "They play extremely well together," she noted. "They communicate really well on the court. I think it's going to be a fun team to watch."

Sophomores returning from last year's 10-13 squad include Melissa Bernstein, Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke; Angela Vagle and Paula Hovda, Roseau; Naomi Wilebski, Kittson County North; Mckenzie Malwitz, Red Lake County Central; Rayna Benson, Pelican Rapids; and Tammy Nerby, Hatton, ND.

"All of our sophomores will play in our rotation," pointed out Olson, who will start two freshmen hitters - Jami VanEngen from Dawson-Boyd and Lara Hendrickson of Waubun.

Other freshmen on the preseason roster include Angela Simonson, Surrey, ND; Cassie Stalberger, Waubun; and Teri Stengrim, Middle River.

Olson knows the Pioneers will be competitive, but isn't certain how that translates into wins and losses since the MCCC remains under wrap until the season unfolds. "What the rest of the conference has is the unknown," she said.

The Pioneers will make their 1997 home debut Wednesday with the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Triangular that involves Northland, Itasca and Lake Region.

Sportsmans Club picnic for Fourtown/Grygla set

Fourtown/Grygla Sportsmans Club annual fall picnic is scheduled Saturday, Sept. 13, at Grande Corner, located three miles west of the Fourtown Store.

Activity will begin at 12-noon. A potluck lunch will be served at 1:30 p.m.

All members and guests are encouraged to attend. New members are welcome.

Blue Devils start season 2-0

Traditional Friday high school football games are almost a thing of the past for Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke this fall.

An eight-game regular season schedule includes just three games on Friday, two on Saturday, two on Tuesday, and one on Thursday, including an opening three game sequence over a 10-day, Thursday-Tuesday-Saturday span.

So far, Darwin Hagen has no complaints. He began his 22nd year as a head coach with a 30-14 Thursday (Aug. 28) victory over Ulen-Hitterdal in Grygla and a 30-8 Tuesday (Sept. 2) win over Tri-County at Karlstad.

"We played all right," said Hagen after the Game 1 win. "It was a case of a couple of inexperienced teams playing each other, and a matter of who would make the fewest number of mistakes. We played better in the second one."

Alex Anderson, a 160-pound senior, was the feature back in both outings for the Blue Devils, netting 168 yards on a busy 37-carry game against Ulen-Hitterdal, followed by a 24-carry, 153-yard effort against Tri-County.

"Alex has some good quickness," noted Hagen. "He's pretty shifty."

Quarterback Jared Eidelbes, a 175-pound senior, is used more as a rusher than a passer. He carried 21 times for 61 yards in the opener and is a quiet 2-for-3 passing for 35 yards in the two wins. Mark Haugen, a 165 pound junior, contributed 60 yards to the Blue Devils' ground game on 14 carries against Tri-County.

Carson Saurdiff, a 180-pound senior center, anchors the offensive line.

Eidelbes, a cornerback, and Ben Hanson, a 180-pound senior lineman, were the Blue Devils' leading tacklers against the Wildcats.

It's nice to be 2-0, acknowledged Hagen, but says the 1997 Blue Devils have a long way to go before matching the 6-3 and 6-2 finishes the program enjoyed the past two years. "We're still pretty young and inexperienced," he warned, "and we have some pretty tough teams coming up."

Thief River Falls wins sophomore match-up vs. East Grand Forks

A 16-8 first quarter edge led to a 30-22 Thief River Falls win over East Grand Forks Tuesday in a sophomore high school football game played at Prowler Field.

Nick Drees scored on a 7-yard run and Adam Haviland had a 4-yard touchdown run in the first quarter when Thief River Falls also had a pair of two-point conversions – a Brad Bulger pass to Haviland and a run by Drees.

It was tied 16-16 at halftime, but a 2-yard touchdown run by Mike Dowers in the third quarter and a 4-yard scoring run by Dowers in the fourth quarter, along with a Haviland conversion run, offset a final-period East Grand Forks touchdown.

It was the second win in two starts for the Thief River Falls sophomores who play at Bemidji Monday.

Prowlers stretch tennis win streak to five duals

Season-opening dual meet winning streak for the Thief River Falls girls high school tennis team reached five matches Thursday with a 7-0 shutout at Mahnomen.

The streak will be challenged Monday when the Sylvia Sjoberg-coached Prowlers head to Crookston for a double-dual against the Pirates and Moorhead.

TRF 7, Mahnomen 0

■ Singles - 1. Steph Lunch (TRF) def. Liz Hevova 6-2, 2-6, 6-4; 2. Beth Goddard (TRF) def. Kari Hendrickson 7-5, 6-0; 3. Eeva Young (TRF) def. Amy Paul 6-2, 6-1; 4. Jenna Tsukichi (TRF) def. Mckenzie Work 6-0, 6-0.

■ Doubles - 1. Katie Harbott-Lesley Ihle (TRF) def. Amanda Schoenborn-Amanda Bray 6-2, 6-2; 2. Becca Lunch-Jenni Gonsolowski (TRF) def. Holly Erickson-Shannon DeVries 6-2, 7-6 (7-3); 3. Beth Pridit-Heather Hansen (TRF) def. Tiffany Johnson-Amanda Black 7-5, 6-4.

TRF picks up victory over Stephen-Argyle

A 9-0 start in Game 1 set the tone Thursday as Thief River Falls beat Stephen-Argyle 15-6, 15-3, 12-15, 15-3 in a high school volleyball match played at Stephen.

Thief River Falls co-head coaches Amy Roche and Bruce Jean had a chance to play all 12 members on the varsity bench as the Prowlers went to 2-0 in their first road match of the 1997 season. They outlasted Crookston 3-2 in their Tuesday opener at home.

The Storm avoided a sweep by grabbing a 7-3 lead in Game 3, then coming back after Thief River Falls rallied to go ahead 12-8.

"The intensity wasn't as high as it was for Crookston," admitted Roche, "but we were steady. It was nice to be able to play everybody."

A balanced Thief River Falls attack included Taya Hunt and Lindsay Drury with 11 kills each, and Lisa Dicken with 10. Dicken also had five blocks and two ace serves. Hunt had a team-high four aces and Julie Martell came off the bench to pick up a pair. Erica McGeary led the Prowlers with 21 set assists, while Hunt picked up 19.

TRF C squad hosting volleyball tournament

Thief River Falls is playing host to an eight-team C squad invitational high school volleyball tournament today (Saturday) in the two Lincoln High School gyms.

TRF Invitational

■ Semifinals - (championship round) Upper Bracket, 11 a.m.; Lower Bracket, 12 noon; (consolation round) Upper Bracket, 11 a.m.; Lower Bracket, 12 noon.

■ Finals - seventh place, 1 p.m.; consolation championship, 2 p.m.; third place, 1 p.m.; championship, 2 p.m.

Wolverines top Gators

Kristin Halvorson had 27 hits, nine of them aces, as Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke beat Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 15-11, 9-15, 15-4, 15-3 in Thursday area high school volleyball.

Dana Wiseth turned in a strong all-around game for the winners with 16 hits (four aces) and 12 serves (three aces), pointed out Wolverines coach Jean Schulz.

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke is 2-0. It was the season-opener for Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and first-year head coach Christine Adrian.

"We played really well," said Schulz. "We set it up well. It was a good team effort. We got some good help from the kids on the bench."

Mustangs vs. Greyhounds

Five of Jenni Morinville's first six serves went for aces Thursday as Red Lake County Central swept Fosston 15-10, 15-5, 15-10 at Oklee.

Angie Chervestad had 20 kills, Jenny Brekkestan 9 and Morinville 8 as the Mustangs improved to 2-0. Frances Hilgeman collected 40 assists.

"We played really well," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray.

TRF ninth grade team 14-0 winner over EGF

Touchdowns in the first and second quarters stood up for a 14-0 Thief River Falls freshman high school football win over East Grand Forks Thursday.

The two scoring plays were 10-yard passes from Justin Skjerven to Nate Sorvig and Ben Myers.

Josh Gryskiewicz added a two-point conversion run for the winners, who are 2-0.

TRF freshmen open with volleyball wins

Thief River Falls swept a pair of season-opening freshman high school volleyball matches from Crookston Thursday.

It was a 15-2, 15-0 final in the A match and a 15-5, 15-2 outcome in the B match.

Picnic is set Sunday for Sportsman Club

Annual Pennington County Sportsman Club membership picnic will be held Sunday, Sept. 7, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the club grounds.

Hamburger, polish sausage, hot dogs and pop will be provided. You may bring a dish to pass.

Shotgun and .22 caliber shooting events will be held. Bring your own guns and ammunition.

Firearms safety class starts Monday

Firearms safety class will begin Monday, Sept. 8, at Franklin Middle School.

Sponsored by the Pennington County Sportsman Club, the program will feature six 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday classroom sessions over a two-week period. Classes will be held Sept. 8, 9, 11, 15, 16 and 18. A field test will be held Sunday, Sept. 21, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Sportsman Club firing range.

Cost of the program is $5 and stamped, self-addressed 4x9 1/2 inch envelope.

Participants must be 12 years old by Dec. 31, 1997 to take part in the program.

Minnesota law specifies that all persons born after Dec. 31, 1979 and all hunters ages 12-15 applying for a hunting license must show proof of successfully completing a firearms safety training course.

Newfolden

When the Soo Line Railroad decided to purchase land in a wooded area along the Middle River in 1903 for the establishment of a station and village, the decision provoked a bit of controversey among settlers who thought the station should be located in their little village of New Folden located two miles south – the settlement was in the center of New Folden township, had a post office and store and was a popular meeting place for area residents.

The river and woods of the new site did, however, provide a more attractive spot for a village, and because the future townsite had been too wet for farming, the Soo Line could purchase it cheaply.

The Soo Line officially named most of its town sites and decided to name the new village "Baltic" in honor of the Baltic Elevators which were built along the Soo Line. The "foreign" name, however, was unacceptable to the Scandinavian community. Moving the post office to the new site, the village was named Newfolden – a shortened version of the often misspelled New Folden.

In 1904, the Soo Line purchased the swampy 160-acre homestead of Olaus (Oliver) Larson for $4,800. The purchase of an additional forty acres from Lewis Ekman was enough to complete the planned townsite.

In 1905, a Soo Line advertisement for the new town of Newfolden boasted a population of 180 and a number of businesses – a milling company, three general merchadise stores, a lumber company, a livestock shipper, an implement dealer, two hotels, a restaurant, a "hard and soft drinks" establishment, a grist mill, a drug, confectionary and tobacco store and a bank.

Some of the new businessmen in Newfolden were outsiders, but many were area farmers who saw a business opportunity and took advantage of it. Within a year, the second Soo station north of Thief River Falls was surrounded by a thriving village. After the initial boom, the little community of Newfolden experienced a more gradual expansion.

Today's Newfolden has a population of approximately 345 people, and a number of businesses line its streets – gas stations, a hardware store, bar, cafe, a roofing company, grocery store, an insurance agency, bank, car wash and others. An elevator stands beside the railroad tracks. Several governmental offices are located within the city.

At the heart of the community is a Community Center which houses City offices and is attached to the fire hall of the volunteer fire department. Several churches, an elementary school, a new high school and streets lined with homes complete Newfolden's scenic picture.

Calling itself the "Rolling Pin Capitol of Minnesota," Newfolden is home of the Lokstad rolling pin.

Volunteers needed at Karlstad Fitness Center

Karlstad - Questions about the Karlstad Fitness Center were raised at a recent Karlstad City Council meeting.

The Health Facilities board was asked to attend the meeting to decide who is responsible for the center now that Altru is operating the clinic.

Now that student volunteers have gone back to school, new volunteers are needed to open the center in the morning, keep it open during the day and close at night. North Star News

Successful RLF benefit raises over $7,000 for Phillion

Red Lake Falls - Over $7,000 was raised at a recent benefit for Jake Phillion. The funds were raised through a golf tournament, benefit supper and raffle.

Happy Trail Riders 4-H Club will also hold a benefit "Ride-athon" for Jake on September 13.

Jake is the seven-year-old son of Bob and Sharon Phillion of Red Lake Falls and has been diagnosed with cancer of the lining of the brain. The Gazette

Roseau School Board accepts resignation

Roseau - One week after pleading guilty for theft by swindle in Roseau County District Court, former assistant principal and third grade teacher Walter Storey submitted his resignation to the Roseau School Board.

The board accepted the unconditional and irreparable resignation, effective September 3, at a special meeting. Roseau Times- Region

Greenbush enters Cyberspace

Greenbush - Greenbush now has its own Web site at http://www.rrv.net.gbush/.

The idea was brought up at a Town and Country meeting last spring when members were discussing having video tapes of the community made up to send out.

Colleen Lorenson facilitated the effort and in doing so fulfilled a comunity service requirement for her master's degree in nursing.

The Web site includes information on history, attractions, employment, health services, education, and location of the city of Greenbush as well as a community calendar. The Tribune

U of M Board of Regents attend UMC dedication

Crookston - The 12-member Board of Regents, the governing board of the University of Minnesota, attended the dedication ceremony of the Sahlstrom Conference Center building at the University of Minnesota– Crookston Thursday.

The naming of the conference center as the Sahlstrom Conference Center is a lasting tribute to Stanley D. Sahlstrom, UMC's founding provost and former University Regent. Crookston Daily Times

16th CRP sign-up announced; information being developed

Sixteenth signup for the federal Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been announced for the period from October 11 through November 14, but local officials are asking property owners to be patient in their quest for information about the signup.

Mike Rutzlaff, district conservationist with the Pennington County office of the Natural Resources Conservation Service, said that staff training on changes in the program is expected to take place within the next couple of weeks. Public information sessions will be provided following that training to inform property owners what to expect in the 16th signup.

"We can understand the interest people have," Rutzlaff said, "especially those who submitted applications during the 15th signup this past March and did not have their applications accepted. But quite frankly, we don't have the information at this time to answer many questions which we are sure people will have."

Glenn Schafer, director of the Pennington County Farm Service Agency, said that Pennington county landowners had submitted bids on about 43,000 acres during the March signup and only 20,000 acres were accepted into the program.

The 16th signup was announced Friday, September 5, in Washington, DC by Dan Glickman, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

"This is an opportunity for landowners to participate in a cost-effective, voluntary program to improve their land, water and wildlife resources," Glickman said. "Many landowners have not participated in CRP in the past. Now they will have another chance to do so."

The ag secretary said applicants should be aware that CRP is a highly competitive program and that the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) system was changed for this signup to address concerns arising from the 15th signup and to better protect the nation's natural resource base.

"I encourage applicants to find out about the EBI well in advance of November 14 (the end of the signup period) and to consult with USDA experts locally on steps they can take to maximize their EBI points," Secretary Glickman said. "Landowners who do this have a higher likelihood that their acreage will be accepted."

Glickman said the wildlife factor of the EBI has been revised to recognize the benefits attributable to vegetative covers planted to address the habitat needs of specific wildlife species. USDA also modified the air quality factor of the EBI to reflect more accurately wind speed, moisture conditions, particle size, organic material, volcanic and organic soils, and made several other minor revisions.

"We want to make sure every potential applicant has the information he or she needs to make an informed decision," Glickman said. "We will be holding public informational meetings and making other efforts to get the facts out to landowners in plenty of time before the signup begins.

"This also will be an opportunity

"Wanna Have Fun....Discover Middle River" is the theme for the annual Miss Middle River pageant to be conducted Sunday, September 21, at 7 p.m. in the Middle River school gymnasium. Admission will be $4 for adults and $2 for children age 12 and younger. Seeking the title are (from left) Rae Lyn Holmestad, 18, daughter of Diane Peterson and Tim Holmestad; Marie Peterson, 17, daughter of Bonnie Peterson and Gary Peterson; and Kara Super, 18, daughter of Thomas and KayDell Super.

Three candidates to seek Miss Middle River title

Three candidates will seek the title of Miss Middle River 1997 at the annual scholarship pageant to be conducted Sunday, September 21, at 7 p.m. in the Middle River school gymnasium.

Theme for the event, which is a preliminary to the annual Middle River Goose festival, is "Wanna Have Fun...Discover Middle River." Pageant admission is $4 for adults and $2 for children 12 and younger.

Contestants include Rae Lyn Holmestad, 18, daughter of Diane Peterson and Tim Holmestad; Maria Peterson, 17, daughter of Bonnie Peterson and Gary Peterson; and Kara Super, 18, daughter of Tom and KayDell Super.

Rae Lyn Holmestad

Rae Lyn participated in junior high volleyball and served as a student manager for football for three years. She sang in the school choir from junior high until the 11th grade.

She plans to attend Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls to study cosmetology and accounting. Her pastimes include reading, writing, babysitting and being with friends and family.

Rae Lyn has five brothers and sisters: Nikki, 15; David, 14; Kayla, 9; Trisha, 7; and Adrianna, six months. Her talent presentation for the pageant will be a vocal solo, It's Your Love by Tim McGraw and Faith Hill.

Maria Peterson

Maria has been on the student council and a member of the high school band and choir for six years, jazz band five years, Future Leaders of America four years and pops choir two years.

She is a past treasurer and now is serving as president of the Northwest District of the Minnesota Association of Student Councils, was inducted into the National Honor Society in 1997 and served as Girls State representative last year. She is a Governor's Scholar, was a junior class homecoming attendant and participated in the Close-Up program in 1995. Involved in church youth group and Sunday School, she also was a volunteer sandbag filler during this spring's floods.

The youngest of eight children, Maria's siblings include Danny, 40; Terry, 39; Tammy, 36; Kristi, 31; Paula, 30; Jamie, 30; and Katie, 26. She enjoys rollerblading, shopping, debating, playing with her puppy and spending time with family and friends.

Maria's talent presentation will be a piano solo: Theme and Variations (Ah! vous dirai-je maman by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. Her future plans are to major in psychology/counseling at North Dakota State University in Fargo.

Kara Super

Kara's school activities have included basketball, manager for the cross country team, band, jazz band, choir, pops choir, Target team member, Future Leaders of America member and drama participant.

She is a senior class officer, earned a scholastic achievement award last year, earned drama awards six years, lettered in basketball and cross country and traveled to Washington, DC, in the Close-Up program.

In the community she has taken part in community theatre, taught Sunday School, been an instrumentalist and song leader at St. Joseph Catholic Church, served as choreographer for several Miss Middle River and Miss Marshall County pageants and participated in the Hee Haw Middle River Style group.

A participant in the Elks hoop shoot competition, she won the local competition five times, district three times and state twice while placing third in the multi-state regional twice. Earning superior ratings and gold cup in piano competitions over six years, she also received district and state star ratings on instrumental and vocal ensembles in school.

Kara enjoys cooking, running, lifting weights, playing with her cats and birds and spending time with family and friends. She has one sister, Krissi, 20 and one brother, T.J., 15.

Her talent presentation at the pageant will be a vocal solo entitled Cabaret by John Kander and Fred Ebb. She lists her future plans as entering the field of Culinary Arts.

Two Hepatitis A cases identified

Dr. Charles Winjum, director of Family Practice at Dakota Clinic in Thief River Falls, reported Wednesday, September 10, that two cases of Hepatitis A had been identified in Thief River Falls.

Officials are urging residents not to become alarmed. Hepatitis A is typically a self-limited infection and clears spontaneously. However, Dr. Winjum, said "we do wish to prevent the spread of Hepatitis A and do recommend if parents and children have been exposed to contact their physician. We can then advise you if you have any significant risk of contracting the Hepatitis A virus and if you need to receive medication for this."

The Minnesota State Health Department has issued the following recommendations:

- That all children, staff and their household contacts at child care centers receive medication, only if there has been direct contact with a known Hepatitis A carrier;
- It is not recommended that schools require immunization;
- It is not recommended that clinic or hospital personnel receive immunization, unless directly exposed.

Symptoms of Hepatitis A are generally described as flu-like and include fever, fatigue, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and loss of appetite. Several days later the following may occur: Jaundice, (yellowing of the eyes and skin), dark colored urine, and light or clay colored stools.

This is not a large outbreak. The expected outcome usually peaks and disappears between three to 16 weeks. Most people in good, general health recover fully in one to four months. A small percentage proceed to chronic Hepatitis. Recovery from viral hepatitis usually provides permanent immunity against it.

Hepatitis A is generally spread through fecal and oral contact, water and food. Individuals coming into possible contact should wash hands thoroughly. There is no special treatment for Heptatis A

Donor advocate and two-time kidney transplant recipient Terry Larson of Middle River will be a guest at Community Expo sponsored by the Middle River Women of Today on Saturday, September 20 at the American Legion Clubrooms in Middle River. Informational booths will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Other activities include lunch, supper, bingo and Karoake. Monies raised will be divided among a number of worthwhile charities.

Women of Today at Middle River plan exposition

by Kathi Carlson
NorthernWatch Reporter

When it comes to raising money the Middle River Women of Today could easily refer to it as "fun" raising.

A day of fun is what they have planned for September 20 when they sponsor a Community Expo at the Middle River American Legion Clubrooms.

Community Expo will begin at 11 a.m. when seven educational displays open. The booths will contain information about the March of Dimes, kidney disease, juvenile diabetes, people with developmental challenges, youth and community involvement, civic awareness and focus on women. Along with brochures and information, some of the booths will feature guests and locals affected by the specific areas. The displays will remain open until 8 p.m.

One of the guests will be Terry Larson. She is the daughter of Clifford and Eleanor Larson of Middle River. A two-time kidney transplant recipient, Terry is an advocate for organ donation.

At the age of 13, Terry was diagnosed with diabetes, a chronic condition in which the body is unable to utilize sugars properly because of hormonal malfunctions. Normally, sugars synthesized from the digestion of carbohydrates are transported to the liver, converted to a substance called glycolgen and stored for later use. This process uses insulin, a hormone secreted by the pancreas. If something – it may be an unproduction of insulin, or it may be some interference with the action by some other hormone-disturbs the process, the sugars stay in the bloodstream and are eventually excreted in the urine, leaving the body's various organs and tissues deprived of needed energy.

Diabetes is often more difficult to control in children than adults because young peoples' levels of activity are so variable, and they are thus using different amounts of sugar at different times.

Doctor's instructions–as to insulin injections, diet, exercising– must be followed explicitly. It is important, too, that children learn to manage this condition by themselves.

Terry spent her 13th birthday learning to administer her own insulin injections. It wasn't Terry's idea of a fun way to spend her birthday.

Like most young people, Terry wanted to be just like everyone else. With only her family and a few close friends aware of her condition, she managed her diabetes through her teen years, graduated from high school and went on to attend the technical school in Thief River Falls.

In May of 1987, Terry became critically ill while visiting the Iron

Rally planned to move 10,000 wild orchids

To save many of the Showy Lady Slipper plants located along Highway 11 between Roosevelt and Williams from highway construction equipment, a rally is being planned for Saturday, September 20, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Minnesota Department of Transportation plans to widen the highway shoulders in a project to begin next spring. The construction will destroy the flowers which have become established along the right of way over the years.

Many interested members of the public will be needed to accomplish the goal of moving 10,000 of the wild orchid plants. The Showy Lady Slipper is Minnesota's state flower.

Volunteers will meet at Blueberry Hill rest area by 10 a.m. that day and then be dispersed into digging groups along the highway. All persons interested are encouraged to participate and are asked to bring their own shovels.

Although the orchids are protected under state law, authorization has been received from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources for all volunteers to take two clumps of orchids home with them if they so wish. As an added incentive to participate, area artist Thomas Parr Williamson has donated an original painting to be drawn for among the workers.

Celeste LaValla of Warroad, wildflower route chairperson, has called for a large turnout of volunteers in the effort to help save as many of the state flowers as possible from destruction.

"I'm sure 10,000 plants sounds like a lot of digging," she told the Northern Watch late this week. "If we can have a couple hundred people turn out, however, we can dig that many plants in two or three hours. It will average only 50 plants per person."

LaValla said that the Department of Transportation will be providing trucks to haul the plants and the Department of Natural Resources will also provide assistance.

Volunteers will be shown and given instruction on what the plants look like in their die-back form at this time of year and many of the plants will be marked with flags earlier in the day. Those working on the project will simply dig the plants and pile them along the roadway for pickup and transportation.

Kittson County School cancels building vote

Hallock - At a special meeting recently the Kittson Central School Board voted to cancel the bond referendum election set for September 25. The proposed $5.6 million project included closing the elementary building and reconfiguring the grade level organization to K-6 in Kennedy and 7-12 in Hallock.

Impact on taxpayers was one of the major reasons for the cancellation of the bond vote.

Superintendent Bruce Jensen said he still hopes to come up with a project that will help the district save money by closing one of the buildings. Kittson County Enterprise

DNR to acquire Polk County land for reserves

Fosston - Polk County Commissioners approved the acquisition of two parcels of land in East Polk County by the Department of Natural Resources.

The approximately 80 acres of timber and swamp land owned by Forrest Giannonotti of rural Mentor will be added to the existing 2,000-acre DNR reserve north of Mentor. According to the DNR wildlife office, the parcel is primarily virgin western prairie pasture land with several species of endangered native plants. The Thirteen Towns

To Our Customers and Other Friends:

After many years of business in Thief River Falls, I have made the final decision to relocate to the Perham area and concentrate my business efforts on the Lakes Hearth and Home Center. This move will also permit me to be closer to family.

Having been a member of the Thief River Falls community for 24 years, this decision was made after much soul-searching and deliberation. It is never easy to sever the many ties of friendship and association that bind one to a community, and that is perhaps more true than ever in the case of Thief River Falls.

I started Cathy Belmont Interiors in 1985 and have been proud to be a member of the Thief River Falls business community. Thanks to the support of residents of Thief River Falls and the surrounding area, the business increased each year. This response is one reason that makes my decision particularly difficult. Your kind words and compliments as satisfied customers will be long remembered and appreciated.

I also appreciate the friendship and dedicated efforts of my employees whose creativity and strong work ethic enabled us to serve and meet the needs of our customers. My sincerest thanks to you.

Beginning Tuesday, September 16 -Thursday, September 18, we will be offering discount prices on many of our products. Change of ownership will be announced at a later date.

Sincerely,

Cathy Belmont

Co-op Association to hold meetings throughout Sept.

Minnesota Association of Cooperatives will be holding a series of District meetings throughout the state during the month of September. A meeting for District 15, which includes the counties of Red Lake, Pennington, Polk, Marshall, Beltrami, Lake of the Woods, Roseau and Kittson will be held Wednesday, September 24, at the Best Western in Thief River Falls at 1:30 p.m.

The meetings provide an opportunity for cooperative board members and managers to learn about current activities of cooperatives and their trade association as well as look to the future.

At all the District meetings there will be discussion about the future direction of cooperatives, the start of developing a legislative agenda for 1998 and an election of district director. Some of the issues that will be discussed at the meetings include deregulation of the utilities, changes in dairy industry and the use of Limited Liability Companies and marketing agencies in comman by cooperatives.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am writing to you regarding your editorial in the September 6th issue about Princess Diana. We scrutinize and criticize the life that Princess Diana lived. What about our own President? He has not lived the life of a Puritan. The news media supports and protects him. Whenever someone reports about his escapades it is "all a lie."

Recently we read about two teenagers who strangled their newborn infant. They were charged with murder. Every day we kill unborn babies legally. What kind of message are we sending to our young people?

People in our government including those in high positions lie to us and steal from us and we say nothing. We just vote them back into office. The news media puts on a big spread about college students cheating on examinations. What example do they have from all of us? Shouldn't we be leading lives that are an example to our young!

Sincerely,
Patricia Wangsnes
St. Hilaire, Minnesota

To The Editor:

I read your somewhat disturbing editorial in the Northern Watch, Saturday, September 6. I do not envy your job of writing an editorial every week, but I disagree with much of what you said about Diana. Although she was only 36, she was sensitive to the needs of others. She helped raise hundreds of thousands of dollars for charity, more than any other living person. She hugged and cradled the poor and the hungry, the sick and the dying. She has consoled other hurting people through direct conversation and personal notes. Diana has done more good for humanity in her short life than most of us could ever hope to do.

Yes, she has made mistakes. How mature were we at that age? Did we always make correct and honorable choices? Have you seen the book Smart Women, Foolish Choices! Various women, whose lives were chronicled in that book, were not unlike many educated, intelligent, respectable women I have known, who in my opinion, made extremely foolish choices when it came to romance!

And what role did Diana play in that dreadful tunnel scene? In the first place, we have all been instructed never to ride with a driver who has been drinking. Diana should have insisted on a different driver. Secondly, she should have buckled up. Statistics prove that buckling up saves lives. It was poor judgment for Diana to neglect wearing her seat belt. It seems to me that she was also using poor judgment in her choice of escort. If the romance would have led to marriage, his religion alone could have added more stress to her already complicated "private life" (if any privacy existed).

Moreover, Dodi's character was questionable. According to some recent reports, there were almost a dozen law suits against him for cheating people of money due them, despite his vast wealth. If Prince Charles is a philanderer, as you imply, Dodi must surely qualify for that title, also. (In a recent article in People magazine, Dodi's dad was quoted as saying that Dodi was apt to toss this gem aside, too, as he has done with others.)

Like Diana, many of us have neglected to buckle up, too. We have ridden with intoxicated drivers and associated with "questionable" characters. We, like she, have exhibited poor judgment! However, to call Princess Diana "Lady Lust" is to set one's self up as judge. We have been taught that lust is something that comes from within. God alone knows our hearts. "Princess Dancer," if you wish, because that could be an honest observation. She was as beautiful on the outside as inside, and she seemed to enjoy dancing and having a good time, but to say she was "an embarrassment to all decent British citizens...." How can we be so cruel? We have all read, "Let he who is without sin cast the first stone."

Have you ever wondered what Diana's life might have been like if Prince Charles had not deceived her in the first place? A friend of mine said that Charles should have just taken her home and loved and cherished her, and she probably would have been home with her family, instead of dining in Paris; but Charles was an adult involved with a married woman. She was a teenager, "used" by him to provide an heir to the royal throne.

Like women everywhere, her greatest wish for her marriage was to share genuine love and tenderness, have a happy family with "togetherness." She didn't ask for the social limelight. Many times she voiced her feelings about divorce. Coming from a broken home, that is the last thing she wanted! Unlike most women, she was open with her innermost feelings of inadequacy and insecurity, and she was able to talk about her eating disorder, and her emotional ups and downs, with which many could identify, and we learned to love for being one of us.

Diana was not perfect. Neither were Roosevelt, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Nixon nor Henry Sibley. Even Billy Graham admits that he is sinful and unworthy. None of us is perfect, but our "secret sins" are probably much easier for us to hide than the more public sins of the rich and famous. Instead of faulting Diana or putting her down, we should concentrate on all the good that she has done and leave judgment to the One much more qualified for the job! (Besides, He knows that we can't be perfect!)

Sincerely,
Lucy Aasland

Parent advisory meet Sept. 16 at Franklin MS

First parent advisory group meeting of the 1997-98 school year at Franklin middle school in Thief River Falls has been scheduled for Tuesday, September 16, at 7 p.m. in the school media center. All parents of Franklin students are encouraged to attend the meeting.

The advisory group meets every other month to discuss school policies, curriculum, student activities and other matters of interest and concern to Franklin parents.

"Parent input is vital for use in providing services that will fulfill student needs," noted Glenn Chiodo of the school's administrative staff.

"Isn't Everybody Supposed To Be A Saint...."

Mother Teresa, who died September 5 at the age of 87, had lived a lifetime of service to the less fortunate and was the most well known nun in the world. In response to the question of how she felt about being referred to as a living saint, she once shrugged and said, "Well, isn't everybody supposed to be a saint?"

Despite what everyone is supposed to be, none came close to the saintly accomplishments of this diminutive dynamo who could lead and inspire as well as help and serve. At less than five feet tall, what she lacked in physical stature she much more than made up in the stature she earned in the minds and hearts of those who received her compassion and help.

According to a summary of her life, she founded more than 550 convents, hospices, shelters and orphanages in more than 120 countries. Her order today includes more than 4,500 nuns, 500 brothers and a number of priests as well as tens of thousands of lay volunteers.

Mother Teresa was a woman of action, with little time for ceremony while having infinite patience with the poor. We enjoyed the story told by Cardinal Anthony J. Bevilacqua of Philadelphia who recalled Mother Teresa coming to Brooklyn, NY, to solicit aid in establishing a home in New York for priests of her order. At the time, Bevilacqua was a priest in the diocesan offices and the bishop was out of town on vacation.

"By the way," Mother Teresa said, "I need a house, to start a community." Bevilacqua said he would see what he could do when the bishop returned. "We can't wait," the nun insisted. "I'm leaving Saturday, so I'll need it by Friday."

"I don't know how it happened," Cardinal Bevilacqua said, "but I found one." It was one of the many little miracles which seemed to follow Mother Teresa around.

While she labored for many years beyond the public eye, her work did not go unrecognized. She received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979 in what Francis Sjersted, chairman of the awards committee in Oslo, Norway, called "one of the most rewarding ever made." She also received many other major recognitions, including the Presidential Medal of Freedom from U.S. President Ronald Reagan in 1985.

Despite the accolades she received from heads of state and the news media around the world, she never sought attention for herself but rather for the plight of those she championed.

When her death came on the eve of the funeral for Princess Diana of England, some in the media tried to attempt a comparison of the two internationally influential women. To do so would be unfair to both. They were products of entirely different cultures and social strata, and though their paths crossed, they never paralleled.

Princess Diana had everything material and did give some of her time to charitable causes on occasion at her convenience. Likely she would have done more had her life not ended at age 36.

Mother Teresa had nothing material but gave her entire being to others throughout a long lifetime. Interestingly, she was 36 years old in 1946 when she received the inspiration to leave her teaching position in India to go and live among the poor. When Pope Paul VI gave her a limousine in 1964, in recognition of her achievements and needs, she raffled it off and used the $13,000 in proceeds for her work, starting a leper colony in West Bengal that same year. At age 87, although retired for less than a year as superior of her order, she was still immersed in her work of helping others.

While hundreds of millions respect and honor her, very few will have the selfless commitment and resolve to try to emulate Mother Teresa's totality of service. Her memory will be cherished by the many whose lives she touched and the millions who stand in awe of her willingness to give. "Isn't everybody supposed to be a saint?"

Elusive Goal Of 61 Major League Homers.... And A Real Injustice

As the major league baseball seasons draw toward a close, it would appear that the possibility of anyone eclipsing the season record of 61 home runs is rapidly becoming remote. At this writing the closest pursuers of the record are a dozen or more homers away from breaking the mark with fewer than 20 games remaining to do it.

Early in the season—in fact, up to the All-Star game at the midway break—it again appeared that several of the premier sluggers in the game would have a chance to homer their way into history. They were clouting tape measure drives at a rapid pace and speculation was high that this year, finally, the record would fall.

And some day it may be tied or broken as athletes get bigger and stronger and more scientific in their approach. But not this year. This will be another year when challengers fade in the second half of the season, despite the lack of strong pitching, especially in the American League.

It was in 1961 when Roger Maris of the New York Yankees—an athlete whom Fargo, ND. claims as its hometown boy—broke the 34-year-old record of 60 set by George Herman "Babe" Ruth in 1927. It was a baseball milestone that many would consider second only to Cal Ripken's breaking of Ty Cobb's consecutive game record. Commissioner Ford C. Frick had ruled earlier that in view of the new 162-game schedule of the expanded league, Ruth's record would stand unless bettered within a 154-game limit—the former season schedule. That ruling was later set aside. Maris hit 59 home runs in 154 games played to a decision. His 61st homer in the fourth inning of the 162nd game provided the Yankees with a 1-0 win over the Boston Red Sox.

For 36 years—two years longer than Ruth's record—the Maris record has withstood the assault of the major leagues' most prolific power hitters, including the legendary Hank Aaron. It is that elusive ring that hangs just beyond the hitters' grasp but is there for all to see.

Yet the late holder of that record, the man who surpassed the immortalized Babe Ruth, is not a member of baseball's Hall of Fame. This is more than an injustice, it is a travesty of justice. As each year passes with the record untouched, the enormity of Maris' feat increases. It and he should be part of the shrine to the national pastime, no doubt about it.

This year, prostate cancer will be detected in more than 300,000 men and more than 41,000 will die from the disease.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch, exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Flood funds allocated to area agencies

Northwest Regional Development Commission in Warren has been awarded a $400,000 grant from the Economic Development Administration to establish a flood disaster relief revolving loan fund, according to Congressman Collin Peterson of Detroit Lakes.

Rep. Peterson said the money will provide financial assistance to businesses affected by the 1997 floods by providing working capital and fixed assets financing.

"With the establishment of this fund, the NWRDC is trying to save jobs and preserve the tax base," the congressman said. The commission serves Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties.

Rep. Peterson also announced that $1.5 million in emergency funding has been approved by the U.S. Department of Transportation to repair and rebuild flood-damaged rail lines in Minnesota. Projects in the Seventh District will receive over $280,000 of this funding.

According to Peterson, $173,713 in emergency assistance is to be used to repair flood-damaged track on the Northern Plains Railroad from Radium to Oslo, a distance of 25 miles, and $106,858 used to repair flood-damaged track on the Minnesota Northern Railroad between Ada and Crookston, Perley and Crookston and St. Hilaire and Warroad.

Federal funding will cover 70 percent of the cost to repair the tracks with the remaining 30 percent coming from the state.

How about some easy breakfast ideas for those kiddies who are back in school! Make these the night before, or make them in the morning - either way, they're great.

It's zucchini time again - remember how great warm zucchini bread tastes with a cup of coffee - try this one:

ZUCCHINI BREAD

3 eggs
2 cups sugar
1 cup vegetable oil
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 cups grated, peeled zucchini
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup finely chopped nuts

Beat eggs until light and frothy. Add sugar, oil and vanilla, mixing until thick. Add zucchini and stir thoroughly.

Sift flour, cinnamon, baking powder, soda and salt. Add, stirring until smooth. Add nuts and lemon rind.

Bake in 2 greased and floured loaf pans for about 1 hour at 350 degrees.

How about some yummy muffins for breakfast tomorrow:

BROWN SWEET MUFFINS

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup molasses
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup sour milk
2 cups flour
1/2 cup raisins
1/4 cup chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten eggs and molasses.

Sift flour and spices, then beat in alternately with baking soda mixed with sour milk. Add raisins and nuts. Pour into muffin cups.

Bake about 15 minutes at 350 degrees or until done. (Makes 1 dozen muffins.)

Could this be an Elvis favorite? Maybe. Anyway, it's a filling and nourishing start to the day:

PEANUT BUTTER BANANA BREAD

1 3/4 cup flour
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/3 cup shortening
2/3 cup sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 heaping tablespoons peanut butter
3 ripe bananas, mashed

Sift flour, baking powder and soda. Cream shortening, sugar, salt and eggs. Mix well. Add mashed bananas, peanut butter and vanilla. Beat well.

Bake in 2 layer cake tins at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or until done.

Use some of that garden produre for this tasty breakfast treat:

CARROT MUFFINS

2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups oil
4 eggs
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups shredded carrots

Beat sugar, oil, eggs and vanilla. Mix flour, soda, salt and cinnamon together and add to oil mixture slowly. Add carrots.

Place in muffin cups and bake at 350 degrees about 18 minutes or until done.

Rural Life Celebration in Audubon

Catholic/Lutheran Rural Life commission of Northwest Minnesota is sponsoring "A Celebration of Faith and Perseverance: Honoring the People of Northwest Minnesota", on Sunday, September 21, at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Audubon. The celebration will begin with an Ecumenical service at 3:30 p.m. followed by an address by Dr. Bernard Evans, Ph.D., and roast pork and turkey dinner. There will be activities for the entire family.

Come celebrate the people's spirit of perseverance and the Lord's blessing of the harvest of Northwest Minnesota. Dr. Evans is associate professor of pastoral theology at St. John's University, Collegeville. He holds the Virgil Michel Ecumenical Chair in Rural Social Ministries, teaching courses on ministry in rural communities, Christian social ethics, and theology and the environment.

The celebration will be held at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, which is five miles south of Audubon on County road 11 and one-half mile east on County road 6. Come rain or shine. The Catholic/Lutheran Rural Life is an ecumenical group which consists of members from the Northwest Minnesota Lutheran Synod and the Diocese of Crookston, and serve as advocates for agricultural issues and the quality of life in Northwest Minnesota.

'U'M course on child abuse at Moorhead State

Child abuse issues and prevention will be addressed in a new University of Minnesota course and professional certificate program to be offered through interactive television at Moorhead State University beginning September 27 and continuing for 10 weeks.

"Child Abuse Prevention 1: Research and Theory" will be presented Saturday mornings at MSU. No prerequisite coursework is necessary, but students who have not completed a bachelor's degree must contact the instructor for permission.

Participants in CAPS classes in the past have included social service workers, law enforcement and courts personnel, attorneys, teachers and school officials, public health professionals, volunteers in non-profit organizations, foster parents, clergy and others interested in the welfare of children. Call 612-625-1855 for registration materials and information.

The program is offered cooperatively by the University's School of Social Work and University College (formerly Continuing Education and Extension).

Tips For Safe Medication Storage

Did you know your medicine cabinet may NOT be the best place to store your medications?

In many bathrooms, heat and moisture from the shower or bath may cause your medications to lose their effectiveness. Instead, try storing them in a cool, dry place out of the reach of children, such as a high shelf in a linen closet.

Organize your medications for safe but convenient access.

One way to do this is to put internal medication on the top shelf, external medications on the center shelf.

Here are some tips to remember:

- Consider "child-resistant" safety caps when you have a prescription filled
- Keep all medications out of the reach of children
- Read all medication labels thoroughly and carefully
- Follow medication directions exactly and take your medication until it is gone or your doctor advises otherwise
- Keep medications in their original containers

Do not take medications that:

- Are beyond their expiration dates
- Are no longer being taken under a doctor's care
- Have changed in color, odor or appearance
- Are not in their original containers
- Have missing directions
- Have labels you can't clearly read

If you have any questions or concerns about your medications always check with your doctor or your Medicine Shoppe® Pharmacist.

We Accept Insurance From Digi-Key, Hydra-Mac, Arctic Cat & Most Other Third Party Plans.

Pioneers host Spartans in home debut...

NCTC football player earns MCCC honors

Chaka Ali, a freshman defensive end from Northland Community and Technical College, was named the first Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division Defensive Player of the Week for 1997 season following the Pioneers' season-opening 21-7 loss at the hands of Ridgewater.

Ali, an Armstrong High School graduate, was credited with 10 unassisted tackles, one assisted stop, two sacks and three tackles for losses in the game played at Willmar.

It was a clean Southern Division sweep over the Northern Division in Week 1 when, in addition to the Ridgewater victory over Northland, Central Lakes shut out Hibbing 24-0, Minnesota West edged Itasca 29-26, Fergus Falls defeated Mesabi 24-19, and Rochester ended a two-year, 20-game Vermilion winning streak, 26-18.

Northland hosts Fergus Falls today (Saturday) in a 1:30 p.m. home opener at Prowler Field. Fergus Falls quarterback Jeff Grauer, a freshman from St. Paul Harding, was selected as MCCC Southern Division Offensive Player of the Week for a 21-for-30, 391-yard, three touchdown season-opening performance.

All Week 1 games were played at Southern Division fields. Today, the Northern Division will serve as host sites. In addition to Fergus Falls at Northland, it's Minnesota West at Hibbing, Rochester at Itasca, Central Lakes at Mesabi, and Ridgewater at Vermilion.

A third set of Northern-Southern match-ups will be played Sept. 20 before divisional play starts in Week 4.

Halvorson is picking up yards for Nordics

Although a 26-12 season-opening win over Norman County West was followed by a 32-6 loss to Kittson County North, Marshall County Central's 1997 high school football team is headed in the right direction, according to head coach Kent Warne.

"I think we're on the right track," said Warne prior to the Nordics' Friday night Nine-Man match-up with East Grand Forks Sacred Heart in Newfolden. "The kids are really positive. They're working hard."

In the opener, the Nordics trailed 12-6 at halftime before striking for three long range second half scores – a 22-yard run by Garrett Magner to tie it, a 71-yard pass from Nick Wilcox to Bjorn Halvorson and then a 55-yard run by Halvorson.

"We started kind of slow," said Warne, "but by the fourth quarter we were rolling."

In Week 2, Marshall County Central gave up two quick touchdowns, then held Kittson County North to just two first downs over the final three quarters. The Cougars added points, however, on a blocked punt and a pass interception that was returned for a touchdown.

"Outside of those first two touchdowns, our defense played really well," noted Warne. "Offensively, we moved the ball between the 20-yard lines, but we couldn't finish."

Halvorson, a 5-10, 170-pound sophomore runningback, carried 21 times for 153 yards against Norman County West and followed that with a 29-carry, 102-yard effort against Kittson County North.

He's running behind an offensive line that includes seniors Eric Moose (5-11, 215) and Troy Elseth (5-9, 170), along with sophomores Mike Fillmore (6-0, 160), Tyler Knutson (5-10, 230) and Jason McGregor (6-1, 205). Tight ends Brandeis Olberg (6-1, 155) and Jeremy Bring (5-10, 180), a pair of seniors, also play key roles as blockers.

Olberg, an end, and senior linebackers Lucas Abrahamson (5-6, 150) and Magner (5-9, 200) lead the Nordics' defense.

Marshall County Central will meet Tri-County Friday (Sept. 19) in the Nordics' 1997 homecoming game at Newfolden.

B/G-MR girls start 0-3

Tough competition at the top of the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River schedule has forced rookie head coach Christine Adrian to delay celebrating her her first-ever high school volleyball win.

The Gators, who lost a 3-1 season-opener to Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke Sept. 4, ran into highly-regarded Lake of the Woods Monday and lost 15-8, 15-7, 15-2.

They followed that with a Tuesday match against Roseau that was won by the Rams 3-15, 15-5, 9-15, 15-11, 15-2.

"First three teams we played are probably the top three teams in the area," explained Adrian. "The girls are playing hard. They're improving."

Seniors Stefanie Sparby and Kara Kuznia have been steady, pointed out Adrian, who added that senior Tiffany Hagen and junior Kelsey Foldesi "are coming into their own."

Early-season wins help boost MCC confidence

■ Volleyball team wins three straight

Marshall County Central matched its entire 1996 win total by beating Stephen-Argyle 15-5, 18-16, 15-12 Monday in a high school volleyball match played at Newfolden.

Coupled with a pair of wins and a third place finish in their own invitational Saturday, the Nordics' victory over the Storm improved their record to 3-3. They were 3-23 last year.

The three wins followed 3-1 season-opening losses to Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke and Warroad, and a 2-1 setback at the hands of Warren-Alvarado-Oslo in the first round of the Marshall County Central Sports Boosters Invitational.

"Winning three in a row helps," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We're not where we want to be, but the wins give us a little confidence."

Junior Kristi Kilen is the Nordics' top hitter, and senior Miki Waterworth has been putting together strong all-around performances with her floor game and strong defensive play, according to Jorgenson. Senior Kami Underdahl has also been steady on defense, added Jorgenson.

A Thursday outing against rival Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was the Nordics' seventh match in a 10-day span.

"We've played a lot of volleyball the first week of the season," noted Jorgenson.

Win over Warroad extends Wolverines opening streak

A season-opening high school volleyball winning streak for Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke reached six matches Tuesday with a 15-12, 9-15, 15-9, 6-15, 15-9 victory over Warroad at Goodridge.

"It was a tough match," acknowledged Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Schulz. "We played well, for the most part. We have to work on our coverage."

The hard-hitting affair featured front row play by Heather Evans of Warroad and the 1-2 Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke combination of Kristin Halvorson and Jennicca Gallagher.

Pioneers split pair in triangular meet

■ NCTC volleyball home debut

First home appearance of the 1997 season for the Northland Community and Technical College volleyball team produced a split for the Pioneers, who hosted Itasca and UND-Lake Region in Wednesday's Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Triangular.

Northland swept Itasca 15-2, 15-7, 15-10 in a 3-out-of-5 Minnesota Community College Conference-counting match.

UND-Lake Region was a 12-15, 15-7, 22-20 winner over Northland in a 2-out-of-3 nonconference affair that the Pioneers extended by coming back from a 14-7 deficit in the third game – played under rally-point conditions in which a point is scored on every serve. The end-of-the-match speed-up rule is being used nation-wide this fall.

"We played very well against Itasca," said Northland coach Shari Olson. "It was disappointing to lose to Lake Region after coming back like we did, but I was real proud of the girls the way they hung in there."

Naomi Wilebski led Northland with 10 kills against Itasca, while Paula Hovda had 7, Joni VanEngen 5 and Lani Hendrickson 4. Melissa Bernstein came up with 10 assists and Rayna Benson had 8. Angela Vagle had a team-high 5 assists.

Against UND-Lake Region, Hovda was the Northland leader with 7 kills, while Tammy Nerby finished with 5 and Hendrickson had 4. Bernstein came up with 10 more assists and Benson had 6.

Northland was a tired team when the Pioneers took the court against the Royals, pointed out Olson. "Our hitting efficiency was 36 percent – which is excellent – against Itasca but only 6 percent against Lake Region," she explained. "That shows we were getting tired."

The Pioneers took a 2-1 overall record on the road for MCCC matches Friday night at Vermilion and Saturday afternoon at Mesabi.

Prowlers beat Jacks in volleyball...

TRF rallies set up win over Bemidji

Comeback efforts in the first two games led to Thief River Falls' 3-1 high school volleyball win over Bemidji Thursday.

The Prowlers won 15-12, 17-15, 9-15, 15-3.

Thief River Falls came back from 9-2 and 12-6 deficits in Game 1 and overcame a 13-9 Bemidji lead in Game 2 to go ahead 14-13. The Lumberjacks regained a 15-14 edge, but the Prowlers picked up the final three points.

Bemidji watched a third game Thief River Falls rally chop an 8-4 spread to 9-8 before finishing with six straight points and a win for a 2-1 match.

However, the Prowlers finished the night by controlling play in Game 4 to improve their record to 3-1. The Lumberjacks fell to 1-4.

"It was exciting," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "We were trying some new things at the start, and they just didn't work, so we went back to Plan A."

Lindsay Drury led the Prowlers with 16 kills. Desirae Alberg joined her in double figures with 12. Drury also had a team-high five ace serves. Lisa Dicken came up with four blocks, while Drury and Taya Hunt both had three.

"Our defense was good," mentioned Roche. "We did a good job blocking."

Hunt completed what Roche called a strong all-round performance with 21 assists. Erica McGeary had 14.

Thief River Falls, after a Friday-Saturday appearance at the UMC Invitational, will be back at home Tuesday when the Prowlers host East Grand Forks.

Gators top Nordics in volleyball sweep

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River broke into the win column for the first time this fall Thursday with a 15-8, 15-12, 15-7 high school volleyball sweep over visiting Marshall County Central.

The Gators had started the year 0-3. The Nordics came into the match 3-3.

"I thought the two teams were evenly matched," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson, "but we became unglued. We shot ourselves in the foot several times. We were not real consistent."

Poor serving percentage played a major role in the Nordics' problems, pointed out Jorgenson.

"Kristi Kilen had a real nice offensive game," noted Jorgenson. "Defensively, we've got some things to work on."

Wolverines vs. Bears

Unbeaten status of Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke ended at six matches Thursday when the Wolverines lost a 3-0 decision to a highly-regarded Lake of the Woods team at Grygla.

The Bears won 15-6, 15-8, 15-10.

"Lake of the Woods has a good team," acknowledged Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Schulz. "They have good hitters, and they cover the floor well. Our serving wasn't very good, and we didn't come out hitting. I don't know if they were intimidated or what."

The Bears' Heather Hanson came up with 12 kills. Kristin Halvorson of the Wolverines had six. Dana Wiseth of Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke was credited with 26 assists.

Mustangs vs. Falcons

Red Lake County Central struggled at times, but still came out a 15-13, 15-7, 15-7 Thursday winner over Fertile-Beltrami at Oklee.

The Mustangs, impressive in a 3-0 Monday win over Thief River Falls when they won back-to-back 15-0 games, trailed 10-3 in Game 1 against the Falcons.

"It was kind of a disappointing performance after the way we played against Thief River," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. "We had trouble passing, and they (Falcons) play good defense. They were picking everything up. We played well enough to win, I guess."

Angie Chervestad had 11 kills and Jenni Morinville 7 for the winners. Frances Hilgeman served five aces.

Red Lake County Central is 4-0.

TRF boys, girls run in Crookston meet

An appearance at the Crookston Invitational high school cross country meet Thursday produced a second place finish for the Thief River Falls girls and a seventh place showing by the Prowler boys. The meet drew 10 girls teams and 11 boys squads.

The Prowlers' Becky Mooney, after winning back-to-back races at season-opening Warren-Alvarado-Oslo and Roseau invitationals, finished second at Crookston to Jill Field of Barnesville.

Rob Russillo, a recent addition to the team as a transfer student from South Dakota, turned in the top time for the Thief River Falls boys.

First-year Thief River Falls head coach Teri Ueland was more than happy with the Prowlers' performances. "They were awesome," she said. "They had a tough work-out Wednesday when we ran hills, and they came back and did a great job. They were tired, but I told them they just had to keep pushing. They ran well."

Park Rapids Area girls and Griggs County Central (ND) boys won team titles.

Thief River Falls will run at Bagley Tuesday and at Detroit Lakes Thursday.

Pirates, Panthers top TRF JV in swimming

Crookston (130-32) and Park Rapids Area (107-29) handed Thief River Falls a pair of losses in the junior varsity portion of recent girls high school dual swim meets at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Coaches point out that with a number of younger swimmers filling spots in the varsity line-up, the junior varsity is often understaffed.

MSHSL meeting is scheduled for TRF

Thief River Falls will be one of the sites visited by the Board of Directors of the Minnesota State High School during a series of public meetings throughout the state this fall.

The Board encourages interested persons to attend, ask questions about the League, to share comments with members of the Board about high school fine arts and athletic activities, to provide input on eligibility rules, and to learn more about the 470-member organization.

Scheduled to start at 6 p.m., the Thief River Falls meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 21, at the Best Western Inn.

Large onions in Taylor garden at St. Hilaire

Donna Taylor of St. Hilaire brought to the Times and Northern Watch office Wednesday two exceptionally large yellow onions grown in her home garden. The onions weighed three and two pounds.

Mrs. Taylor said she watered the onions—grown from sets planted this spring—only occasionally. While many of the onions were very large, she said, the two examples were the largest and she questioned if they would cure and keep without spoiling.

The Taylors just may have some of the county's largest onion rings at a future meal.

Everybody's Market on Saturday has 80+ entries

Recent entries for Everybody's Market in Thief River Falls today (Saturday, September 13) have swelled the total to more than 80, according to the sponsoring Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Just a week ago the list included 54 entries, but a rush of recent registrations has been received which will make the event even more attractive for Saturday shoppers.

Hours for Everybody's Market are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and participants will be located in front of downtown stores and at Floyd B. Olson park. The curling club building at the fairgrounds is available to the first 65 exhibitors registered in case of adverse weather.

Since the listing made in the September 6 issue of the Northern Watch, 28 additional entries have been received. These additional participants are from Ada, Newfolden, Oklee, Middle River, Clearbrook, Grygla, Warren, East Grand Forks, Detroit Lakes, Fertile, Argyle, Lake Park, Crookston, Plummer and Lake Bronson in addition to Thief River Falls.

Among items listed as being offered for sale are photo albums and accessories, covers for baby car seats, canine literature, vegetables, oak trunks and plant stands, post snowmen, refrigerator magnets and book covers, birdhouses and feeders, candles and acrylic angels, sweatshirts, apple arrangements, crocheted items, produce, Mini Lop rabbits, Southwest items, Watkins products, T-shirts, florals, ceramics, baskets and benches.

Transplanting will take place along Highway 11 east of Williams where road widening and shoulder improvements have already been done. It is also planned to store some of the plants on private land for replanting in the Williams to Roosevelt section of Highway 11 after road work has been completed. Some of the transplanting may be done September 20, but arrangements have been made for school children to conduct the bulk of that work on Monday, September 22.

LaValla also said that an effort was made to dig and transplant a number of the Showy Lady Slipper plants a year ago when similar road work was done from Baudette to Pitt along highway 11, but not in the quantity that is hoped for this year.

"In addition to being beautiful and distinctive flowers, these plants are fragile and unpredictable," she said. "If an effort isn't made to move and protect them, they will be destroyed in the road project and lost forever."

Volunteers need not register in advance, but merely show up prior to 10 a.m. September 20. They will be assigned work areas. Blueberry Hill rest area is located two miles east of Roosevelt or three miles west of Williams.

Women of Today plan exposition

Range to attend her cousin's high school graduation. A physician in Hibbing informed her that the diabetes had destroyed her kidneys. While waiting for a kidney to become available for transplantation, Terry received dialysis every other day in Grand Forks.

Terry had her first transplant on October 13, 1987 at the age of 24. From the beginning, that kidney was in chronic rejection, and the anti-rejection drugs caused more harm than good. Doctors told her that the transplanted kidney would not last and would eventually need to be replaced.

The kidney lasted until July 7, 1996 when Terry again became very sick. With her sister's wedding the next day, Terry insisted on being released from the hospital for the occasion. The doctor released her to participate in the wedding, and on the 9th, the very sick Terry reentered the hospital. Once again she required dialysis every other day.

On January 3, 1996 Terry received a new kidney and pancreas. With the new pancreas, she is no longer insulin dependent and refers to herself as "100 percent better." Her new pancreas is producing insulin, and if it continues to work for five years, she will no longer be considered diabetic.

Both transplants took place at the University of Minnesota, and twice she received organs from anonymous donors. She waited five months for the first transplant and six months for the second.

Today Terry is a healthy 34-year-old woman with a quick smile and sparkling eyes. The third finger of her left hand sparkles too, sporting a lovely engagement ring. With no definite date set, Terry indicated that the wedding will be sometime next year. She can look forward to a normal life that can include children. She currently works part-time at Pamida.

Terry does have to take a large amount of medication every day, a total of 24 pills–nine in the morning, four at lunch time, four at dinner and seven at night. Sixteen of the pills are antacids, one is a coated aspirin and seven are anti-rejection drugs. She will take this medication for the rest of her life.

Terry carefully monitors her blood sugar, blood pressure, temperature and weight. She visits her local physician every three months and will have a checkup at the University of Minnesota in 1998.

Besides her medication and monitoring, Terry has few limitations. She isn't supposed to lift anything over ten pounds, and the leg she broke during a diabetic reaction in 1991 causes some problems if she stands in one place for too long.

While she appreciates everyone's concern, she tires of constantly being asked how she is. Terry is fine and looks forward to every day, and knowing first hand of the importance of organ donation, she is anxious to promote her cause at the Community Expo.

Co-chairing the Community Expo are Jovema Walton, Wendy Walton and Joan Anderson. The Middle River Women of Today is a group of 17 women ranging in age from 18 to over 60. Along with fundraising, education and awareness are the goals of the organization.

While the group is small in comparison with other chartered Women of Today organizations, the spirit of the small town allows them to do some big things. The group has been extremely successful at fundraising.

The US Women of Today has declared September 21 through 27 Women of Today Week. With Community Expo slated for the 20th, the Middle River Women of Today appear to be a step ahead of the rest.

According to Jo Walton, the group likes to mix fun into its fundraising endeavors. The Community Expo will be no exception.

A lunch of barbecues, potato salad, beans and beverage will be offered starting at 11 a.m. Cost is $3.50 for adults and $2 for children six and under.

From 2 to 5 p.m. cash bingo will be played in the back room of the Legion.

At 5 p.m. a supper of country-style barbecued ribs, baked potatoes, salad, rolls and beverage will be available for $6. Cash bingo will resume in the front bar at 6 p.m.

For those not too hoarse from shouting "BINGO," the "fun"raiser will conclude with Karaoke at 9 p.m. with a $3 cover charge.

Engaging information, good food, entertainment and the big hearts in a small community should make for another successful "fun"raiser for Middle River's Women of Today.

10 file for SD 564 board, and six for TRF city council

At the conclusion of the filing period, 10 individuals had filed for the two positions on School District 564 board, and six for the four positions on the Thief River Falls City Council ballot.

At the conclusion of the filing period, six candidates had filed for the three year term on the board for School District 564. The candidates are Dr. Charles Winjum, Vern Kappes, Lyle Olson, Ann Juhl, George Davis and Wendell Tergland. Four candidates had filed for the five-year term. Candidates for the position include Barb Jauquet-Kalinoski, Jon Lindgren, Randy Twistol and Mike Spears.

It was beginning to look like only incumbents would be filing for the four seats on the city council. Two last minute applicants changed the entire picture. Four three-year positions on the council will be up for election this year including Mayor, Alderman at Large, Ward 2 and Ward 4. The incumbents, Robert Reeve, Ken Schmalz, Dave Carlson and Don Barron, have filed applications of candidacy Tuesday. Jerry Unruh and Mark Borsheim tossed their hats into the ring and filed for the position of Mayor.

16th CRP sign-up announced

for landowners whose contract offers were not accepted last spring and those with contracts expiring this fall to make new contract offers," he added.

USDA will continue to evaluate and rank all eligible CRP offers using an EBI based on the potential environmental benefits from enrolling the land in the CRP, the secretary added. Decisions on the cutoff will be made only after the 16th signup concludes.

"And we may not use the same cutoff that we used in the 15th signup," Glickman said. "We decide the cutoff after analyzing the EBI of all the bids. Those who would have met previous EBI thresholds are not guaranteed a contract this time around."

Except under special circumstances, CRP rental rates will be based on local land rental rates just as they were for the 15th signup held last March.

Under CRP landowners enter into contracts with USDA to enroll erodible and other environmentally sensitive land in 10-year to 15-year contracts. In exchange, landowners received annual rental payments and a payment for up to 50 percent of the cost of establishing conservation practices.

Approximately 27.8 million acres will be under CRP contracts on Oct. 1, 1997. Just over 4.8 million acres are under contracts that expire next year on September 30. USDA is authorized to maintain enrollment of up to 36.4 million acres.

Locally, Schafer said a number of applicants in a program to seed a winter crop on expiring CRP acres are having difficulty getting land in condition for planting by the county deadline date of September 15. About 60 such applications were made in Pennington county and each carries a penalty for not completing planting in a timely manner. The county FSA board will likely have to determine compliance on a number of these on an individual basis.

Hamfest set at Warroad

Each year the Lake of the Woods Repeater Association sponsors a conference of Amateur Radio operators and others who are interested in the hobby. This year's "Hamfest" will be held at the Warroad Area Community Center, 222 Virginia NE, Warroad, on Saturday, September 20.

Doors open to the public at 1 p.m. Testing for either a new or a higher class license will proceed at 2 p.m. The afternoon is spent shopping the new and used equipment that is on display. Many come to meet in person for the first time friends that they have made on the air. Refreshments are available throughout the day.

Advance reservations are recommended for the special banquet that will be served promptly at 5 p.m. For the program that follows, two favorites are returning for an encore. Woody Linton of Kenora, Ontario, will give an entertaining speech, and Ray Greens, and his old time band, will perform. Both are amateur operators.

Lake of the Woods Repeater Association is a non-profit, community service organization formed by amateurs from Lake of the Woods, Roseau and Kittson counties. During storms, ham operators participate as spotters for the U.S. Weather Bureau in their "Skywarn" program. People and radios are made available for search and rescue whenever requested by law enforcement authorities. During the threat of the spring flooding, amateurs patrolled the dikes in Roseau in both 1996 and 1997.

Amateur operators use their equipment daily as a hobby, thus assuring that it is in good working order whenever emergencies arise. Mobile and portable equipment that function in times of power failure, are used. Repeaters on tall towers, are maintained to extend the range of portable and mobile stations.

The recent Greater Grand Forks flood provided a classic example of the value of back-up communications. When the water started running over the dikes, the telephone systems were jammed (overloaded) in a short time. Amateur radio volunteered immediately to provide communications on a round the clock basis as long as needed.

Register for the hamfest at the door. Advance reservations for the banquet are suggested and can be made by calling AC 218-386-1092. For information or assistance regarding the Hobby ham radio organization contact a local amateur or write to: Lake of the Woods Repeater Association, Box 25, Warroad, MN 56763.

Stumpf says economic signs for area are good

Economic signs for recovery and sustained growth after the flood of 1997 appear to be good, according to Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls.

Sen. Stumpf says the flood has become such a major hallmark in many lives that they measure time as 'before the flood,' 'during the flood' and 'after the flood.' He also says the flood may be a turning point in the economy of northwestern Minnesota.

"Before the flood, unemployment was running at a steady, if unacceptable, 7.1 percent in our seven-county region," he said. "During the flood, of course, it skyrocketed as many businesses and plants were forced to close.

"In the aftermath of the flood there has been an understandable jump in the number of jobs associated with recovery. The construction industry has experienced nearly a 40 percent job growth—more than double the usual increases we see during our normal construction season. Employment in the finance, insurance and real estate sectors, also a segment of recovery, has grown more than 15 percent and some service areas have seen nearly a 24 percent jump."

Signs indicating positives for recovery and growth are listed by the senator as follows:

- The state's economy remains strong. Minnesota's monthly non-farm employment growth is nearly double that of the one-half of one percent growth in the rest of the country.
- Manufacturing, of which a large segment is food processing, continues steady growth with rural areas enjoying much of the increase.

"And that's the 'non-farm' economy," Stumpf said. "The agricultural sector, although we remain at the mercy of unforeseen weather, also seems strong.

"As most of us have known," he adds, "but which was abundantly revealed during the floods, there is an even stronger factor to suggest a vital future for northwestern Minnesota, and that is the people. We pulled together to fight the flood and we are remaining together to rebuild homes, schools, churches and even entire communities.

"Continuing the partnerships we formed during the worst of times can only lead to the best of times," he concludes.

Central Boiler receives award

Central Boiler, Inc. of Greenbush and its dealer in Isanti, Classic Sales, were recipients of the "Outstanding Exhibit Award" at the 1997 Minnesota State Fair in St. Paul. Their display was one of 1,300 commercial exhibits at the fair this year.

Central Boiler manufactures outdoor wood furnaces and indoor gas log boilers and distributes its products through a network of dealers in the United States and Canada.

The Classic Sales display—its fifth at the State Fair—included 16 models of the outdoor wood furnace and Central Boiler's latest invention, The Millennium 2100 gas log boiler.

Youth to paint play equipment

Youth of Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 10653 at Calvary Lutheran Church, St. Hilaire, are planning a playground equipment painting project at the St. Hilaire city park September 17 and 20.

Over a dozen young people and adults will be working on the Youth Serve project which encourages youth to get involved in volunteer activities. All materials and refreshments will be provided by AAL.

HOME & 10 ACRES FOR SALE By Owner

ROSEAU COUNTY FARMLAND FOR SALE

The following land is offered for sale by the owner:
- N1/2 of the NW1/4 of Section 16-162N-41W (Ross Township)
- This Tract contains approximately 70.8 tillable acres and is enrolled in the CRP program through 2001, with payments of $4,106/year
- The 1997-98 CRP payment will be pro-rated, based on the time of ownership during the CRP year (October 1 to September 30.)
- Title will be transferred by Quit Claim Deed

The procedures for bidding on the sale of this real estate will be as follows:

1. Sealed bids (based on total price for this tract of land) should be submitted to:

Harvest States Cooperatives - Northwest Grain
Box 128
St. Hilaire, MN 56754

Bids must be received no later than 4:00 p.m., October 3, 1997. Mark the envelope "Land Bid."

2. The top five written bids on the tract will be contacted and invited to an oral bidding, where they will be given the opportunity to raise their written bids. The oral bidding will be held in the office of Harvest States Cooperatives - Northwest Grain at 315 Broadway Ave. North, in St. Hilaire, MN at a time to be determined.
3. Terms of the sale are cash, with a 10% down payment to be made when the bid is accepted and a purchase agreement is signed. The full balance of the sale price to be paid within 60 days thereafter, when the transaction is closed.
4. The seller reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Time capsule opened at new CHS dedication

Crookston - Crookston's new high school was dedicated recently with guests getting an interesting and surprising peek into the past as a time capsule – buried decades ago under a bell – was opened.

The time capsule contained an Optimist from the Class of 1917, a Crookston Daily Times dated May 31, 1917, a faded note dated June 1, 1917 stating that the case had been made in O'Brien's Tin Shop and another untimely item – a prom Issue of the Pepster school newspaper from 1975.

The 1975 addition to the time capsule remained a mystery until on closer inspection, a letter was found in the Pepster that explained the time lapse.

According to the letter signed by the superintendent in 1975, the capsule was opened and the newsletter and letter were inserted when the bell case was repaired on May 28, 1975. Crookston Daily Times

Central Boiler receives exhibit award at State Fair

Greenbush - Central Boiler, Inc. together with Classic Sales were recipients of the "Outstanding Exhibit Award" at the 1997 Minnesota State Fair.

One of 1300 commercial exhibits at the fair this year, the exhibit featured 16 models of their outdoor wood furnace and Central Boiler's latest Invention, The Millennium 2100 gas log boiler.

Classic Sales, located in Isanti, is a dealer for Central Boiler. New River Record

Lancaster couple to celebrate 65th anniversary

Lancaster - Glen and Sophie Beck were married October 1, 1932 at Lancaster where they continue to live in their own home. Except for a home health aide coming in for two hours a week and a nurse stopping in every other week, Glen and Sophie take care of their home and each other.

Of the couple's ten children, eight are still living. They also have 39 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren, and two great-great grandchildren.

Glen and Sophie will be honored at an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, September 28 at the Lancaster City Hall. North Star News

New Strathcona mail carrier glad to be back

Strathcona - Lowell Scramstad began his career in his hometown of Middle River 20 years ago, with a highway contract route (HCR). Ten years later he became a rural carrier at Erskine/Mentor commuting 70 miles one way to work.

When a position in Strathcona opened up in August, Scramstad transferred cutting his daily drive to 20 miles from his home in Middle River.

Describing last winter as a "bear cat" – the worst he'd ever seen, Scramstad says its great to be back. The Tribune

Miss Middle River Pageant is Sunday

Three candidates will compete for the title of Miss Middle River 1997 when the 23rd annual Miss Middle River Scholarship Pageant is conducted Sunday, September 21 at 7 p.m. in the Middle River school gymnasium.

Candidates include Maria Peterson, daughter of Bonnie Peterson and Gary Peterson; RaeLynn Holmestad, daughter of Diane Peterson and Tim Holmestad; and Kara Super, daughter of Thomas and KayDell Super.

A total of $675 in scholarships and a number of other awards will go to the new Miss Middle River and the first and second runners-up. Admission to the pageant, sponsored by the Middle River Community Club, will be $4 for adults and $2 for children age 12 and younger.

Amber Berg
Miss Middle River 1996

Reigning Miss Middle River is Amber Berg, daughter of Earl and Lynette Berg, who will entertain at the pageant with a vocal solo and join the three contestants in an opening production number.

Opening the pageant program will be Laura Melby singing God Bless The USA, followed by a welcome by Lori Kilen, president of the Middle River Community Club. Master of ceremonies will be Mark Allen Stromsodt.

Contestants will compete in swimsuit, talent and evening gown (on stage personality) divisions and model their personal interview attire. Maria Peterson will present a piano solo for her talent number while RaeLynn Holmestad and Kara Super will present vocal solos. The division winners will be announced immediately following the coronation.

The new Miss Middle River will receive a $250 scholarship, crown and trophy from the Middle River Community Club, a $150 scholarship from American Legion Post 444, $250 toward expenses of her reign from the Middle River Jaycees and $25 each from First National Bank of Middle River/Thief River Falls and Middle River Co-op.

First runner-up will receive a $150 community club scholarship and trophy, $50 American Legion scholarship, $15 from First National Bank and $20 from Schenkey Construction.

Second runner-up will receive a $75 scholarship and trophy from the community club, $10 from First National Bank and $10 from Lori's Hallmark.

Division winners and Miss Congeniality will receive plaques and cash awards and all contestants will receive various merchandise certificates.

Judges for the pageant will be Bobbi Jo Eden of Argyle, Nicole Carver of Thief River Falls and Janie Collins of Greenbush, all certified by the Miss Minnesota program.

Homecoming king and queen candidates at Northland Community and Technical College were selected recently with balloting for the winners completed this week and coronation scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 23, in the college theater. Pictured from left are queen candidates Melissa Bernstein, Grygla; Jenny Gustafson, Warroad; and Davin Grugal, Roosevelt and king candidates Ryan Bendickson, Thief River Falls; Garrett Borowicz, Stephen; and Nic Thompson, Warroad. Not pictured are Cami Sorensen, Thief River Falls and Dan Wilson, Brooten.

Homecoming activities underway at Northland

Beginning with voting for king and queen candidates Wednesday and Thursday of this week, annual homecoming activities are underway at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls. Coronation will take place Tuesday, September 23, at 2:30 p.m. in the college theater.

Candidates for homecoming royalty, selected earlier by NCTC students, will be introduced between matches of the Pepsi Volleyball Triangular beginning at noon today (Saturday, September 20) in the college gymnasium.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the events of homecoming week '97 at the college.

Each day next week has been designated a certain type of dress day with Pajama Day Monday, Dress-up Day Tuesday, 60s and 70s Day Wednesday, Twin Day Thursday and NCTC Logo Day (red and blue) Friday.

Monday Morning Mania on September 22 includes a banana eating contest at 9 a.m., egg toss at 10 a.m. and toothpick/Lifesaver contest at 11 a.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the aviation building at the airport and at 3 p.m. a fun walk will begin for students, faculty and staff. Prizes will be awarded.

In addition to the 2:30 p.m. coronation Tuesday, September 23, intramural volleyball will be played from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and Moonlight Bowling is scheduled from 9:30 to 11 p.m.

On Wednesday, September 24, the volleyball team will be at Central Lakes for a match but there will be free pool and card games for prizes in the cafeteria from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Golf will be the game on Thursday, September 25, with nine-hole matches to be played between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. The homecoming dance is that evening from 8:45 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Free pool can be played in the cafeteria from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Friday, September 26, and students

Anti-Racism Awareness workshop here Sept. 26

Sponsored locally by the Thief River Falls Ministerium, an Anti-Racism Awareness Workshop has been scheduled for Friday, September 26, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.

Registration cost is $10 and the workshop meets appropriate criteria for five contact hours for professions requiring continuing education credits.

The workshop will be conducted by the Minnesota Churches Anti-Racism Initiative and northwest Minnesota team members Josie Gonzalez, Dee Bowman, Liz Valdez and Bill Beyer. Rev. Beyer is a regional organizer on the staff of the Tri-Council Coordinating Commission and works in northwestern Minnesota on behalf of the Minnesota Churches' Anti-Racism Initiative.

The Initiative is a statewide ecumenical network of individuals and congregations sponsored by the Minnesota, Greater Minneapolis and St. Paul Area Council of Churches. It unites the community in common resolve to struggle against racism and build multicultural diversity.

The six-hour workshop is designed to increase awareness of racism. An array of videos, books and panel presentations will offer definitions of what racism is and how it differs from prejudice. The workshop will offer participants a brief glimpse of the world through the eyes of society's people of color, as well as the chance to reflect on what is seen.

Following registration will coffee served beginning at 9 a.m., the workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. with an opening prayer. This will be followed by introductions, personal comments on how people have experienced racism, a panel presentation, definition of racism and a video entitled "Ending Racism: Working for a Racism Free 21st Century."

Session topics after a break for lunch include "White Privilege," "Institutional Racism," "God's Intention" and "What's Happening?"

For further information, call the Trinity Lutheran Church office at 681-1310.

North American Outdoor Group, based in Minneapolis, will spend next week in the Thief River Falls area on a photo shoot for a 24 to 32-page magazine insert for North American Hunter magazine, which goes to 750,000 readers, and a trade publication called SHOT Business, which will be distributed to 23,500 trade customers associated with the Sports, Hunting, Outdoor Trade (SHOT) show.

Doing the photography will be Mitch Kezar, a freelance photographer who also lives in the Twin Cities area. He is the son of Dennis and Betty Kezar of Thief River Falls and a graduate of Lincoln high school.

The group involved in the photo shoot will include six people, according to Patti Fowler, administrative assistant for advertising with the North American Outdoor Group. In addition to herself, there will be three people from the WH2p advertising agency and two male models.

Advertisers who will have merchandise items involved in the photo shoot include 3M Thinsulate, Browning, Buck Knives, Cabela's, DuPont Cordura, Georgia Boat, Haas Outdoors (Mossy Oak), Kiwi (spray products), Realtree, Rocky Boots, Scent-Lok Suits and W. L. Gore & Associates (manufacturers of Gore-Tex).

Focus of the insert, which is to be called "The Hunting Wear and Gear Guide," involves use of the advertisers' products in hunting of deer with rifle and bow and arrow and upland, waterfowl and small game hunting.

Fowler said that a great deal of assistance for the project has come from the Minnesota Office of Tourism, Julie Olson of the Thief River Falls Convention and Visitors Bureau, Dave Burris at the Best Western Inn, Westside Motors, Arctic Cat Inc. and Northwest Airlines.

Diamonds in Grygla rises from ashes of 1994 fire

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

When Diamonds in Grygla burned down over the Memorial Day weekend three years ago, the rubble was pushed into a pile, cleaned up and the lot was put up for sale.

That was the end of that for young Shannon and Denise Osthy, owners of the bar and restaurant, or so they thought. Over the years, interest was expressed in the lot, and others considered rebuilding the popular local spot, but for one reason or another it didn't happen.

In March of this year, Tommy Ostby approached his brother Shannon and suggested that together they rebuild Diamonds. The brothers are both married to girls named Denise – Denise Marie to confuse the situation even further. As Tommy told Shannon, with the four of them – two brothers and two Denises – "It won't be quite as scary."

Construction began on August 15 with the foursome doing the majority of work themselves. The structure is 50 by 80 feet with a 12 by 24 foot addition. The attractive building is constructed of Norway Pine logs delivered from Blackduck. The roof sports dark green shingles.

The unique windows that surround the building were designed by Steve Anderson from Grygla. Fittingly, the windows feature a framed diamond design in the center and are made from terrace doors.

Large lots on either side of the building will provide ample parking spaces.

A mile of hot water pipe was laid under the concrete floor and will provide an economical source of heat for the building. An electric back-up furnace and air conditioning unit are located in the loft along with a 14 by 16 foot office area.

Hoping to open in mid-October, the Osthys have much work ahead of them, but it isn't difficult to visualize how lovely the interior will be. Inside and out, the beautiful pine logs have been sealed with log oil giving them a lustrous finish. The knotty pine on the walls and cathedral ceiling of the front bar will glow when sealed with the same log oil. The pine smell that lingers in the air could be bottled and sold.

A horseshoe shaped bar will center the large room and be surrounded by tables and chairs. A single hanging light fixture will hang over the center of the bar with the remainder of the room illuminated by track lighting. A rich hunter green carpet will expand the outdoorsy feeling of the room.

While the bar area will include a number of televisions, the Ostbys are not going to call their establishment a "sports bar."

There are three children in each Ostby family, and with the young people of the area in mind, the back room of Diamonds will be a youth center much of the time. Located one block from the school, the youth area will feature a pool table,

After being destroyed by fire three years ago, Diamonds in Grygla is in the process of being rebuilt and is scheduled to open in mid-October. Owned by Shannon and Denise Ostby and Tommy and Denise Ostby, the establishment will also feature a youth center.

JERRY UNRUH
For Mayor

I have been married for 27 years and have lived in Thief River Falls for the past 18 years. This is our home. I am an Auto mechanic and my wife Carol, is a nurse employed at Northwest Medical Center. I have three children and one grandson.

I am a christian and I have strong christian values and morals. My family attends the Evangelical Free Church.

I believe the city of Thief River Falls needs a change in city government with their SHOP TILL YOU DROP spending policy.

I want to return city government back to the people as the preamble of the constitution states, We The People.

I am against Sunday Liquor, but it looks like the city council is using a back door to get their way, not the people's way. This was voted on 5 times, and in every election the liquor issue was defeated by the people's vote. This should be a dead issue, but the present mayor won't kill it. He is the city council chair and doesn't even need to allow the liquor issue to be on the agenda. Mayor Bob Reeves doesn't listen to the people's vote.

I am also against the Multi-Events Center, we can't afford this. I am against the new baseball/softball complex, we can't afford this either. I am against municipal liquor store advertising, this would save the city $34,700.00 per year.

I am for decreasing city expenditures and a balanced budget, but not at the expense of the taxpayer. Did you know the Park and Rec. Dept. budget for 1998 is $1,570,000.00 and the Street Dept. budget is only $583,800.00. Doesn't make sense does it?

You the voter, are the only ones that can stop this SHOP TILL YOU DROP spending policy. Please go out and vote, and remember vote Jerry Unruh for change. He is no yes man. He still believes in the voters' rights. Thank you.

Ad prepaired and paid for by Jerry Unruh in his own behalf.

Plenty of zucchini for yourself and all the friends you can find! Today we'll have some recipes for that plentiful veggie.

You can also use up some of those fresh garden tomatoes in this zucchini dish:

CHOPPED ZUCCHINI AND HAMBURGER

1 pound hamburger
Salt and pepper
1 small onion, diced
1 large zucchini, unpeeled and cubed
2 large tomatoes, quartered
1 teaspoon season salt

Brown hamburger, seasoning with salt and pepper while cooking. Drain fat.

Add onion, zucchini and tomatoes and sprinkle with season salt.

Cover and simmer 5 minutes or until zucchini is just tender (do not over cook).

Serve with mashed potatoes or cooked noodles.

Here's a really quick dish that makes a nourishing meal in minutes.

ZUCCHINI-CHEESE CASSEROLE

1 pint zucchini slices
1/4 cup parmesan cheese
1 1/2 cups tomato sauce
1 pint canned green beans
1/4 cup butter
1 can Cheddar cheese soup
Parsley
Garlic
Salt and pepper
Cheese slices

Soften zucchini slices in melted butter in large saucepan. Add spices, soup, beans and tomato sauce.

Sprinkle with Parmesan and simmer until zucchini is tender. Add cheese slices to top and cover until melted. Serve hot from pan.

A little different, this makes a great side dish for your favorite meat or fish meal:

ZUCCHINI DRESSING

2 medium zucchini
1 box stuffing mix
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 egg

Mix stuffing according to directions. Slice and peel zucchini.

In greased baking dish, layer zucchini and stuffing.

Beat egg and cream of mushroom soup together and pour over top. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes until squash is done.

Here's a delicious way to get those fresh vegetable vitamins, as well as use up Sunday's leftovers:

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE

5 slices raw bacon or bits of ham
6 tomatoes, sliced or 1 (16 ounce) can tomatoes, cut into pieces
8 slices Velveeta cheese
1 medium onion, sliced or diced
1/2 cup rice
6 cups zucchini, unpeeled and sliced
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Cut bacon strips in half. Arrange ingredients in greased casserole as follows: half of the zucchini, half the tomatoes, pepper, all the onion, all rice, half the cheese and half the bacon. Repeat layers, ending with bacon on top.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 1 hour and 15 minutes or until squash is tender.

One more tasty way to use those zucchini:

ZUCCHINI SOUP

3 pounds zucchini
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon onion powder
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 (10 3/4 ounce) cans chicken broth
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups half and half
Salt and pepper to taste
Chopped chives

Cut ends off zucchini and slice into 1 inch slices. Place in 6 quart saucepan. Add salt, onion and garlic powders, pepper, chicken broth and water. Bring to a boil. Cover and cook over moderate heat until zucchini is tender, about 10 minutes.

Place 1/3 of the slices and broth at a time in a blender or food processor fitted with the metal blade. Blend until smooth and then place in clean saucepan.

Stir in half and half and season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir over moderate heat until heated through. May be refrigerated over night or frozen. To serve, reheat slowly, but do not boil. Garnish with sprinkle of chives.

We've Gone To New Heights To Serve You

Next time you drive out of Thief River Falls south on Highway 59, you're likely to notice a recent addition to the skyline. The new regional clinic and outpatient surgical center is rapidly taking shape under the skilled hands of many experienced craftsmen. Despite some initial trials with the weather, dedicated crews of men and women have caught the spirit of excellence that you've come to expect from Dakota Clinic and work is on schedule for an opening next summer. The same local doctors that you know and trust will be providing for your healthcare in a brand new building that's becoming a reality in front of your eyes. Thanks again for your support as we work to enclose the new clinic before winter and prepare to serve you even better.

To The Editor:

The concept of private property is one of the main ideas incorporated by our Founding Fathers into the U.S. Constitution. The critical position this principle occupies in American tradition and American law cannot be exaggerated.

Of all the words in the Constitution, perhaps the clearest are those found in the "Takings Clause" of the Fifth Amendment. The Founding Fathers very simply stated: "...nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation."

More basic words could not have been chosen or put together in a plainer fashion so that the average layman could understand what the property owners who wrote the Bill of Rights wanted to protect. If the government decides it needs someone's property for public purpose, the owner of the land has to be compensated.

Despite this prohibition, federal environmental regulations have been used to take the property of Americans without "just compensation." Environmental protection, when taken to extremes, threatens the entire concept of private property. Environmental purism is being used in a way that puts unjust limits on the use, the market value and the transferability of property.

This land is our wealth which our government was formed to protect just as it protects our homes from burglary and theft. Under the guise of protecting species that might be endangered, the federal government has crossed a boundary erected by the U.S. Constitution.

Most people, especially property owners, are interested in the government leaving them alone. Government should seize control of private property only in the rarest of instances, when there is a compelling public need that cannot be accommodated any other way.

Senator Dan Stevens has introduced a bill to ensure that property owners will be compensated if the government takes any use of their land for public purposes through the use of regulations. This should not be necessary if we adhered to the Constitution, however, the last 20 years through governmental rules and regulations, it seems even the Constitution is no longer protection enough.

We have to restore our private property rights and bring balance back to the regulatory process. Nothing will be done unless we, as citizens, stand behind Senator Stevens and make sure all of our elected state officials get behind him and pass the "Property Rights Protection Act."

Sincerely,
Bev Hewitt
Commissioner, 4th District
Kittson County
Lancaster, MN

To The Editor:

The letter to the editor in the September 13 Northern Watch isn't worth an answer. The lady completely missed the point. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Ed Leeper

First Place Column In National Newspaper Event Offers Chuckles

Each year the National Newspaper Association conducts its Better Newspaper contest and presents awards in a number of areas of newspaper writing. Among these areas is the personal column. This year the first place winner for best column on a humorous subject among newspapers with more than 10,000 circulation was written by Benjie Watts in the News Topic of Lenoir, North Carolina. It brought out a few chuckles when we read it, and we thought it might provide a laugh or two for our readers as well. We publish it below as our guest editorial for today:

NAKED CHRISTIANS?
I DON'T THINK SO!
by Benjie Watts
News Topic, Lenoir, NC

I love living in the '90s. People nowadays have got it all. We got the Internet (which I have found to be about as useful as saddlebags on a hog), non-liquid adhesives (Velcro), pagers (they enable one to be annoyed anytime and any place), and now we got Christian nudists.

Do what?

Yeah, you read right. Praise the Lord and pass the sunscreen.

Dateline: Columbia, SC. A group of Christian nudists plan to spend a weekend at the North Carolina coast celebrating the Biblical text that reads, "naked and unashamed."

Carol Lowe, whose husband owns the family nudist resort called Whispering Pines, was quoted as saying, "Christians can help to make nudism family oriented fun again."

Again? What does she mean? When was being naked considered family fun?

The Cleavers, Ward, June, Wally and the Beaver were the perfect family. I cannot recall a single episode where Ward yelled out to the kitchen, "June, make some sandwiches and get your clothes off, we're all going on a picnic."

If mom, dad and all the young'uns running around naked was considered good family recreation in the 30s and 40s, surely the Waltons would have been in on it. Imagine if you will, a house full of naked Waltons. Brings new meaning to the phrase, "The Great Depression," doesn't it?

And I don't even want to think about poor Marge Simpson in the buff.

The only nakedness I ever encountered at church was at Bible School when I was about 13. It was break time and this kid named Dorsey was bragging about how he could make grape Kool-Aid come out of his eyes. Regis Roy Stillwater called him a "liar and a coward to take it." Dorsey swore he could do it and said that he would bet Regis anything he wanted to bet that he could.

"If you can I'll give you my Roger Maris baseball card," Regis challenged, "but if you can't, you have to take all your clothes off and climb that big pine on the other side of the cemetery."

In an incredibly dumb move, Dorsey took Regis up on it. He got a mouthful of Kool-Aid and started to strain. He did a very impressive job of getting it to shoot out of his left nostril but try as he did, not a drop came out of his eyes. He asked for a second chance and Regis relented. That time, Dorsey got a good spew going out of both nostrils, but still not purple substance was to be seen oozing from around the eyes.

"Get them clothes off boy and shinny up that tree," Regis commanded to the lad. "A bet is a bet."

Dorsey wasn't the brightest light in the hall but he did come from good, honest stock and would never welch on a bet. There was five or six of us that made our way across the cemetery to the specified pine tree. Dorsey was commanded to strip and didn't stop until he was naked as a pickbird.

"Since we're at the Lord's house and all, Dorsey, you can leave your boots on," allowed Regis, who has been cursed all his life with a heart the size of a tractor tire.

Things went O.K. until Mrs. McAllister, who was in her 70s and as far as anyone knew had never been naked in her entire life, spotted Dorsey's shinny hinny. She formed a posse consisting of the preacher, the song leader and six deacons. They got Dorsey out of the tree and back into his jeans.

Dorsey was O.K. except for a little pine resin in a place or two where it has absolutely no business sticking. On the other hand, Mrs. McAllister had to have surgery to repair the blown head gasket on her pacemaker.

I doubt Christian nudism will ever catch on. I know a lot of Christians, but can count on one hand the number of them I would want to see naked. I can say with total certainty that it is not the Lord's will that I parade around in public naked.

If God had wanted me to be a nudist He wouldn't have given me a body shaped like an olive with two toothpicks stuck in it!

Firearms Seminar For Media A Great Idea

A group of firearms organizations in the Twin Cities area has a great idea in the lunch and seminar planned for Friday, September 26, from noon to 4 p.m. at the Oakdale Gun Club at Lake Elmo. Representatives of news media in the state have been invited to attend the event.

We would hope that many from the Twin Cities media will accept the invitation to broaden their understanding of firearms—a topic that they encounter frequently but apparently is unfamiliar to them, judging by many news stories we read.

Persons attending will view a presentation on basic mechanical operation of firearms and different methods and effectiveness of firearm storage and safety systems. They will also be given the opportunity to safely examine, handle and shoot various types of firearms under the supervision of certified range safety officers. Use of the range, firearms, ammunition, safety equipment and safety instructions is provided free of charge.

Co-sponsoring are the Gun Owners Civil Rights Alliance, Concealed Carry Reform NOW!, Women's Firearms Alliance of Minnesota and the United Sportsmen of Minnesota.

We would suspect that many, and perhaps most, media people in the rural areas of the state have had at least some exposure to and knowledge of firearms. It sort of goes with the territory. Not so with the metro media, whose main exposure to guns is in police reports, TV and movies—none of which is very positive. To find that firearms are not intrinsically evil and can be safely appreciated and enjoyed may be a revelation to them.

Unfortunately, despite the value of the effort, the turnout of those who could use the experience the most will likely be small. The most difficult people to educate are those who already know it all.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity, and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made, in news, or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

School Change planning grant meeting in TRF

The Center for School Change at the Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs, University of Minnesota, and Minnesota initiative funds will award three to five $5,000 planning grants to rural Minnesota public schools and communities by April 23, 1998.

Recipients will be eligible for up to $45,000 in additional implementation and expansion grants. Application deadline is Jan. 15, 1998.

Information will be presented regarding the grant at a meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. on Tuesday, October 21, in room 131 at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

Mission of the Center for School Change is to work with educators, parents, students, community members and policy-makers to increase student achievement, raise graduation rates, improve student attitudes and strengthen communities by building stronger school-community-parent partnerships, according to Terri Anderson of Waubun, who represents the Center for School Change in northwestern Minnesota. Persons with questions may contact her at 218-473-2686.

MECC Joint Powers Board meets Sept. 22

The Joint Powers Board meeting for the Multi-Events Cultural Center, which was cancelled on Friday, September 19, has been rescheduled for Monday, September 22. It will be held at 11:30 a.m. at the lower level of the Evergreen Eating Emporium.

THANK YOU

Cards Of Thanks

A big thanks to the Nazareth Ladies Aid for the benefit they put on for me and to all those who attended with their support and prayers. Also thanks to the AAL Branches from Nazareth and Silver Creek for their matching funds. Your kindness and generosity has been overwhelming & will be put to good use. Special thanks to my friends and family for all their help, support, love and prayers. You have all made my recovery so much easier.

God Bless You All!

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the gutter. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutters" as to the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of as to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates at your [illegible] no obligation to you.

Prowlers overtake Green Wave

A first-game comeback set the stage for a 16-14, 15-3, 15-11 Thief River Falls sweep over East Grand Forks in Tuesday high school volleyball.

The Prowlers trailed 7-3 in Game 1, and after battling back to go ahead 9-8 on a spike by Laura Follett off a double-block, fell behind again at 13-9.

But East Grand Forks failed to score on three service opportunities at 13 and lost service again on a net violation at 14-11 to open the door for the Thief River Falls comeback.

The Prowlers caught the Green Wave at 14-14 on a kill by Lindsay Drury, went ahead when a hit by Follett crawled over the net and fell in, and finished it off when a cross-court spike by Taya Hunt found a hole in the East Grand Forks defense.

"Every match," sighed Thief River Falls co-head coach Bruce Jean, reflecting on the Prowlers' slow-start tendencies that have forced them into numerous come-from-behind situations this fall. "But tonight it wasn't as bad, we started a little better."

Thief River Falls carried play throughout Game 2, then completed the sweep by winning a close third game.

East Grand Forks, behind hitter Jill Elfhauser, led 11-10 in the finale, but Thief River Falls went ahead on an ace serve by Hunt, scored again on a kill by Lisa Dicken, then picked up the final two points on East Grand Forks errors.

"It was a great win," said Jean, who was impressed with the Prowlers' aggressive play. "We're starting to hit to kill. We've got five kids who can hit the ball. Things are starting to fall in place."

An ever-improving defense has also elevated the Prowlers' game, and a break-or-two on bounces, deflections and caroms help, too, acknowledged Jean. "The ball falls for you once in a while," he said.

Dicken and Drury came up with 12 kills each. Elfhauser had 13 for the Green Wave. Hunt collected 22 assists and Erica McGeary had 15. Hunt also served four aces, while Drury and Follett both had two. Dicken led the Prowlers with three blocks.

The win put the Prowlers at 6-3.

It was a clean sweep for the day as Thief River Falls won the junior varsity match 16-14, 15-9, took the C squad encounter 4-15, 15-8, 15-13, and claimed the freshman contest 15-7, 15-8.

Desirae Alberg came up with serve reception bump/pass for the Prowlers during their Tuesday high school volleyball match against East Grand Forks. Thief River Falls won 16-14, 15-3, 15-11.

Second NCTC player is honored

Northland hasn't been able to break into the win column, but the Pioneers have collected a pair of individual honors during the first two weeks of the 1997 college football season.

Taheed Johnson, a Northland sophomore runningback from Chicago, IL was named Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division Offensive Player of the Week for his 26-carry, 137-yard effort in a 34-12 Saturday (Sept. 13) loss to Fergus Falls.

Northland teammate Chaka Ali, a freshman defensive end/linebacker from Minneapolis, was selected as the MCCC Northern Division Defensive Player of the Week in the Pioneers' season-opening 21-7 loss to Ridgewater.

Vermilion linebacker Scott Vass succeeded Ali as Northern Division Defensive Player of the Week. In the Southern Division, Week 2 honors went to Minnesota West quarterback T.J. Tiesler and Central Lakes linebacker Phil Ring.

Northland will face the Raiders and Ring, who was in on 12 tackles and returned an interception 90 yards for a touchdown in a 24-0 win over Mesabi, today (Saturday) in a 1:30 p.m. game at Brainerd. Central Lakes is 2-0, with a season-opening 24-0 win over Hibbing being duplicated in last week's victory over Mesabi.

In other MCCC Week 2 results, Vermilion shut out Ridgewater 30-0, Rochester blanked Itasca 35-0 and Minnesota West handled Hibbing 42-12.

Elsewhere today, Vermilion is at Fergus Falls, Itasca at Ridgewater, Hibbing at Rochester, and Mesabi at Minnesota West.

The Pioneers will be back at Prowler Field Sept. 27 for a 12-noon homecoming game against Minnesota West.

Haviland sets diving record in four pools

Thief River Falls eighth grader Chelsea Haviland is making a name for herself in area high school girls swimming.

Haviland has already set pool diving records at four locations this fall – Thief River Falls, Fergus Falls, Bemidji, and Park Rapids.

The latest pool mark came in the Sept. 13 Park Rapids Invitational, where she led a field of 18 divers with 237.80 points. Second place Stasya Zarling of Brainerd was a distant second at 156.15.

Haviland was the only Thief River Falls winner at Park Rapids, where Bemidji won team honors with 495 points, followed by Fergus Falls with 359, Brainerd/Pillager 312, Moorhead 312, Park Rapids Area 263, Detroit Lakes 188, Thief River Falls 143, Bagley/Fosston 101, Staples-Motley/Verndale 75, Sauk Centre 61, and Perham 14.

High school girls tennis ...

TRF splits against Fergus Falls, Alex

Thief River Falls split a pair of high school girls tennis matches played in Fergus Falls Tuesday, where the Prowlers beat the host Otters but lost to Alexandria in a double-dual. Both matches were 5-2 affairs.

The Prowlers' winners against Fergus Falls included Eeva Young and Jenna Tsukichi at No. 2 and No. 3 singles, respectively, and the 1-through-3 doubles combinations of Lesley Ihle-Katie Harbott, Becca Leach-Jenni Gonsorowski and Toni LeMoine-Ann Gustafson.

Both wins against Alexandria came in doubles – Ihle-Harbott and Leach-Gonsorowski.

Results put the Prowlers' dual meet record at 7-2.

TRF swimmers net two wins

Both Grand Forks teams were in Thief River Falls Tuesday for a girls high school swim meet. But the host Prowlers were more interested in Red River than Central as they anticipated a down-to-the-wire finish against the Roughriders and an easier time of it against the Knights.

Both projections occurred. Thief River Falls edged Red River 53-49 and out-scored Central 64-34 in the double dual format at the Franklin Middle School pool.

"It doesn't get any better than that," said Thief River Falls assistant coach Brian Olson, who had been working with head coach Shon Thompson in building the Prowlers' enthusiasm for the expected close match-up with Red River.

And it was down-to-the-wire finish. Ahead 49-43 heading into the meet-ending 400 freestyle relay, the Prowlers needed to keep the Roughriders from finishing 1-2, which would have created a scoreboard tie. Red River won the race, but Thief River Falls went 2-3 to secure the decision.

"The two teams are so evenly matched," noted Olson. "There wasn't a race that wasn't important."

Key races, pointed out Olson, were the 100 freestyle, where the Prowlers' Andi Sorvig and Lindsay Ehrenstrom went 1-3, and the 200 freestyle relay, where a first place by Jenny Sorvig, Julie Chrzanowski, Kristin Naplin, and Andi Sorvig was complemented by a third place effort from Alexis Klockman, Ashley Hammer, Andrea Olin, and Chelsea Haviland. Those results provided Thief River Falls with a 46-38 cushion heading into the final two events.

"The kids were really fired up for this one," noted Olson. "They had some outstanding times."

The double-win improved the Prowlers' dual meet record to 3-4.

Thief River Falls' Chelsea Haviland was about to enter the water on this dive during Tuesday's high school swim meet at the Franklin Middle School pool. Haviland, who has set pool records at four different locations already this fall, won the event as the Prowlers out-scored both Grand Forks Central and Red River in the double-dual.

Gators' rally falls short at Warroad

A match-long Badger/Greenbush-Middle River comeback effort fell short Tuesday as the Gators lost a 3-2 high school volleyball decision at Warroad.

"We played well," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Christine Adrian, whose team fell to 1-4 with the loss.

Warroad won 15-4, 15-8, 3-15, 7-15, 15-8.

"First game we started out a little flat," acknowledged Adrian, "but I was pleased with the way they came back and played some consistent volleyball."

A surge at the close of the fifth game finally clinched it for Warroad.

"Our serve and serve receiving was good," noted Adrian, "but we missed four serves in the fifth game, and that hurt."

Kara Kuznia had 12 kills to lead the Gators' offense, while Tiffany Hagen collected 8. Stefanie Sparby, the team assist leader, and Kelsey Foldesi, the top shot-blocker, also played a major role in the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River comeback, according to Adrian.

MCC vs. Roseau

Roseau swept Marshall County Central 15-4, 15-7, 15-7 Tuesday at Newfolden.

"We didn't play so well," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We made a lot of mistakes on our passing."

The loss dropped the Nordics to 3-5.

Cobbers collect 3-1 win over Northland

Poor blocking cost the Northland Community and Technical College volleyball team Wednesday in a 3-1 loss to the Concordia College junior varsity at Moorhead.

The Cobbers won 1-15, 15-13, 15-11, 15-5 to drop the Pioneers to 3-3 for the year.

"We just didn't block," pointed out Northland coach Shari Olson. "We did everything else, but we didn't block."

With 39 kills in the four games, the Pioneers were on the attack, but couldn't present a defense at the net to stop the Cobbers.

Olson said the Pioneers received strong sophomore leadership from Paula Hruda (10 kills, 2 aces, 16 digs) and Naomi Wilehski (8 kills, 8 blocks).

Freshman Janie VanEngen also reached double figures in kills with 10.

A 300 game was recorded by Kraig Melvie (left) Sept. 8 at the Family Bowl in Thief River Falls. Melvie, being congratulated by Family Bowl owner/operator Tom Greelis, turned in the perfect game and came up with a 700 series on lanes 3 and 4 while competing in the Monday Night Service League.

Wolverines lose to Warroad 3-0

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, after opening the 1997 high school volleyball season with six straight wins, lost its second 3-0 decision of the week Thursday in a match against Roseau at Grygla. The Rams won 15-8, 15-10, 15-5.

"We're not clicking right now," acknowledged Wolverines coach Jean Schulz.

The Rams' offense featured Kristi Glassman with 13 kills. The Wolverines were led by Amie Kotrba with five.

MCC vs. Warroad

Warroad started slow, but finished with a 3-15, 15-3, 15-4, 15-3 Thursday win over Marshall County Central at Newfolden.

"We played really well at the start," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson, whose team lost its third straight and fell to 3-6, "but then we started to play not to lose. We started making a lot of mental mistakes."

Miki Waterworth turned in a solid all-around match for the Nordics, noted Jorgenson.

RLCC vs. EGF

Jenny Brekkestran had 13 kills, while Jenni Morinville and Angie Chervestad both finished with 11 as Red Lake County Central improved to 8-2 with a 15-7, 15-3, 9-15, 15-12 Thursday win at East Grand Forks.

Erin Melby had a 9-point run at the service line in Games 1 and 2 for the winners.

TRF ninth grade tips Bemidji in volleyball

Thief River Falls beat Bemidji twice Thursday in ninth grade volleyball.

Both were 2-1 decisions – 15-6, 11-15, 15-8 in the A match, 15-3, 8-15, 15-11 in the B match.

TRF freshmen given forfeit win in football

Thief River Falls picked up a 2-0 forfeit win over shorthanded Grafton, ND Thursday in high school freshmen football.

Crookston shuts out Lincoln sophomores

Crookston ended a season-opening three-game winning streak for the Lincoln High School sophomore football team Thursday 18-0 high at Prowler Field.

Agassiz Refuge will be open to trappers through bid system

Furbearer trapping opportunities will be available at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge from Oct. 25, 1997 through Feb. 28, 1998. A total of eight trapping units will be awarded to qualified trappers through a sealed bid system.

Under the special system, applicants will make a sealed monetary bid on one or all units, but only one unit will be awarded to each trapper.

All bids require full payment prior to or at the pre-season trapping meeting. Applicants interested in bidding are not to include any money payment with their bid.

Applicants must have appropriate state licenses and at least two seasons of trapping experience. A helper is allowed and can trap only when the permittee is present on the refuge attending traps.

Permittees are to trap a minimum of five days prior to Thursday, Nov. 6. On the day before and during the Nov. 7-16 firearms deer season, trapper will be allowed to drive only on roads open to deer hunters.

Special open to trapping include mink, muskrat, raccoon, skunk, red fox, beaver, and otter. Two otter per unit or trapper will be permitted during the otter trapping season. Otter and beaver trapping will be restricted in several areas. All other wildlife species are protected.

Application forms and refuge maps showing unit locations are available at refuge headquarters.

Successful applicants will be notified by Oct. 13. All successful applicants will be required to attend a mandatory preseason trapping meeting Friday, Nov. 24, at 1 p.m. at refuge headquarters.

Additional information relative to special permit conditions should be obtained before the bids are submitted by contacting the Refuge Manager, Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, Middle River, MN 218-449-4114.

"We've got to learn to go out there and have some fun, and not be so negative when things start to go wrong," explained Jorgenson.

RLCC vs. W-A-O

Angie Chervestad (15) and Jenny Brekkestran (12) combined for 27 kills Tuesday as Red Lake County Central beat Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 15-7, 15-3, 14-16, 15-0 at Warren.

Frances Hilgeman collected 26 assists for the Mustangs and Katie O'Neill was a perfect 29-for-29 at the service line. O'Neill served the final 13 points of the match as Red Lake County Central improved to 7-2.

"We started a little slow, but we picked it up," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. "Everyone got a chance to play."

New Generation youth conference October 16

Mitch Anthony, a nationally-recognized speaker to youth and educators, will lead a "New Generation" youth conference Thursday, October 16, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

Opportunity to participate is being provided to 75 School District 564 students in grades seven and eight at Franklin middle school and grade nine at Lincoln high school. A boom box, cash, videos and free pool are being offered as participation drawing prizes.

Registration is being taken now and deadline to register is September 26. Parents are encouraged to talk to their children about the conference and being involved in it.

Co-sponsoring the conference are the Thief River Falls Rotary club, Youth Development Committee and the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Education Committee. Interested students may register at the counselors' office at Lincoln or the main office at Franklin. Persons with questions may call Jean Heinrichs at 681-7420.

Mitch Anthony says that today's young people need the same as what youth from any generation needs— something to believe in and someone to believe in them.

"Believe in young people's ability to lead, teach them leadership skills and they will lead others in the right direction," he said. "Believe in their ability to make good choices, teach them how to make those choices and they will make choices that will benefit them for the rest of their lives.

"That something to believe in is themselves, their ideas and abilities," Anthony said. "That someone to believe in them is you—the person who can give them the opportunities they need."

Anthony is the award-winning author of two books for and about teens, host of a syndicated radio show called "The Daily Dose" and developer of educational programs on conflict resolution, peer mediation, peer helping, teen sexuality and other youth concerns. He founded the National Suicide Education Center and a dozen other youth-oriented, public service organizations.

For more than a decade, Anthony has not only spoken to many thousands of students and educators but has listened to them as well.

Mitch Anthony, an award-winning author of two books about teens and a nationally-recognized speaker to youth and educators, will lead a New Generation youth conference on Thursday, October 16, at the Thief River Falls city auditorium. Up to 75 students in grades seven and eight at Franklin middle school and grade nine at Lincoln high school will participate

Early childhood graduate credit course at UMC

Philosophy of early childhood education is the focus of a one graduate credit course offered at the University of Minnesota in Crookston on Saturday, October 4, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Dowell Hall 128.

Terrie Shannon, professor of education at the Duluth campus of the University of Minnesota, will be the instructor. The course is part of a master of education degree program in the cross disciplinary study of young children and families offered at UMC.

To register or request more information, call 218-281-8681.

Public TV show to show farm diversification

On Tuesday, September 30, at 8 p.m. Prairie Public Television will present the program Prospering, a compilation of stories about farm and ranch families who have made adjustments in their lives to find ways to make a living while living on the land.

At Pingree, ND, Linda Ova helps supplement the family's farm income with a new company making spicy salsa, marinades and jellies. Near Goodrich, ND, John and Stephanie Stober offer absentee ownership of bison.

Other families are growing new crops, inviting tourists to stay in unused buildings or go on trail rides, or are processing their own crops.

Prairie Public Television is seen on KFME, Channel 13, Fargo and KGFE, Channel 2, Grand Forks.

big screen TV, jukebox, and a number of video games for the youth to enjoy. A pass-through from the kitchen will serve as a snack bar. The room will also be available to families who wish to eat away from the bar area.

With its own entrance and restroom facilities, the youth center is completely separate from the front bar and will be open to young people except when Diamonds hosts the 10 to 12 dances they plan per year or should the room be rented out for a private party or reception.

The hallway that divides the front bar from the youth center/dance area also separates the spacious restrooms from the kitchen and off-sale area. Boxes of low-maintenance and attractive gray ceramic tile are stacked up waiting to be laid on the floors of the kitchen and rest rooms. The sheetrock has been taped and is ready for paint.

The food menu will feature short order entrees. With a seating capacity for 150, the establishment will be open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 a.m. Presently, they have permission to be open on four Sundays.

The grand opening of the new Diamonds is planned for Halloween weekend October 31 and November 1.

During deer hunting season in November, the Grygla community will entertain hunters from near and far. Preparing for the busy hunting weekends, the Diamonds has booked Saddle Tramps and 180 Degrees — two popular bands — to provide entertainment.

The energetic young Ostbys have their work cut out for them with Diamonds opening just four weeks away. Only Shannon's wife, Denise, left her job to devote all of her time to Diamonds. Shannon and Tommy continue to work at Polaris Industries in Roseau, and Tommy's wife, Denise, owns and operates Classic Beauty Salon in Roseau.

With active social lives, other work situations and the long hours involved with the bar and restaurant business, there is no doubt that Shannon and Denise and Tommy and Denise will be tired by the end of every day. Hard work, however, doesn't faze the enthusiastic foursome, and they'll labor around the clock to open the doors of the new Diamonds on schedule — a bright spot for the Grygla community."

Guide" will be included in the October, 1998 issue of North American Hunter magazine, which is distributed as one of the benefits to each of the 750,000 members of the North American Hunting Club —the original organization of what is now the North American Outdoor Group.

The North American Hunting Club and North American Hunter were founded in 1978 by Paul S. Burke Jr. and Steve Burke of Minneapolis. The club and magazine were conceived to fill a niche that the Burkes felt had been overlooked in the industry —a magazine devoted exclusively to the sport of hunting for all North American game species.

The club reached 100,000 members in 1987, and in the next 10 years grew spectacularly to its present 750,000 membership, outpacing all publications in the hunting industry. In 1988 it changed its name to North American Outdoor Group and launched the North American Fishing Club and its official magazine, North American Fisherman. This club had grown to 500,000 paid members in 1996.

In 1993 the Handyman Club of America was formed and its magazine American How-To was started. This has grown to 600,000 membership in 1997.

National Home Gardening Club and its magazine Gardening How-To were started in 1996 and membership is projected to grow to 400,000 by the end of 1998.

This year the organization started the PGA TOUR Partners Club and the magazine PGA TOUR Partners which is expected to reach 200,000 members by the end of 1998.

Track repair in Bemidji to be done overnight

In a cooperative effort involving the Minnesota Department of Transportation, city of Bemidji and Burlington Northern Railroad, railroad tracks on Highway 197 near First Street southeast in Bemidji will be repaired on an overnight schedule.

The crossing will be closed for repair of the south tracks from 6:30 p.m. Monday, September 22, to 6:30 a.m. Tuesday, September 23 and for repair of the north tracks from 6:30 p.m. Tuesday to 6:30 a.m. Wednesday, September 24.

There is no formal detour planned for downtown, so motorists are being asked to plan on taking an alternate route if they need to cross the tracks during the hours the work is being conducted. Motorists are reminded to drive carefully in the construction zone and obey all traffic instructions.

Prostate Cancer Awareness week starts September 22

Over 209,900 men nationwide will develop prostate cancer in 1997, and 3,500 Minnesota men will develop this disease. Prostate cancer is the second leading cause of death in men, but many are reluctant to discuss the disease or ask their doctors to check for signs. Monday, September 22, marks the start of the Prostate Cancer Awareness Week, an ideal tie to remind all men of the importance of early detection for prostate and other cancers.

"Prostate Cancer Awareness Week reminds older men to make an appointment for their annual check-up," said Ed Klis, American Cancer Society volunteer. "Early detection provides the best odds for a favorable outcome with this disease, as well as other cancers."

The American Cancer Society recommends that men age 50 and over have an annual digital rectal exam (DRE) and an annual prostate-specific antigen (PSA) blood test. Both tests are used for the early detection of prostate cancer. If the results from either are suspicious, further evaluation should be done. The Society also recommends that men with a family history of prostate cancer and African-American men ask their doctor about testing for prostate cancer before age 50.

While the causes of prostate cancers are poorly understood, the most clearly established risk factors are age and race. Chances of getting prostate cancer increase rapidly after age 50, and more than 80 percent of all prostate cancers are diagnosed in men over age 65. Prostate cancer incidence rates are 66 percent higher for African-American men than for white men.

Although the exact relationship between diet and prostate cancer is not understood, several studies suggest that men with high levels of fat in their diet have a greater chance of getting prostate cancer. Prostate cancer also seems to run in some families, and genetic researchers are rapidly making progress in identifying prostate cancer genes.

There are a variety of treatment options, each with relative benefits and risks. However, there is currently no standardized treatment regimen for prostate cancer patients. Multi-disciplinary studies are needed to provide comparative data (i.e., efficacy, adverse effects, quality of life, and economic parameters) concerning treatment modalities.

The American Cancer Society is currently funding 33 prostate cancer grants in effect totaling $7,425,150. For the first time in its history, the Society has approved a plan to target 10 percent of its research budget to prostate cancer and what are being called "high priority needs" within the area of prostate cancer research. The needs identified by the Society are contained in three broad areas of research: behavioral, psycho social and quality of life; health policy and outcomes; and novel ideas in tumor cell biology. These areas are expected to remain targeted priority areas for at least three years. At least 16 grants will be awarded each year, contingent on the quality of the applications.

The American Cancer Society is the nationwide, community-based voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives and diminishing suffering from cancer through research, education, advocacy and service.

"Keep the Faith" musical has Chester Fritz encore

Three nights of encore performances of "Keep the Faith," an original musical by a number of Grand Forks area composers and performed by more than 200 students, have been scheduled for 7 p.m. September 29 and 30 and October 1 at the Chester Fritz Auditorium on the University of North Dakota campus in Grand Forks.

All tickets are $5 and may be picked up at the Chester Fritz Auditorium between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. For ticket information call 701-746-2411. Performers in the musical are participants in the Summer Performing Arts Company.

Titles of original songs written for the musical include River Song, Keep the Faith, Thank You America, Rivercities Rap, Pen Pal, Berm Envy and Back, all by Daniel Pederson; Holy Hannah, Sump Pump Blues, Free and In Time, by Dr. Michael Weber; Winter Skies, by Mike Koppelman; Big Big Flood, by Jon Lucht and Bill Chase; I Can Smile Too, by Andy Kvemen; and What Can We do For You by RoxAnne Hagen.

The Summer Performing Arts Company was founded 10 years ago and provides vocal, instrumental, dramatic workshop and performance opportunities for over 500 youth in the Grand Forks area. The elementary program consists of two-week sessions in creative dramatics with a public performance of original works on the final day. The secondary program runs from six to eight weeks and provides intense training and performance opportunities for all of the students.

Brownie Scout Outdoor Fun Day September 27

Thief River Falls Brownie Girl Scouts in first through third grades are invited to participate in an Outdoor Fun Day Saturday, September 27, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Camp M.O.E. south of Thief River Falls.

Cost for the event is $3 and registration deadline is September 22. For more information about Fun Day or how to become a Brownie Girl Scout, call Lynell Wayne at 681-3716 or Carol Sanner at 681-3128.

Barb Jauquet Kalinoski tapes segment of the "Oprah" show

Northwest Regional Library director Barb Jauquet-Kalinoski spent a whirlwind day Thursday, flying to Chicago, being chauffeured to a studio, taping a segment for the Oprah Winfrey television show and returning to Thief River Falls that evening.

According to the information received here, the segment will air briefly at the end of the program Monday, September 22, which will include the show hostess' monthly book review. The program is telecast at 4 p.m. on KVLY-TV, which is on Channel 11 on local cable.

Kalinoski's appearance will be relative to her involvement in replacement of books lost in flooding of public and school libraries in Ada and East Grand Forks. She is president of the Minnesota Library Association and has become more personally involved because the association is currently without an executive director.

ROSEAU COUNTY FARMLAND FOR SALE

The following land is offered for sale by the owner:

- N1/2 of the NW1/4 of Section 16-162N-41W (Ross Township)
- This Tract contains approximately 70.8 tillable acres and is enrolled in the CRP program through 2001, with payments of $4,106/year
- The 1997-98 CRP payment will be pro-rated, based on the time of ownership during the CRP year (October 1 to September 30.)
- Title will be transferred by Quit Claim Deed

The procedures for bidding on the sale of this real estate will be as follows

1. Sealed bids (based on total price for this tract of land) should be submitted to

Harvest States Cooperatives - Northwest Grain
Box 128
St. Hilaire, MN 56754

Bids must be received no later than 4:00 p.m., October 3, 1997. Mark the envelope "Land Bid."

2. The top five written bids on the tract will be contacted and invited to an oral bidding, where they will be given the opportunity to raise their written bids. The oral bidding will be held in the office of Harvest States Cooperatives - Northwest Grain at 315 Broadway Ave. North, in St. Hilaire, MN at a time to be determined.
3. Terms of the sale are cash, with a 10% down payment to be made when the bid is accepted and a purchase agreement is signed. The full balance of the sale price to be paid within 60 days thereafter, when the transaction is closed.
4. The seller reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Keep Your Farm

SAFE!

The importance of safe farming cannot be overstated. Your whole operation depends upon it.

- Store hazardous chemicals in a cool, secure place, in sturdy, leakproof containers.
- Check in front and behind, before operating machinery.
- No smoking or open flames in areas containing flammable materials.
- Turn off all machinery before attempting to repair or modify it.

Polaris considers plastics facility

Roseau - Polaris Industries announced recently it is considering creating its own plastic injection-molding business in Roseau.

If built, the facility will require 60 to 80 employees and be responsible for supplying the colored parts such as the front or rear cab and headlight pod on the Polaris All-terrain vehicles.

Polaris will be collecting information during the upcoming month to determine if the plant will be financially feasible to build and operate. Roseau Times-Region

History repeats itself at Plummer Homecomeing

Plummer - Twelve years ago Ross Arlt and Tiffany Gustafson were the first-grade homecoming attendants at Pershing High School.

This year the high school seniors were chosen homecoming king and queen at a ceremony held Sunday evening in Plummer. The Gazette

New customs building operating

Baudette - That new US Customs and Immigration building at the International Bridge is up and running.

After working from temporary quarters for a few days, federal officials made the move to the new building a couple of weeks ago.

Construction of the new 6,500 square foot building began late last spring. It includes search and interview rooms, a holding cell for immigration and a host of other facilities not available in the old building. The Baudette Region

Oklee kindergarten class split

Oklee - At a recent Oklee School Board meeting, kindergarten teacher Julie Johnson reported on this year's class.

The 19 kindergarten students have a wide range of abilities and there have been a number of behavioral concerns. At a recent meeting, the elementary staff concurred that the class should be split into two groups with one group attending school on Monday and Friday, the other on Tuesday and Wednesday with the whole group together on Wednesday.

The School Board agreed to this schedule through the third quarter. The class will be all together again for the fourth quarter to make the transistion into first grade easier. The Oklee Herald

Volunteers gather to save State Flower

Warroad - Volunteers from as far off as Alexandria, New Ulm and Grand Forks joined the efforts of local garden clubs and organizations last Saturday as the orange-vested volunteers dug around in the ditches north of Highway 11.

The volunteers' purpose was to save the Showy Lady Slipper – Minnesota's State Flower and a unique part of northern Minnesota's landscape, and their goal was to dig up 10,000 dormant orchid plants and relocated them to a safer place until the construction along Highway 11 is complete. An estimated 120 to 150 volunteers joined the effort. The Warroad Pioneer

Site preparation for MECC receives approval by state

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Another delay in the Multi-Events Cultural Center project was approved by the Joint Powers Board on Monday, but on Tuesday they learned that the state was going to go ahead with awarding bids anyway.

The joint powers board met Monday to discuss the results of discussions with state representatives and legislators on the high bids and lack of bids for a proposed track and football field.

Members of the Joint Powers Board and officials with participating organizations learned Monday that state officials and legislators had given their approval to a plan to drop the Wellness Center portion of the project in order to obtain bids on a track and field.

When officials opened bids on the project last month they discovered that not only were bids much higher than anticipated, but no one had bid on the track and football field. During subsequent discussions, the organization proposing to operate the Wellness Center, Thief River Life Center, withdrew its offer to operate the facility.

Monday, the board approved a motion to "delete the Wellness Center portion of the project from Phase I due to insufficient funding."

Also on Monday, other concerns were expressed regarding the city's budget problems. The city has reduced its expected budget deficit for 1998, but began from a $1.7 million budget deficit figure and are still struggling with the problem. The concern expressed Monday had to do with the city's in-kind contribution to a softball complex for the project. The city Parks and Recreation department had included in its preliminary budget, $500,000 for the softball complex — a figure which is not an official cost estimate. Parks and Recreation officials at the meeting said they had eliminated the $500,000 "or whatever they needed for the project" from their budget because the city just doesn't know where the money for the project will come from.

The joint powers board has received approximately $6 million for the project on the condition that members of the joint powers board contribute $1 million in matching funds to the project. That contribution can be in the form of in-kind services.

Staff advisors for the project have requested that the joint powers board delay awarding bids for site preparation. State and legislative officials have given approval to award some of the bids of the project and seek bids for the football field and track and possibly other elements of the project. Extensions were granted in order to allow officials time to consider alternatives.

Staff advisors requested a delay in the project Monday because they need time to develop time lines, and financial figures regarding in kind services — "Who's doing what, when and for how much."

Don Stewart, a project advisor, said it's not all bad news. It's good news because the joint powers board is half way there in the commitment on matching funds, he said.

Rick Nelson, project advisor, warned that the joint powers board needs to break ground on the project soon. Nelson was not only concerned that the state would go ahead and award bids anyway, but is working on another grant request from the Amateur Sports Commission. Nelson said he didn't think the state was under any obligation to delay the project any further. As far as the Sports Commission funds, Nelson said there would be no strings attached to the funds. The funds would be used for general improvement of amateur sports.

The board agreed to delay awarding bids on the project and agreed to meet on Tuesday, Oct. the 7, to award bids.

Jim Burkholder, a local citizen, added his input to the meeting Monday. Burkholder questioned the wisdom of continuing with the project in view of the financial difficulties facing the city, school district, which has a levy referendum issue on the November ballot, and Northland Community and Technical College. Burkholder said he was tired of paying more taxes every year and not getting anything in return. He pointed out that now that the Wellness Center has been dropped from the project, the joint powers board has no income to support future operational expenses at the facility. "It looks like we should drop the entire project," he said. He complained that the board was not listening and was not exercising any common sense.

Bids Awarded

Tuesday night, Stewart informed the city council that state officials said they were going to award bids on the project Wednesday. Stewart said staff and advisors were then forced to meet and come up with a plan to meet the local match requirement. The good news he said is that the joint powers board has already provided $513,000 in local match — much or most of it in in-kind work. He said that after an intense meeting, advisors had come up with plans to meet all but about $50,000 to $100,000 of the local match requirement.

During the meeting Monday officials for the city were concerned about the impact of the softball and baseball complex on their budget. The Parks and Recreation department had set aside $500,000 for the project. Tuesday night, Stewart said he thought it would cost no more than $350,000. He said he thought the staff and project advisors had come up with a way for the city to complete the softball and baseball field project. If it goes as planned it would take three to five years. He added that they think they have also worked out a plan that would allow the city to keep at least two of the softball diamonds open while site preparation takes place.

Dan Wilson, son of Dale and Dolly Wilson of Brooten, and Jennifer Gustafson, daughter of Greg and Georgann Gustafson of Warroad, were crowned king and queen of the Northland Community and Technical College homecoming Tuesday afternoon, September 23.

Community Ed fall classes start soon

Classes through the community education program of School District 564 are underway on a continuing basis or will begin soon and registration is being accepted at the community education office in the School District Service Center.

No phone registrations are accepted, but registration may be accomplished by mail, by stopping at the office Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. or using the drop box in the entrance area of the service center which is open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Checks should be used rather than cash and made payable to School District 564.

As a special accommodation to senior citizens, anyone who is 65 years of age or older may enroll in community education classes for a 25 percent reduction off the regular fee.

The community education department is looking for individuals to enhance educational and recreational opportunities in the Thief River Falls area. To submit a proposal or for more information, call 681-8711, extension 244.

Brochures are available at the community education office which list the class schedule and detailed information for each. Following is a brief summary of some of the classes and programs available:

Warm up, step aerobics and running (optional) is a continuing program from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Challenger elementary school gym. Lucy Stancyk is instructor and a $25 punch card good for 15 sessions is available at the community education office.

Also utilizing the punch card are:

Low impact aerobics for the developmentally challenged, meeting weekly beginning October 20 and continuing through mid-May from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Franklin

Napoleon recreated for Warren museum display

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

While not as big and not blue like the famous Babe, Napoleon the ox will make a huge impression at the museum in Warren as he is unveiled to the public on Sunday when the Marshall County Historical Society hosts "Napoleon Day."

Napoleon was the name given the faithful ox that pulled the cart Delmar Hagen used when he made his memorable trip to the State Fair on the historic Pembina Trail in 1958 – Minnesota's centennial year.

Many area people remember Delmar and Napoleon's remarkable 43-day trek which began on July 10, 1958 in Pembina, ND and ended August 23 at the Minnesota State Fairgrounds. Two years were spent planning and preparing for the journey hailed as the most outstanding and unique of all Minnesota centennial events. Delmar and Napoleon attracted much attention which included national media coverage.

His oxcart, the clothes he wore and numerous photographs of his

Thursday, Bev (Mattson) Johnson of Crookston used photographs to guide her as she penciled in the brown irregular shaped spots on Napoleon, a life-size papier-mache replica of the ox used by Delmar Hagen to pull his cart during his historic 1958 trek down the Pembina Trail. "Napoleon Day" will be hosted by the Marshall County Historical Society on Sunday, September 28 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the museum in Warren.

The Chancellors Quartet will be returning to Thief River Falls for a concert Sunday, September 28, at 4 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Community calender listing of the appearance date as Sunday, October 5, is incorrect. There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be received. This year's concert is again sponsored by many community churches. Since the quartet's last appearance here in March of 1996, the group has recorded two more albums. Quartet members include Jim Gerber, lead; Nick Gisl, tenor; Mike McCowen, bass; and Herold Vogel, baritone. They are accompanied by a pianist, guitarist and drummer. Now located in Minneapolis, the group schedules most of its out of town or out of state appearances on weekends.

King candidates include: Jared Eidelbes, son of Dawin and Carol Eidelbes, Ben Hanson, son of Dale and Dawn Hanson, Nicky Kotrba, son of Larry and Gilda Kotrba, and Jim Scheef, son of Tom and Becky Scheef.

The sophomore attendant will be DaNae Wiseth, daughter of Vance and Lori Wiseth.

The junior attendant will be Kristine Anderson, daughter of Dale and Patty Anderson.

The ushers include: Kramer Hanson, son of Eddie Hanson and JoAnn Lundeen, and Bradley Johnsrud, son of Gerald and Fern Johnsrud.

The first grade attendants will be Brett Bakken son of Jeff and Deonne Bakken, Delray Cullen, son of Mike and Cheri Cullen, Sabine Frederick, daughter of David Sr. and Joani Frederick, and Roxanne Ryan, daughter of Randy Sr. and Jeanne Ryan.

The 1996 queen, Danelle Hyland, daughter of Aldon and Trudy Hyland, will be escorted by Jacob Nelson, son of John and Carol Lovly and John and Pam Nelson.

A "Game Show" will be held at 1:14 and a pep fest will follow coronation. Blue Devil football game will be held at 7 p.m. at Goodridge, followed by the Homecoming Dance. Homecoming Royalty will be introduced, with their parents, on the football field before the game.

Three fires reported at TRF Kmart store

Three fires at Kmart in Thief River Falls are under investigation by police in Thief River Falls. The fires were obviously deliberately set.

On September 21 at 12:17 p.m. an employee at Kmart reported that someone had started fires at different spots within the store. A Thief River Falls police officer and sheriff's deputy arrived on the scene but there were no active fires at the time. They learned that two rolls of tissue had been set on fire in the women's restroom. A customer reported the fire, which was extinguished by an employee. Shortly after the first fire, a rack of men's clothing began smoldering and ignited. Flames were coming from the clothing when noticed. A customer and employee removed the clothing from the rack and stamped out the fire.

Individuals observed within the store were taken to the police department and interviewed. They were later released. No charges were filed.

On September 22 at 3:18 p.m. the manager of Kmart reported a fire in the men's room. Store employees noticed the fire and used fire extinguishers to put out the fire. Paper hand towels had been left on the floor in the middle of the men's room and set on fire. There was no structural damage.

All three fires remain under investigation. Damage from the first fire was estimated at $2,642.76.

Sherry LaCoursiere

These cooler days are just the time to get back to basics, like making cookies again. I have some really good cookie recipes for you today.

Have this dough in the fridge, just ready for baking a hot, tasty treat:

CHOCOLATE REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 squares of unsweetened baking chocolate (1 1/2 ounces), melted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup nuts
2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
3 tablespoons sour milk

Thoroughly cream shortening and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Add chocolate and vanilla and mix well.

Stir in nuts. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with sour milk.

Shape into rolls and roll in waxed paper. Chill thoroughly or overnight.

Slice thin and bake on greased cookie sheet at 400 degrees about 10 minutes. (4 dozen cookies)

Sometimes we forget those good, old recipes - this is an old one, but very good, and your kitchen will smell so yummy and spicy:

HERMITS

1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 beaten eggs
3 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup sour milk
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped dates (or another 1 cup raisins, if desired)
1 cup nuts

Thoroughly cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with sour milk. Add fruits and nuts.

Drop from teaspoon onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees about 15 minutes. (4 dozen cookies)

These refrigerator cookies are just great - I make them often:

OATMEAL CRISPIES

1 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
2 beaten eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
3 cups oatmeal
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Thoroughly cream shortening and sugars. Add eggs and vanilla and beat well.

Add sifted dry ingredients, then add oatmeal and nuts. Mix well.

Shape in rolls, wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate thoroughly or overnight.

When ready to bake, slice 1/4 inch thick and bake on ungreased cookie sheets at 350 for 10 minutes. (5 dozen cookies)

This recipe was on last week's Martha Stewart television show and it is just delicious - I've added vanilla, almond and salt because we like our sugar cookies a little salty and with those flavors, but the original recipe did not contain any of those ingredients. Also, the original recipe utilizes a food processor, which I don't have, so I used my mixer - still came out great and it is very easy to roll:

SAND COOKIES

3/4 cup butter (not margarine)
2/3 cup sugar
2 egg yolks (large eggs, of course)
2 cups flour (in thirds)
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and sugar well (or process until creamy). Add eggs and beat well. Add flour a third at a time (two 1/3 cupfuls at a time) and beat well after each.

Make dough into a square, place in waxed paper, and refrigerate until chilled.

Using one-third of the dough at a time, roll out on lightly floured board. Roll quite thin and cut into shapes. Place on ungreased cookie sheet.

Glaze each cookie with mixture of egg yolk and water and then sprinkle liberally with sugar. Bake at 350 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes until barely browned. (I over-browned a few and found them very tasty too.) (4 dozen, 3-inch cookies)

ABATE food and toy run to assist EGF Head Start

Northwest Chapter of American Bikers for Awareness, Training and Education (ABATE) will conduct its annual food and toy run Saturday, October 4. Benefacting this year will be the East Grand Forks Head Start program.

Members will be riding as visibly as possible and as far as weather permits to pick up and deliver the items left at donation boxes located in various places throughout Polk, Red Lake and Pennington counties.

"It is the goal of the Northwest Chapter of ABATE members to bring attention to the Head Start program and to provide support with donations of food, toys and money," states Steve Tischman of Erskine, president.

The day will begin at 10 a.m. with registration at the Irishman's Shanty restaurant in Crookston and will end at Pistol Pete's in Red Lake Falls with an evening dance. The dining room will be open for business prior to the dance. Everyone is invited to attend the run and help out with contributions.

journey are on display at the Settlers Square Museum located on the south end of the fairgrounds in Warren.

Melvin Mattson of rural Newfolden fondly remembers the Delmar Hagen story and suggested to his grown daughters that they make a papier-mache replica of Napoleon to display with the oxcart. "You've got to make Napoleon," Melvin told his daughters in a voice somewhere between a command and a plea. Melvin's girls responded.

The three daughters of Melvin and Avis Mattson are Bev Johnson of Crookston, LaVonne Schmidt of Holt and Marty Benson of Benson.

The project was started at the end of July during the Marshall County Fair when the three sisters and their children gathered and spent four days working on the life-size papier-mache ox. Work on the animal was done only a few feet from Delmar's cart, and a video tape was made of the family working together on the project. It will be shown during Napoleon Day on Sunday.

Napoleon's frame began with a plywood shape, and wood slats were used to build the rib cage. Chicken wire was used to round out the body. The legs are steel rods, and Napoleon stands on a wood base covered with gravel.

The hooves of the animal were fashioned by woodcarver Christ Vixie of Newfolden.

Believed to be developed by the Chinese in the 1600's, traditional papier mache is a mixture of paper and glue which applied to a frame or mold and allowed to dry produces a strong and durable surface.

Bev learned the technique several years ago when her daughter was in junior high in Crookston. Professional artists came to the school to teach the art form to the students. Bev observed and since has enjoyed working with papier-mache making masks and other objects. Napoleon is by far her largest undertaking.

Seven layers of newsprint papier-mache were applied to the animal form. The workers alternated between printed and unprinted newsprint which enabled them to tell when a layer was complete.

While the project got off to a good start at the fair, it was far from complete, and work on the ox has continued since. Drying time was required between layers of papier-mache which allowed for some time off for the workers. However, someone has spent at least two days a week working on the project for the past two months.

Bev made Napoleon's head at her home in Crookston. Using a large batch of homemade clay, she made a mold on which to apply the papier-mache. Eyes purchased from a taxidermist were used and the eyelids were formed from brown modeling clay. Once the layers of papier-mache were dry, the mold was removed leaving the shell. The head was attached to the body of the ox and is hinged to move from side to side. The one-horned beast is remarkably lifelike.

As of Thursday, Napoleon was all white with the exception of his eyes, eyelids, wood hooves and sisal tail. Painted with a white exterior latex, some plaster of Paris was mixed with the paint and applied with an old lint brush to add a hair-like texture. Surrounded by a number of pictures to use as reference, Bev was penciling in the irregular-shaped brown spots that covered much of Napoleon's body.

Not far from where his daughter worked, Melvin Mattson observed from a chair. Having suffered a stroke, Melvin gets around a bit slower, but has no problem communicating. His eyes twinkled as he watched Bev work, and he said, "Isn't she something? Have you ever seen such talent?" Bev grinned back lovingly as he praised her.

Melvin's daughters have picked him up as they've driven from their homes to work on Napoleon, and they've had a wonderful time together having lunch out and making trips to the Dairy Queen at the end of the day. Having enjoyed the project so much, the family will most likely feel sad to see it end.

Though there was still work to be done on Napoleon, there is no doubt that he will be finished and attached to Delmar's cart on Sunday. It is a very fitting memorial to the man who made the oxcart journey 30 years ago.

Nicknamed "Gabby," Delmar Hagen is remembered as an interesting man with an enormous sense of humor. That sense of humor is evident in his written account of the often trying and always exciting trip.

Delmar's story along with other interesting historical accounts of the unique oxcarts and the Red River Trails are kept by the Marshall County Historical Society.

Melvin Mattson will be mighty proud when his brainchild is introduced to the public on Sunday at the Settlers' Square Museum in Warren. With good reason, he'll be much prouder of the family that brought his idea – Napoleon – to life.

Abundant Life Lutheran gets grant of $450

Abundant Life Lutheran Church of Thief River Falls recently received $450 in matching funds from Lutheran Brotherhood through the society's congregational matching funds program.

The congregation raised its funds through several youth service activities and youth of the congregation will use the amount they raised and the matching funds for camps and conventions.

To The Editor.

Here we go again! All but one of our city fathers are seeking to ask our State Legislators to allow Sunday liquor sales. This issue has come up five times since 1977 and each time the citizens of TRF said a resounding no, no, no, no, NO!!!

Are our council members and those who dispense alcoholic beverages deaf? It should be obvious that the citizens of our city just don't want Sunday liquor sales! We have enough problems with six day sales. Thank you, Alderman Dave Carlson, for your vote against such a proposal. It took real courage to take such a stand.

We all know the more days you serve alcohol the more it will be consumed. The ONLY ones it is going to help are the ones who sell; they are the ones who will profit.

I have been in the ministry now over 50 years. My father was an alcoholic for 14 years. I can speak for my family. I know that money that should have gone for food, shoes, clothing and paying of bills went to the tavern owner.

I have served churches in a variety of towns and communities. I can tell of much heartache, tears, the abuse of women and children that came from those who frequent the taverns, not to mention anything about the corruption of our youth and the many innocent people who are murdered because drivers have been drinking. I call it murder because they are just as dead when hit by a drunken driver as they would be with a bullet from a gun, and needlessly. Princess Di would be alive today had the chauffeur not been drinking alcoholic beverages.

I would like Dave Burns, Jane Mattson, Joel Hallstrom and Jim Efteland to give us a list of all the benefits the City of Thief River Falls will receive because of staying open to serve liquor on Sundays.

Jane, you mentioned that you have not had a lot of problems at your establishment. You are fortunate, but most of the problems from alcohol start after the customers leave your place. It's when they get into their cars that they drive impaired. It's when they get home they beat up their wives and children.

Joel, you are not the only one who pays taxes, buys fuel, pays utilities. Perhaps more could do the same if they would stay home Sunday instead of drinking.

Jim, you speak about having the same "right" to be open as any other retail business, such as J. C. Penney. I'm sure there are some of your clientele, when they come from your establishment, who haven't the money nor the desire to shop at Penney's.

Most of the businesses in Thief River Falls are there to provide necessary merchandise. Coming from Penney's is not going to endanger innocent people's lives. People shopping at Penney's are not going to cause families to fear their Dad and Mother coming home drunk and beating them.

I wish for those who favor Sunday alcohol sales to make a visit to a shelter for abused women. They have a story to tell. Stop in at Social Services and listen to the case workers. They have a story to tell. Most of the problems they deal with can be attributed to alcohol.

Talk with our judges, see how many DWIs they hear in one month and it will surprise you. Talk with Sheriff Moe and our police force. I'm sure they could tell you about family fights, drunken drivers, etc. I wonder how much smaller our taxes would be without all the services our city provides—police, judges, social services, jails—because of problems related to alcohol.

Why do our aldermen go to the state legislators rather than to the citizens of our city? Wouldn't this be the proper route? It is the people of the area who have the most to lose.

Alderman Hamerlinck, you say we are not losing a right to vote. Is not going to St. Paul for special legislation by-passing the people's majority vote here in TRF? Certainly you know they have overwhelmingly turned down Sunday liquor. How soon we forget.

Let's remember Gerald and Julie Wilson. We do not need to lose any more citizens in our city.

I am not writing this with any animosity toward anyone. I was brought up to know right from wrong, black and white. It seems to me that we are living in a day where there is no right or wrong, where black and white run together into a dirty grey! Can we not see the results of alcohol in people's lives?

Think about this. Alcohol may give a temporary solution to one's problems, but Jesus said that if you trust in Him you can have real and eternal life, more and better than you ever dreamed of. (John 10:10)

Cooperatives Could Use Some Introspection

Over the years we have held a fairly high view of cooperatives, probably because we had at-large exposure to them as part of our everyday life while growing up on the farm.

Our telephone system was a cooperative and the wall-hung, hand crank phone was our connection to the outside world—as far outside as a neighbor's home or even relatives who lived a town or two away. Our ring—a long and two short, as we recall—on the multi-party line was infrequent but always a cause for at least minor excitement.

The creamery that picked up our Grade B milk (if there was a grade system at that time) in 10-gallon cans was a cooperative and hired a buttermaker as a manager. The couple of pounds of butter the milk hauler left every few days on credit against the milk check were little blocks of the evidence of technology—the ability of the creamery to turn raw product into manufactured product by simply turning that huge cylindrical churn that fascinated and amazed us as children.

When we came home from rural school one day to find light in the electric bulbs which had been installed for weeks awaiting energizing, the power was supplied through our local electric cooperative. What excitement it was to run from room to room, marveling at finding an actual response to flipping the switches which we had clicked frequently without result since their installation.

In the fall when we hooked our family car—a 1930 Model A Ford nearing the end of its second decade of service—to a four-wheel trailer converted from steel rimmed spoke wheels to rubber tires and filled with grain from Dad's pride-and-joy A-6 Case combine, we made a six-mile trip to the co-op elevator to dump the load.

Mom made a few extra dollars for the family by picking turkeys in the fall at the co-op processing plant. Our year's supply of farm-raised beef, pork and chicken was stored in a big drawer or two at the co-op locker plant, usually after on-farm slaughter but sometimes after processing at the plant itself.

As youngsters, we never thought much about cooperatives and their concepts back then. Most of them had been formed by earlier residents to meet the needs of the day and our family just sort of hooked on to what was there when we moved into the community. The rural electric co-op was an exception—we were in on the ground floor of that one.

Cooperatives came about almost as a matter of necessity in those early years when subsistence was the norm and wealth meant having a dollar left from last year's crop when this year's harvest started. The only way to acquire the services that made life easier was to join together, pool meager resources, borrow as a group and share in the responsibility of operations. Nobody thought much about making a profit.

These small cooperatives were basic to the co-op concept. The people elected to the boards were neighbors of the members and checked with them before making any major decisions. Annual meetings had substance as report sessions and in future planning. Members truly ran the show.

To be honest, however, cooperatives per se in our country today are not what they used to be. We look at the observance of October as Co-op Month a little differently than we once did, and have a tendency to be a bit skeptical of this year's theme. "Cooperatives: Members Make the Difference."

Our great-grandfathers and grandfathers and even our own fathers never envisioned the co-ops they started to become the conglomerates they have, with all of the impersonalization that goes with large corporate business. Slogans aside, members as individuals really don't make much difference in the affairs and operations of co-ops today.

Conglomerate cooperatives are doing well financially, but the same can't be said for their individual members. Management at the upper levels of these cooperatives concern themselves —and perhaps necessarily so—with the cooperative's bottom line. And when the cooperative buys from its members as well as sells for and to them, it's obvious who gets squeezed to show that black bottom line.

In theory, of course, when the cooperative profits the members profit, but in practice that profit is precious little. Specifically at this time we look at the major problems being experienced on the farm by our area dairymen while the cooperatives which process their product are doing well. It seems that not enough is being done at the top level in adjusting operations to permit for payment of a higher price to the producer members.

Minnesota Association of Cooperatives is in charge of promoting Co-op Month in our state.

"In some ways cooperatives look like other businesses," states MAC president Allen Gerber. "But the primary difference is who owns the cooperative, who controls the cooperative and who benefits from the cooperative. In all cases it is the member."

Good theory. At one time it might have been true. But we believe it is time for conglomerate cooperatives to look inside themselves and do what needs to be done to help their members who are in dire trouble before we can again subscribe to the Three Musketeers' slogan of "all for one and one for all" in the cooperative movement.

LETTERS

To The Editor.

According to several psychologists referred to in an article in last Sunday's Grand Forks Herald, when it comes to our love for Princess Diana and our grief over her death, some men don't even have a clue!

"But for vast numbers of women, Diana represented them... despite her diamond tiara, scarred by her parents' broken marriage, wed to a man who didn't love her, humiliated by a lover, rejected by a censorious mother-in-law...balancing motherhood and a new romance. She was trying so hard to make her relationships work, fit in with what people expected of her and also be herself....That's the quintessential female dilemma."

Professional counselors believe, too, that most women could identify with Diana..."She spoke to their woundedness and to their battle to be heard and to be loved...even considered her 'a member of the family'...Diana brought self-disclosure to an art... Men generally feel threatened by that, so they dismiss it..."

Both male and female therapists agreed. "Men didn't get it... making the death of Diana yet another skirmish in America's gender wars, a new chapter in Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus."

Many women and men have come up to me and voiced their agreement with my letter of September 13. Contrary to what Mr. Ed Leeper thinks, I didn't miss the point. Maybe he doesn't understand where I'm coming from.

Sincerely,
Lucy Aasland

To The Editor:

All too often we hear only negative things in the news. Once in awhile there is a positive story, but usually they happen in other towns or cities. When it does happen in your town it makes you glad that you are a part of this community.

On the radio news Monday morning it was the downtown fire, but out of this destruction came a beautiful story. Three police officers risked their lives to save the lives of others.

Yes, the motto of most police forces is "To Protect and To Serve," but this act of heroism went beyond the call of duty. They could have waited until properly equipped fire fighters arrived, but how many of those tenants would not be here if they would have done that we do not know.

All I can say is that I am proud of them and glad they are on our police force. I know only one of the officers, but hopefully will meet the others some day. I hope our city recognizes that these individuals are an asset to our community.

Thank You,
Wayne K. Wood

Oxygenated fuel to be required in state Oct. 1

Beginning October 1, state law requires gasoline sold at retail pumps throughout Minnesota to be blended with an oxygenate—primarily ethanol—according to the Minnesota Department of Public Service (DPS). The agency is responsible for monitoring the oxygenate content of gasoline as well as checking the accuracy of retail station gasoline pumps.

"The oxygenated fuel program has contributed to a reduction in air pollution and helped the Twin Cities consistently meet the federal clean air standards," says Kris Sanda, commissioner of DPS. "The oxygenated requirement will now become effective statewide, as mandated by the legislature."

In Minnesota, oxygenated fuel usually consists of gasoline and 7.8 to 10 percent ethanol by volume. Adding ethanol with its high oxygen content to gasoline causes the fuel to burn "cleaner," thus reducing emissions.

The first state law requiring oxygenated fuel was passed in 1992 in response to the federal clean air act requiring states to meet federal air standards. In 1991, the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency said carbon monoxide pollution levels in the Twin Cities violated federal standards.

Following implementation of the new law, the Twin Cities met federal air standards for the first time since 1975 and have continued to meet the standards despite rising gasoline use.

The state law established a schedule for extending the oxygenated fuel mandate. Beginning in 1992, the mandate applied only to the winter months and the Twin Cities. In 1995 the requirement extended to year-around in the Twin Cities, and beginning October 1, 1997, it applies year around and statewide.

"Minnesotans probably won't notice any change in the way their automobiles operate when running on oxygenated gasoline," Sanda said. "In fact, many service stations throughout the state have been carrying gasoline with ethanol for some time now. Neither should gasoline prices be affected by the change to oxygenated fuel."

State law allows retail service stations to have one storage tank of non-oxygenated premium fuel for sale for use in classic cars, all-terrain vehicles, motorcycles, boats, snowmobiles or small engines. Marinas, airports and resorts also may sell this fuel. Also exempt from the oxygenated fuel requirement are racecourses selling fuel exclusively for off-highway racing events.

Sanda said that in addition to reducing emissions, the use of ethanol as an oxygenate provides substantial benefits for the Minnesota economy, especially rural and small town communities. Ethanol provides Minnesota farmers with an additional market for their corn, and the state currently has 11 ethanol plants in production or under construction. The plants have the capacity to produce more than 150 million gallons of ethanol annually.

Under law, DPS Weights and Measures must check the oxygenate content of fuel and has found the compliance rate of Twin Cities stations to be nearly 100 percent. Samples are taken at stations on a random basis and checked at the DPS Weights and Measures lab in Roseville. The department also has a mobile lab unit which can check samples on site.

If the sample is "borderline,"—that is, does not quite meet standards—the station is issued a warning and re-checked. If the sample clearly does not meet city requirements, the department can remove the product for sale and also initiate legal action.

DPS is cooperating with the petroleum industry and the Minnesota Department of Agriculture in providing information on oxygenated fuel and state requirements to all service station owners.

Questions regarding the enforcement program can be directed to the DPS Weights and Measures Division at 681-639-4010. Further information about the use of ethanol in general can be obtained from the Department of Agriculture at 612-297-2223 in the Twin Cities area, and at 1-800-846-3835 from elsewhere in Minnesota.

Century-old publication reviews valley flooding

(Editor's Note: Spring flood of 1997 in the Red River Valley has created a good deal of comment about the handling of water, including storage in natural or created basins and drainage of land, primarily agricultural. Some have blamed the height of the 1997 flood crest on agricultural drainage.

The following article was published in the April 1897 edition of the U.S. Department of Agriculture publication titled, "Climate and Crops: Minnesota Section." This publication summarized climate data gathered in Minnesota. In addition to providing tables of climate data, discussion was included about climate-related issues of the day. In this edition, they covered the spring flooding of 1897, and discussed how it compared to earlier floods in the Red River Valley.)

History of Early Floods in the Red River Valley

Some of the oldest inhabitants of this section, in view of the present flood situation, are recalling a statement which was frequently made by Pierre Bottineau, the noted guide and scout, a large portion of whose life was spent in this vicinity and who at one time resided at Red Lake Falls. It was to the effect that people would live to see the day when the water in the Red River would reach the level of the prairies on either side.

In this connection a bit of ancient history is decidedly interesting. J. W Bond, the historian, who came to the Red River Valley in 1851 for the purpose of trading with the Indians of the Red Lake reservation, says they found the valley desolate and barren. Everything was drowned out by the inundations of the river, which had occurred for several successive years.

In this book published in 1853 he says of this section: "...Along the course of the river, both banks within the margin of the stream, are covered with thick growth of drowned-out willows, while farther back on the prairie, fine large trees, majestic oaks and elms, are in the same condition, and now stand towering aloft like high, giant skeleton sentinels throwing out their dry and leafless limbs across the water as if to guard its passage.

Each tree is marked at the height of about 30 feet above the water, by the heavy drift ice during the freshets. In some places the timber merely skirts the river, at others it extends further than the eye can penetrate, and no prairies being visible for miles, all is a desolate solitude of dead and dying skeleton trunks of leafless trees.

"No farming whatever is being done here on account of the annual floods in the valley for three years past, the waters having risen to the height of thirty-one and thirty-three feet above the low water mark, flooding all the country and inundating houses at this place (Pembina) to the depth of two or three feet. The ground is destitute of grass, with tall, rank weeds three and four feet in height abounding.

"The heaviest floods known in the country occurred in 1824, 1825 and 1826. The last year the water rose sixty-six feet in height and the whole country was completely drowned out.

"This produced such universal distress that many of the most wealthy and influential citizens left Selkirk in consequence and made an overland journey across the plains to St. Peters and Galena, near which last place they settled. In 1825 the snow fell the 15th of October in great quantity and remained on the ground. Still more fell during the winter, which was one of the coldest which had passed for twenty-five years.

"The snow melted suddenly about the last of April. The water had already risen in the streams as high as the banks when the ice, which had scarcely diminished in thickness, was dragged away by the violence of the current, and taking a straight course, rooted up trees and demolished edifices and whatever found itself in its way.

"The fish, the principal resource of the inhabitants at this season of the year, were dispersed in this immense extent of water and the fishermen were not able to take them. The bison that were ordinarily found in abundance near the river Pembina went away, and about fifteen persons who had calculated on this resource perished from hunger. The waters did not recede entirely until the 20th of July; when some persons risked sowing barley, which came to maturity."

A similar condition of affairs did not occur again until 1852. Then 'the water rose a foot higher than in 1826 (sixty-seven feet above low water), and the losses occasioned by it are still greater.' Fencing, grain and property of all kinds was washed away and destroyed.

—Crookston Times

The Red River Flood of 1897

The rapid melting of the vast amount of snow covering the Red River basin at the end of March, and succeeding days, has caused the greatest flood known to inhabitants of the Valley. The history of the Valley extends back to about 1800, and during that period great floods have occurred, previous to this year, in 1826, 1852 and 1882, besides many of lesser note.

The flood of this year began about the first of April, in the upper part of the Valley, the crest reaching Moorhead on the fifth, and from there, the usual time of 20 or 21 days was occupied in reaching the state boundary. The Valley is very flat, and the progress of the flood being frequently interrupted by large ice gorges, which raised the level of the water, the country on each side of the river was inundated from 12 to 20 miles, or for the whole territory, a strip averaging 30 miles wide by 150 miles long.

A number of lives have been lost, and the losses to property in this area of about 4,500 square miles, in the way of damage to grain, both in storage and seeded, stock, buildings, fences, personal effects, etc., is enormous, and can never be more than roughly estimated in the country regions. Whole counties are left with hardly a bridge, and roads badly damaged, which will cost, in some cases, well on to $50,000 to replace or repair. Railroads also have suffered severely, not only from interrupted traffic, but from injury to their road beds, and in one or more instances the tracks have been carried long distances from their former places.

Relief for 50,000 homeless people has been asked of Federal and State Governments.

Fortunately these floods recede so rapidly that the preparation of the land for seeding is not so delayed as to injure the prospects of a good crop. Between the boundary and Winnipeg, the level of the Valley falls off at a rate of about six feet per mile, so that after the river is free of gorges south of the boundary, the movement of the water is very rapid. In addition to this the porous condition of the soil is such that a large proportion of the water on the tillable land is absorbed.

Though the losses and discomforts are great, the flood is not entirely without its benefits, as it has enriched the soil, and supplied to it so much moisture that only an unprecedented drought can prevent an abundant harvest this year.

Red River Watershed board director comments on flood

(Editor's Note: Following commentary was written by Donald Ogaard, executive director of the Red River Watershed Management Board. He titled his opinion piece "It's Time For The Facts About Red River Basin Flooding.")

by Donald Ogaard

The current flooding disaster has highlighted a number of unfortunate misperceptions about flooding in general, and flooding in the Red River Basin (RRB) specifically.

First, the severe flooding in the central RRB area, including the disaster in the city of Ada, was not caused by farm drainage systems, but by water moving overland from the rivers, which over-topped their banks and dikes. The excess water resulted from heavy rainfall on top of a record snow-pack with high water content. The majority of drainage ditches are downstream from the areas first affected by flooding, and at the time, were completely plugged with snow and ice. Therefore, they could carry no significant surface water.

The floodwater originated in the minor natural watersheds upstream, which have the ability to carry high volumes of water. This water then moved into downstream rivers that have very limited carrying capacity, and then into the shallow Red River channel, which also has a very limited capacity compared to the volume of water moving into it.

The floodwaters moved cross-country into areas not historically affected in this manner and were, in many instances, deflected by snow drifts up to eight feet high. Similar situations were replicated all over the RRB.

Second, there has been a lot of discussion in the media about tile drainage. There are no tile drainage systems in the Red River Basin, only open ditch systems. Tile drainage is used primarily in the southern part of the state.

The extensive drainage network present in the RRB does not generate water and is the only means available to discharge excess water after the flooding period passes. Productive agriculture would not be possible without the drainage network in the Red River Valley portion of the RRB. The majority of drainage ditches were constructed before 1920 and are maintained today to make agricultural production possible.

Third, the topography of the Basin is flat from south to north, with a fall of only one to two feet per mile. A different situation exists, however, from east to west, where a topographic fall from the headwaters of many streams to their outlet into the Red River exceeds seven hundred feet in ninety miles. This topography is the major cause of flooding, coupled with the well-defined water courses present in the upland areas.

Fourth, wetland restoration is popularly promoted as a method to reduce flooding. For this to happen, these areas must be available in significant enough acreage to have an effect, and in addition, must be located in a water flow pattern. They also must have outlet structures to allow for partial drain-down after any rainfall or snow melt event to be effective.

Most wetland restorations undertaken by state and federal agencies that do this type of work do not meet this qualification, and may, after the first event of the season, actually increase downstream flows. Unfortunately, restored wetlands are only nominally effective in reducing flooding and generally the land is not available for this purpose. Also, proposed restorations are often a long distance away from the areas needing protection.

The magnitude of flooding in the northern RRB, including Grand Forks, East Grand Forks and on into Manitoba, was caused by the volume of water cast into the Red River from upstream tributaries as a result of excess rainfall on top of a record snowpack. All the tributaries were overburdened with the runoff. The result was difficult to predict and impossible to contain. It must be understood that the tributaries upstream from Grand Forks and East Grand Forks have always had the ability to pass on more runoff than the Red River can contain.

As a sidelight, I live in Ada, and sustained the same level of flood damage to my home and belongings as most of my neighbors. The lower level of my home was filled with six feet of water. I lost my home office, my computer, fax/copy machines, all of my business and personal records, family photographs and an extensive slide collection developed over 40 years. If the drainage systems were actually the cause of this tragic flooding, I would be among the first to say so.

Women make more farm management decisions

Family farm businesses in Minnesota have been in a state of transition over the past decade, mirroring the changeable nature of the overall economy. Farm women have seen their roles change, too, according to Sharon Danes, family resource management specialist with the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

Danes says that results from surveys conducted with Minnesota farm women over the last nine years suggest they have been anything but uninvolved in farm operations.

"Women are becoming more immersed in farm management decisions," Danes says, "while participation in farm tasks varies increasingly with levels of off-farm employment."

In 1988 a significant percentage of farm women around the state indicated that they were taking off-farm employment while continuing a heavy load of farm work. More recently, they have begun to strike a more realistic balance between the two. Danes notes that, while women still perform a substantial portion of farm tasks, they are doing less as they take on outside work.

As they bring in more money, women also are exercising more influence in farm management decisions. Danes points out that the areas in which women are more involved in making decisions also involve greater resources than in 1988. This suggests that women who develop professional skills off the farm also are utilizing them for the good of the farm operation.

Farm operations are diversifying, just as are urban businesses, Danes says. Nearly half of all farm families currently rely on two sources of income, while only 36 percent have a single income source. Another 17 percent rely on three sources of income. These additional sources often come from adding value to raw commodities or from in-home businesses, such as sales of beans or crafts.

For those with two incomes, the second income source most often is an off-farm job. More than half of Minnesota farm women were employed off the farm by 1995. This reflects a general trend toward off-farm employment among farm families. The husband and wife both work off the farm more often today than in 1988.

"However, where only one spouse is employed," Danes says, "the farm woman is now three times as likely to be the one working off the farm."

Farm women are less satisfied today with their changing lifestyles. They currently express a lower degree of satisfaction with family finance and the balance between work and leisure than in 1988. Danes attributes this to changes in very traditional core values, despite a relatively stable economic situation compared with a decade ago.

"This suggests that women are still having to adapt to these changes," Danes said.

Typical ag landlord is likely to be an older woman

Almost half of the land being farmed in Minnesota is owned by non-farmers, yet the typical agricultural landowner isn't a big insurance company or a tractor-driving guy in a seed cap.

The typical landlord is apt to be an older woman, not heavily involved in farming but who depends on farm rent for part of her income. Nationally, 40 percent of agricultural landlords are women, 31 percent are men and 29 percent of the land is under joint ownership.

A recent University of Minnesota survey of 40 female landowners in Scott county showed them to be interested in agricultural land preservation, environmental concerns and cash rent rates. Scott county is part of the Twin Cities metropolitan area and land use has shifted from agricultural to residential, commercial and industrial uses.

"Only 50 percent of the respondents were confident that their land would be used for agriculture in 10 years," says Barbara Brekke, a graduate student who worked on the project with Dick Levins, an economist with the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

"Agricultural landowners are faced with complex challenges as they try to make decisions regarding their land," Brekke says. "Encroaching development, rising land values and the average age of the agricultural landowner all influence their decisions."

Many women in the study will be faced with a major land sale decision in the next 10 years. They may be at a greater disadvantage than men, however, since educational programming, typically meetings and workshops, often fails to reach them, Brekke said.

Although women are interested in learning and becoming more involved, "they don't feel comfortable going to workshops on land use issues," the researcher said. One woman in the survey said she "pictures a room full of men in seed corn hats. I don't think I would fit in."

Survey participants overwhelmingly preferred written information to conferences and workshops, computer assisted materials or satellite television linkages. Since women landlords often don't live on their property, educators find it hard to locate them, Brekke says, and "this makes it challenging to provide women landowners with appropriate and appealing educational opportunities."

Women in the study have "values that are consistent with a healthy Minnesota agriculture," Levins says. "They're very interested in farm land preservation and soil and water conservation."

Earlier studies by Levins and graduate student Kim Zenk documented about 3,000 women who were principal farm operators in Minnesota. But the larger presence of women in agriculture is among those who own land but do not farm it themselves.

Mandan center given funding

Congress has appropriated $2.9 million to the Northern Great Plains Research Lab in Mandan, ND. The Mandan center is the only facility in the nation conducting conservation-oriented research specific to dryland cropping systems.

"Securing funding for the research lab was a tough battle, but I was pleased with the response from individuals as well as organizations including the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers and South Dakota Wheat, Inc. The joint concern for maintaining this facility shows a strong commitment for improving the wheat and barley industry in our region," states Lance Gaebe, executive director of the North Dakota Grain Growers Association.

When stressed, dairy cows eat less feed

When dairy cows are heat stressed they try to maintain their normal body temperature by eating less. As a result, they produce less milk. Other problems associated with heat stress are decreased fertility, a depressed immune system, higher maintenance requirements, and less efficient milk production.

"There is a midwestern tradition of having something physical in your hands when you pay out money. That means that many farmers don't consider that information has value. Farmers have to learn to consider good, unbiased information as valuable— and is worth paying for—as a good piece of machinery."

—Jerry Olson, extension dairy and veterinary specialist

Federal budget includes $1 million for scab study

Federal lawmakers have appropriated $1 million to fight Fusarium head blight (scab) in the U.S. government's budget for fiscal year 1998, which begins October 1, according to the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers office in Red Lake Falls.

House and Senate Conference Committee members earmarked $500,000 to fund scab research at the Agriculture Department's Cereal Rust Lab in St. Paul. In addition, the 1998 federal budget includes another $500,000 for a comprehensive research project proposed by land grant universities in 12 states affected by scab, including Minnesota and North Dakota.

Scab is a fungal disease that has resulted in losses estimated in the billions of dollars for wheat and barley producers in the 1990s.

Federal funding will strengthen plant breeding efforts to develop wheat and barley varieties that are more resistant to the disease. Further, researchers want to study the effects that scab and its toxic byproduct, vomitoxin, have on food safety and post-harvest management. Evaluating fungicide applications, crop germplasm and how the disease forms and spreads in wheat and barley crops are also key research objectives which will be furthered with the federal support.

"It's been a priority for us to elevate scab as a national concern, and we're gratified to see it happen," says Tim Dufault of Crookston, wheat grower and president of the state association.

"Many people in the spring wheat region and in the soft red winter wheat area put a lot of time into making the $1 million allocation possible. This success shows the importance of working together on a regional and national basis."

Conservation hotline is tool for farmers

Farmers are beginning to realize that the familiar conservation programs at USDA have undergone major changes. Programs like the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) are now very different than a decade ago when many farmers enrolled in the program. New programs like the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) and Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program (WHIP) give farmers and ranchers new opportunities — but only if they understand the programs and how to apply.

The Center for Rural Affairs Conservation Options Hotline can help answer questions about how the new programs work, and how changes in existing programs impact farmers.

Duane Hovorka, hotline staff, said that the CRP has been on a lot of farmers' minds lately.

"Many farmers had their bids to re-enroll land in the CRP rejected last spring," said Hovorka, "and they are looking for alternatives. They need to know that they can enroll windbreaks, streamside buffer strips, contour grass strips and other partial-field areas right now, without waiting for the next CRP signup. Eligible partial field enrollments are accepted automatically in the CRP by the USDA, and some practices even get bonus payments," he said.

"Farmers looking to enroll whole fields in the CRP signup that is coming this fall want to know how they can improve their bids, and they need to understand how the CRP bid formula worked last spring because the USDA is unlikely to change it substantially for the fall signup," said Hovorka.

"We have also heard reports from farmers that they have been told that you won't be able to get USDA funds for programs like EQIP unless your farm is in a designated priority area. That is just not true, and we are glad to get false rumors like this straightened out before they spread," said Hovorka. He notes that in every state a substantial share of EQIP funds are available to farmers and ranchers outside of the designated priority areas.

The Conservation Options Hotline is a service of the Center for Rural Affairs. The Conservation Options Hotline telephone number is (402) 994-2D21.

State milk production increases

Minnesota's dairy industry may have turned the corner, according to Mark Pochardt of the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

"It appears we're going in the right direction," Pochardt told those attending a meeting of the Minnesota Dairy Leaders Roundtable.

In 1996, Minnesota milk production represented 6.12 percent of national production, compared to 6.05 percent and 6.08 percent in two prior years. Milk production per cow and per farm is increasing at a consistent rate.

State production has increased despite extreme price volatility and an accelerated number of sell-outs. Pochardt says Minnesota statistics prove dairy producers are adopting management strategies started in growing dairy states such as California.

"Evaluating herd size, utilizing improved technologies and improving business management strategies promote the retention and enhancement of Minnesota's dairy industry," Pochardt said.

"It's evident we're seeing a production increase, and a shift in the attitude of those involved in Minnesota's dairy industry," adds Ed Frederick, facilitator of the Roundtable.

But Pochardt reminded his listeners that when the Roundtable group was assembled in 1992, one of its goals was to increase the state's market share.

"Minnesota has turned the corner but it has a lot of work to reach its goal," Pochardt concluded. "We must be reminded the goal was to have Minnesota milk praduction representing 6.8 percent of national production."

When the Roundtable effort began, Minnesota's share of national production was 6.53 percent.

Northland hosts Minnesota West...

South is dominating North in MCCC play

Heading into today's (Saturday) midway point of the 1997 football season, Northland Community and Technical College is still looking for its first win. The Pioneers are not alone.

During the first three weeks of the Minnesota Community College Conference season, the ten Northern and Southern Division schools that stretch from Thief River Falls to Rochester and from Ely to Worthington have crossed the state to face each other.

So far the Northern Division has taken a major hit, with the Southern Division winning 14 of the 15 match-ups. The only Northern Division victory to date came when two-time defending state champion Vermilion shut out Ridgewater 30-0 in Week 2.

In another Southern Division sweep last week, Rochester drilled Hibbing 62-0, Ridgewater defeated Itasca 30-20, Central Lakes handled Northland 47-10, Fergus Falls edged Vermilion 30-28, and Minnesota West got by Mesabi 28-20.

Today, Northland will observe its homecoming with a 12-noon game against Minnesota West at Prowler Field. Prior to losing to Central Lakes at Brainerd, the Pioneers fell to Ridgewater 21-7 at Willmar and 34-12 to Fergus Falls in Thief River Falls.

Minnesota West is 3-0 with wins over Itasca 29-6 and Hibbing 42-12 preceding last week's victory over Mesabi.

What the state-wide early-season results have done is to insure that everybody has a shot at a post-season spot. In the Minnesota Community College Conference, cross-division games are worth one point in the standings. Divisional match-ups are two-point affairs. Top two regular season finishers in each division advance to the MCCC state playoff semifinals. Success within the division extends your season.

The Pioneers' Northern Division finish will include a Saturday, Oct. 4, game at home against Hibbing, then three Thursday contests – Oct. 9 at Vermilion, Oct. 16 vs. Itasca, and Oct. 23 at Mesabi.

TRF second at Northwest Quad

Thief River Falls finished second to Crookston Tuesday at the annual Northwest Quadrangular – a girls high school tennis meet held on a rotating basis at the various participating schools. This year's host team was East Grand Forks.

Crookston collected 17 points, Thief River Falls 15, Bemidji 9 and East Grand Forks 1.

The Pirates won individual titles at No. 1, 2 and 3 singles, and at No. 1 doubles.

Thief River Falls senior Jenna Tsukichi won an individual crown at No. 4 singles and the Prowlers' eighth grade combination of Beth Padilla-Heather Hanson won at No. 3 doubles.

B/G-MR is 3-2 winner over MCC

Two teams who have had trouble collecting wins struggled through a five-game high school volleyball marathon Tuesday before Badger/Greenbush-Middle River emerged with a 15-5, 14-16, 15-7, 14-16, 15-8 win over Marshall County Central at Newfolden.

Results put the Gators at 4-7 and the Nordics at 3-7.

"It wasn't pretty," pointed out Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We could not pass the ball, and we missed a lot of serves. You've got to be able do the basic, fundamental things if you're going to be successful."

Play was a little better on the other side of the court, according to Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Christine Adrian. "It was good at times," she said. "We served a lot better than we have been."

Steady, consistent setting by Stefanie Sparby was again a key to the Gators' play, noted Adrian.

The Nordics, pointed out Jorgenson, ran into major trouble at the start of each game they lost during the match, falling behind 11-0 in the first game, 8-0 in the third game and 5-0 in the fifth game. "We really shot ourselves in the foot in those three games," he said.

Katie Kilen had a 21-kill match for the Nordics, and Miki Waterworth turned in a strong, all-around performance, mentioned Jorgenson.

Mustangs vs. Eagles

Red Lake County Central began the night with a 96 percent serving figure en route to a 15-2, 15-2, 15-12 Thursday win over East Grand Forks Sacred Heart at Plummer.

Jenny Beckkestan and Angie Chervestad led the Mustangs with 12 and 11 kills, respectively.

Wolverines vs. Bears

Lake of the Woods defeated Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 15-6, 15-5, 15-9 Tuesday at Baudette.

"We played a lot better than the score says," pointed out Wolverines coach Jean Schultz. "We had some volleys, but we couldn't get the points. They (Bears) just have an outstanding team."

Goose Hunter Warm-up set Oct. 4

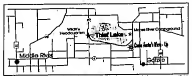
Sixth annual Goose Hunters Warm-up – a practical clinic to help hunters sharpen their skills and improve their performance – will be held on opening day of the 1997 waterfowl season at the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area.

The warm-up is scheduled Saturday, Oct. 4, from 3:45 to 7 p.m. on the wildlife management area located two miles south of the Moose River campground, southeast of Thief Lake. There is no admission charge for participants or spectators.

Activity includes a shotgun patterning range and a waterfowl range-estimating demonstration. A new feature this year is the availability of tungsten shot. An alloy of tungsten and iron, the newly-developed shot has nearly the same density as lead, with patterning characteristics similar to steel.

Participants will be able to test-fire patterns from their own guns onto paper targets, comparing several different steel and tungsten loads, to find out which load works best in their gun. Hunters may also bring their own loads to test.

Federal Cartridge Corp. of Anoka donated paper targets and a variety of shot shells for warm-up participants to test, free of charge



Additional targets have been donated by Blandin Paper Co. of Grand Rapids. Warm-up sponsored also include the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Hunter Education Program, and the DNR Section of Wildlife.

Range-estimating demonstration features several life-size goose silhouettes placed at varied distances in the field, with size-to-distance charts of flying geese for comparison. Warm-up events will be conducted by the DNR Hunter Education Program, with the help of area wildlife staff and local volunteers.

"The response from hunters has been very favorable the past five years," said Paul Telander, manager of Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area, "and we hope more hunters visiting the Thief Lake area will take advantage of the warm-up this year.

"With the 60-day duck season, six-duck bag limits, and population estimates for most goose and duck species continuing to increase," said Telander, "we expect more hunters will be coming back to waterfowl hunting this year.

"The warm-up is a good opportunity for both experienced hunters and those new to the sport to learn more about non-toxic shot performance, and how to judge shooting distances more accurately under field conditions," said Telander.

Participants should bring their own shotguns, and all guns must be cased or handled with the breech open when not shooting.

For more information, call the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area office at 281-222-3747.

Wolverines second at LOW Invitational

A second place Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke finish at the Sept. 20 Lake of the Woods Invitational high school volleyball tournament included a 1-1 Wolverines showing against the host Bears. But the victory was a 16-14, 16-14 opening round pool play decision over the Lake of the Woods junior varsity. The loss was a 15-5, 15-2 verdict at the hands of the Bears' varsity in the finals.

In between the two Lake of the Woods matches, Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke added pool play conquests of Littlefork-Big Falls 15-2, 15-8 and Pillager 15-12, 15-5 to reach the title match.

The Wolverines were right back in action Monday, beating Kittson County North 15-8, 15-6, 11-15, 15-9 in Lancaster.

"We played really well," said Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Schulz after beating the Cougars. "Everybody was hitting."

Raiders hold off NCTC

Central Lakes got by Northland 3-2 Wednesday in a Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division volleyball match played at Brainerd.

The Raiders won the see-saw affair 15-9, 13-15, 16-14, 6-15, 15-8. The final game was a speed-up rally-point affair in which a point is scored by either side on every serve.

"It was the most intense match we've played so far," reported Northland coach Shari Olson, whose team fell to 5-5 overall and 3-3 in the MCCC.

The Pioneers' 19 percent hitting proficiency against one of the top shot-blocking teams in the state was impressive, noted Olson.

It was the start of five straight road matches for the Pioneers, who won't be playing in their own gym until a Friday-Saturday weekend outing Oct. 10 and 11 vs. Vermilion and Mesabi.

NCTC Leaders vs. Central Lakes
- ■ Kills - Naomi Wilebski 13, Tammy Nerby 9, Paula Hovda 8
- ■ Blocks - Wilebski 6, Mackenzie Malwitz 6, Jami VanEngen 6
- ■ Assists - Melissa Bernstein 23
- ■ Aces - Bernstein 3, Angie Vagle 3
- ■ Digs - Hovda 19, Vagle 16

Gators blank Ponies

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River bounced back from a disappointing effort in a 20-15 loss at Fosston the previous Friday with a strong showing in a 28-0 Thursday shutout of Warren-Alvarado-Oslo in Valley Plains Conference football.

"We're really happy with the performance," reported Gators coach Steve Willman. "Our running game was really clicking, and our defense was great. We showed what Gator football is all about."

The 405 yards worth of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River offense included 167 yards rushing by Andy Schenkey and 125 by Daryl Wockenfuss. Both had 16 carries.

The 2-2 Gators play Red Lake Falls Tuesday in Middle River and face Lake Park-Audubon Saturday (Oct. 4) at 5 p.m. in the Fargodome.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
B/G-Middle River	8	0	0	0	28

- B/G-MR - Richard Wockenfuss, 1 yard run, Daryl Wockenfuss run
- B/G-MR - Andy Schenkey, 6-yard run, David Truscinski run
- B/G-MR - Mark Nissen, 10 yard run, run failed
- B/G-MR - Daryl Wockenfuss, 10-yard run, pass failed

Wolverines lose 3-0

An off-night against a good team spelled trouble for Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke Thursday at Warroad, where the Wolverines lost 15-4, 15-9, 15-8.

"It was an awful night," said Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Schulz. "Nobody showed up to play."

The loss dropped the Wolverines to 10-5.

Retail

MERCHANDISER PROFESSIONAL
Part-Time

Powerforce, a division of ACTMEDIA, currently has an opening (s) for a Retail Service Representative in Thief River Falls.

This position represents a name brand legwear manufacturer servicing grocery and drug accounts on a regular rotation. As the primary service point for this product, you would maintain planograms, establish relationships with the in-store personnel, and generate reorders.

This position involves utilization of the leading technology in hand held computers for in-store ordering. Although direct experience is not required, candidates should be eager to learn and utilize those computer skills. Other helpful background includes retail experience, either at the retail location, or as a merchandiser for a product line and familiarity with area accounts.

We are offering a competitive hourly wage and limited benefits. Get on board with the leader in in-store merchandising services with this growing dynamic program. Call Powerforce at (888) 757-3953. EOE M/F/D/V.

We have additional part-time positions available with flexible schedules. If you are interested in finding out more about those opportunities, please indicate when you call in.

Middle River

Located on the banks of the Middle River, Middle River's history began in March of 1904. Due to the fact that the original townsite of Argyle, then known as Frenchtown, had been recorded as Middle River, the new town was named Middle River City.

Extension of the Great Northern Railway northward from Thief River Falls played the dominant role in the establishment of the new town as transportation facilities were as necessary to the livelihoods of pioneers who struggled with poor roads and poor communication.

The main avenue ran north and south one block east of the street facing the railroad. The townsite's first engineering project was a bridge crossing the river on that avenue. More renowned to Middle River's history was the walking bridge which spanned the river at its side.

The business center of the town was where the avenue crossed the east-west street. Business concerns enthusiastically snatched at the opportunity to be at the corner positions.

Early businesses included a bank, hardware stores, general merchandise store, hotel and newspaper. By 1905, population had grown to the stage where it was possible to incorporate. The railroad enjoyed a boom business, and with the support of the progressing farm community, the lots on Main Street filled with business enterprises.

The growth of Middle River from the year of its establishment to the peak of its prosperity in 1912-1914 was astounding. Among its most unique businesses was a cigar manufacturing plant operated in the early 1900's by M. Kock. Another facinating business was the Christmas tree business of A.N. Johnson, better known as "Spruce Tree" Johnson. He had a funnel-shaped contraption he used to fold the branches of the evergreens he tied for shipping on the Great Northern trains.

Development of the residential area kept pace with business development. Business places also offered second story living quarters.

Along with homes, churches and a school were built. The community was served by a number of doctors who lived and worked in the community.

Today, businesses continue to line the streets furnishing goods and services to the farm community and approximate 286 residents who live within the boundaries of the town. A school and a number of churches are included in the Middle River picture. Located near the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, Middle River has come to be known as the Goose Capital of Minnesota because of the large number of Canadian geese that flock to the area every year.

Autumn HOME IMPROVEMENT DAYS

One of the best ways to conserve energy, cut heating and cooling costs, and make a home more comfortable is to add insulation in the attic.

Insulation R-Values and your pocketbook

Homeowners and home buyers alike frequently hear and use the term "R value," but few would be able to define the term or why it's so important.

And it is important to you, your home's energy efficiency and, ultimately, your finances.

R-Value Definition. R-value is a number representing your insulation's ability to resist heat transfer or flow. Insulation materials have many tiny pockets of trapped air or high thermal resistance gases, in the case of more efficient foam insulation, which resists the transfer of heat through the material. The higher the R-value, the better the insulation material's ability to resist the flow of heat.

Heat flows naturally from a warmer to a cooler space. Insulation resists this flow of heat, and helps keep your home warmer in winter and cooler in the summer. It provides a thermal blanket around your home to reduce the amount of heat that flows out of, or into, your house.

Insulation should be purchased on the basis of R-value, not thickness or weight. Common building materials, such as wood, brick and concrete used in homes, do not have high R-values, and therefore need insulation as a supplement.

To keep your energy use and energy bills as low as possible, the following areas should be properly insulated:

- unfinished and finished basements;
- exterior walls;
- walls between living spaces and unheated garages or storage areas;
- foundation walls above ground level;
- foundation walls in heated basements;
- all floors above cold spaces, such as vented crawl spaces and unheated garages.

Barriers and Ventilation. Moisture can decrease the effectiveness of insulation, loosen plaster, blister paint and lead to structural damage of your home. Here are some tips for minimizing the effects of moisture on your insulation:

- Batt or blanket insulation can be purchased with an attached vapor retarder of asphalt coated paper or aluminum foil. Always install these vapor retarders on the living space side of the insulation and do not "sandwich" them between new and existing insulation. Remember, when you are adding insulation, never put a vapor retarder next to existing insulation.
- The Council of American Building Officials publishes standards called the Model Energy Code (MEC), which sets energy conservation requirements for new residential construction. New homes that meet these minimums are considered energy efficient and may qualify for special home mortgages.
- To determine how much insulation your home needs, identify your home's heating source to find the latest government R-values for attics/flat ceilings, floors, crawlspace walls and exterior walls. The U.S. Department of Energy frequently upgrades their insulation R-value recommendations for existing homes based on specific heating and cooling needs throughout the country.
- Always check the information on the product label to make sure the material meets either federal or American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) specifications.

Insulating your home is one of the most important steps you can take to reduce energy bills and energy use. Adequate insulation, properly installed, can help reduce heating and cooling costs, increase comfort, add value to your home and reduce greenhouse gas emissions into the atmosphere.

Inspect before buying first home

First time home buyers face an overwhelming array of details and decisions, and the last thing they need is a surprise list of repairs after they've finalized their purchase and settled in to their new home.

That is why pre-purchase home inspections have become such an important part of the transaction in most parts of the country. Professional home inspectors provide an expert opinion regarding the condition of a home's major systems and components before the purchase is made so that consumers can plan and budget for specific major repairs in advance.

First time home buyers can also expect to receive a valuable education from their home inspector. Since most people moving into their first house are unfamiliar with the routines and procedures of home maintenance, the home inspection provides an excellent opportunity to learn how a house "works", where its various systems are located, and how to live comfortably in a new home. This is the main reason buyers should accompany their inspector on the inspection itself, according to the American Society of Home Inspectors (ASHI), the leading international professional association for independent home inspectors.

Among the important things to learn, say the ASHI experts, are the locations of the gas and water lines. In the event of an emergency, or if there is remodeling to be done, it is essential to know where these utility lines enter the house and how to shut them off. It is equally critical to know the location of the electric and heat emergency switches.

First time home owners also need to get a basic understanding of the electrical wiring of the new home, and its capacity. A home inspector can explain the operations of the fuses or circuit breakers and evaluate whether the existing wiring is adequate to carry the home's electrical load.

In addition, a private home contains many major components not found in apartments, and which might intimidate the first time home owner. These may include the central air conditioning and /or heating systems, a water heater, attic fans, humidifiers, and property drainage systems. Even though many people call in professional tradesmen to handle major repairs, some knowledge of these components is necessary for routine maintenance and troubleshooting, and for competently discussing repair work with contractors.

In several areas of the country, wet basements or cellars are a chronic and serious problem. By attending the home inspection, a buyer can learn and discuss the likely causes of water penetration as well as the best methods for solving the problem. Home buyers must also remember to have their prospective purchase inspected even if it is brand new. Due to the high cost of labor and material, some builders may use shortcuts and inferior products, which can lead to problems later on.

Of course, a trip with the inspector is designed to illustrate the positive aspects of a home as well as the negative. There may be some features — such as a crack in the basement wall — which might scare the first-time home buyer into turning down an otherwise satisfactory home. By voicing concerns to the inspector personally, the buyer may learn that such fears are unwarranted. Cracks, for example, are often simply the result of shrinkage or minor settlement.

An education, however, is only as good as the teacher who provides it, and so the American Society of Home Inspectors cautions buyers to be selective in their search for a home inspector. ASHI is recognized by professional and government groups as the leading association for home inspectors, setting professional and technical standards throughout the U.S. and Canada. Members of ASHI are professional inspectors who have passed demanding technical exams and met experience requirements. They are committed to following the organization's strict Code of Ethics which forbids conflict of interest activities.

Buyers may contact ASHI at 85 West Algonquin Road, Suite 360, Arlington Heights, IL 60005-4423, 800-743-2744, for the names of the ASHI members nearest them.

Is it time to replace that roof?

Smart homeowners across the country are making certain to use integrated roofing products on their homes to get the maximum protection from the elements.

Homeowners who wait to see water stains on their ceilings before calling a roofing contractor have already waited too long. By the time visible damage is done to the interior, structural damage already has occurred. Delay turns a simple re-roofing job into a major structural repair project.

If a roof is more than 10 years old, it may start showing signs of wear. Loose or missing shingles, damaged flashing between the roof line and exterior walls, and cracked, curled or rotted shingles are warning signs.

Popular roofing materials come in varied colors and textures. About 80 percent of American homes have organic (asphalt) or fiberglass roofs, chosen for their mix of performance, low maintenance, versatility and price. Today's choices include shingles with textures that create handsome dimensional effects.

Choice of roof color is important, as it affects the overall appearance of the house. A light-colored roof creates a spacious look, especially when paired with a light colored house. A darker roof gives a cozy look, particularly if the home's color is also dark. For a dramatic contrast, some homeowners choose a roof very different in color from the house. Some people prefer dark colors that reflect them. Because a quality roof lasts for many years, people often select a neutral tone that coordinates with most house colors. To help visualize how various selections look, consumers should ask to see the contractor's portfolio of completed projects.

The right contractor is as important as the right roof, so homeowners should ask the right questions before signing the contract.

Recycle Heat for "Free" hot water

In the average American household, water heating is the second largest energy user. This can account for up to 40 percent of your monthly electric bill, according to America's electric utilities.

If you have an older electric or gas water heater, a new concept in water heating, one that recovers or recycles existing heat, may help you lower your water heating bill. In fact, this method of water heating may help you cut your annual water heating costs in half.

How it works. A heat-recovery water heating system is really taking heat that's already been created, and recycling it to heat your home's water. Two new technologies are now making this water heating option more common.

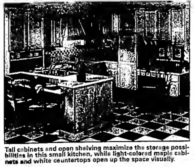
One is a new system that operates during the spring, summer, and fall months. In the summer, it takes heat that your air conditioner or heat pump is already removing from your house, and then uses it to heat water. This essentially gives you free hot water.

During the spring and fall months, when your heat pump or air conditioner is not running, the heater can operate on its own. The system then will dehumidify your home, making it more comfortable, while it also gives you low-cost hot water. During the winter, your water heater operates as usual.

Another technology, involving a heat recovery system, can actually recycle the heat from the water that's being washed down the drain. Typically, about 80 percent of the heat you've paid for to take a shower, wash your clothes, or wash up in the kitchen and bathroom, goes right down the drain.

To find out about recycling heat for energy savings, or to get more value from electricity throughout your home, call your electric utility's residential marketing department.

What you should know about your kitchen or bathroom remodeling job



Tall cabinets and open shelving maximize the storage possibilities in this small kitchen, while light-colored maple cabinets and white countertops open up the space visually.

From finding the right design professional to cutting costs, here are some frequently asked questions consumers may have when beginning their kitchen or bathroom remodeling project.

Q: How much will it cost to remodel my kitchen or bathroom?

A: According to the National Kitchen and Bath Association, there are three factors that will affect the price of your new kitchen or bathroom: 1) where you buy it; 2) what features it will include; and 3) what brands/models you select.

For kitchens, prices can range from $5,000 (if you do some of the work yourself) to as much as $150,000 and higher. On average, a project will cost $15,000 to $21,000, including design, products and installation. Bathroom projects will average between $6,500 and $9,000 if you replace everything.

Costs, of course will be lower or higher depending upon what you're looking for, and any number of other factors.

Q: What makes a kitchen/bathroom project more or less expensive?

A: Cabinets account for more than half the total cost of a kitchen project. Quality, type of material from which they are made, and whether they are custom (designed and made specifically for your kitchen) or stock (ready made in specific sizes) will affect the price. Other materials, such as counter tops and flooring, as well as appliances brands, also account for variations in price.

In the bathroom, although cabinetry is one of the biggest parts of the budget, fixtures and fittings account for a high cost percentage. These expenses will depend upon brand and type of materials used.

Installation accounts for nearly one-quarter of the total cost. Bathroom installation work tends to be very intricate (tile setting, for example). If you're looking to cut corners, this may not be the place to do it.

Q: What can I do myself to help cut costs?

A: How much you do or should attempt depends upon your ability and knowledge of remodeling. You can tear out old cabinets (be careful not to damage walls or beams), take up old vinyl flooring and handle trash and debris removal. You may also want to paint and wallpaper on your own. But when it comes to plumbing and appliance hook ups, it's better to let the professionals handle it. If you try it on your own, you may be violating building codes and risking injury to yourself. And let a professional installer put your new cabinets in so that they look their best.

Q: How can I pay for a new kitchen or bathroom?

A: Like any other purchase you make, you should only spend what you can afford. This means setting a budget and sticking to it. If you work with a professional designer, he/she will be able to make the most of it — and respect the budget you've set.

As for payment, there are several options. Some homeowners tap into personal savings and get the kitchen of their dreams. Others take out home equity loans. Some kitchen/bath firms work with a lending institution to offer financing options. If you're buying a home and know the kitchen or bathroom will need to be remodeled, you may be able to incorporate those costs into your mortgage.

Q: Where can I find a kitchen/bathroom design professional?

A: There are thousands of companies that offer kitchen/bath design and installation services, many of which belong to NKBA.

There are also thousands of individuals certified by NKBA as Certified Kitchen Designers and Certified Bathroom Designers.

"Dress up" your lawn with peat moss. Spring, summer or fall, top-dress your lawn with Canadian sphagnum peat moss and reduce disease, thatch and the amount of water and fertilizer your lawn requires. Simply spread a 1/4- to 1/2-inch layer of peat over your entire lawn with a leaf rake.

Fall is best time to perk up a tired lawn

If the heat of summer has turned your lush, luxuriant lawn into a tired, wounded warrior — take heart. Fall is the best time to get your lawn back into shape, according to horticultural experts.

Fall is the perfect time to reseed or to overseed a lawn. Sowing the seeds in the fall gives the grass a chance to become established before the winter freeze. Come springtime, these new grass plants will be growing before the annual weeds get started.

For lawns that have thinned and need fuller plant coverage, overseeding is the easiest and least expensive option. Use a heavy garden rake to scratch the soil. Then use a drop spreader to evenly spread the seed over your lawn. It's a good idea to go over your lawn again using a garden rake to make sure the new seeds get down into the soil.

Where your lawn has been scrubbed bare by children's bike tires or too much foot traffic, remove any weeds and rake the bare spots to loosen the soil. Then prepare a seed bed by mixing two parts topsoil to one part peat moss. Spread this mixture over the bald spots, using a rake to stir it gently into the existing soil. Then add your grass seed. Use as many as 20 seeds per square inch.

An easy four-step system for sowing the grass seed helps establish the new plants. First use seed to increase the percentage of germinating seeds. Second, use enough seed to be certain that you won't have to go back and overseed a second time. Third, use high-quality seed because cheap seed is no bargain in the long run. Fourth, water well and keep the seeds moist. Like any seed, grass needs warm soil and plenty of water to germinate. It's best to cover seed with a thin layer of hay or straw.

High-quality grass seed, all-natural lawn food, beneficial nematodes for grub control, weed-control products made from corn gluten and other products for a healthy lawn are available.

Decorate a master bedroom with both husband and wife in mind

Master bedrooms can be difficult to decorate — much more difficult than decorating a child's bedroom or a guest room. This is especially true for newlyweds. You need to appease two sets of tastes and styles — yours and your spouse's. And, it's often the case that you have completely different opinions on color, design and style, which can be very frustrating and hindering. A leading manufacturer of wallcoverings, borders and fabrics, has compiled a list of tips to help husbands and wives create a master bedroom that both can call home:

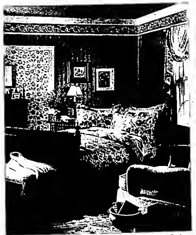
• Consider starting with a subtle tone-on-tone wallpaper pattern for the walls — "Tonal patterns can create a soft, tailored, 'finished' look that has a tremendous amount of visual interest, which is something you can't achieve with paint," says Stacy Senior, marketing manager. They also have an understated, clean, uncluttered appearance. Popular choices include damasks, tonal stripes and simple leaflike patterns that give a soft, textural look to the walls. "For example," adds Senior, "the photo here shows a room decorated with a tonal stripe, called Chad Stripe, which has a faux-finished look. The look is casual and calming. The wallpaper isn't overpowering or obtrusive, it simply gives background color and texture, and the geometric design is nongender-specific."

• Add liveliness with borders — The wallpaper shown here is accented by a border near the ceiling that introduces more color. The additional colors can be used in the fabric on the bed or a chair or in wallpaper that could be used in an adjoining room.

• With floral patterns, use "stylized" designs — Men often think floral fabrics and wallpaper look too "frilly" or "feminine." This "fear of florals" can be avoided by using stylized floral-vine designs that have a crisp, clean, tailored appearance. To carry out that tailored look, frame the border with molding painted to match windows and trim. If your spouse has a strong aversion to floral designs consider scrolling leaflike patterns, handsome paisley designs and artistic "allover" patterns that resemble woven fabrics to help introduce color.

• Keep colors "earthy" — Think of colors that are soft and soothing — blues, greens, pale yellow, etc. "Colors mimicking nature — grass, plants, trees, stones, sun and sky — are hard to dislike," comments Senior. The bedroom here is decorated in celery green, with hints of melon and jade green in the fabric. Other warm tones and textures can be introduced with a sisal rug, plants, wooden or wicker boxes, picture frames, etc.

• Test designs and colors — Order large wallpaper samples and fabric swatches from your retailer; tack these to the wall, and live with the designs for a while to see if you like them. This also gives you the chance to view the colors under different light conditions at different times of the day.



The striped wallpaper in this bedroom, called Chad Stripe, has a soft, faux-finished tonal look, which is casual and nongender-specific. The floral border near the ceiling offsets the simplistic look of the stripes and adds color and interest. The floral design, called Crewel Border, is enhanced with the use of a coordinating fabric for the bedding and wallpaper in the adjoining room.

Seven common errors of wood-based siding application

Wood composite siding and other wood-based siding materials have been used extensively for residential construction throughout the United States for decades. Wood products represent affordable cladding material that has allowed the price of homes to be within reach of many market segments. When these products are properly installed and finished by a qualified builder or installer, and receive normal homeowner maintenance, they will perform as designed and look great for many years.

Many reported problems concerning wood-based siding are not caused by the product itself, but can be traced to Seven Common Errors of Wood-Based Siding Application. By avoiding these pitfalls, builders and installers can prevent costly call backs, homeowner complaints and wasted time.

Builders and siding installers can avoid the Seven Common Errors of Wood Based Siding Application by following manufacturer's installation guidelines and paying special attention to these areas:

1. Flashing — Properly installing simple metal flashing over windows, doors and other horizontal surfaces prevents water from penetrating the exterior wall of the home.

2. Caulking — all gaps around doors, windows and other wall openings should be filled with a long-life caulk as a barrier against water entry.

3. Painting — Two coats of high quality, low- or no-chalking acrylic latex paint will protect the siding from the weather. It is important that paint is properly applied to the bottom edge as well as the face of the siding.

4. Roof/Wall Detail — A two-inch clearance should be left between the roof and siding where the roof abuts a vertical wall, and the gap should be flashed to divert rain water.

5. Concrete Contact — An air space or vapor retardant membrane must be kept between wood or wood composite siding and masonry to prevent deterioration of the siding. Siding must not come in direct contact with masonry.

6. Grade Clearance — Maintaining a minimum six-inch clearance between the siding and finished landscape grade, will protect the siding.

7. Rain Gutters — According to HUD Minimum Property Standards, rain gutters must be installed on any single story home with less than 12 inch overhang.

These installation guidelines must be followed up by periodic homeowner maintenance.

Farm electricity expenditures continue growth

If recent trends are any indication, U.S. farmers will continue to purchase more than $2.6 billion worth of electricity each year to maintain the nation's agricultural output.

These figures come from the USDA Economic Research Service which surveys hundreds of farmers each year and asks them to list electricity expenditures for farm use, excluding the home.

The results of these surveys, combined with input from the Census of Agriculture, provide an excellent measurement of electricity purchases by the U.S. farm sector.

To many, this trend of increasing expenditures may seem to contradict reports of declining farm numbers. But electricity expenditures are linked to total farm sector output, not number of full-time operators. Even with fewer farmers, the increase in size of individual farms, level of mechanization, and commodity output is as large as ever.

Therefore, agriculture's total purchase of electricity will continue to grow as long as there are more bushels of grain to be dried, gallons of milk to be produced, acres of land to be irrigated, and pounds of meat to be grown.

To manage electricity use, farmers should start by contacting their local power supplier for advice. Several no-cost or low-cost changes can be made to save electricity without reducing farm productivity.

- Replace incandescent light bulbs with long-life fluorescent lamps to improve efficiency and brighten work areas.
- Insulate hot water pipes, ceiling areas and walls on all heated structures.
- Clean dirt from ventilation fan blades, shutters and guards to increase airflow. Tighten belts and lubricate bearings and gears.
- Take advantage of off-peak rates (where available) to shift electric use to nighttime or off-peak hours.

What's REALLY circulating through your home?

Pet hair, pollen, dirt, smoke, dust mites

Dust mites? Pet Hair? Dirt? Pollen? Tobacco smoke?

It's possible. If the air ducts in your home have never been cleaned, it's probable.

Pollen, mold, mildew and bacteria can be in the duct work of your home's heating and cooling system. Every time your furnace or air conditioner runs, these pollutants whisk through the vents in your home and spew into the air that your family breathes causing allergies, stale odors, extra dust and even sickness.

The answer? Through duct cleaning with Abatement Technologies' patented Hepa Aire® system.

Wood lover's dilema: When to choose laminate, vinyl or wood flooring

Whether it's whitewashed, natural pine, honey toned, walnut or mahogany-colored, wood is a great look for cabinets, bookcases, end tables, coffee tables and especially floors. Today, with the proliferation of real and faux patterned wood flooring choices, consumers have even more opportunities to choose the right warm wood look for their homes.

According to Stuart Beattie, flooring manufacturer Mannington's vice president of styling and design, the company offers wood flooring looks from its wood floors division, its resilient floors division and now its new laminate floors division. This means that if you love the look of wood in all its wonderful variations, you can have it in any room of the house, from kitchen and living room to bath and recreation room.

Beattie says having various flooring surfaces that offer complementary wood looks is a real design coup that consumers should use to their advantage. Wood floors are beautiful in any room of the home, but certain areas require very specific needs for performance and maintenance.

For instance, have you always wanted the casually rustic country decor of your home to extend to all rooms, but feared that the wood floors you love in your hallways, den and living room would be the floors you agonize and sweat over if they were in your kitchen and family room? Or, do you have trouble duplicating the elegantly traditional look of your formal dining area for your kitchen and everyday eating area? Does the look of ceramic in bathrooms feel too cold and out of sync with the rest of your home's decor, but wood seems unthinkable for the bathroom?

Is it wood, laminate or vinyl flooring? These days, homeowners have a great selection of real and faux wood looks to choose from to meet their home-fashion and lifestyle needs.

If natural wood is the look you've always wanted, but not the practical product for your needs, you now have other options that are every bit as beautiful and fashionable.

Laminate flooring is a great choice in areas where a high-style flooring surface that's durable enough to allow for ultimate livability is needed and when cost is an important factor (laminate flooring is typically less expensive than real wood). Laminate is also an ideal alternative in regional areas where weather extremes might mean unpredictable expansion and contraction of real wood. Faux wood vinyl patterns, which are also hard to tell from the real thing, are a good choice in areas where moisture and comfort underfoot are primary concerns.

The newest kid on the block, laminate flooring is already being perfected for the American marketplace — with the longer plank lengths Americans prefer and wood designs and colors fine-tuned to favor Americans' tastes for warmer, redder tones, rather than the yellow, cool tones Europeans find so appealing. You may even be able to find the same wood design and color for all three surfaces, if a totally harmonious visual field is desired. And, you can mix wood species and colors to match or contrast cabinetry and furnishings for additional design interest.

"To end up with the right flooring for the right application, give each room in your home the endurance test," suggests Beattie. What primary activities, planned (eating, cooking, bathing, family games, studying, television watching or computer using) and occasionally surprise (spills, dropped objects, etc.), take place? Is traffic heavy or light, two-footed or four-pawed? What is your family's lifestyle — sedate, moderately active or rambunctious? Most importantly, how long do you want to spend taking care of your floor, and how long do want your flooring to look great?

Once you know the answers to these questions, you'll have a better idea of the flooring type — laminate, vinyl or wood — you should be considering for each room. If you still have questions, a flooring specialty retailer should be able to help direct you to the right choice.

If wood is the look you love, now there's no reason to forgo it. In all its guises, it's a natural home-decor winner.

Annual chimney checkup needed:

Minimize carbon-monoxide risk

Energy-conscious consumers of the '90s have created a market for homes with extra insulation against drafts and cold weather. Airtight construction, however, means home heating systems are often starved for oxygen, so fuels do not burn completely — increasing the risk of carbon-monoxide poisoning, according to the Chimney Safety Institute of America (CSIA).

Less air coming into a home also means limited pathways for air to exit, making the proper functioning of chimneys and venting systems critical. A blocked, damaged or improperly sized chimney also can result in carbon monoxide being forced back into the home.

No matter what type of venting or heating system is in the home, CSIA urges homeowners to have their system inspected annually by a professional chimney sweep — before the winter heating season — to ensure it is in safe and proper working order.

In 1993, there were 214 deaths and 5,700 injuries due to carbon-monoxide poisoning caused by solid-, liquid- and gas-fueled heating equipment, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. That number does not include victims who were either misdiagnosed or did not seek medical attention.

CHIMNEY CHECK™

A carbon-monoxide detector can warn of potential poisoning after the deadly gas has entered the living area, but an annual "checkup" for a chimney and venting system can help prevent carbon monoxide from entering the home altogether.

An annual inspection by a CSIA Certified Chimney Sweep® is a small cost that can deter the danger of carbon-monoxide poisoning — or even fire. These chimney sweeps are knowledgeable in the codes, clearances and standards for the construction and maintenance of chimneys and venting systems. They are retested for current codes and standards every three years.

Established in 1983, CSIA is a nonprofit, educational foundation dedicated to the elimination of chimney fires, carbon-monoxide intrusion in homes, and other chimney-related hazards that result in the loss of lives and property.

For more information on venting and chimney safety or a list of CSIA Certified Chimney Sweeps in your area, contact CSIA, 16021 Industrial Drive, Suite 8, Gaithersburg, MD 20877, 1-800-536-0118. Or, visit the CSIA Web site at http://www.csia.org

This island, styled with maple cabinets resembles an old-fashioned workbench. Note the variety of storage options.

Adding an island to 'Beef-Up' the kitchen

Ask most homeowners and they'll tell you that there's not enough counter space in the kitchen, no matter how much or how little they have.

Whether you need a second work station, a space from which to serve an informal buffet, or just a place to toss the day's mail, kitchen islands are a popular solution to the lack of kitchen space. According to the National Kitchen and Bath Association, nearly one half of the kitchens created by their members include islands.

With the wide range of in-stock, ready-to-install cabinets, accessories and trim moldings available today, it's possible to create an island that will be just right for your kitchen, at less cost than if you turned to a custom cabinetmaker.

Here are some important tips if you are planning to remodel your kitchen to include an island:

- Most importantly, there should sufficient space between the island and other work surfaces to allow for opening cabinet and appliance doors, and for two people to work without jostling one another.
- Depending on your specific needs, the island can be located so it functions as an integral part of the work area. It can also serve as a divider between the kitchen and the family room.
- Adding an island permits a reconfiguration of the classic "work triangle" of refrigerator, cooktop and sink, because it is an ideal place to relocate either the cooktop or the main sink, or to install a second sink as the focal point of a second work triangle.
- If the cooktop will be located in the island, with a wall oven elsewhere, consider pull-out trays or drawers below the cooktop to store pots and pans. If the island will be a second work station with a prep sink for cleaning veggies and the like, include a disposal unit or at least a pull-out wastebasket in the cabinet below.
- Be sure to plan for the mechanicals necessary for locating the cooktop or sink in the center of the room. For the sink, you'll need supply and drain lines, and for the cook-top, a ventilation system — either an overhead unit, or a downdraft model. Both plumbing and a downdraft unit will require breaking through the floor. That's fine if you have a basement or a crawl space beneath, but could present problems if the room is on a slab.
- If your island will separate the kitchen and family room, it can become a multi-purpose unit that shows a different face to the family room. The use of shallow, glass-fronted cabinet doors on the family-room side turns the island into a display space, while the kitchen side uses standard-depth base cabinets for no-nonsense storage. The generous countertop is ideal for staging a buffet.
- And finally, don't forget about adequate lighting. Without it, the island will lose much of its functional appeal.

Make Small Rooms More Spacious

There's no need to feel trapped if your house has a small living room. Rather than barely furnishing it, there are ways to give the room a spacious look. The following decorating tricks, will help make a small living room look larger.

Add mirrors — Mirrors visually expand any space. If the room is too rectangular and seems too narrow, arrange the furniture in a square shape away from the walls. Mirror the narrow wall to reflect the furniture arrangement.

Don't overcrowd — Choose a few good furniture pieces with clean lines, and take away clutter. One large piece can be the focal point of the room. This piece can be a sofa, armoire or even two love seats opposite a large coffee table.

Color coordinate — Use one color on all furniture, rugs and walls. To avoid being monotonous, select different shades and textures of the chosen color. Use a contrasting color, like a darker shade of the natural, for all wood trim. Then, add paintings or prints to the walls. One large painting makes a greater impact than a group of small paintings.

Arrangements — How the furniture is arranged makes a big difference. If you want to create seating for six in a small living room, you might consider a love seat in place of a full-size sofa. Add two medium-size cushioned chairs and two small occasional wood chairs to fit on either side of a window or desk. These chairs can be pulled over to become part of an intimate seating arrangement when needed.

Make the room homey — A homey feeling can be achieved with the use of earth tones, honey-colored woods, a soft-textured blanket over the sofa and a pile of books placed on a table.

Wake-up tired looking rooms and houses with simple touch-ups

Home owners (and real estate agents alike) love to point out when a house has "character."

It's a word used by those who need a positive spin for all the chips, scuffs, dents, dings and faded appearances that create that worn, lived-in look.

But many of us would gladly undertake a little "character assassination" to improve the look and modernity of our homes.

A small facelift, rather than extensive surgery, is what many people elect to do for areas that are subjected to much wear and tear. And they're finding that minor touch-ups help create a new look as well as add value to a home.

Trim paints are popular because they not only add a shiny clean gloss to a door, window or cabinet, but they're also designed to protect these surfaces from damage and fading.

Trims are characterized by their high-gloss or gloss sheen. The higher the gloss level of the paint, the tougher the film.

Trim paints are best for:

- Areas that are likely to get scratched or scuffed;
- Surfaces that require much washing and stain removal;
- Surfaces that tend to attract dirt, grease and mildew;
- Areas that are likely to experience fading;
- Window trims, which are subjected to rain and standing water.

Interior trim paints aren't just for windows and doors anymore. These paints are taking on a whole new look as they're now part of many decorative themes and techniques.

It's not unusual to see high sheen trim paints on ceilings and windows. And they've become a desirable choice for hallways, playrooms and kitchens.

And outside the home, the popularity of exterior door and trim finishes hasn't faded at all the past few years: the painting of doors and trims remains the number one do-it-yourself exterior project for consumers.

In fact, more than one-third of all exterior paint sold today is used specifically for doors and trim. The main reason is that regardless of the substrate of the home (vinyl, brick, aluminum) there's usually a door or window that requires paint.

Create kitchen/bathroom of your dreams

A recent survey conducted among Certified Kitchen Designer and Certified Bathroom Designer members of the National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) indicates that consumers are willing to invest a significant amount in order to get the kitchens and bathrooms of their dreams.

Selecting the appropriate products and design for a kitchen or bathroom can be a complex task. Therefore it is helpful to seek assistance from a kitchen/bathroom specialist.

Give Your home a tuneup, silence squeaky floors

Not only are squeaky floors annoying, but they also bring down the value of your home. When you go to sell your home, squeaky floors are one of the biggest objections buyers have.

Until now, fixing a squeaky floor has required you to pull the carpet up and refasten the floor boards or go below the floor, if you have access, and either shim the floor up or secure the floor to the joist.

Community Education classes set in Plummer

Community education department of School District 628 at Plummer has scheduled a number of classes to start in October and November and a bus trip to the UND Sioux and NDSU Bison football game on October 18.

Sign-up for the classes and bus trip may be accomplished in the central office at the Plummer school. Twenty student tickets at $7.50 each (including the bus ride) are available for the Sioux/Bison football game October 18. They will be made available to purchasers in the school office on a first-come first-served basis.

Introduction to Computers will be taught by Lori Tillett October 8 and 15 beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the business room computer lab at the school. This is a beginners class for those who do not have any experience with computers. Course fee is $5.

Introduction to the Internet will be offered October 22 and 29 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the school library with Carole Kunekson as instructor. Fee for this course is also $5.

Mark Lee will instruct a series of classes on woodworking in the school shop beginning on Thursday, October 23, at 6:30 p.m. and continuing weekly for six weeks. Fee for the course is $10.

Lori Tillett will offer a class in Windows 95 software November 5 and 12, starting at 6:30 p.m. in the business room computer lab. Fee is $5.

Mary Brouken will instruct a $5 Alive safe driving for seniors course November 6 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Plummer hall. Fee for the course is $3 and those who successfully complete it qualify for premium reductions on their auto insurance.

Cream Can Painting is the topic of a course to be taught by Debbie Kokesch November 18 and 21 at 7 p.m. in the school shop. Fee is $5 plus materials.

Other course offerings which will be made available when there is sufficient registration include a Nova Net class to be taught by Dave Johnson and an adult class on cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

School survey seeks input from public

School District 564 has prepared a survey form which residents of the school district can use to express their opinion of education available to students in the district.

Seventeen locations have been arranged for drop boxes where the survey forms can be deposited, or they can also be sent by mail to the School District Service Center at 230 LaBree Avenue South in Thief River Falls.

Copies of the survey form are available at each of the drop box sites and all residents of the district are encouraged to complete one. Information provided is strictly anonymous since no provision is made on the form to identify the person filling it out. The district administration is interested only in the input provided.

On the survey form, the first question deals with strengths of School District 564. Those completing the survey form may check any of the following areas they believe are strengths of the district: Curriculum, financial, teachers, parent involvement, extra-curriculars and communication with residents. They may also list other strengths not suggested on the form.

In the second question they are asked to describe the strengths in each of the areas they checked as being strong points in question one.

The third area provides an opportunity to list areas in which the person completing the survey believes improvement is needed. A listing of those areas is requested.

On the final part of the form, a request is made to prioritize 10 or more programs that the person com-

Pennington 4-H leaders council to name officers

Pennington County 4-H leaders council will elect officers for the coming year at its meeting to be conducted Wednesday, October 8, at 8 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls.

The meeting has been changed from its regular date because of the annual extension conference October 5-8.

Current officers of the leaders council are Jocelyn Helgeland, Smiley 4-H club, president; Sunny Carlson, Happy Acres, first vice president; Dawn Hanson, Highlanding, second vice president; Barb Natvik, New Solum, treasurer; Kelsey Carlson, Satellite, secretary; and Tiffany Lee, Smiley, reporter.

Also discussed at the meeting will be the 4-H carnival scheduled for Friday, October 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the city auditorium and the annual awards dinner and program on Sunday, November 2, with serving from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. and the program beginning at 1:30 p.m.

All 4-H family members and 4-H supporters are welcome at the dinner and program. Tickets are $1 before October 27 and $1.50 at the door.

Maria (played by Laura Toren) and Baron Von Trapp (portrayed by Randy Moe) have lead roles in the community musical "The Sound of Music" to be presented at the Northland Community and Technical College Theater October 22-26. Tickets go on sale October 8 at the college.

Polk County residents receive emergency awards

Crookston - Twelve awards were given out at the fall meeting of the Association of Minnesota Emergency Managers held recently.

City and county representatives brought back of those awards and three medallions. Receiving AMEM awards were Polk County Emergency Operations Center Manager Mark Fontaine, amateur radio operator John Vick, Crookston Emergency Management Director Floyd Spence, Evacuation Center Coordinator Betty Arvidson, Polk County Sheriff Doug Qualley and Mayor Don Osborne. Crookston Daily Times

Talk of casino in East Grand Forks

East Grand Forks - Mayor Lynn Stauss and Red Lake Tribal Chairman Bobby Whitefeather have discussed bringing a casino to East Grand Forks.

The Red Lake Band would have to buy land, put it into trust with the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and then get permission for gaming. Among those who would have to concur for the plan to move ahead would be Governor Arne Carlson and U.S. Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt. The Pioneer

Plan will cut deer at Bemidji airport

Bemidji - Plans for sharpshooters from law enforcement or the Department of Natural Resourses to take out deer that wander out onto the runways at the Bemidji-Beltrami County Airport and bowhunters to thin the herd in the surrounding woods was accepted by the Airport Commission recently.

Several landings have been aborted this year in Bemidji because of deer on the runways and a deer was struck by an airplane landing at the Brainerd Airport several weeks ago. The Deer Herd Committee also recommended that a fence be erected to keep deer off the runways. The Pioneer

EGF library flooded with books after Oprah show

East Grand Forks - Carnegie Library staff is asking for volunteers to help handle all of the books and donations coming to the library in trucks from nearly every state in the U.S. Because of the influx of books, the library had to park a porta-storage container outside the present library until there is time and space to put them out for public use.

A video of the flood damaged East Grand Forks library was shown on the "Oprah" talk show, and due to the widespread coverage, East Grand Forks will have more books than ever before. The Exponent

North Star Reading Council conducted its annual Fall Workshop at Challenger elementary school in Thief River Falls Thursday evening with approximately 220 members attending from more than 20 schools in the northwest Minnesota area. Eighteen individual workshops were presented twice each during the evening which had four time slots, enabling attendance at four of the 18 programs. In the photo above, Helen Lunos (left) and Karla Risiov, teachers in the Roseau public schools, presented a program entitled "Best Friends: Stories, Art & Music." Popularity of their workshop was attested to by the number of teachers walking the school corridors and attending other sessions while wearing the distinctive spider and bumble bee headgear made in the class.

Northern Tallgrass Prairie open house at NCTC Mon.

Open house to present information and answer questions on the Northern Tallgrass Prairie Habitat Preservation Area will take place Monday, October 6, from 3 to 7 p.m. in Room 131 of Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) has prepared a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) regarding the proposed project which is available for public review.

"The DEIS evaluates the establishment of a Northern Tallgrass Prairie Habitat Preservation Area as a means of working with individuals, groups and governmental entities to permanently preserve remnant tracts of northern tallgrass prairie," states Jane West, project manager for the USFWS.

West will attend the open house as will Tom Larson, chief of planning for Region 3 which includes the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri. Also attending will be Howard Lipke, a retired USFWS employee who is working as a volunteer on the project.

Displays and information will be available and it is expected a continuing video presentation will be shown of a News Night Minnesota report by Ken Stone which deals with the project and was shown recently on public television.

At several area hearings on the proposal some months ago, a good deal of concern and opposition to the project were expressed. The project area would extend east from the west border of Minnesota from Canada to Iowa, including more than a third of the land area of the state, and include much of the northwest quarter of the state of Iowa.

Included in this area would be all of Kittson, Red Lake, Pennington and Norman counties, nearly all of Marshall and Polk, half of Roseau and parts of Beltrami, Clearwater and Mahnomen.

"America's native grasslands are a vanishing ecosystem, and mounting evidence indicates that many species are disappearing as fast as the prairie habitats on which they depend," West added. "Few other ecosystem types have experienced as great a degree of loss and alteration. In Minnesota and Iowa, the native northern tallgrass prairie has declined to less than one percent of its original 25 million acres.

"Through an integrated ecosystem approach, the USFWS, with its partners, proposes to protect and restore fish and wildlife habitats with a wide variety of tools and techniques. The Service proposes to participate in public and private partnerships at many levels, complementing other prairie projects such as those of the Iowa County Conservation Boards, Iowa and Minnesota Departments of Natural Resources, the Nature Conservancy and others."

West noted that three alternatives, including a "No Action" alternative, are being considered in the DEIS. The action alternatives are aimed at permanently protecting and enhancing prairie remnants.

"The Service's preferred alternative (Alternative B) is to permanently protect and enhance prairie remnants through partnerships, incentives, education and cooperative agreements," West said.

"Any conservation easements, or acquisition of full title, would be done by the USFWS and its partners," she added. "USFWS acquisition of easements and fee interest in lands would be on a voluntary basis from willing sellers."

West said the USFWS encourages interested individuals or organizations to submit comments on the DEIS and to participate in any of the 10 open houses similar to the one in Thief River Falls Monday.

Written comments may also be submitted to Jane West, Project Manager, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, BHW Federal Building, 1 Federal Drive, Fort Snelling, MN 55111 or via e-mail. The e-mail address is (R3planning @fws.gov). West may also be contacted for further information at the address above or by calling 1-612-725-3306.

“Sound of Music” tickets to go on sale October 8

Tickets for the community musical The Sound of Music, to be presented October 22-26, will go on sale Wednesday, October 8, at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

Tickets at $7 each may be reserved by calling the NCTC library at 681-0756 or purchased directly from the box office at the college on the nights of the performances. Tickets reserved but not paid for by 15 minutes prior to a performance will be released for sale to the general public. Seating in the college theater is limited and advance ticket purchase is advised.

Curtain times will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, October 22-25, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 26. The production is a collaborative effort between Northland Community and Technical College and the Thief River Falls Community Arts Council.

The Sound of Music is one of the most popular musicals of all time and was also one of the highest grossing motion pictures of all time. Mary Martin played the stage role of Maria on Broadway and Julie Andrews played Maria in the film version. The two versions vary, but the story is a true one of a free-spirited nun who leaves the convent, becomes a governess for seven children, marries their father and escapes the Nazi regime during World War II.

According to Heidi Hoks, a co-director of the musical, many people in this area feel deeply about the musical, but none more deeply than those with past associations with it or the Von Trapp family.

Ruth (Ferber) Christensen, a member of the present cast, played the role of Maria while at Lincoln high school. "It's a wonderful show with beautiful music and a deeply touching story," she said. "It's been fun being in it once more and experiencing the magic of it all over again."

Kay Teeters-Asp, cast as Frau Schmidt in this production, has been in two other productions of the same musical and had the same role each time. "It's a fabulous show," she said, "one which you can see time and again and come away with a totally new perspective on what really happened to a very resourceful family during an extremely stressful time."

Cast member Naomi Raymond, who plays Sister Margaretta, has actually spoken with the real Maria Von Trapp. She was on the planning committee arranging a national American Lutheran Church Women convention program some 20 years ago and contacted Maria Von Trapp by phone with an invitation to be a guest presenter.

"It was different," Mrs. Raymond said, "because I had seen Mary Martin in the role on Broadway and visualized Maria as younger. When I spoke to her, Maria was older—but oh, she was delightful! She was still lively and full of fun, very cooperative and wanted to fit into the theme of the conference and follow along with what we were doing.

"We were all so excited about being able to meet her, but unfortunately she became very ill and was unable to attend the conference."

Naomi noted that both she and her husband had seen various productions of The Sound of Music and had hoped to one day be involved in a production of the musical because they loved it.

Jayne Miller of Goodridge, who plays the Baroness Elsa Schraeder, also loved the show. She went to the Von Trapp family music lodge in Stowe, VT, 10 years ago.

"Maria was an idol for me," she said. "I loved the movie of The Sound of Music and have loved the stage version, too, even though it's different. I felt it was like a pilgrimage to see Maria's home. Of course, Maria was no longer alive, but the lodge itself is just like an Austrian lodge. I remember coming up to this huge lodge and feeling as if I had been transported to the Von Trapp home in Austria. It was an incredible experience!"

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Baron Von Trapp's death and also marks the first year the Von Trapp children have returned to their native Austria to "heal old wounds," as the family put it, and to receive recognition from the government.

The Thief River Falls performer playing Maria, Laura Toren, notes that "it all combines to make this a very emotional experience for all of us. We're all hoping we can make it a moving experience for the audience, too."

For more information about tickets or the musical itself, contact the Northland Community and Technical College at 681-0756.

Wake-up tired looking rooms and houses with simple touch-ups

Home owners and real estate agents alike love to point out when a house has "character."

It's a word used by those who need a positive spin for all the chips, scuffs, dents, dings and faded appearances that create that worn, lived-in look.

But many of us would gladly undertake a little "character assassination" to improve the look and modernity of our homes.

A small facelift, rather than extensive surgery, is what many people elect to do for areas that are subjected to much wear and tear. And they're finding that minor touch-ups help create a new look as well as add value to a home.

Trim paints are popular because they not only add a shiny clean gloss to a door, window or cabinet, but they're also designed to protect these surfaces from damage and fading.

Trims are characterized by their high-gloss or gloss sheen. The higher the gloss level of the paint, the tougher the film.

Trim paints are best for:

- Areas that are likely to get scratched or scuffed,
- Surfaces that require much washing and stain removal,
- Surfaces that tend to attract dirt, grease and mildew,
- Areas that are likely to experience fading.
- Window trims, which are subjected to rain and standing water.

Interior trim paints aren't just for windows and doors anymore. These paints are taking on a whole new look as they're now part of many decorative themes and techniques.

It's not unusual to see high sheen trim paints on ceilings and windows. And they've become a desirable choice for hallways, playrooms and kitchens.

And outside the home, the popularity of exterior door and trim finishes hasn't faded at all the past few years; the painting of doors and trims remains the number one do-it-yourself exterior project for consumers.

In fact, more than one-third of all exterior paint sold today is used specifically for doors and trim. The main reason is that regardless of the substrate of the home (vinyl, brick, aluminum) there's usually a door or window that requires paint.

Create kitchen/ bathroom of your dreams

A recent survey conducted among Certified Kitchen Designer and Certified Bathroom Designer members of the National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) indicates that consumers are willing to invest a significant amount in order to get the kitchens and bathrooms of their dreams.

Selecting the appropriate products and design for a kitchen or bathroom can be a complex task. Therefore it is helpful to seek assistance from a kitchen/bathroom specialist.

Give Your home a tuneup, silence squeaky floors

Not only are squeaky floors annoying, but they also bring down the value of your home. When you go to sell your home, squeaky floors are one of the biggest objections buyers have.

Until now, fixing a squeaky floor has required you to pull the carpet up and refasten the floor boards or go below the floor, if you have access, and either shim the floor up or secure the floor to the joist.

Current officers of the leaders council are Jocelyn Helgeland, Smiley 4-H club, president; Sunny Carlson, Happy Acres, first vice president; Dawn Hanson, Highlanding, second vice president; Barb Nutvik, New Solum, treasurer; Kelsey Carlson, Satellite, secretary, and Tiffany Lee Smiley, reporter.

Also discussed at the meeting will be the 4-H carnival scheduled for Friday, October 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the city auditorium and the annual awards dinner and program on Sunday, November 2, with serving from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. and the program beginning at 1:30 p.m.

All 4-H family members and 4-H supporters are welcome at the dinner and program. Tickets are $1 before October 27 and $1.50 at the door.

North Star Reading Council conducted its annual Fall Workshop at Challenger elementary school in Thief River Falls Thursday evening with approximately 220 members attending from more than 20 schools in the northwest Minnesota area. Eighteen individual workshops were presented twice each during the evening which had four time slots, enabling attendance at four of the 18 programs. In the photo above, Helen Lunes (left) and Karla Rislov, teachers in the Roseau public schools, presented a program entitled "Best Friends: Stories, Art & Music." Popularity of their workshop was attested to by the number of teachers walking the school corridors and attending other sessions while wearing the distinctive spider and bumble bee headgear made in the class.

Northern Tallgrass Prairie open house at NCTC Mon.

Open house to present information and answer questions on the Northern Tallgrass Prairie Habitat Preservation Area will take place Monday, October 6, from 3 to 7 p.m. in Room 131 of Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) has prepared a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) regarding the proposed project which is available for public review.

"The DEIS evaluates the establishment of a Northern Tallgrass Prairie Habitat Preservation Area as a means of working with individuals, groups and governmental entities to permanently preserve remnant tracts of northern tallgrass prairie," states Jane West, project manager for the USFWS.

West will attend the open house as will Tom Larson, chief of planning for Region 3 which includes the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri. Also attending will be Howard Lipke, a retired USFWS employee who is working as a volunteer on the project.

Displays and information will be available and it is expected a continuing video presentation will be shown of a News Night Minnesota report by Ken Stone which deals with the project and was shown recently on public television.

At several area hearings on the proposal some months ago, a good deal of concern and opposition to the project were expressed. The project area would extend east from the west border of Minnesota from Canada to Iowa, including more than a third of the land area of the state and include much of the northwest quarter of the state of Iowa.

Included in this area would be all of Kittson, Red Lake, Pennington and Norman counties, parts of Marshall and Polk, half of Roseau and parts of Beltrami, Clearwater and Mahnomen.

"America's native grasslands are a vanishing ecosystem and mounting evidence indicates that many species are disappearing as fast as the prairie habitats on which they depend," West added. "Few other ecosystem types have experienced as great a degree of loss and alteration. In Minnesota and Iowa the native northern tallgrass prairie has declined to less than one percent of its original 25 million acres.

"Through an integrated ecosystem approach, the USFWS, with its partners, proposes to protect and restore fish and wildlife habitats with a wide variety of tools and techniques. The Service proposes to participate in public and private partnerships at many levels, complementing other prairie projects such as those of the Iowa County Conservation Boards, Iowa and Minnesota Departments of Natural Resources, the Nature Conservancy and others."

West noted that three alternatives including a "No Action" alternative, are being considered in the DEIS. The action alternatives are aimed at permanently protecting and enhancing prairie remnants.

"The Service's preferred alternative (Alternative B) is to permanently protect and enhance prairie remnants through partnerships, incentives, education and cooperative agreements," West said.

"Any conservation easements, or acquisition of full title, would be done by the USFWS and its partners," she added. "USFWS acquisition of easements and fee interest in lands would be on a voluntary basis from willing sellers."

West said the USFWS encourages interested individuals or organizations to submit comments on the DEIS and to participate in any of the 10 open houses similar to the one in Thief River Falls Monday.

Written comments may also be submitted to Jane West, Project Manager, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, BHW Federal Building, 1 Federal Drive, Fort Snelling, MN 55111 or via e-mail. The e-mail address is (R3planning @fws.gov). West may also be contacted for further information at the address above or by calling 1-612-725-3306.

Maria (played by Laura Toren) and Baron Von Trapp (portrayed by Randy Moe) have lead roles in the community musical "The Sound of Music" to be presented at the Northland Community and Technical College Theater October 22-26. Tickets go on sale October 8 at the college.

"Sound of Music" tickets to go on sale October 8

Tickets for the community musical The Sound of Music, to be presented October 22-26, will go on sale Wednesday, October 8, at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

Tickets at $7 each may be reserved by calling the NCTC library at 681-0756 or purchased directly from the box office at the college on the nights of the performances. Tickets reserved but not paid for by 15 minutes prior to a performance will be released for sale to the general public. Seating in the college theater is limited and advance ticket purchase is advised.

Curtain times will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, October 22-25, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 26. The production is a collaborative effort between Northland Community and Technical College and the Thief River Falls Community Arts Council.

The Sound of Music is one of the most popular musicals of all time and was also one of the highest grossing motion pictures of all time. Mary Martin played the stage role of Maria on Broadway and Julie Andrews played Maria in the film version. The two versions vary, but the story is a true one of a free-spirited nun who leaves the convent, becomes a governess for seven children, marries their father and escapes the Nazi regime during World War II.

According to Heidi Hoks, a co-director of the musical, many people in this area feel deeply about the musical, but none more deeply than those with past associations with it or the Von Trapp family.

Ruth (Ferber) Christensen, a member of the present cast, played the role of Maria while at Lincoln high school. "It's a wonderful show with beautiful music and a deeply touching story," she said. "It's been fun being in it once more and experiencing the magic of it all over again."

Key Teeters Asp, cast as Frau Schmidt in this production, has been in two other productions of the same musical and had the same role each time. "It's a fabulous show," she said, "one which you can see time and again and come away with a totally new perspective on what really happened to a very resourceful family during an extremely stressful time."

Cast member Naomi Raymond, who plays Sister Margaretta, has actually spoken with the real Maria Von Trapp. She was on the planning committee arranging a national American Lutheran Church Women convention program some 20 years ago and contacted Maria Von Trapp by phone with an invitation to be a guest presenter.

"It was different," Mrs. Raymond said, "because I had seen Mary Martin in the role on Broadway and visualized Maria as younger. When I spoke to her, Maria was older—but oh, she was delightful! She was still lively and full of fun, very cooperative and wanted to fit into the theme of the conference and follow along with what we were doing.

"We were all so excited about being able to meet her, but unfortunately she became very ill and was unable to attend the conference."

Naomi noted that both she and her husband had seen various productions of The Sound of Music and had hoped to one day be involved in a production of the musical because they loved it.

Jayne Miller of Goodridge, who plays the Baroness Elsa Schraeder, also loved the show. She went to the Von Trapp family music lodge in Stowe, VT, 10 years ago.

"Maria was an idol for me," she said. "I loved the movie of The Sound of Music and have loved the stage version, too, even though it's different. I felt it was like a pilgrimage to see Maria's home. Of course, Maria was no longer alive, but the lodge itself is just like an Austrian lodge. I remember coming up to this huge lodge and feeling as if I had been transported to the Von Trapp home in Austria. It was an incredible experience!"

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Baron Von Trapp's death and also marks the first year the Von Trapp children have returned to their native Austria to "heal old wounds," as the family put it, and to receive recognition from the government.

The Thief River Falls performer playing Maria, Laura Toren, notes that "it all combines to make this a very emotional experience for all of us. We're all hoping we can make it a moving experience for the audience, too."

For more information about tickets or the musical itself, contact the Northland Community and Technical College at 681-0756.

Hunters asked to be on look out

Hunters venturing into area woods and fields are being requested to watch for signs of Veronica Safranski, who has been missing since October 26, 1996.

Officials are still actively investigating her disappearance. Safranski was last seen wearing a leather-like Halloween costume and leather moccasins. Hunters who see anything unusual are asked to contact the Marshall County Sheriff's department at 218-745-5411 or 1-800-242-6127.

Earlier in the investigation, a belt believed to be that of Safranski's costume was located three miles north of County Road 30 on County Road 8 in New Maine township of Marshall county. She was last seen in the company of Kevin Skjerven, who was driving a 1977 Black Dodge Powerwagon pickup.

Since her disappearance, numerous searches have been conducted, both large and small and involving aircraft, search dogs, land craft, watercraft, on foot and with divers. The cooperation of the public has also been overwhelming in trying to solve the disappearance.

An official investigating the disappearance said this week that they have nothing new to report in the disappearance, but will not quit until they find her.

A reward of up to $15,000 is being offered for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the disappearance of Safranski.

CRP Informational Meetings

Two information meetings for Pennington county landowners in regard to the 16th sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) have been scheduled for Tuesday, October 7, in Thief River Falls and Goodridge.

First session of the day will be at 10 a.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium and the second at 2 p.m. in the Goodridge community center. All landowners interested in learning more about the program and/or submitting bids are invited to attend the meeting most convenient for them.

Conducting the meeting and presenting information will be Glenn Schafer, director of the Pennington County Farm Service Agency (FSA) and Mike Ratzlaff of the Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS).

The 16th sign-up period will run from October 14 through November 14. Schafer and Ratzlaff said they are still waiting to hear if there will be any expansion of the priority area which could increase the eligibility potential in parts of Pennington and several other counties. They hope the information will be available by the October 7 meeting date so they can pass it along to landowners.

SOUPÇON
Sherry LaCoursiere

Here are some more fresh, home-baked snacks to make, this time some old-fashioned, easy bars for quick fixing.

This old recipe makes for great, easy-to-make snacks:

SNIPPY DOODLES

2 tablespoons shortening
2/3 cup sugar
1 cup cake flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup milk
1 beaten egg

Cream shortening and sugar. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk and egg mixture.

Spread thinly in greased and floured 9x13 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Sprinkle with sugar and continue baking 10 minutes. Cut into squares and serve warm or cold.

These will please the chocolate lovers in your family:

CHOCOLATE CRISPIES

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 (1 ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Beat eggs until light. Add sugar and vanilla and beat thick. Add chocolate melted with butter and beat smooth. Add flour and mix thoroughly.

Spread in greased 8 inch square pan. Sprinkle with nuts. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Cut in squares while warm and remove from pan.

Delicious dates make these bars a special treat:

DATE BARS

3 well-beaten eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 1/2 cups sliced dates
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cups chopped nuts

Beat eggs with sugar until very thick. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat smooth. Add dates, vanilla and nuts.

Bake in greased 9x13 inch pan at 350 degrees about 30 minutes.

While warm, cut into bars then roll in powdered sugar.

This not only tastes good, but makes the house smell good:

FROSTED MOLASSES CREAMS

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
1/2 cup light molasses
1/2 cup strong, hot coffee
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves

Cream shortening and sugar. Add egg and molasses and mix well. Add coffee. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat smooth.

Pour into greased and floured 9x13 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

While warm, frost with powdered sugar frosting. Cool and cut.

POWDERED SUGAR FROSTING

Add sufficient half and half or whipping cream to 2 cups powdered sugar to make of spreading consistency. Add dash of salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

An old favorite, try these for a special treat:

SCOTCH TEAS

1/2 cup butter
1 cup light brown sugar
2 cups oatmeal
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder

Melt butter. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in oats, salt and baking powder and mix very well.

Bake in greased 8 inch square pan at 300 degrees for about 20 minutes. Cool and cut into small squares.

pleting the form believes the school district should offer. These include technology, ag/vocational program, lower adult-to-student ratio in all classes, more advanced placement classes, better discipline, foreign language in lower grades, programs for at risk students, higher graduation rate, higher reading scores and any others the individual believes to be important. The prioritizing is to be done in numerical sequence with number one to be used to indicate the highest priority.

The forms may be turned in at Challenger elementary school, Franklin middle school, Lincoln high school, the community education department or the school district service center main office.

PUBLIC POWER
An American Tradition
That Works
Public Power Week October 5–11, 1997

We, the citizens of Thief River Falls are celebrating an important occasion, Public Power Week, October 5-11. Our local community owned electric utility provides utility service at not-for-profit prices and contributes to the overall progress and prosperity of our community.

As we celebrate this year's Public Power Week, many federal and state proposals are being debated with the purpose of providing more choice, lower rates, and better service to consumers.

Our utility policy board is dedicated to the principle that electricity service is a public service and that our utility operates in partnership with local citizens for the benefit of all. Currently our utility serves approximately 8,000 residents with 4,493 electric meters.

Our success is the result of the efforts of utility employees who have carried out programs and projects, providing their expertise and leadership in finding the most appropriate means of delivering services that residents and businesses need and want.

As our state and nation embark on new ways of structuring the electric utility industry, please keep in mind the differences between our public electric utility and the private power companies;

• Our utility is locally owned through our municipality where citizens have a strong voice in decisions, and we offer not-for-profit rates.
• Public power is pro-competitive and pro-consumer.
• Reject calls for immediate action to restructure the industry. A "quick fix" has the potential to benefit only a few large customers;
• Support federal legislation that protects consumers against the abuse of market power;
• Leave retail competition decisions to states and localities;
• Recognize and respect diversity in the electric utility industry. Restructuring cannot be a "one size fits all" venture.

Please let me know if I can provide you with any additional information about Thief River Falls Power & Light or public power generally.

Sincerely,

Bob Reeves

Space is running out for gun show October 18-19

More than 150 tables have been reserved for the eighth annual Thief River Falls Gun Show scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, October 18 and 19, at the Curling Club building on the Pennington county fairgrounds.

The show is billed each year as the largest gun show in northern Minnesota, and this year's event will be the biggest ever, according to show organizers Bob Campbell and Gail Steinhauer. The show is sponsored by the Thief River Falls Curling Club.

With more than 150 tables already reserved by approximately 50 exhibitors, all of the space available in the Curling Club building will be used, including the south entrance area near the lunch counter and the second level meeting and viewing area. There is room for 136 tables on the main floor of the building.

"Once again we have a number of dealers from throughout Minnesota as well as several large dealers from North Dakota and South Dakota," Campbell said. "The public is invited to bring their guns for sale or trade with the exhibitors."

In addition to guns, a limited amount of other outdoor equipment will be available, including reloading components, archery supplies, some clothing, ammunition, hunting gear and other accessories. Several sports card and coin dealers have also arranged for table space.

Show hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, October 18 and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, October 19. Admission is $2 per person and children under 12 years of age are not admitted unless accompanied by an adult. Lunch will be available and registration held for a drawing for a free door prize.

For further information about the show contact Gail Steinhauer at 449-4751 or Bob Campbell at 874-6781.

Orientation for volunteers at Challenger Tuesday

Orientation sessions for all new volunteers at Challenger elementary school in Thief River Falls will be presented Tuesday, October 7, at 8:30 a.m., 12 noon and 7 p.m. in the volunteer room at the main office area.

Lori Weeding, volunteer coordinator at Challenger, has encouraged all new volunteers to attend the session of their choice to become familiar with policies and procedures at Challenger and receive information about the volunteer program.

Persons with questions about the volunteer program may contact Weeding at the school district service center, phone 681-8711.

WE'RE GONNA ROCK!
This month is Rocktober Fest at Shooting Star Casino. It's like October Fest. But with a twist and a shout.
All month long, you can hear classic rock 'n roll hits from some of the industry's best known names. There are rock 'n roll trivia games, a new game called "Rock "a" Roll, prizes and much, much more. You'll also have a chance to win a trip to the Rock 'n Roll Hall Of Fame in Cleveland. It'll be given away after the 10pm Molly Hatchet show on Nov. 1.
Things will be really rockin' next weekend with live performances by Johnny Rivers, one of the all-time rock 'n roll greats.
Of course there's always blackjack and hot slots, including "Megabucks" and "Quartermania." We even offer on site child care. So hurry on into Shooting Star Casino. Rock 'n Roll is here to stay.

Immigration: Short View, Long View

"I'll continue to teach English to immigrants, but at the same time I have the feeling that I'm climbing up a stepladder in an elevator that's going down."

This is the way that Bob Shaw, retired as manager of the Minnesota Newspaper Association, describes his outlook on immigration and world population. Shaw's "Think Piece" in a current bulletin of the association summarizes his experiences and how they create a small picture within a much larger picture. Shaw writes:

I teach English to immigrants every Monday at Central Lutheran Church in Minneapolis. There are five proficiency levels in the program. I teach a primary class.

"Primary" means "no English—no English at all." My students, 15 to 20 of them, have just arrived in the United States. Not long ago, weeks perhaps, they waited in a refugee camp or fled town with gunfire ringing in their ears. Now they sit in this bright, new classroom, listening to the strange sounds of our speech. I see Somali women in long, black dresses, Ukrainians, Bosnians.

We don't know much about our students, and it's a good thing we don't. One young Bosnian man in my last class had his arm blown off. In the same class a Russian woman, a retired engineer—she spoke some German—told me she was a little girl in Leningrad during WWII. Knowing a bit about what people in Leningrad went through in WWII, I don't ask any questions. I don't want to know what the Cambodian girl "feels" or the young Sudanese mother "feels." I don't want to know if they're legal or illegal immigrants. They're here to learn English. They're helpless, vulnerable.

...And so each week we volunteers work confidently, and I may add happily, as we perpetuate the good, tried-and-true American value of welcoming immigrants into our country. The general attitude, which certainly springs from a Christian value, is that these people need help, and we give it to them. Besides, immigrants are good for our country. Weren't our own grandparents immigrants?

That's the little picture drawn from my own experience, Shaw continues. It's the big picture which bothers me.

That picture over which I have no control is the skyrocketing growth of the world's population, its pressure on our country, and an immigration policy which I believe to be naive and wrong.

I do understand two of its principles: that immigrant families belong together and that refugees from repressive political systems deserve special care.

If one immigrant is admitted to the U.S., it is relatively easy for his family to join him. The idea—certainly a humane one—is that adjustment will hasten if an immigrant is not isolated but part of his own immediate family. That's the reason why so many middle-aged Russians are in my classes. Their sons or daughters came first, got jobs and "sent" for mama and papa.

I also understand that political refugees deserve more benefits—read that money—than others. I do not understand how an Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) official without witnesses or documents can "prove" a person is a refugee.

Other industrialized nations don't handle immigration this way. Canada, for example, imposes stiff entrance requirements: education, money, sponsors, skills.

I polled one of my classes of about 20 persons to see what skills they had. One Bosnian man had been a truck driver. His wife had worked in a textile factory. Several women used hand motions to tell me they could use needle and thread. A few students, mostly Russians, are retired doctors or engineers. On the other hand, many have had no education at all in their own countries. Some don't know how to hold a pencil.

The more I learn about our immigration policies, the more complex and contradictory they seem. Children born in this country to illegal immigrants qualify for a range of welfare and other benefits. A recent piece in the Washington Post reported that the INS, according to the General Accounting Office, fails to deport thousands of foreign criminals after they serve their sentences.

The INS itself is pathetically underfinanced, undermanned. Ethnic pressure groups have organized, hired lobbyists, made campaign contributions and opposed serious immigration reform. It's easy for illegal immigrants to go "underground." There is always a crooked employer around the corner who is willing to break wage and hour laws, federal and state, to hire an "illegal."

I'll continue to teach English to immigrants, but at the same time I have the feeling that I'm climbing up a stepladder in an elevator that's going down.

This is a problem that can do nothing but get worse. Every lawmaker or candidate to be a lawmaker should, it seems to me, be specifically interrogated about his or her opinions about immigration. People in California and Florida are waking up to the effects of bad immigration laws and weak enforcement. The time will certainly come in our smug and self-satisfied Midwest when the same problem will be on our doorstep, and in spades, Shaw concludes.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

"There is hope. I can feel it. There is hope in the air..." the children sang as they gathered in a circle before each camp meal. "There is hope. I can feel it. Come and hope if you dare. There is hope. I can feel it. There is hope in my heart. There is hope in your smile, and today's a new start." This is no ordinary camp. It's camp for grieving children staffed by folks from Red River Valley Hospice and by the camp staff at Camp Cormorant near Detroit Lakes. At this camp the children address their grief through games, discussions, writing, drawing, and by spending their weekend with a buddy. Each camper has an adult buddy, a volunteer who is available at all times to listen to and talk with his/her camper. Last summer I was privileged to be a buddy for a camper at Camp Hope. That weekend was the highlight of my summer.

Children from northern Minnesota and North Dakota have gathered for three years now to participate in Camp Hope. At first, some parents are reluctant to leave the children to experience their grief without their families, but when they return on Sunday afternoon, they are often amazed at their own children's understanding of grief and healing. These children are between the ages of eight and twelve and have lost either a parent, a sibling, a grandparent or an aunt or uncle. Even though the children participate in several grief sessions during the weekend, there is plenty of time for kickball, boating, swimming, archery, and horseback riding.

This particular group of children was quite willing to share and many of them were very creative. At campfire one night, a young man said to me, "You remind me of my mom. She sang and hummed a lot, just like you." One evening as we created treasure boxes, one boy examined the nature items he'd collected on a walk. "I'm going to put this woodtick on my box," he announced as he glued the little creature to the top of the box. We girls all groaned, but it was his creation, his treasure box. On the last day, the girls in my cabin wanted to have pictures of everyone, including my dog guide, Winsome.

The most special part of the camp for me was the closing ceremony. Campers and their buddies walked together to place ornaments the campers had made on a memory tree. As we walked to the tree, we were introduced to the group of parents and guardians gathered there. Each ornament was given in memory of a child's loved one. I felt so close to my camper as we walked together, and as I stood beside her while she hung her ornament.

Camp Hope is one of the many ways volunteers can bring hope to others' lives. Working as a buddy for an individual camper was very special for me. Others volunteered as camp hands, who worked with the camp staff to make the weekend run smoothly. Still others worked as table leaders to guide us in discussions and encourage the campers as a group.

As the song says, "There is hope." Hope. That's what Hospice is all about. To every life we touch, we bring that ray of hope – to patients and to their families.

Please come and support the bringing of hope by the local Red River Valley Hospice by attending the seventh annual Spaghetti Supper on Monday, October 6 at Redeemer Lutheran Church of Thief River Falls from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. Come support the local Hospice as it continued to bring hope to many lives. For we believe that all Hospice staff and volunteers can always dare to hope, because each day is a new start.

Pastor Terry Cuppett

VOTE JERRY UNRUH FOR MAYOR

When I become Mayor of Thief River Falls, I will speak on behalf of the people, and make Thief River Falls the best community it can be.
I will encourage economic growth, decrease city expenditures and balance the budget, but not at the taxpayers expense.
I will make revenue creating departments within our city operate with a net income, not an income loss (Like the present airport loss of $311,522.00).
I will streamline the public safety departments and make them more affordable. Public safety is one of Thief River Falls' largest expenses, next to the Park & Recreation Department.
I will decrease the Park and Recreation Department budget to be more in line with the other departmental budgets (Not like the present 1998 budget of $1,500,000.00 expense and an income of only $123,055.00).
Vote Jerry Unruh for Mayor and your vote will count, and your property taxes won't go up as they have for the past 5 years. You the voter, are the only ones that can change this city's spending policies, so please get involved, and go out and vote.

A Vote For Jerry Unruh, Is A Vote For Strong Leadership

Prowlers sweep Moorhead

Fans gave Thief River Falls a standing ovation Tuesday as the Prowlers closed out a stunning 3-0 high school volleyball win over Moorhead. The crowd response gave recognition not only to the victory – which was a major feat in itself considering the way the Spuds have dominated the series – but also for the way it was accomplished.

The Prowlers won a back-and-forth opener 15-13, thoroughly dominated the second game 15-4, and then capped it off by erasing 11-4 and 13-7 deficits en route to a 15-13 third-game triumph.

"Incredible," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "Three nothing and Moorhead usually don't go hand in hand. It was great."

It was the Prowlers' first win over the North Sub-Section 8AA rival Spuds since 1993, and only the second victory against the perennially strong Moorhead program over the past 15 years.

The Spuds held a 13-11 edge in Game 1 before the tide turned for the Prowlers, who scored on an ace serve by Taya Hunt and a putaway by Desirae Alberg to tie it. Two errant Moorhead hits – the first one long, the second one in the net – provided the final two Thief River Falls points.

Back-to-back aces by Abby Bloch gained Moorhead a 4-4 tie in Game 2, but Thief River Falls rattled off the next 11 points to win in a rout. Ahead 9-4, the Prowlers blew it open with a five point sequence that included a back-row kill by Alberg, a Moorhead hit into the net, an ace by Hunt, a hole-finding spike by Rachel Mathson, and another non-returned serve by Hunt.

Moorhead regrouped and carried play in Game 3. The Spuds started with a 6-1 run, had an 11-4 advantage and were up 13-7 following a tip by Brianne England.

The Prowlers clawed back, however, with an eight-point sweep-completing run.

It started with a tip by Lisa Dicken. Julie Martell, who had just came off the bench for the first time in the match, then served back-to-back aces. Alberg put a spike deep into the Moorhead court. Martell came up with yet another ace, and Moorhead hit one long to make it 13-13.

Alberg came up with her team-high 11th kill of the night to put the Prowlers ahead, and the Spuds were called for a carry for the final point.

"We had that little downfall at the start of the third game," acknowledged Roche, "but they showed a lot of character by coming back like that. Julie did a great job for us. She faced a lot of pressure in that situation, but really came through. Desire was awesome. She was really hitting the the ball."

Actually, the Prowlers, who have been successful with a hard-hitting game, probably played with a little more finesse this time out. "A lot of it has to do with what they (opponents) give you," explained Roche. "Moorhead did not give up a lot of free balls. We had to adjust."

Lindsay Drury finished behind Alberg on the Thief River Falls kill charts with six, and added three aces, a figure matched by Martell in her relief role. Dicken came up with three blocks and Hunt had 14 assists.

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity match 15-6, 15-6. Moorhead took the C squad match 15-5, 15-9.

Small pools suit TRF swimmers

Smaller pools are a better fit for the Thief River Falls girls high school swim team this fall.

Larger pools require more swimmers to fill expanded line-ups. The Prowlers can match area opponents with the top of their order, but lose ground when they have to fill additional lanes. Two recent Tuesday duals emphasized that fact as they lost a 193-113 decision at Crookston Sept. 23 and a week later beat Fosston/Bagley 55-39 at Fosston.

"We're much better when we score 2-on-2 (Fosston) than when we go 4-on-4 (Crookston)," pointed out Thief River Falls assistant coach Brian Olson.

The Prowlers trailed the Greyhounds at the start, but a 1-3 effort by Andi Sorvig Julie Chrzanowski in the 100 freestyle closed the gap to 26-24, and a 1-2 finish by Andrea Olin and Wendy Lindquist in the 500 freestyle produced a 31-27 lead they carried through the final four events.

"The 100 freestyle was big," noted Olson. "Andi swam well, and Julie got us the extra points we needed. Julie is our second best swimmer in a number of events, but those points she gets are really important."

Sorvig's victory in the 100 freestyle began a string of six straight meet-ending first place finishes for the Prowlers.

"We had some excellent times," said Olson. "It was a good meet. They (Fosston/Bagley) don't get enough credit for being a good team."

Olin also won the the 200 freestyle, while Chelsea Haviland took the 100 breaststroke and Kristin Naplin turned in a coach-pleasing first place time in the 100 backstroke.

The Prowlers also won two relays - the 200 freestyle (Naplin, Jenny Sorvig, Chrzanowski, Andi Sorvig) and 400 freestyle (Chrzanowski, Lindsay Ehrenstrom, Andi Sorvig, Haviland).

Olson also said a eye-opening 30.78 in an exhibition 50 freestyle race by Thief River Falls sixth grader Cami Hendrickson added to the Prowlers' win, creating a spark the Prowlers turned into incentive the rest of the meet.

Thief River Falls is 4-5 in dual meet competition.

B/G-MR pins 14-0 shutout loss on RLF

An injury took a bite out of the Badger/Greenbush-Middle offense, but the Gators' defense, along with booming punts by Bret Bentow, kept Red Lake Falls away from the end zone Tuesday in a 14-0 Valley Plains Conference high school football win at Middle River.

Andy Schenkey ran for 73 yards in the first quarter-and-a-half before going down with a hip-pointer on a punt return. That left the offense in the hands of Richard and Daryl Wockenfuss, who both scored on 6-yard runs, and Mark Nissen, who stepped in for Schenkey and gained 46 yards on eight carries.

In addition to the loss of Schenkey, the Gators' penchant for fumbles also slowed them down offensively.

But the defense, led by Nick Vacura and David Truscinski, held its ground. "We played a great game defensively," said Gators coach Steve Willman.

Bentow also played a major role in the outcome with punts of 46 and 52 yards that added to his season average that hovers between 47 and 48 yards per kick.

And those are legitimate yards, not short punts with long rolls, noted Willman. "He's the best punter I've seen in the area," said Willman. "He kicks them long and he kicks them high. He gets great hang time, our kids are usually down field in plenty of time to cover the kicks because the ball is in the air so long. Special teams are one-third of the game, and he's doing a great job."

The Gators are 3-2.

Nordics struggle vs. Sacred Heart, lose 33-12 game

Tables were turned on Marshall County Central Tuesday as the Nordics, fresh from a 22-20 Friday win over Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, lost a 33-12 Tuesday night high school football game to East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

Both outcomes were eyebrow-raising surprises in the Nine-Man Top of the State Conference, where the Blue Devils have been consistent contenders and the Eagles were carrying an 18-game losing streak.

"It was terrible," said Marshall County Central coach Kent Warne after the early-week trip to East Grand Forks. "Friday was such an emotional win, that we just didn't have anything left. It was like all the kids played about half-speed."

The usually strong Marshall County Central ground game stalled against Sacred Heart. That left the Nordics relying on a passing game that featured an 8-for-16 night by quarterback Dayton Elseth for 99 yards and a touchdown.

The loss dropped the Nordics back to .500 at 3-3 heading into the final two games of the regular season – on the road against conference leader Stephen-Argyle and Kittson Central.

Wolverines Parent's Night Is set Monday

Parent's Night will be observed Monday when Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke hosts Marshall County Central in a high school volleyball match at Goodridge.

All parents of the Wolverines players will be admitted to the match free of charge. Senior players and their parents will be introduced prior to the start of the varsity match – approximately 7 p.m.

Becky Mooney of Thief River Falls led Tammy Newby of Bemidji as they headed down a fairway in Monday's Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Invitational high school cross country meet at the Thief River Golf Club. The two ran stride-for-stride through much of the race before Newby broke away down the stretch for the win.

Lumberjacks sweep cross country titles

Bemidji runners swept team and individual titles Monday (Sept. 29) at the annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Invitational high school cross country meet.

It was a 31-95 victory margin over second place Park Rapids Area for the Bemidji boys and a 32-62 winning edge over runner-up International Falls for the Bemidji girls.

Rain earlier in the day disappeared by race time, but the runners had to cope with strong winds that whipped across the Thief River Golf Course in bone-chilling fashion.

The weather didn't stop the Lumberjacks' Luke Mullranin and Amber Newby from winning individual titles. Mullranin beat out Russ Branden of Bagley/Fosston, the defending Class A state champion, to win the boys' 5,000-meter race. Newby broke away from Thief River Falls' Becky Mooney with a stretch-run sprint after the two had run stride-for-stride over the girls' 4,000-meter course.

Places were recorded as runners entered the finish chute, but a malfunctioning clock prevented times from being recorded.

Spartans top Pioneers

Fergus Falls handled Northland 15-4, 13-15, 15-3, 15-8 in a Wednesday Minnesota Community College Conference volleyball match.

The 16-1 Spartans began the week with a No. 8 ranking in the national polls. They are 7-0 in the MCCC Northern Division.

"They're a very powerful team," acknowledged Northland coach Shari Olson. "We did what we wanted to do, except block. We weren't quick enough and we didn't anticipate fast enough to get in position to make the block."

The loss dropped the visiting Pioneers to 5-6 for the year. They completed the first of two trips through the Northern Division at 3-4.

"Paula Hovda and Angie Vagle did an excellent job in the back row for us," noted Olson. "With no blocking, they were on their own back there."

NCTC Leaders

Kills - Paula Hovda 6, Naomi Wiebski 6. assists - Rayna Denson 8, Melissa Bernstein 6. aces - Lara Hendrickson 3, Angie Vagle 3. blocks - Hendrickson 2, Wiebski 2. digs - Vagle 13, Hovda 12.

TRF closes out tennis schedule with 6-1 win

A 6-1 Tuesday win at Roseau wrapped up the 1997 regular season schedule for the Thief River Falls girls high school tennis team.

The Sylvia Sjoberg-coached Prowlers are 13-6 heading into the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre. Team matches will be played Wednesday. Individual portion of the tournament will be played Thursday.

NCTC to open divisional play against Cards

First Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division match-up awaits the Northland Community and Technical College football team today (Saturday) when the Pioneers play host to Hibbing in a 1:30 p.m. game at Prowler Field.

Having gone 0-4 against the MCCC Southern Division during the first month of the 1997 season, the Pioneers will have to come up with a winning formula against Northern Division rivals over the next four weeks to land a post-season spot. Top two regular season finishers in the two divisions advance to the MCCC playoff semi-finals. Divisional match-ups are worth two points in the standings. Games played against teams in the other division are one-point MCCC affairs.

Vermilion beat Mesabi 31-12 and Itasca defeated Hibbing 27-14 last week in the first Northern Division games of the year. Elsewhere, Ridgewater stopped Fergus Falls 25-22 and Rochester shut out Central Lakes 41-0 in the Southern Division, while Minnesota West belted Northland 51-0 in a North-South match-up.

Vermilion is 2-2 overall to lead the Northern Division with three points, while Itasca is 1-3 with two points. Hibbing, Northland and Mesabi are all 0-4.

Roseau sophomores stop TRF in overtime

Roseau edged Thief River Falls 26-20 in double-overtime Thursday in a sophomore high school football game.

Adam Haviland scored on runs of 6 and 70 yards for Thief River Falls, and added a conversion run. Mike Dewers scored on a 1-yard run.

Thief River Falls led 6-0 at the end of the first quarter, trailed 14-6 at halftime and faced a 14-12 third quarter deficit before gaining a 20-20 regulation time tie. Roseau scored on the first possession of the second overtime series, and Thief River Falls was stopped on a fourth down play at the one.

Thief River Falls sophomores are 3-3 for the year.

Thief River Falls beats EGF freshmen by 30-8

Brian Loe scored three touchdowns and added three conversions Thursday as the 8-0 Thief River Falls freshman high school football team beat East Grand Forks 30-8.

Loe scored on runs of 10 and 8 yards, and also caught a 45-yard touchdown pass from Justin Skjerven.

John Sylvester scored a 3-yard touchdown. Josh Gryskiewicz added a conversion run.

Thief River Falls boys were grouped together for the start of their race during Monday's Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Invitational high school cross country meet at the Thief River Golf Club. Bemidji won the boys and girls team and individual titles.

TRF blocks Ponies' efforts, 3-1

Thief River Falls came up with 16 blocks Thursday in a 15-4, 10-15, 15-8, 15-3 high school volleyball win over Warren-Alvarado-Oslo.

Junior Lindsay Drury had half of those blocks, along with seven kills and five ace serves as the Prowlers improved their overall record to 14-4-2.

"I thought we had a very powerful net game," offered Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "Lindsay had a great match."

Thief River Falls' size advantage played a role in the Prowlers' domination at the net, acknowledged Roche.

Lisa Dicken had a team-high eight kills for the Prowlers. Taya Hunt collected 17 assists.

Dicken served the final five points in Game 1 that ended with a Drury kill.

The Ponies, after watching a 14-7 lead shrink to 14-10, finished off Game 2 with an ace by Roxie Adrian.

Drury served three consecutive aces as a 5-3 Thief River Falls Game 3 lead ballooned to 12-3. Warren-Alvarado-Oslo came back to make it 12-8, but that's as close as the Ponies got in a game that ended with a kill by Drury.

The Prowlers jumped out to a 10-0 lead in Game 4. The match ended with Beth Olson getting a side out kill, then two aces.

An extended Thief River Falls homestand continues Monday when the Prowlers host Win-E-Mac and Thursday when they entertain Detroit Lakes. The Patriots are ranked No. 4 in the Class A state polls. Thief River Falls and Detroit Lakes are top contenders for the No. 2 seed in North Sub-Section 8AA behind Alexandria, the No. 1-ranked team in the Minnesota Class AA polls.

Haviland win highlights TRF trip to Fergus Falls

An appearance at the Fergus Falls Invitational high school swim meet Saturday (Sept. 27) produced ten season-best times for the Thief River girls, it was reported by Prowlers head coach Shun Thompson.

"It was nice to see the times drop," said Thompson.

Highlighting the Prowlers' showing was a first place finish by Chelsea Haviland in the diving competition. It was a character-testing effort for the Thief River Falls eighth grader. It was her first 11-dive meet of the season, and on her third time up, she hit the board with both heels.

In addition to producing scores of twos from the judges instead of her accustomed six range, Haviland required a quick bandage job. She recovered, however, to nail the rest of her dives for the win.

Thief River Falls season-best times were turned in by Julie Chrzanowski and Jenny Lindquist in the 200 freestyle; Jenny and Wendy Lindquist in the 500 freestyle; Danica Schroeder in the 200 I.M.; Amy Rominski in the 50 freestyle; Kristin Naplin and Katrina Holten in the 100 backstroke; and Michelle Johnson in the 100 breaststroke.

Wendy Lindquist met sectional qualifying time with an 11-second drop in the 500 freestyle.

TRF Places

200 medley relay - 0 TRF; 200 I.M. - 16 Lindsay Ehrenstrom, diving - 1 Chelsea Haviland, 500 freestyle - 15 Andrea Olin, 200 freestyle relay - 10 TRF, 100 backstroke - 15 Kilson Hapin 100 breaststroke - 7 Chelsea Haviland, 400 freestyle relay - 7 TRF

Tennis seeding is set

Bemidji earned the top seed in the team portion of the 1997 North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school tennis tournament, scheduled to be played Wednesday at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre.

In opening round play it will be No. 4 Fergus Falls vs. No. 5 Moorhead at 8:30 a.m. and No. 3 Thief River Falls vs. No. 6 Thief River Falls at 10 a.m.

The Otters-Spuds winner meets Bemidji at 12-noon and the Prowlers-Lakers winner takes on No. 2 Alexandria at 1:30 p.m. in the semifinals.

Individual portion of the tournament will be played Thursday. Christine Kalrgaard of Moorhead is the No. 1 seed in singles, while Katie Harbott and Lesley Ihle of Thief River Falls form the top seed in doubles.

The Prowlers' singles entries include Eeva Young, seeded No. 9, and Jenna Tsukichi, No. 11. The Prowlers' second doubles combination of Steph and Beth Goddard is seeded No. 10.

TRF ninth grade wins

Thief River Falls won a pair of 2-0 freshman high school volleyball matches at Crookston Tuesday.

The A match went 15-7, 15-4. The B match was 15-1, 15-2.

Gators 3-2 winners against Wolverines

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River outlasted Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 3-2 Thursday in a see-saw high school volleyball match.

The host Gators won 15-13, 10-15, 15-7, 10-15, 15-9.

Earlier this fall the Wolverines won a similar match played at Goodridge.

"It's a good match-up," noted Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Schulz. "We're pretty evenly matched. I guess the home court advantage is the difference."

The Gators are 8-9 for the year.

Kristin Halvorson had 15 kills and Amie Kotrba added six for the Wolverines. Mandy Sjulestad had five ace serves and seven blocks.

"Mandy had a tremendous match," said Schulz.

Tuesday, Tri-County stopped Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 7-15, 15-9, 15-7, 15-10 in a match played at Karlstad. "We came out strong, but then we kind of fell into a lull," explained Schulz.

Halvorson had 11 kills that night. Dana Wiseth served three aces and collected 13 assists.

The Wolverines are 10-7.

TRF freshmen football squad defeats Bemidji

Lincoln High School freshman football team turned an 8-8 first quarter tie into a 30-14 halftime lead Tuesday en route to a 30-22 victory at Bemidji.

It was the seventh straight win for the Thief River Falls ninth graders, who scored on a 55-yard Justin Skjerven pass to Nate Sorvig, and runs of 50 yards by Brian Loe, 10 yards by Dean Mehrkens and 5 yards by Ben Myers.

Myers also scored on two conversion runs and Loe added one.

Wetland plan in Beltrami county creates flexibility

Beltrami county's wetland plan can give the county flexibility to decide the importance of functions instead of making decisions only by soil type, according to Cheryl Sistad, manager of the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District.

"Last year Beltrami county was successful in receiving grant money to write a wetland plan for the county," Sistad said. "Although this can not change Wetland Conservation Act statutes, it can provide some options."

For instance, according to Sistad, the wetland committee may decide that a Type 2 wetland adjacent to a lake provides a more valuable function than a Type 2 wetland in an open field. Therefore, it could be possible to increase the mitigation or restoration ratio for the Type 2 wetland by the lake to a 3 to 1 ratio and decrease the Type 2 wetland in an open field to a 1/2 to 1 ratio.

Since wetland planning can be accomplished either by county boundaries or by a watershed boundary, Beltrami county is also working with Marshall county to look at the possibility of doing a wetland plan for the Thief Lake Watershed—which covers nearly all of the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District.

This arrangement would give those who live in the Marshall county portion of the district (and are currently in a county that has less than 50% of its pre-settlement wetlands remaining and must mitigate or restore wetlands at a 2 to 1 ratio) the ability to lower that amount.

Since the counties are working together to start the wetland planning process, they are starting to look at membership for the wetland planning committee, Sistad added. Marshall county is looking at current members of the county water plan task force to serve on this committee, but if anyone else is interested in serving, they may contact Marshall Count Commissioner DelRay Larson at Gatzke.

Beltrami county is looking for people representing different interests such as:

- Agricultural interests and livestock;
- Lakeshore—commercial and residential;
- Logging;
- Environmental;
- Landowner rights;
- Builders and realtors;
- Sportsman groups; and
- Other agencies and governmental entities.

For more information on the wetland planning process, contact the district office in Grygla. Those who are interested in serving on this committee should have their names submitted as soon as possible because the decision on committee membership will be made on Monday, October 6.

Farm Land Lease With Purchase Agreement

Location: Helt Farm - 400 acres - 1-1/2 mile Northeast of Thief River Falls, MN which includes the South 1/2, Section 23 and West 1/2, SW 1/4, Section 24, Township North in Pennington County

Lease Conditions: Cash crop lease for production year 1998 from 363 tillable acres which are coming out of CRP with a $5,000 plus supplemental FSA payment to operator. One half of rental payment due May 15, 1998 and second half payment due October 15, 1998

Purchase Agreement: Selling 363 tillable acre farm excluding 2 farmsteads with tree shelters and buildings. The farm land is all open with parallel drainage ditches throughout along with eight diked structures. Bids received now will be accepted for transfer by production year 1999. Real estate taxes will be paid only through calendar year 1998

Submission of Bids: Submit separate bids for 1 year cash crop lease for 363 acres for production year 1998 and for purchase bid to buy the 363 acre farm without buildings to be transferred by January 15, 1999.

Sealed bids should be identified as Helt Lease and Helt Purchase and submitted to Lawrence A. McDowell, Attorney at Law, Professional Building, Thief River Falls, MN, on or before October 10, 1997. The bids to lease will be opened at 2:00 p.m. and bidders will have an opportunity to witness and participate in further bidding until bids are either accepted or rejected. The same process will be followed with the bids for purchase of the Helt farm land.

Disclaimer: The Helt family reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

Agassiz Refuge open house will celebrate Wildlife Refuge Week

In observance of National Wildlife Week October 12-18, Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge east of Holt will host an open house Sunday, October 12, when refuge headquarters will be open to the public from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Agassiz will also be celebrating 60 years as a refuge and National Wildlife Refuge portfolios, posters, bookmarks, bags and maps will be distributed to visitors.

On display will be a cannon-fired waterfowl capture net used to trap birds for banding and several types of waterfowl nesting structures. Videos on the national refuge system, waterfowl breeding pair and brood survey results and fall flight forecast from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Canadian Wildlife Service, and duck identification will be shown.

Free grilled bratwurst and hotdogs along with potato chips and refreshments will be served during the open house, thanks to donations received from the Agassiz Audubon Society, Thief River Falls chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, Pennington County Sportsman's Club, Fourtown/Grygla Sportsman's Club and Thief River Falls Ducks Unlimited chapter.

National Wildlife Refuge Week this year is the third annual refuge week leading up to the system's 100th anniversary to be observed in the year 2003. Agassiz refuge headquarters will be open during regular office hours throughout the week for persons who would like to visit.

The national wildlife refuge system is the only one of its kind in the world, dedicated specifically to wildlife and habitat conservation. Since the establishment of the first national wildlife refuge—Pelican Island in Florida in 1903 by President Theodore Roosevelt—the system has grown to include 511 refuges with total acreage of 92 million acres. Size varies from the one-half acre Mille Lacs NWR on Mille Lacs Lake in Minnesota to the 20-million-acre Yukon Flats NWR in Alaska. Following celebration of the 500th refuge established in 1994 in West Virginia, every state in the nation has at least one national wildlife refuge.

Mission of the refuge system is: To provide, preserve, restore and manage a national network of lands and waters sufficient in size, diversity and location to meet society's needs for areas where the widest possible spectrum of benefits associated with wildlife and wildlands is enhanced and made available.

"Through establishment of national wildlife refuges, a diversity of habitat has been acquired, protected, restored and managed for the enhancement of wildlife and the continuing benefit of the American people," states Gary Tischer of the Agassiz refuge staff.

"Most refuges are located along the four major north-south waterfowl migration flyways. Other refuges serve as sanctuaries for endangered species or for other species requiring unique habitat."

National Wildlife Refuge Week is timed to coincide with the annual fall migration, so millions of birds are sure to fly in to most refuges in the lower 48 states on their way south. Birdwatching should be at its best. At Agassiz refuge, ducks, Canada and snow geese will be the most abundant and most visible, Tischer said.

Other birds that should be common at Agassiz this time of year are American coot, American bald eagle, rough-legged hawk, Northern harrier, dark-eyed junco, white-throated sparrow, American tree sparrow, fox sparrow, American goldfinch, black-capped chickadee and several species of marsh and shorebirds.

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge is located 23 miles northeast of Thief River Falls, between Holt and Grygla. For further information on public use activities permitted at the refuge or on the National Wildlife Refuge system, visit the refuge office or call 1-218-449-4115.

For additional information on National Wildlife week and a brochure with a complete map of the refuge system and basic visitor's information for every refuge, call 1-800-344-WILD or visit the Internet at http://bluegoose.arw.r9.fws.gov/.

Crookston meet studies fetal alcohol syndrome

Public hearing on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (FAS) will be conducted by the Governor's Task Force on the problem Wednesday, October 8, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the agricultural research center auditorium on the University of Minnesota campus in Crookston.

The public also is invited to register to testify and to attend a FAS information session at 12 noon.

The hearing is part of an effort to prevent and reduce harm from alcohol-related birth defects, including fetal alcohol syndrome and fetal alcohol effects (FAE) and to raise awareness of the problem of FAS and FAE in Minnesota.

First Lady Susan Carlson and Hennepin County Juvenile Court Judge Joan Lancaster co-chair the 44-member task force appointed in July by Gov. Arne H. Carlson. It includes members of the legal community, legislators; health, education and human services professionals; community advocates; concerned individuals; family members of those affected by FAS/FAE, and media representatives.

The task force works in conjunction with various state departments and other organizations to develop a comprehensive approach to address the issue of FAS/FAE in the state.

Each year in Minnesota up to 800 children are born with FAS or FAE. At this time an estimated 16,000 Minnesota children and youth have FAS/FAE.

"This is a serious concern because alcohol is the most widely used drug in Minnesota," Susan Carlson said. "I see the increasing number of children suffering from alcohol-related birth defects as a crisis that affects every one of us. It is consuming resources, breaking up families and destroying children, leaving many victims in its wake."

For more information about the October 8 hearing on FAS/FAE, call the Minnesota Department of Health at 1-612-623-5412.

Fosston funeral home passed to third generation

Fosston - Twenty-two years ago Mark and Gary Carlin took over the Carlin Funeral Home from their father, Hilding.

A generation later, their sons followed suit. Tim and John took the helm at Carlin-Hoialmen Funeral Home when their fathers relinquished ownership in September.

Mark and Gary will remain active in the business and services will remain the same as always. The Thirteen Towns.

Beet harvest on-again, off-again

Hallock - Sugar beet harvest began October 5 and shut down later that day due to warm temperatures.

If temperatures get too warm and beets start heating up to 55 degrees, the harvest has to shut down because the beets will spoil in the piles. Cold temperatures can also shut down the harvest. If temperatures drop to below 27 degrees for three or four hours, it will kill the sugar beet tops. Kittson County Enterprise

Work advances on Win-E-Mac school

Erskine - Excellent weather conditions have provided contractors with added incentives as work on the new Win-E-Mac school has advanced.

Underground work is complete with other electrical work moving along quickly. Masonary workers have progressed on walls and supporting structures.

The school is scheduled to open in the fall of 1998. The Erskine Echo

Home-schooled student semi-finalist for National Merit Scholarship

Graceton - Elizabeth Peterson is the first home-schooled student in Lake of the Woods County to ever become a national Merit Scholarship competition semi-finalist.

She is one of 15,000 high school seniors or equivalent selected from more than 1.1 million students who entered the competition by taking the PSAT as high school juniors.

Elizabeth is the daughter of Sally and Greg Peterson of the Graceton area. The Baudette Region

Juveniles steal car in Greenbush

Greenbush - Parked just off Main Street in Greenbush, a 1997 Ford Expedition was stolen recently by four juveniles. Owned by C&M Ford, the vehicle was being driven by one of their sales representatives.

Shortly after the Greenbush Police Department was notified, the vehicle was located heading south on Highway 32. As officers attempted to stop the vehicle, it left the roadway north of the City of Middle River and came to a rest near a cornfield where the suspects fled.

Following a search of the area by area law enforcement, the suspects were taken into custody. The Tribune

LHS concert choir plans fund-raisers

Education may have its three "Rs" but the Lincoln high school concert choir has added two more—Rummage and Raffle—as it seeks to raise funds for its six-day performance tour to New York City next May.

On Saturday, October 18, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls, the choir will conduct a huge rummage sale and flea market. Forty families will set up tables with crafts, baked goods, garden produce, rummaged items and much more, according to Darcy Reese, vocal music instructor at Lincoln and concert choir director.

Some of the students will be operating games for children, doing face painting and perhaps offering balloons. Leonardo the Llama has been donated to the choir and, in addition to being part of a petting zoo operated by choir members Tiffany Lee and Sunny Carlson, will be offered for sale on a silent auction between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

At the petting zoo outside the armory, feed will be for sale for 25 cents so youngsters can feed the animals.

Sign-up will also be conducted at the door for various door prizes to be awarded throughout the day.

A special table will be set up at the armory for the choir to sell one-dollar tickets on the Big Apple Raffle which has 60 prizes to be won. Tickets are also being sold by the 74 choir members who have registered to make the New York trip.

According to Mrs. Reese, all proceeds from the rummage sale/flea market and the raffle will be used toward student expenses for the tour. The choir will be performing Mozart's Mass in C minor at Carnegie Hall and is in the process of making audition tapes for appearances at major cathedrals in New York City.

Businesses which have donated an item, certificate or cash to the raffle include the following:

Universal Screenprint, blue and gold jacket; Kmart, compact cassette player; Danny's Pizza, $30 gift certificate; Erl's Market, two six-piece buckets of chicken; Kezar Music, dual cassette/CD boom box; Evergreen, $20 gift certificate; C'mon Inn, one-night stay; and Thrifty White Drug, $10 gift certificate.

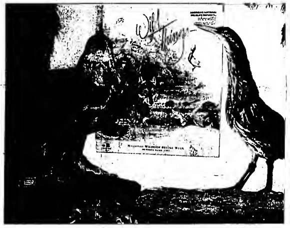
Demolition of the Dobnar-Meehan building which was destroyed by fire, which was intentionally set on September 2, began on Thursday. Rubble on the sidewalk includes pallets to protect the sidewalks from being damaged by falling debris. Second Street south of the building remains blocked off. Other areas around the building also remain cordoned off to protect people from falling brick or debris. Everyone is being asked to use caution when approaching the building, and motorists are reminded to pay attention to what's happening on the road in front of them. There have been a number of minor accidents near the building.

Agassiz Refuge Open House Sunday



A poster promoting National Wildlife Refuge Week October 12 - 18 hangs between an immature American bald eagle and American bittern on display in the headquarters building at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge. Agassiz Refuge, one of 511 refuges in the National Wildlife Refuge System, is celebrating its 60th anniversary on Sunday, October 12 with an open house from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge is located 23 miles northeast of Thief River Falls.

Looking for something "wild" this weekend? In conjunction with National Wildlife Refuge Week, the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge will celebrate its 60th anniversary with an open house from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Agassiz Refuge History

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge lies within the area of glacial Lake Agassiz. The area was a paradise for waterfowl and wildlife before man made changes to the land.

In 1910, a costly and extensive drainage project was approved by District Court Order of Marshall County. Approximately one million dollars had been spent on the Judicial Ditch 11 System by 1933. The Mud Lake area had been drained and became so tax delinquent that the state legislature protected Marshall County from bankruptcy by appropriating $750,000 to absorb the delinquent drainage taxes.

The State, in return, had the right to use those lands for conservation purposes through its Conservation Department. The areas became so expensive to maintain that authorization was given to the state Conservation Department through the U.S. Resettlement Administration to purchase the lands.

On March 23, 1937, the state turned the lands over to the Bureau of Biological Survey, now the Department of Interior, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge was established and developed.

In 1937, a major program began to restore the wetlands of the area. A dike system was formed, and drainage ditches were closed. Over the years, 19 pools have been developed at Agassiz Refuge.

Agassiz Refuge Today

Composed of 40,094 acres of wetland, 10,000 acres of shrubland, 7,000 acres of forestland, 4,256 acres of grassland and 150 acres of cropland, Agassiz Refuge's 61,500 acres are located in the aspen parkland region of northwestern Minnesota – the transition zone between the coniferous forest, tall grass zone and the prairie pothole region of the United States.

The 19 pools in the refuge range in size from 100 to 10,000 acres. Water levels are managed by a system of dikes, water control structures and spillways. Approximately 3,000 acres of black spruce and tamarack grow in the north-central area of the refuge.

Natural and managed habitats at Agassiz Refuge provide a haven for many species of wildlife – 280 species of birds, 49 species of mammals, 12 species of amphibians and nine species of reptiles inhabit the refuge.

Agassiz Refuge is a bird watcher's paradise of national renown. Another popular visitor attraction is the opportunity to view moose in the wild. The average moose population of the refuge and adjoining state wildlife management areas is 250. White-tailed deer are abundant throughout the refuge, and Agassiz is one of several National Wildlife Refuges in the lower 48

North Star Racing Series prepares for season

Encouraged by a successful first year in 1996-97 and buoyed by the attraction of a series sponsor, organizers and promoters of the Roetin North Star Racing Series are gearing up for an event-filled season of snowmobile racing in 1997-98.

"The series is affiliated with the International Snowmobile Racing association and is oriented to the amateur racer," explained Jerry Erickson, director. "It will be held at several sites throughout Minnesota and North Dakota and feature some of the best up-and-coming professional and amateur drivers. The entire series is based on sportsmanship and safety."

Erickson said the intention is to build on a strong first season which gained favor with drivers, sponsors and racing fans alike. There were 108 yearly members in the series' first year.

"Some exciting changes are taking place for the coming year," he said, "the most important of which is more money to the drivers. From a fan and racer standpoint, we will also conduct the NStar 500—a cross-country race that will be run around the central location of Thief River Falls/Red Lake Falls January 10-12."

A Women's Pro Class with engines up to 500cc has been added to the classes this year and liquid-cooled sleds up to 500cc also will be allowed in the Masters Class. The Women's Pro Class will have guaranteed purses of $500 plus 70 percent of the entry fees and the Masters Class will have a guaranteed purse of $250 plus 70 percent.

Other classes and guaranteed purses include: Pro 440 Liquid, $1,000 plus 70 percent; Sport 440 Fan, $500 plus 70 percent, 600 Single Pipe, $250 plus 70 percent; 500 Class, 70 percent; and Junior 340 Fan, trophy only.

Location and type of the opening race of the season December 13-14 are yet to be announced. Scheduled race dates, locations and types include the following:

December 27-28, Lake Bronson, lake race;

January 10-12, Thief River Falls/Red Lake Falls, cross country (NStar 500 and Diehard 100);

January 17-18, Grand Forks, ND, sno-cross;

February 7-8, Warren, sno-cross.

February 14, Cavalier, ND, cross country; and February 21-22, Strathcona, cross country.

Yearly membership is $100 and

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Interesting main dish meal ideas for these snappy fall days are what today's recipes are all about.

You might like to try this easy, make-ahead recipe on one of these busy fall days:

CROCK POT PORK CHOPS

6 to 8 pork chops
1/3 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 can cream of chicken soup

Mix flour, mustard and garlic salt and dredge pork chops in the mixture.

Heat shortening in a skillet and brown chops on both sides. Place chops in crock pot and add soup. Cook on low for 6-8 hours or on high for 3-4 hours.

I'm sure I've seen another recipe like this one and it was called "Christmas Shopping Stew." Either way, this is a good meal to make on a busy day:

BAKED STEW

1 (2 pound) chuck roast, cut into small pieces
1 cup celery, cut into pieces
6 medium carrots, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons Minute tapioca (very important to thicken the stew)
1 medium can stewed tomatoes
3 medium onions, sliced
3/4 cup red wine (tenderizes meat and adds flavor)
Mushrooms (optional)
Green pepper (optional)

Mix all ingredients and bake in a covered casserole for 4-5 hours at 250 degrees. Add 1 can of potatoes an hour before serving.

Use the last of the garden broccoli or use frozen broccoli for this wonderful, light main dish meal - wouldn't it be good with a warm, crusty French bread on the side:

BROCCOLI SPAGHETTI

1 bunch fresh broccoli or 2 packages frozen
1 pound spaghetti
2 cloves garlic, sliced
Parmesan cheese
1 cube butter, melted
Salt and pepper to taste

Heat 4 quarts water to boiling and add 2 teaspoons salt. Add spaghetti and cook for 2 minutes.

Cut up broccoli into 1 inch pieces and add to spaghetti. Cook for 8 minutes and then drain in colander.

Brown garlic in melted butter and then remove garlic from butter. Pour butter over spaghetti and sprinkle generously with Parmesan, along with salt and pepper to taste. Serve immediately.

This is another way to use something from the garden to make a delicious meal – it's like easy, unrolled cabbage rolls:

CABBAGE AND HAMBURGER CASSEROLE

1 pound ground beef
1 onion, chopped
1 cup white rice
Shredded cabbage
1 can tomato soup
1-1/2 cans water
Cheddar cheese

Cook beef, onion and rice together until meat is crumbly.

Grease 8x10 baking dish and layer with shredded cabbage. Top with meat mixture.

Combine soup and water and pour over meat mixture. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for about 1 hour. Top with cheddar and return to oven to melt.

One more tangy, tasty dish that the family will enjoy:

ZUCCHINI ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

3 or 4 tender zucchini, grated
1 pound Cheddar cheese, grated (or other favorite type of cheese) (divided)
1/2 cup sliced or chopped olives
1 large onion, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
1 dozen corn tortillas
1 (19 ounce) can enchilada sauce

Mix zucchini, olives, onions and cheese (saving 1 cup for top of casserole), salt and pepper.

Heat tortillas in a skillet with a small amount of oil for 5 seconds per side (or place in a single layer in a 350 degree oven on oiled cookie sheet for about 5 minutes)

Line casserole dish with tortillas, add 1/2 of the zucchini and cheese mixture, then repeat layers until all ingredients are used, beginning and ending with tortillas.

Pour enchilada sauce over all and sprinkle with reserved cheese.

Bake in a microwave on high for 10-12 minutes, turning once, or bake in the oven at 350 degrees for 30-40 minutes, until brown and bubbly.

Parents invited to lunch with their children

National School Lunch Week is being observed October 13-15 and parents of students in School District 564 are invited to have lunch with their children any day during the week. Cost is $2.35 per adult.

While parents are welcome on any school day throughout the year, it is expected many visitors will participate in the lunch program next week. Because of this, parents are requested to notify the school lunch staff of the day or days they plan to visit.

At Lincoln high school, lunch sessions are from 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 12:30 to 1 p.m.

At Franklin middle school, grade eight has its lunch time from 10:55 to 11:25 a.m., grade six from 11:26 to 11:56 a.m., and grade seven from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m.

At Challenger elementary school, grade one eats from 10:45 to 11:10 a.m., grade four from 11:15 to 11:35 a.m., grade two from 11:35 to 11:55 a.m., grade three from 12 noon to 12:20 p.m. and grade five from 12:20 to 12:40 p.m.

Thank You

"Thank You" to everyone who sent cards, gifts, flowers & phone calls to honor us on our 40th Anniversary.

A special "Thank You" to those who traveled far & near to celebrate with us.

We are grateful to our loving family for giving us a celebration that we will laugh, cry and reminisce about for years to come. Also for the neat idea of a "Memory Book" of old photos, and fun stories of fond memories.

God Bless!!

Community Newspapers Continue Public Role

Today is the last day of National Newspaper Week, and the observance almost slipped past us without being noticed. We don't pay as much attention as we should to our own industry, including doing a little horn-blowing when warranted, and American Newspaper Week gives us an excuse to do that.

As we go about our day-to-day work of writing about the people and events of our immediate world, and publishing that collection of written items, we tend to look at it mostly as simply another job to do and deadline to meet. It takes some reflection to look back to the days when we were exposed to only the reading side of the community press and not the writing side.

Recently we read some of the results of a study conducted by the National Newspaper Association and called "Focus on the Reader: A Study of Community Newspaper Readership" as well as a couple of other studies. These results remind us that the significance of our work doesn't end with filing of the story.

The survey found, for instance, that Americans are more interested in local community news than any other kind of news. That hits us right dead center, because community news is our specialty. It's what we are as a local newspaper.

With this interest in community news, it makes sense to us that newspapers are the primary source of local community news in nearly two-thirds of households in areas where community papers distribute—another finding of the study. The paper is available for reading at the convenience of the user, unlike the fleeting images on television or voices on the radio. Of course it is the primary news source for so many.

In 1996 in the United States there were 7,915 weekly newspapers with a combined circulation of 81.6 million. Circulation of weeklies grew 2.4 percent from 1995 and is expected to grow .6 percent next year. Weekly newspapers halve more than 150 million readers nationwide.

The study revealed that 83 percent of community newspaper readers read every issue or almost every issue of their community newspaper.

Recognizing this readership, advertisers spent $4.57 billion on weekly newspaper advertising in 1996, up 7.5 percent from 1995. That figure was forecast to reach $4.9 billion in 1997.

In 1996, consumers spent $432 million on weekly newspapers, up 3.2 percent from 1995, and were expected to spend $437 million in 1997. By 2001, combined advertising and circulation spending on weekly newspaper is projected to reach $6.8 billion. The average price of a single copy of a paid weekly newspaper is 41.5 cents.

It is gratifying to go into schools, business places, offices or homes in the area and see clippings from our newspapers on bulletin boards, counters, tables and refrigerators. We know we have provided a service when such clippings appear and/or are saved for future reference.

Newspapers can also teach and should be a part of most school classrooms at one time or another if not all the time during the school year. We encourage such use, agreeing with the following reasons provided by the Virginia Press Association as to why newspapers are valuable in the classroom

1. Newspapers make learning fun;
2. Newspapers are easy to use;
3. Newspapers are extremely flexible and adaptable to all curriculum areas and grade levels;
4. Newspapers motivate students to read;
5. Newspapers keep students informed;
6. Newspapers link students to the real world;
7. Newspapers are a common community link—a community talking to itself;
8. Newspapers are an excellent remedial tool with high status as an adult medium;
9. Newspapers help students understand freedom of the press and other rights guaranteed by the Constitution.;
10. Newspapers are ideal for building many educational skills, such as locating information, identifying the main idea of a paragraph, developing better critical thinking skills, understanding cause and effect, recognizing important details, determining accuracy, proofreading, anticipating outcomes and improving skimming, scanning an surveying skills;
11. Newspapers build good reading habits;
12. Newspapers can be cut, marked, clipped, pasted and filed;
13. Newspapers give everybody something interesting to read;
14. Newspapers entertain and they teach;
15. Newspapers are a cost effective way to educate.

And while we're on the subject of newspapers, we shouldn't neglect recycling as a topic of interest. This activity has been increasing to the point that in 1995 more than eight million of the 13 million tons of newspapers in the United States were recovered and recycled, and the rate has been climbing steadily since 1988. The 63 percent recycling rate in 1995 was up 30 percent from 10 years earlier. In 1995, newsprint comprised only 4.6 percent of total waste in the nation's landfills, compared with 5.8 percent of total waste in 1980.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Hold the presses!!

I did not write a "letter to the editor" to pass along my opinion on the personal life of Princess Diana, or the tragic accident that took her life, or how it may or may not have affected people's lives in our community. I e-mailed the editor of The Times/ Northern Watch that Lucy "missed the point" and "didn't have a clue" behind a conversation the editor and I had over the statement she had made that the Princess had raised more money than anyone for the needy.

In comparison with the Jerry Lewis telethon and other such fundraisers, it was my opinion Lucy had missed this point and "didn't have a clue" as to the amount of funds that have been raised by others.

Although I may have my own opinions regarding those who compare the Princess to Mother Theresa, and whether or not I care if the Princess is a role model for women everywhere, and whether or not I care if there is a role model for men everywhere, and whether or not I agree or disagree with the opinion Lucy made in her letter to the editor, I believe stating an opinion either way would be societal suicide for me in a town this small.

Criticism or support of the Princess would bring a flurry of negative comments toward the person who makes them and I'm getting them now—and didn't even get to pass along my opinion. People on both sides of this issue have called me (and my relatives) in support of the editorial in The Times and in support of Lucy's letter to the editor. The majority of calls and comments to me were. "What on earth did you say to this person?"

For those of you who have asked, I hope this satisfied your curiosity—or your anger. I did not make a statement either way about the Princess, or someone's opinion of her personal life, and I don't intend to. I'll leave that to those whose "qualified" opinions count. Mine don't. Didn't say a thing, folks. Sorry to disappoint you.

Also, in defense of the editor: When I made these comments by e-mail I should have remembered where and to whom I was sending it. After an editor of a paper writes his editorial, any comments about the issue sent to the editor—whether it is in agreement or whether it opposes the editor's view—is what editors publish, unless the party says otherwise. I didn't. My mistake, not his

Yes, I said, "keep up the good work." If an editor does not create dialog in his community, whether it is for or against viewpoints on issues of interest, that he has missed the point of editorial journalism. This editor didn't miss it..(Stay with me now, this is simple). I believed this editor created a dialog with his editorial and I did not say I agreed or disagreed with him. What I said, and still say, is "keep up the good work." He certainly got someone excited.

Furthermore, are there not issues here at home for us to write more about and discuss? For instance how about more on the Sunday booze issue, is it a cultural center or an athletic center that grants were applied for and received; what ever happened to the swimming pool that people gave money for an never had returned? Hey, don't get mad again; it was just a question.

Now, seriously, laying all that aside, would anyone care to create a dialog about the serious availability of drugs and the increase in use by our children in Thief River Falls, what is being done about it, and what we can do as parents to assist law enforcement?

Or are you convinced we do not have this problem in our community and that your child will not be involved with drugs because you are confident that the way you are raising your child will make him or her immune to any involvement with drugs and you haven't heard of any drug problem anyway?

Or should we spend more of our time discussing things that don't affect us, as I just did in having to answer for something I cannot do a thing about, nor is at the top of my priority list, and stick our heads in the sand and refuse to believe that this is actually happening in our town?

If you're interested, call me. Or send e-mail to me at the address www.leepfrog@northernnet.com.

If you don't believe we have a drug problem in our community, call someone else who doesn't care.

Did anyone get the point this time?

Sincerely,
Ed Leeper

Vote JERRY UNRUH For Mayor

Thief River Falls needs a mayor that knows the job description of Mayor. In the Sunday, Sept. 21, 1997 Grand Forks Herald article, mayor Bob Reeves states, "The mayor in our city doesn't have vote power. He's just a member with the rest of the council."

This is untrue, or what he may want the citizens of Thief River Falls to think. Why would we need a mayor if he's just a member?

The Mayor in a Weak-Mayor Council Plan does have limited veto power and appointive power. The mayor is definitely not "just a member with the rest of the council." He is the Leader of the council. The mayor is also a public Servant, elected by the people to speak on their behalf, not for a few bar owners.

In knowing the job description of Mayor in a Weak-Mayor Council Plan, the mayor would be less likely to be railroaded in to bad decisions made by the council, or promoted by the community development director. (Such as the $5000,000.00 price tag of the baseball/softball complex, paying $237,696.00 for the Northwest Minnesota Multi-County Housing Authority shortfall, $39,600.00 for this year's unnecessary advertising of municipal liquor, a $1,500,000.00 Park & Rec. Dept. budget completely out of line with its revenue production, and giving Jobs Inc. $30,000.00 this year to promote what, a coffee time.)

A vote for Jerry Unruh is a vote for Strong Leadership. I will Stop the way this city is spending your Tax Dollars. I will be the Leader of our city council, not just a member with the rest of the council. Thank you

Winter Storage Leads To Stale Gas In RV/Boats

Most of us who have tugged repeatedly on the starter cord of a power mower or outboard motor are familiar with the stale gas syndrome. Gasoline does not store well over long periods of time. After several months of storage, when it lies dormant in fuel lines or in the carburetor, gas may deteriorate due to oxidation, causing performance problems and obstructions in fine orifices. It also can damage rubber and other polymers in the fuel system.

The extra can of gas you may have kept around for an emergency also is a potential source of fuel system trouble, especially if it has not had stabilizer added, which helps prevent deterioration of stored gas. While most small engine manufacturers recommend the use of this kind of product, they also warn against storing fuel for more than 30 days.

If you drive a pick-up truck, van or motor home with dual gas tanks, remember occasionally to switch from one tank to the other to avoid ending up with one tankfull of gas that's gone stale.

Car Care Council emphasizes that clean, uncontaminated gas is essential for fuel-injected engines, whose tiny orifices are vulnerable to impurities. Buy quality fuel and change fuel filters regularly, suggests the Council.

Strong Batteries Boost Winter Car Starts

One of the best ways to protect against winter car trouble is to be certain your battery is fully charged and in proper working condition, according to the American Automobile Association.

"When the temperature drops to near zero, the number of calls AAA receives from stranded motorists soars," said George Giek, director of AAA Automotive Engineering. "The most common cause of these cold-weather breakdowns is weak or dead batteries."

Some AAA clubs experienced more than four times the normal emergency road service call volume during last winter's most severe cold snaps.

As part of National Car Care Month, AAA is recommending motorists closely monitor the condition of the vehicle's battery, especially batteries more than two years old.

"Although batteries can carry warranties of four years or more, a warranty is no guarantee an older battery will continue to work in severe weather," Giek said.

The most common sign of a weak battery is an unusual sound coming from the starter motor when the ignition key is turned, indicating difficulty in turning over the engine.

If the vehicle is difficult to start, check that battery connections are tight and no corrosion is present on the battery terminal. To remove corrosion, use an old tooth brush to clean the cable connectors and terminals with a solution of baking soda and water.

Next, inspect the tension of all drive belts. They should flex no more than one-half inch. Also, if the battery's fluid level can be checked, make certain the fluid covers the battery plates.

If no problems are found and the vehicle is still difficult to start, drive to a service station or auto parts store to have the battery and charging system tested and, if necessary, replaced.

In addition to weak or dead batteries, starting problems can be caused by malfunctioning alternators or starter motors. A qualified repair facility, such as those recognized by the AAA Approved Auto Repair program, can make an accurate diagnosis and repair.

In 1995, AAA provided emergency road service a record 27.5 million times. More than 30 percent of those calls were for cars that failed to start.

If the vehicle will not start, use caution and follow instructions in the owner's manual when attempting a jump-start. If unsure about the proper procedure, call your auto club or another qualified professional for assistance.

To help avoid winter breakdowns, AAA recommends motorists have their cars and trucks thoroughly inspected before cold weather arrives. In addition to the battery, fluids, belts, hoses, filters and tires should all be checked.

Because of the difficult driving conditions often encountered in the winter, motorists should also be sure their lighting systems, brakes and windshield wipers are functioning properly.

AAA is a not-for-profit federation of 106 motor clubs with more than 1,000 offices providing 39 million members in the U.S. and Canada with travel, insurance, financial and auto-related services.

New Computer Program Offers Help On Car Care

Here's a great way to turn your computer into a piece of car care equipment. Just slip Carley's Car Care Guide into your IBM-compatible personal computer and you'll have an electronic book at your fingertips.

It provides helpful hints and detailed instructions on all aspects of basic maintenance. It also features a huge glossary of technical terms.

In addition, there are articles on technical subjects of current interest, such as anti-lock brakes (ABS), air bags, emissions, computerized engine controls and many more.

The Car Care Guide, an MS-DOS program that also can be run under Windows, comes on a 1.44 MB, 3.5 inch diskette. It requires a mouse, VGA or SVGA color monitor and hard drive.

You can order your guide by sending a check or money order for $14.95 to Car Care Council, Dept WE7-CCG, One Grande Lake Drive, Port Clinton, OH 43452.

Mopar CUSTOMER CARE

Thousands of individual components make up a vehicle's operating systems. With normal use, these components are subject to wear, deterioration and corrosion.

Lubricants and fluids, which are vital to keeping a vehicle running smoothly are also subject to deterioration and contamination over time.

Manufacturers recommend regular vehicle maintenance to inspect components that are particularly subject to wear and to replace the lubricants and fluids that have reached the end of their service life.

All vehicle manufacturers have recommended maintenance intervals. Maintenance is recommended based on three factors. 1. Odometer reading (mileage), 2. elapsed time (number of months since the last scheduled maintenance), 3. the condition under which the vehicle is regularly driven. Most vehicle owners should follow the mileage recommendations for maintenance. However, people whose driving consists primarily of short trips and who accumulate mileage slowly should follow the recommended time periods. Service intervals also depend upon whether the vehicle is driven under "normal" or "severe" conditions conditions as listed in the owners manual. An item not listed in most owners manuals is severe cold. When a vehicle's engine temperature can range from -30 degrees to 210 degrees (some vehicles several times a day) it can lead to premature wear on many of the components designed to help your vehicle run at its peak performance. In these extreme conditions it's best to follow the severe maintenance schedule.

Whether it's called vehicle maintenance or preventative maintenance, a key purpose is to maintain a vehicle's performance. Contributing to longer life, a better driving economy and more reliable operation is also integral.

Maintenance also prevents small problems from becoming bigger ones and ensures the vehicle is as safe as possible and conforms with safety and emissions laws and regulations.

Call or stop in and talk to Mark or Barry to discuss your vehicles recommended maintenance.

Winter Can Be A Tough Season On Your Vehicle's Paint Finish

Snow, rain, ice, road salt and gravel - all can contribute to the deterioration of even today's durable finishes. Yet, there are some simple things you can do to help protect your vehicle's paint this winter and throughout the year.

"Caring for your car's paint is obviously a good investment," says David Heckeler of I-CAR, a non-profit collision repair training organization. "A well-maintained finish enhances the vehicle's value at trade-in time. More importantly, the paint helps prevent rusting of sheet-metal parts."

Therefore, one of the best ways to protect your vehicle's finish, according to Heckeler, is to park out of the elements, whenever possible. If you do have to park outdoors in the winter, don't use an ice scraper on anything but the windows; scraping ice or snow off painted surfaces is likely to damage the finish.

If you live in an area that uses road salt to melt ice or snow, Heckeler says it's a good idea to frequently clean and rinse areas of the vehicle where salt might collect. This includes the engine compartment and wheel wells, lower trim pieces, and inside door edges.

Another culprit identified by Heckeler is gravel used to improve traction on slippery roads. It can be damaging to a vehicle's finish.

Slow down, not only to avoid losing control of your vehicle, but also to reduce the amount of gravel kicked up onto your vehicle and the vehicles behind you. Stay far enough back from the vehicle in front of you so that you're not driving into a spray of gravel.

I-CAR suggests other ways to protect your vehicle's finish throughout the year:

- Avoid parking in direct sunlight, particularly in the summer. Parking in a garage or shady area is desirable, but try to avoid parking under trees that may drip sap onto your vehicle.
- Remove tree sap, bird droppings, gasoline or other harsh materials from your vehicle's finish as quickly as possible.
- Wash the vehicle when it is cool and parked out of direct sunlight. Wet it down thoroughly, then wash using warm water, a clean, soft wash mitt or sponge, and a car-wash soap. Never wash any panel unless it is thoroughly wet. Start with the roof and work your way down and around, rinsing each section as you finish. To rinse, take the nozzle off the hose and just let the water flow freely over the entire car. Dry it with a clean chamois or soft towel.
- Wax your vehicle at least twice a year. Wax only when the vehicle is clean and cool. Having it in a garage or enclosed area will help prevent dirt and dust from blowing onto the finish while waxing. Use a high-quality car wax, apply it with a wax applicator, and remove it with a clean, soft cloth.

When washing isn't enough. If part of your vehicle needs repainting, choose a repair business carefully. Poor paint work may have a big impact on its resale value.

In choosing a repair and painting business, look for evidence that the technicians have been properly trained in paint matching and application.

Most paint manufacturers offer technician training in the proper use of their products. Further, look for evidence that the technicians have received current training in collision repair and refinishing.

"Preparation, color matching and application are among the courses offered by I-CAR for body and paint technicians," Heckeler says. "We want to match not only the appearance of the original paint, but also its durability and corrosion protection."

The I-CAR Gold Class Professionals designation signifies that at least 80 percent of a shop's staff are I-CAR trained. The Gold Class designation was established to help consumers identify businesses that have invested in proper training.

By requalifying for the Gold Class designation every year, repair businesses and insurance claims offices demonstrate their commitment for the I-CAR philosophy of restoring vehicles to pre-accident condition. For the location of an I-CAR Gold Class business near you, call 1-800-ICAR-USA.

Help Your Car Through The Cold Months Ahead

One theme common to many TV commercials is car trouble on a cold winter day. The vehicle is disabled and its owner is stranded. The message, of course, is that such a crisis can be prevented through the use of the sponsor's product, be it a new battery or a cellular phone.

A seldom advertised aspect of preventive maintenance that deserves high marks for helping drivers avoid car trouble costs little or nothing. It's basic knowledge of the systems and components that should be checked and serviced to prevent failure and symptoms that signal pending failure.

Car Care Council says that, while some mechanical failures cannot be anticipated, most are preceded by some visible or audible indicator. One sample, the family that was stranded in snow when the battery went dead because the alternator light remained on due to a slipping drive belt. That predicament easily could have been avoided, first by the periodic inspection of drive belts and, later, by acting on the signal from the instrument panel.

Even if your vehicle is fairly new, use this winter check list. The Council reports four out of five vehicles that go through their inspection lanes need maintenance. And for additional tips on preparing one's vehicle for cold weather, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Car Care Council, Dept. W, One Grande Lake Drive, Port Clinton, OH 43452.

Northland volleyball team is defeated 3-0 by UND-Lake Region

UND-Lake Region swept Northland Community and Technical College 15-13, 15-6, 15-11 Tuesday in a volleyball match played at Devils Lake, ND.

Naomi Wilebski had 11 kills and Meckenzie Malwitz wound up with 11 assists for the Pioneers, who went into the match minus setter Melissa Bernstein, sidelined by a back problem.

The loss dropped the Pioneers to 6-8 for the year.

Volleyball

A Tuesday eighth grade volleyball outing produced a split as Franklin Middle School won a 15-6, 15-8, 15-11 A match and Crookston posted a 4-15, 15-13, 15-10 win in the B match.

Seventh grade volleyball team played three matches against East Grand Forks Saturday (Oct. 4), then had A-B matches against Roseau Monday and Crookston Tuesday.

It was a clean Franklin sweep over the East Grand Forks seventh graders – 15-3, 15-7 in the A match, 15-11, 15-4 in the B match, and 15-6, 15-5 in the C match.

Roseau seventh graders beat the Franklin A team 5-15, 15-5, 15-13 and won the B match 15-10, 15-1, 15-0.

Franklin A team defeated Roseau 15-6, 15-2, while Crookston won the B match 15-13, 10-15, 15-6.

Tennis

Two tournament appearances closed out the 1997 season for the Franklin Middle School tennis team Friday (Oct. 3), host Crookston won a three-team event, followed by Franklin and Bemidji. The following day, the large Franklin squad was divided into three teams for the Detroit Lakes Invitational, where two of the Franklin teams collected 8 points each, followed by Park Rapids with 6, the third Franklin team with 5, Fergus Falls 2, and Detroit Lakes 1.

Beating Mahnomen 6-3 in an Oct. 2 match closed out an 11-1 dual meet schedule. Those results included:

Patriots top Mustangs

Win-E-Mac defeated Red Lake County Central 15-11, 15-9, 12-15, 16-14 Thursday in a match-up of the area's top high school volleyball teams.

Impressive numbers were recorded by the Mustangs' Angie Chervestad with 31 kills and Frances Hilgeman with 42 assists, and by the Patriots' Nicki Hole with 25 kills and Kathleen Hegg with 41 assists. Jenny Brekkestan added 18 kills to the Red Lake County Central totals.

Both teams came into the match with two losses. The host Patriots are ranked No. 2 in the Class A state polls.

"It was a good match," reported Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. "Both sides played really well. It could have gone either way."

The Mustangs served 97 percent for the night, including 100 percent serving in Games 2 and 3, but only two of those went for aces.

"We served really well, but they picked everything up," noted Bray, whose team started the night in a 9-2 hole before coming back to play the Patriots on near-even terms. "I hope we get to play them again in the (Section 8A) tournament. I know they'll be there. I hope we are, too."

The Mustangs are hosting the eight-team Red Lake County Central Invitational today (Saturday), with matches being played at both Oklee and Plummer.

Becky Mooney wins at Park Rapids meet

Becky Mooney was the winner Monday in the girls' portion of the Park Rapids Invitational high school cross country meet, giving the Thief River Falls senior her fifth title in eight races this fall. She ran second in the other three meets.

"Becky once again proved herself as an excellent athlete," said Thief River Falls coach Teri Ueland.

Thief River Falls boys were led by a ninth place finish by Rob Russillo.

"Rob pushed hard, and has really helped us out (since joining the team)," noted Ueland, whose squad has been hampered by a series of recent injuries. "Justin Walseth has been running with a bad ankle, but he ran great," she added.

Ueland said her first year as a head coach has been an enjoyable experience. "They ran well," she said after the Park Rapids meet. "I'm real happy with the team. We're having both a successful and a fun season."

TRF Places - Park Rapids
- Varsity girls - 1. Becky Mooney, 18:18, 12. Amber Kinker, 18:23, 16. Jacki Mooney, 18:30, 26. Lisa McKercher, 19:37, 28. Jill Panek, 19:43, 32. Janae Harlow, 19:48, 36. Breann Fugelberg, 20:04, 50. Diana Holstad, 25:05.

Prowlers rally for volleyball win...

TRF beats EGF 3-1

A typically slow-starting Thief River Falls team followed its season-long pattern Tuesday in an 8-15, 15-11, 15-8, 15-4 high school volleyball win at East Grand Forks.

"We were really struggling at the beginning," acknowledged Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche, "but that's nothing new for us. It seems like we always start slow. But we're able to come back."

Aided by four Thief River Falls errors, Kaley Budge served the final six points in Game 1 that was 9-8 before the Green Wave broke away at the end.

East Grand Forks chopped a 14-6 second-game deficit to 14-11 until the Prowlers' Lisa Dicken closed it out by drilling the ball through a blocker.

The Green Wave continued to give the Prowlers trouble in Game 3, going ahead 8-3 following a kill by Danielle Maloney and back-to-back aces by Budge. But Thief River Falls scored the final 12 points - pulling even on a kill by Taya Hunt and going ahead 9-8 on a drive by Lindsay Drury. An ace by Dicken made it 14-8 and Drury beat a double-block for the final point.

The third-game comeback carried over to a Game 4 blow-out that was highlighted by the night's biggest hit – an eye-opening side-out kill by Nicole Kopari that helped stake the Prowlers to a quick 5-0 lead.

"It was a good team effort," said Roche. "A lot of kids came in and did a nice job."

Dicken had 14 kills and Drury 10 to lead the Thief River Falls attack that included 16 assists for Hunt and 15 by Erica McGeary. Hunt and Dicken also had three aces each.

Thief River Falls was able to gain Game 3 side-outs with East Grand Forks serving at 14, 15, 16 and 17 points to pull out a come-from-behind 7-15, 15-11, 19-17 junior varsity win. East Grand Forks won the C squad match 16-14, 9-15, 15-4.

Wolverines' bench has role in 3-2 Tuesday win

Angie Gast and Kathryn Stanley came off the bench to make key contributions to a 3-2 Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke high school volleyball win over Red Lake Falls Tuesday at Grygla.

The Wolverines improved their record to 12-7 with a 15-4, 15-4, 6-15, 3-15, 15-13 win.

"We had some kids who came off the bench and played really well for us," said Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Sehulz, pointing to Gast and Stanley.

The Wolverines' leaders were Kristin Halvorson with nine kills, Mandy Sjulestad with four aces and Dana Wiseth with nine assists.

Gators vs. Bears

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River lost its second 3-0 decision of the year to Lake of the Woods Tuesday.

The visiting Bears rolled to a 15-4, 15-4, 15-9 decision that dropped the Gators to 8-10 for the year.

"We didn't have much intensity," reported Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Christine Adrian. "The kids just didn't get into it. We did play better in the third game, and the score showed it."

Mustangs vs. Pirates

Adjusting to the defense used by Crookston, Red Lake County Central overcame a 6-0 first-game deficit Tuesday en route to a 15-11, 15-7, 15-6 sweep at Plummer.

"They blocked the middle on us," pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. "That forced us to go to the outside."

Not a problem for a team with a trio of hitters like Angie Chervestad (11 kills), Jenny Brekkestran (10) and Jenni Monnville (10).

"Jenny Brekkestran had a really good match on the outside," noted Bray, "and Erin Melby had another good night serving."

Melby had seven service points in Game 1, and 14 for the match on a perfect 18-for-18 night at the line.

The win put the Mustangs at 16-2.

Nordies vs. Rams

Marshall County Central lost its fourth straight 3-0 match on a Tuesday trip to Roseau, dropping the Nordies to 4-14 for the year.

The Rams won 15-2, 15-0, 15-8.

Thief River Falls' Taya Hunt punched the ball over the net against Detroit Lakes defender Lisa Elijah (19) during Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball match in the Lincoln gym. The Lakers outlasted the Prowlers 3-2.

Detroit Lakes outlasts TRF 3-2

Detroit Lakes got out of a Game 4 jam and went on to beat Thief River Falls 3-2 Thursday in North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball.

The Lakers won the two-hour battle 11-15, 15-7, 11-15, 15-13, 15-9.

Thief River Falls had a chance to wrap up a 3-1 win in Game 4 with a 13-12 lead following a Laura Follett ace.

But the Prowlers could not retain the serve, and Detroit Lakes quickly rattled off three game-winning, match-extending points. An errant Thief River Falls pass tied it; a Jessie Matson ace put the Lakers ahead 14-13; and a Lisa Elijah block won it.

Jaime Bruflodt and Elijah sparked the Lakers' efforts as they built a 10-5 lead in Game 5. An ace by the Prowlers' Taya Hunt and back-to-back Detroit Lakes errors closed the gap to 10-8, but Detroit Lakes then came up with point-producing hits by Bruflodt, Jessica Abrahams and Matson, along with an ace by Nicole Haverkamp, for a 14-8 advantage.

It took Detroit Lakes four service rotations to pick up that final point, but Thief River Falls, while coming up with side-out plays, could not close the scoreboard gap. A kill by Matson ended it.

"You hate to lose something like that," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Bruce Jean. "Both teams played with a lot of heart. Nobody was backing down."

Thief River Falls overcame a 6-0 deficit to win Game 1, going ahead for the first time at 11-10, on a Rachel Mathson kill through a double-block, then finishing the come-from-behind effort on an ace by Lisa Dicken.

There was no Thief River Falls rally in Game 2, where a run by Bruflodt that included two kills and then back-to-back jump-serve aces provided the Lakes with an 11-4 cushion.

Neither side put together a run in Game 3, but the Prowlers won out when consecutive aces by Dicken broke an 11-11 tie. A well-placed shot by Taya Hunt found a hole to put Thief River Falls ahead, and Detroit Lakes hit long to end it.

Thief River Falls, however, could not put Detroit Lakes away in the fourth game.

"The momentum change was unbelievable," noted Jean. "They (Lakers) got the breaks the last two games. The ball just landed in the right spots for them."

The Prowlers played well enough to win, according to Jean, but he said they could have done a better job both serving and blocking as they lost for the first time in three North Sub-Section 8AA outings – including earlier wins over Bemidji and Moorhead. Detroit Lakes lost two matches to the Spuds this fall.

Dicken had 19 kills for the Prowlers, followed by Lindsay Drury with 11 and Hunt with eight. Hunt finished with 20 assists, while Erica McGeary had 15. Drury had a a team-high five blocks; Hunt wound up with four.

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity match 15-6, 3-15, 15-1. Detroit Lakes took the C squad match 15-7, 15-9.

North Sub-Section 8AA girls team tournament...

Prowlers win tennis crown

Third-seeded Thief River Falls beat Detroit Lakes, Alexandria and Bemidji Wednesday to win the 1997 North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school tennis tournament team title at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre.

The Prowlers' championship performance ended a three-year Detroit Lakes title reign. The Lakers, however, were seeded sixth in the six-team event this time around. Alexandria was seeded No. 2, and Bemidji was No. 1. The Lumberjacks had won the tournament eight times over a nine-year span before Detroit Lakes took over.

"It was great," said Thief River Falls coach Sylvia Sjoberg in describing the Prowlers' title-winning performance. "We played well. Everybody contributed."

All three Thief River Falls victories went into the books as 4-3 wins, but some individuals gave up points when they were pulled off the court as a time-saving measure if a match had already been decided.

Alexandria beat Thief River Falls twice during the regular season, but a key victory by Jenni Gonsorowski and Becca Leach at No. 2 doubles highlighted the Prowlers' semifinal win.

Thief River Falls championship match winners against Bemidji were Beth Goddard and Jenna Tsukichi in singles, along with Lesley Ihle-Katie Harbott with Beth Padilla-Heather Hanson in doubles. In addition, Steph Leach had opened with a first-set 6-3 victory at No. 1 singles before her match was ended prematurely with the title already in hand.

The Lumberjacks owned a single regular season win over the Prowlers.

Thief River Falls will face the South Sub-Section 8AA winner – either St. Cloud Tech or Brainerd – in the state tournament-qualifying Section 8AA finals Tuesday at 5 p.m. at St. Cloud. First round of the Section 8AA individual tournament will follow, and will be completed Wednesday.

The Prowlers are 16-6 in dual meet competition.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our loving thanks to everyone for their kindness and love shown our mother, Lilas Kielstad. For the comforting words, hugs and all the constant and continued prayers. Special thank you to Pastor Tim Bauer for his comforting words at the prayer service and the special message at the funeral. The evening prayer service was a touching tribute to Mom as she left such a legacy of love. Thank you to the soloist, organist, pallbearers and for the eulogy. Also thank you to the Trinity women for serving the lunch following the funeral service. Thank you for the visits, food brought to our home, the beautiful flowers and plants, the calls, cards and the memorials. Our appreciation to the Green Funeral Home for all their helpful assistance and kindness. With God's blessing and our love

Clarence Gagner

RLF postmaster receives air transport award

Clarence R. Gagner, postmaster at Red Lake Falls and formerly postmaster at Oklee and Brooks, was recently awarded the Air Transport Association Leadership Award through the Postal Advisory Committee of the ATA.

The award was presented at the 93rd annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States (NAPUS) recently in Philadelphia, PA. Gagner serves as national vice president of NAPUS from Area 14.

One of three recipients of the annual award, Gagner was nominated by the NAPUS officers from the Upper Midwest states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. The award is based on community contribution, leadership qualities and contributions to NAPUS.

Gagner has been with the U.S. Postal Service since 1965.

North Star Racing Series prepares for season

is required to compete for year-end points championships. A racer's top scores in six races on the eight-race schedule will count toward the total points title.

Drivers may also race in any event for a $20 daily membership and will be eligible for prizes but not for points competition. Yearly members receive a driver's bib and number to be used all season, newsletters, eligibility for class point champion, ISR rule book and entry to the year-end awards banquet. Last year's racers were given first opportunity to retain the same numbers for this season's racing.

While most of the drivers in the series are from the surrounding area, racers in the series last year came from Thunder Bay, Ont., Canada, Chicago, IL and other distant points.

Erickson said the series is also seeking financial sponsors at several levels including Series Sponsor ($5,000 and up), Major Sponsor ($1,000-$3,000), Co-Sponsor ($500-$1,000), Associate Sponsor ($250) and Donation Sponsor ($100). Each of the sponsorships has a number of entitlements involved. Lists are available by calling Erickson at 681-2544.

Agassiz Refuge Open House Scheduled For Sunday, Oct. 12

states to have a resident pack of eastern gray wolves.

"Lost Bay Habitat Drive" is a four-mile self-guided auto drive, with a quarter-mile hiking trail, that provides visitors the opportunity to tour the refuge for nature study, wildlife photography or observation. The drive is open from early spring through October during daylight hours. Brochures are available at the refuge headquarters which is open from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. A 100-foot observation tower and 14-foot observation deck are available for viewing the refuge.

When arrangements are made in advance, classroom and other groups may be given talks and tours. Camping is not allowed at the refuge, but primitive campsites, located on adjacent state wildlife management areas, are available year-round and are cost free.

National Wildlife Refuges

The National Wildlife Refuge system is the world's largest and most diverse collection of lands set aside specifically for wildlife.

Florida's Pelican Island, the first national wildlife refuge, was established by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1903 for the protection of egrets, herons and other birds that were being killed for their feathers used in fashions of the time.

Today, there are 511 national wildlife refuges which range in size from half-acre parcels to thousands of square miles encompassing more than 92 million acres. These refuges provide important habitat for over 700 bird species, 220 mammal species, 250 reptile and amphibian species and over 200 species of fish. The system also provides habitat for 168 threatened and endangered species on over 400 of its refuges.

Approximately 98 percent of the land in the Refuge System is open to the public offering a wide variety of recreational and educational opportunities. Nationwide, nearly 29.5 million visitors annually hunt, fish, observe and photograph wildlife or participate in interpretive activities on refuges.

Agassiz Refuge Open House

Interesting and informational displays and videos, refreshments and prizes will be offered at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. In addition, the refuge's friendly staff will be available to answer questions.

While the weatherman predicts the need of a jacket and possibly an umbrella on Sunday, ducks and geese along with a number of other birds will be abundant and most visible and the autumn foliage most brilliant at Agassiz Refuge – a perfect opportunity for a "wild" experience.

Flood disaster loans are available for businesses

Businesses affected by flooding, severe storms, snow melt, high winds, rain and ice during the spring of 1997 may apply to the Northwest Regional Enterprise Fund, Inc., for a disaster relief loan, according to the Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) headquartered in Warren.

Businesses in Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties can apply for loans ranging from $5,000 to $150,000 at an interest rate four points below the prime lending rate, to a minimum of four percent.

Interested persons should contact Linda Nelson, loan fund manager at the NWRDC at 218-745-6733 for more information.

The disaster relief loan fund was established by the Enterprise Fund of the NWRDC to provide financing to businesses affected by weather-related and other disasters. The fund can assist businesses in locations declared disaster areas by the state and/or federal government.

Examples of assistance include working capital for loss of income while the business was closed during the disaster, replacement of inventory and fixed assets lost as a result of the disaster, re-financing of loans from private lenders which were incurred as a result of the disaster, and other assistance.

To be eligible for disaster loan fund assistance, applicants must show that the business was viable/profitable prior to March 21, 1997, and that a loss in sales or financial damage was suffered as a result of severe weather conditions.

Applicants must also show that no other financing is available or feasible for the business at affordable terms. A loan from the disaster revolving loan fund must be matched on a one-to-one basis by a bank or other private financing source.

A total of $440,000 is available for disaster relief loans. Funding for the loans originated from the U.S. Economic Development Administration and local matching funds.

Torch and Shield banquet to honor friends of UMC

Men and women who have provided leadership and aided in the development of the University of Minnesota—Crookston (UMC) will be honored Wednesday, October 29, at the annual Torch and Shield banquet.

There will be a public reception for the new University of Minnesota President Mark Yudof and his wife at 5 p.m. with dinner at 6 p.m. followed by the program. A noon luncheon that day will be held to dedicate the Northwest Experiment Station Agricultural Research Center auditorium as Youngquist Auditorium in honor of Bernard E. Youngquist, superintendent from 1956 to 1983.

Receiving the Torch and Shield award will be Gayle Skinner-West, associate dean, University of Minnesota Extension Service; Robert Kvavik, associate vice president, University of Minnesota; Laurie Swenson, sports editor, Crookston Daily Times; and Martin Sabo, U.S. Congressman.

MEA/MFT fall conference in St. Paul October 16

Schools throughout the Northern Watch area will be closed Thursday and Friday, October 16 and 17, as the combined Minnesota Education Association (MEA) and Minnesota Federation of Teachers (MFT) conference is conducted Thursday at RiverCentre, the former St. Paul Civic Center.

Up to 15,000 educators come to the annual conference each year, according to Judy Schauhach and Sandra Peterson, presidents of the respective MEA and MFT. They said that Minnesota's graduation rule will be the focus of more than a third of the conference's professional development sessions.

New kindergarten program next fall

Warroad - Under a proposal offered by Elementary Principal Ron Ditsch, Warroad district parents may have a new alternative in kindergarten education next fall.

Parents of kindergarten students would be given the option of enrolling their children in an extended day program. Students in the optional program would attend class every day all day, and parents would be required to pay $6 to $6.50 per day for the extended day option.

Students whose parents opt to not use the extended day program would continue to attend kindergarten for a half day, every day, at no cost.

Ditsch told the board that the program would serve two purposes. First, students would be better prepared for their education careers by participating in more class time. Secondly, parents would benefit from the convenience of the program. Extended day kindergarten coupled with the Kid Kare program would offer parents a child care solution. Warroad Pioneer

Body of Leonard man found in Roseau Co.

Jessie Martin Whitcomb, 57, Leonard, was found in a partially burned residence in Hereim township in Roseau County October 13. Preliminary results from the Ramsey County Medical Examiner revealed that Whitcomb died as a result of smoke inhalation, and that there was no physical evidence of any other trauma to the body.

According to Roseau County Sheriff Curt Hauger, the fire appeared to have been set by Whitcomb. The residence was that of his ex-wife's fiance, Louis Haupt. Haupt will soon marry the former Mrs. Jessie Whitcomb. Sheriff Hauger would not speculate as to Whitcomb's motive.

Still in question at this point in the investigation is how Whitcomb got to the Haupt residence as his vehicles have been accounted for at his residence in Leonard.

Sheriff Hauger is requesting help from anyone who may have any information concerning this case. Roseau County sheriff's office can be reached at 218-463-1421.

The investigation into this incident is being conducted by the Roseau County Sheriff's department, the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension and the State Fire Marshal's office.

Water levels at TRF reservoir lowered for repairs

Water level of the reservoir in Thief River Falls has been lowered so that repairs could be made to a concrete wall near the Headrace.

A crack four feet below the water level in the concrete wall was noticed and it was decided that it should be repaired. The Headrace controls water flow to the turbines and the power plant.

Water levels could be on the rise again by Friday morning.

Northland Retired Educators presented a facsimile check for $32,929, which represents the value of 2,533 volunteer hours of service to the community, to Thief River Falls Mayor Robert Reeve. Of the 2,533 volunteer hours, 745 were in health, 826 in education and 962 to other community service efforts. There were 14 members of Northland Retired Educators participating in this project, which is an element of National Retired Educators Day, A Celebration of Community Service. Pictured presenting the check to Mayor Reeve (right), are Jim Dalager, co-president, Phyllis Dalager, secretary, and Polly Reed, co-president.

Community-Based Planning meet planned at Crookston

To explain and discuss the state's new Community-Based Planning Act, a series of meetings has been arranged by the Land Stewardship Project and the Minnesota State Planning office. The two closest meetings for extreme northwest Minnesota are Tuesday, October 28 in Bemidji and Wednesday, October 29 in Crookston.

These two are the first of a dozen meetings across Minnesota with the final meeting November 19 in St. Cloud. Each meeting place will have two meeting sessions—one from 1 to 4 p.m. and one from 6 to 9 p.m.

The meeting at Bemidji will be in the East Ballroom at Bemidji State University and the one at Crookston will be at the Northland Inn on Highway 75 north. Additional information on meeting times and places is available from Melissa Petrangelo with Minnesota Planning at 612-282-5451.

The Community-Based Planning Act was passed by the Minnesota Legislature during the 1997 session and signed into law by Gov. Arne Carlson. By adopting the act, Minnesota joined several other states including Oregon, Florida, New Jersey and Vermont which have enacted laws intended to bring consistency and predictability to local comprehensive planning efforts.

Scott Elkins, program organizer for 1000 Friends of Minnesota—a program developed by the Land Stewardship Project—was in Thief River Falls and other area communities during the past week to encourage awareness of and attendance at the area meetings.

"The Community-Based Planning Act is voluntary," Elkins said. "There is no mandate, and communities must choose to plan. For the future of our state, however, it is vital that communities make that choice. Minnesota's population is growing and sprawling. Sprawling growth is harming Minnesota's environment and uncontrolled growth costs taxpayers dollars."

Elkins said that between 1970 and 1990, nine of Minnesota's 10 regional growth centers had faster population growth just outside their city limits than within the city itself. Five of those cities lost population while the adjacent areas grew. At Bemidji, the population just outside the city limits grew by almost 100 percent.

"Between 1970 and 1984, population in the seven-county metropolitan area grew by 9.7 percent while the land area used for urban purposes increased by 25.1 percent," Elkins said.

He noted that there are 11 goals of community-based planning, and listed them as follows:

1. Citizen Participation: To develop a community-based planning process with broad citizen participation in order to build local capacity to plan for sustainable development and to benefit from the insights, knowledge and support of local residents.

2. Cooperation: To promote cooperation among communities to work for the most efficient, planned, and cost-effective delivery of government services by, among other means, facilitating cooperative

Area hospitals receive grants

Kittson Memorial Hospital and Nursing Home in Hallock and Lakewood Health Care Center in Baudette have each been awarded a $1.5 million grant/loan through the Rural Hospital Capital Improvement Grant and Loan Program which was created during the past legislative session.

This program offers rural hospitals either a grant or an interest-free loan to modernize, remodel or replace aging facilities and vital equipment. The funding is available through the Minnesota Health Care Access Fund.

Rick Failing, administrator of Kittson Memorial Hospital, said plans for the hospital there include addressing handicapped accessible code requirements, developing a new enclosed ambulance/emergency entrance, enlarging the emergency room to accommodate major trauma cases such as farm and vehicle accidents and developing a larger laboratory.

President and Chief Executive Officer SharRay Palm of Lakewood Health Center said plans for phase one of their improvements include building a single one-level acute care structure (in-patient and out-patient/ER) attached to the current facility. New mechanical, electrical and fire protection systems will be installed in both the new and existing structures.

Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy co-authored the original legislation that created the grant/loan program because he was concerned that without being able to update, there would be a danger of rural hospitals being forced to close. He said local health care officials did a good job in helping testify at the legislature.

Dogs get their "do" at Theo-Mar Kennels

Rudy and Mary Gunderson of Theo-Mar Kennels of rural Newfolden have been in the canine business for nearly 23 years. October is Adopt-a-Dog month. Gundersons strongly urge those who are thinking of getting a dog to research the breed and consider how that animal will fit into the family and its life-style.

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

It's been nearly 23 years since the lives of Rudy and Mary Gunderson went to the dogs. As a registered nurse and architectural draftsman in the Fargo-Moorhead area, the couple desired a more quiet, rural existence so they bought a farm between Thief River Falls and Newfolden, and Theo-Mar Kennels was born.

I could think of no better way to get a feel for a business and its owners than to experience their product, and thus, my eight-year-old English springer spaniel Sam accompanied me for her first-ever grooming.

The kennel is located approximately ten miles north of Thief River Falls on Highway 59 and approximately one-half mile east. A sign along the highway and another on the mailbox made the kennel easy to find. Dog grooming at Theo-Mar takes place in a building located at few yards from their home. I'll have to admit a bit of uneasiness before entering the building. What if my normally well-mannered dog decided to misbehave, or worse yet, bit someone?

My fears were eased as Sam

RLF postmaster receives air transport award

Clarence R. Gagner, postmaster at Red Lake Falls and formerly postmaster at Oklee and Brooks, was recently awarded the Air Transport Association Leadership Award through the Postal Advisory Committee of the ATA.

The award was presented at the 93rd annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States (NAPUS) recently in Philadelphia, PA. Gagner serves as national vice president of NAPUS from Area 14.

One of three recipients of the annual award, Gagner was nominated by the NAPUS officers from the Upper Midwest states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. The award is based on community contribution, leadership qualities and contributions to NAPUS.

Gagner has been with the U.S. Postal Service since 1965.

is required to compete for year-end points championships. A racer's top scores in six races on the eight-race schedule will count toward the total points title.

Drivers may also race in any event for a $20 daily membership and will be eligible for prizes but not for points competition. Yearly members receive a driver's bib and number to be used all season, newsletters, eligibility for class point champion, ISR rule book and entry to the year-end awards banquet. Last year's racers were given first opportunity to retain the same numbers for this season's racing.

While most of the drivers in the series are from the surrounding area, racers in the series last year came from Thunder Bay, Ont., Canada, Chicago, IL and other distant points.

Erickson said the series is also seeking financial sponsors at several levels including Series Sponsor ($5,000 and up), Major Sponsor ($1,000-$3,000), Co-Sponsor ($500-$1,000), Associate Sponsor ($250) and Donation Sponsor ($100). Each of the sponsorships has a number of entitlements involved. Lists are available by calling Erickson at 681-2544.

states to have a resident pack of eastern gray wolves.

"East Bay Habitat Drive" is a four-mile self-guided auto drive, with a quarter-mile hiking trail, that provides visitors the opportunity to tour the refuge for nature study, wildlife photography or observation. The drive is open from early spring through October during daylight hours. Brochures are available at the refuge headquarters which is open from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. A 100-foot observation tower and 14-foot observation deck are available for viewing the refuge.

When arrangements are made in advance, classroom and other groups may be given talks and tours. Camping is not allowed at the refuge, but primitive campsites, located on adjacent state wildlife management areas, are available year-round and are cost free.

National Wildlife Refuges

The National Wildlife Refuge system is the world's largest and most diverse collection of lands set aside specifically for wildlife.

Florida's Pelican Island, the first national wildlife refuge, was established by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1903 for the protection of egrets, herons and other birds that were being killed for their feathers used in fashions of the time.

Today, there are 511 national wildlife refuges which range in size from half-acre parcels to thousands of square miles encompassing more than 92 million acres. These refuges provide important habitat for over 700 bird species, 220 mammal species, 250 reptile and amphibian species and over 200 species of fish. The system also provides habitat for 168 threatened and endangered species on over 400 of its refuges.

Approximately 98 percent of the land in the Refuge System is open to the public offering a wide variety of recreational and educational opportunities. Nationwide, nearly 29.5 million visitors annually hunt, fish, observe and photograph wildlife or participate in interpretive activities on refuges.

Agassiz Refuge Open House

Interesting and informational displays and videos, refreshments and prizes will be offered at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. In addition, the refuge's friendly staff will be available to answer questions.

While the weatherman predicts the need of a jacket and possibly an umbrella on Sunday, ducks and geese along with a number of other birds will be abundant and most visible and the autumn foliage most brilliant at Agassiz Refuge – a perfect opportunity for a "wild" experience.

Flood disaster loans are available for businesses

Businesses affected by flooding, severe storms, snow melt, high winds, rain and ice during the spring of 1997 may apply to the Northwest Regional Enterprise Fund, Inc., for a disaster relief loan, according to the Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) headquartered in Warren.

Businesses in Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties can apply for loans ranging from $5,000 to $150,000 at an interest rate four points below the prime lending rate, [illegible] a minimum of four percent.

Interested persons should contact Linda Nelson, loan fund manager at the NWRDC at 218-745-6733 for more information.

The disaster relief loan fund was established by the Enterprise Fund of the NWRDC to provide financing to businesses affected by weather-related and other disasters. The fund can assist businesses in locations declared disaster areas by the state and/or federal government.

Examples of assistance include working capital for loss of income while the business was closed during the disaster, replacement of inventory and fixed assets lost as a result of the disaster, re-financing of loans from private lenders which were incurred as a result of the disaster, and other assistance.

To be eligible for disaster loan fund assistance, applicants must show that the business was viable/profitable prior to March 21, 1997, and that a loss in sales or financial damage was suffered as a result of severe weather conditions.

Applicants must also show that no other financing is available or feasible for the business at affordable terms. A loan from the disaster revolving loan fund must be matched on a one to one basis by a bank or other private financing source.

A total of $440,000 is available for disaster relief loans. Funding for the loans originated from the U.S. Economic Development Administration and local matching funds.

Torch and Shield banquet to honor friends of UMC

Men and women who have provided leadership and aided in the development of the University of Minnesota—Crookston (UMC) will be honored Wednesday, October 29, at the annual Torch and Shield banquet.

There will be a public reception for the new University of Minnesota President Mark Yudof and his wife at 5 p.m. with dinner at 6 p.m. followed by the program. A noon luncheon that day will be held to dedicate the Northwest Experiment Station Agricultural Research Center auditorium as Youngquist Auditorium in honor of Bernard I. Youngquist, superintendent from 1956 to 1983.

Receiving the Torch and Shield award will be Gayle Skinner-West, associate dean, University of Minnesota Extension Service; Robert Kvavik, associate vice president, University of Minnesota; [illegible] Swenson, sports editor, Crookston Daily Times; and Martin Sabo, U.S. Congressman.

MEA/MFT fall conference in St. Paul October 16

Schools throughout the Northern Watch area will be closed Thursday and Friday, October 16 and 17, as the combined Minnesota Education Association (MEA) and Minnesota Federation of Teachers (MFT) conference is conducted Thursday at RiverCentre, the former St. Paul Civic Center.

Up to 15,000 educators come to the annual conference each year, according to Judy Schaubach and Sandra Peterson, presidents of the respective MEA and MFT. They said that Minnesota's graduation rule will be the focus of more than a third of the conference's professional development sessions.

New kindergarten program next fall

Warroad - Under a proposal offered by Elementary Principal Ron Ditsch, Warroad district parents may have a new alternative in kindergarten education next fall.

Parents of kindergarten students would be given the option of enrolling their children in an extended day program. Students in the optional program would attend class every day all day, and parents would be required to pay $6 to $6.50 per day for the extended day option.

Students whose parents opt to not use the extended day program would continue to attend kindergarten for a half day, every day, at no cost.

Ditsch told the board that the program would serve two purposes. First, students would be better prepared for their education careers by participating in more class time. Secondly, parents would benefit from the convenience of the program. Extended day kindergarten coupled with the Kid Kare program would offer parents a child care solution. Warroad Pioneer

Elkins said that between 1970 and 1990, nine of Minnesota's 10 regional growth centers had faster population growth just outside their city limits than within the city itself. Five of those cities lost population while the adjacent areas grew. At Bemidji, the population just outside the city limits grew by almost 100 percent.

"Between 1970 and 1984, population in the seven county metropolitan area grew by 9.7 percent while the land area used for urban purposes increased by 25.1 percent," Elkins said.

He noted that there are 11 goals of community based planning, and listed them as follows:

1. Citizen Participation: To develop a community based planning process with broad citizen participation in order to build local capacity to plan for sustainable development and to benefit from the insights, knowledge and support of local residents.

2. Cooperation: To promote cooperation among communities to work for the most efficient, planned, and cost-effective delivery of government services by, among other means, facilitating cooperative

Body of Leonard man found in Roseau Co.

Jessie Martin Whitcomb, 57, Leonard, was found in a partially burned residence in Hereim township in Roseau County October 13. Preliminary results from the Ramsey County Medical Examiner revealed that Whitcomb died as a result of smoke inhalation, and that there was no physical evidence of any other trauma to the body.

According to Roseau County Sheriff Curt Hauger, the fire appeared to have been set by Whitcomb. The residence was that of his ex-wife's fiance, Lauris Haupt. Haupt will soon marry the former Mrs. Jessie Whitcomb. Sheriff Hauger would not speculate as to Whitcomb's motive.

Still in question at this point in the investigation is how Whitcomb got to the Haupt residence as his vehicles have been accounted for at his residence in Leonard.

Sheriff Hauger is requesting help from anyone who may have any information concerning this case. Roseau County sheriff's office can be reached at 218-463-1421.

The investigation into this incident is being conducted by the Roseau County Sheriff's department, the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension and the State Fire Marshal's office.

Water levels at TRF reservoir lowered for repairs

Water level of the reservoir in Thief River Falls has been lowered so that repairs could be made to a concrete wall near the headrace.

A crack four feet below the water level in the concrete wall was noticed and it was decided that it should be repaired. The headrace controls water flow to the turbines and the power plant.

Water levels could be on the rise again by Friday morning.

Area hospitals receive grants

Kittson Memorial Hospital and Nursing Home in Hallock and Lakewood Health Care Center in Baudette have each been awarded a $1.5 million grant/loan through the Rural Hospital Capital Improvement Grant and Loan Program which was created during the past legislative session.

This program offers rural hospitals either a grant or an interest-free loan to modernize, remodel or replace aging facilities and vital equipment. The funding is available through the Minnesota Health Care Access Fund.

Rick Failing, administrator of Kittson Memorial Hospital, said plans for the hospital there include addressing handicapped accessible code requirements, developing a new enclosed ambulance/emergency entrance, enlarging the emergency room to accommodate major trauma cases such as farm and vehicle accidents and developing a larger laboratory.

President and Chief Executive Officer SharRay Palm of Lakewood Health Center said plans for phase one of their improvements include building a single one-level acute care structure (in-patient and outpatient/ER) attached to the current facility. New mechanical, electrical and fire protection systems will be installed in both the new and existing structures.

Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy co-authored the original legislation that created the grant/loan program because he was concerned that without being able to update, there would be a danger of rural hospitals being forced to close. He said local health care officials did a good job in helping testify at the legislature.

Dogs get their "do" at Theo-Mar Kennels

Rudy and Mary Gunderson of Theo-Mar Kennels of rural Newfolden have been in the canine business for nearly 23 years. October is Adopt-a-Dog month. Gundersons strongly urge those who are thinking of getting a dog to research the breed and consider how that animal will fit into the family and its life-style.

by Kathi Carlson

Northern Watch Reporter

It's been nearly 23 years since the lives of Rudy and Mary Gunderson went to the dogs. As a registered nurse and architectural draftsman in the Fargo-Moorhead area, the couple desired a more quiet, rural existence so they bought a farm between Thief River Falls and Newfolden and Theo-Mar Kennels was born.

I could think of no better way to get a feel for a business and its owners than to experience their product, and thus, my eight-year-old English springer spaniel Sam accompanied me for her first ever grooming.

The kennel is located approximately ten miles north of Thief River Falls on Highway 59 and approximately one-half mile east. A sign along the highway and another on the mailbox made the kennel easy to find. Dog grooming at Theo-Mar takes place in a building located a few yards from their home. I'll have to admit a bit of uneasiness before entering the building. What if my normally well-mannered dog decided to misbehave, or worse yet, bit someone?

My fears were eased as Sam

Challenger Preschool to present Storybook Land October 21

Preschool children and their families are invited to explore the land of The Three Bears, The Three Little Pigs, The Gingerbread Kid and The Wizard of Oz as Challenger Preschool presents "Storybook Land" on Tuesday, October 21 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at Challenger Preschool.

Dramatic Tendencies, a theater performance group directed by Connie Stock, will perform "There was an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly" and "Henny Penny." A Thief River Falls police officer will talk about Halloween safety.

There is no charge for this event, and children are invited to dress in their favorite costume – no masks please. For more information, call (218) 681-8670.

"Under Construction" EFCE program October 21 in Newfolden

Interesting vehicles will fill the streets of Newfolden on Tuesday, October 21 when Head Start and EFCE offer a special evening to come to school and see what it's like to sit behind the wheel of a real police car, semi, race car, firetruck or one of many other vehicles.

Children, infants through kindergarten age, and their parents are invited to meet between 5:30 and 7 p.m. in the MCC parking lot by the tennis court for hot dogs and chips and a chance to try out the driver's seat.

Children must be accompanied by an adult, and parents are responsible for watching for their child's safety. If the parking lot is under construction, the event will be held by the Newfolden Elementary School. If it rains, the event will be cancelled until spring.

Annual Franklin Middle School Book Fair dates scheduled

Franklin Middle School book fair will be held October 22-23 and October 27-31. Proceeds from the sales of books will help the school purchase a computer for student use in the media center at the school.

Books available at the book fair will be for all levels — child to adult. The book fair will be held during parent-teacher conferences so everyone can participate.

The book fair will be held from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. October 22-23, and from 7:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. October 27-31. The public is welcome.

Goodridge, Middle River students receive their degrees at BSU

Karen Skjerven-Bakken of Goodridge and Jarrett Walton of Middle River received degrees from Bemidji State University at the conclusion of the first summer session. They were among 90 students completing undergraduate degree requirements at BSU during the session.

Skjerven-Bakken earned a bachelor of science degree with honors in elementary education. Walton received a bachelor of science degree in criminal justice.

Eight annual TRF Gun Show today and Sunday

Thief River Falls Curling Club is filled with guns and related outdoor equipment as the eighth annual Thief River Falls Gun Show is held from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. The curling club building is located on the Pennington county fairgrounds off highways 1 and 59 on the west edge of Thief River Falls.

Organizers Gail Steinhauer and Bob Campbell said that all the space available in the building has been made available to meet the requests of exhibitors, including the lobby/ lunch room area and the second floor above the lobby area, which will be used for the first time.

More than 150 tables of guns, reloading components, shooting supplies, parts, ammunition, archery equipment and other items of interest to shooters and outdoor people will be available. As always, people attending the show are encouraged to bring guns they have for sale or trade with the exhibitors. Admission is $2 per person and children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by a parent.

In keeping with past shows, several sports card and coin dealers will have exhibit space at the show for those interested in those collectible items.

Many of the dealers are from Minnesota but several large dealers from South Dakota and North Dakota have also reserved space at the show, which is sponsored by the curling club. Admission will be $2 per person and children 12 years of age and younger must be accompanied by an adult. Drawing among admission purchasers will be held for a door prize and lunch will be available.

Parents and FMS eighth graders to meet Oct. 20

All eighth grade students at Franklin middle school and their parents are asked to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, October 20, at the FMS gymnasium to discuss the graduation basic tests students will be taking in February of 1998.

The meeting will also provide parents with vital information on Minnesota graduation standards and all parents and students are strongly urged to attend.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

First of all, help from a reader. Don't bother making the Carrot Muffins I had in a previous Soupcon. Evidently there was no soda listed in the recipe (although there should have been 2 teaspoonfuls) and she's right in saying that 2 cups of sugar with 2 cups of flour might be a little too sweet. Chuck the recipe in the trash. I made it too and it wasn't worth repeating.

Also, for the lady who asked for green tomato recipes, they were in the August and September Soupcons so I'm sure The Times would have some extras if you would ask them.

Now, today's recipes are for cooking some of those wild birds that the boys brought home last weekend, along with a couple of green tomato recipes for the lady mentioned above. I'm sure the game recipes would work fine with chicken or turkey too.

Here's a yummy recipe for those ducks:

DAVE'S DUCKS AND RICE

6 ducks
Salt and pepper to taste
Seasoned salt to taste
Flour
1/2 cup butter
1/4 cup onion, chopped
1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced
(fresh or canned)
1 tablespoon parsley
1/2 cup cream

Wash and dry ducks. Rub with salt, pepper, seasoned salt and flour.

Sauté lightly in butter. Remove and place in large fry pan or casserole.

Lightly sauté onion, mushrooms and parsley in butter remaining in pan where birds were sautéed. Add onion mixture to ducks and cover and cook 30 minutes on top of stove over medium heat, basting frequently. Add cream and continue cooking until heated thoroughly. Serve over cooked rice.

This duck recipe sounds almost like the one my grandma would make for my uncles when they came home after hunting for more ducks, except she also topped the ducks with slices of bacon. She would have the ducks roasted and ready to eat, along with home-baked "buns" and home-made baked beans:

SWEET AND SIMPLE BAKED DUCK

1 large duck
1 small onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/3 cup soda pop (not diet)
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/2 teaspoon thyme
Salt and pepper

Soak cleaned duck in salt water. Remove and rub inside and out with salt and pepper. Stuff onion and celery inside duck.

Place in roasting pan and add soda pop, water, parsley flakes, thyme, salt and pepper. Bake at 300 degrees for 3 hours. (As soda evaporates, the sugar will coat and penetrate the duck.)

Here's an idea for those little grouse that clutter up the freezer - use them up -- deliciously:

SMOTHERED GROUSE

4 grouse breasts
Garlic or onion powder
Swiss or American cheese, grated
2 medium onions, chopped
Mushrooms
1/3 cup white wine
Butter or margarine
Seasoned salt
Pepper

Sauté cleaned grouse breasts in wine, butter and spices. As this begins to heat, add mushrooms and onions along with wine and butter (or cook mushrooms and onion in separate pan and add to baking pan later). Cook grouse and vegetables no longer than 3-4 minutes. When they are done, put grouse in small baking pan or cookie sheet and top with vegetables and cheese. Heat in oven until cheese melts.

Since I don't know the difference between grouse and prairie chicken, I would use this recipe for either one - It sounds good:

BAKED PRAIRIE CHICKEN

1 prairie chicken
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon savory
Dash of thyme and basil
1 slice bacon
1/4 cup butter

Dredge bird with flour, salt, pepper and savory. Sprinkle thyme and basil on strip of bacon, roll up and fasten with toothpicks. Place in body cavity and close.

Brown bird in skillet. Transfer to baking dish and cover and bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour. Make gravy with milk or light cream.

I would also use this recipe for grouse - It sounds so good - gosh, I might even use it for chicken:

PHEASANT CASSEROLE

1 pheasant
Salt, pepper, Beau Monde, celery salt
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup cream
1 cup sour cream
1 4 ounce can button mushrooms
1/3 cup sherry or burgundy wine

Disjoint bird, split breast and brown sections in butter using hot skillet. Turn meat often. Place in buttered casserole.

Using same skillet, combine onion, mushroom soup, cream and sour cream. Stir constantly over low heat. Add wine. As soon as mixture approaches boiling, pour over bird in casserole. Add button mushrooms and bake, covered, at 300 to 325 degrees for 2 hours.

And here are a couple of tasty-sounding green tomato recipes:

PICCALILLI

1 quart chopped cabbage
1 quart chopped green tomatoes
2 sweet red peppers
2 sweet green peppers
2 large onions
1/4 cup salt
1 1/2 cups vinegar (5% acidity)
1 1/2 cups water
2 cups packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon turmeric
1 teaspoon celery seed

Chop cabbage, tomatoes, peppers and onions. Mix with salt and let stand overnight.

Next morning, drain and press to remove all liquid possible.

Boil vinegar, water, sugar and spices five minutes. Add vegetables and bring to a boil. Fill sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Cover, screw band firmly tight and process 5 minutes in boiling water bath. (Makes 6 pints.)

GREEN TOMATO DILL PICKLES

Green tomatoes
Stalks of celery
Sweet green peppers
Garlic cloves
2 quarts water
1 quart vinegar
1 cup salt
Dill

Use small, firm, green tomatoes. Pack into sterilized jars. Add a bud of garlic, stalk of celery and 1 green pepper cut in fourths to each jar.

Make a brine of the water, vinegar and salt. Boil with dill for 5 minutes the pour over pickles in jar to within 1/2 inch of top. Screw band firmly tight and process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes. Do not use for 4-6 weeks. (Makes 6 quarts.)

There were people from Alexandria, Argyle, Avon, Baudette, Bemidji, Brainerd, Brook Park, Coon Rapids, Crookston, Duluth, Forest Lake, Fosston, Goodridge, Graceton, Greenbush, International Falls, Karlstad, Mt. It was a wonderful combined effort between people used to driving by the orchids all the time and people who had never even been on Highway 11 before.

Everyone worked so hard! We're still not sure exactly how many orchids were dug, but we feel certain the volunteers came close to the 10,000 orchid goal. Some were replanted the day of the dig, but most were put back in the ground later that week by some more volunteers—the Williams Garden Club members. "Urban Sprawl" Affects All Areas Of Minnesota

During the past six years, the population of Minnesota has been the fastest growing of any state from the Midwest to the Eastern Seaboard.

Between 1990 and 1995, the Minnesota Office of Strategic and Long-Range Planning projected that 49 counties in the state would lose population (the same number that lost population between 1980 and 1990). During those five years, however, 28 of the 49 counties gained in population and, as a group, the 49 counties increased their population by one per cent.

These are a couple of a number of facts presented by the Land Stewardship Project, an organization which promotes internal urban development, concentrated living and protection of farmland and undeveloped territory. The Land Stewardship Project promoted the Community-Based Planning Act which passed the 1997 session of the legislature and was signed into law by Gov. Arne Carlson. This act provides the technical tools and funding for communities to adopt their own comprehensive plans with a strong emphasis on local citizen involvement.

The act established an 18-member advisory council which is now conducting a series of informational meetings throughout the state. Two of the closest ones to this area will be October 28 at Bemidji State University's East Ballroom and October 29 at Crookston's North Star Inn. At both locations, separate sessions will take place from 1 to 4 and 6 to 9 p.m.

Land use planning is an extremely controversial topic that touches the nerve ends of a lot of different people and philosophies. It seeks to preserve agricultural land—which farmers should like, but in order to do so it would restrict development in rural areas—which property rights advocates and farmers who own lands that would be most valuable to developers don't like.

"The costs of suburban sprawl and rural abandonment are avoidable," a Land Stewardship Project fact sheet states. "Community-based comprehensive planning under a set of broad statewide goals is a powerful tool to provide for sustainable growth. It can also help communities avoid the negative and costly impacts of poor land-use decisions."

Another of the organization's fact sheets notes that compact development is cheaper to build and thus a greater value to buy. It also states that compact development can provide valuable neighborhood assets such as easy walks to parks and shops, good schools, sociable town centers, narrow streets and protected open space —all of which reportedly rank highly in housing consumer preference surveys.

The Land Stewardship Project (LSP) treats as myths a number of beliefs, such as everyone wanting a big house on a big lot in the country. Less that half of all American families today have children under 18 living at home, and of those that do, one third are single-parent families. Aging population and shrinking family sizes require different housing types and different development patterns than in prior years.

Higher density doesn't mean more crime and congestion, the LSP claims. A diversity of housing types and densities and a diversity of people of different ages, incomes and cultures who get to know one another put more "eyes on the streets" and make community policing easier. Higher density also makes mass transit more affordable and reduces use of personal automobiles.

Rather than preserving rural culture, two and three-acre lots and five and 10-acre "farmettes" eat up traditional landscapes, ruin country vistas and make natural, economically productive uses in rural areas (such as farming or timbering) impossible to sustain, the LSP contends.

It is true that there is a leap-frog effect to uncontrolled development where people from urban areas keep moving further and further from developments to find "unspoiled" territory in which to live, only to spoil that situation by their own development and their presence. The lakes area of central Minnesota is an example. The flow of people has rolled past the Mille Lacs and Alexandria areas to Park Rapids and Bemidji. For example, from 1970 to 1990, the population just outside the city limits of Bemidji nearly doubled.

The problem, according to LSP, is in the public's perception and viewpoint. Portland, OR, is viewed as an example of making concentrated living work. An article in the St. Paul Pioneer Press noted on Nov. 22, 1996, that "While Portland's Metro Council debates whether 18,000 acres is too much land to hold 650,000 people, the Twin Cities Metropolitan Council wonders if 130,000 acres is too little for the same number."

While we Minnesotans do like our elbow room and our freedom and an opportunity to express our individuality, we must be aware that we are creating some problems by accomplishing those objectives through sprawl.

In the 10 years between 1982 and 1992, more than 250,000 acres of land were converted from rural to urban uses in Minnesota. If concentrated, this land would be larger than Scott county or nearly 6.5 times the land area of the city of Minneapolis. Currently Minnesota loses 24,000 acres of farmland every year—65 acres a day or 2.7 acres an hour. Urbanization is the single biggest cause of loss to forestland in the state, particularly in central and southeastern Minnesota.

This is not to say that we embrace the views of the Land Stewardship Project nor that we accept all if its concepts. We are not familiar with the organization's full agenda. It is not improper, however, for the organization to warn against what it considers to be a damaging trend that likely cannot continue indefinitely.

We do agree without reservation that it is critical for citizens to participate from the outset of the planning process so that the final product reflects a true community vision for the future. Without such consensus, any planning is doomed to failure.

Proper planning—good planning—requires vision and common sense adoption of regulations to achieve objectives. A good start for average citizens as well as local government officials might be to attend the Bemidji or Crookston meeting and learn a little more about the law and its application. In its present form or modified, we can expect the Community-Based Planning Act to be a controlling factor in much of what communities choose to do in the future. The better local citizens are equipped to make and carry out their own plans, the less they will have to deal with higher levels of government. And that isn't a bad situation at all.

Border controls are opposed by Senator Rod Grams

Proposed new border controls are being opposed by U.S. Sen. Rod Grams of Minnesota and Sen. Spencer Abraham of Michigan. At issue is Section 110 of the new U.S. immigration law which would require extensive tracking of every entry and exit of visitors at the U.S.-Canadian border.

Section 110 would require the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) to develop an automated entry and exit system to document the entry and departure of "every alien" arriving in and leaving the United States. The term "every alien" has been interpreted by INS to include both Canadians and American permanent residents who cross U.S. land borders with Canada.

In 1996 alone, more than 116 million people entered the United States by land from Canada and over 52 million Canadian residents and U.S. permanent residents entered Canada.

"The illegal immigration law passed last year focused on those persons who enter our nation illegally," Sen. Grams said, "not those who come here legally to make a better life for themselves and their families, let alone those who visit family here on a regular basis or help carry out our crucial , ongoing trade with Canada.

"These border controls would be devastating for the people and economy of northern Minnesota. It is my hope that Congress will take the time to closely consider these problems and conform the act to reflect current policy and our special relationship with Canada," he added.

Parent, teacher conferences at FMS Oct. 22-23

Parent, teacher conferences at Franklin Middle School will take place between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. October 22 and 23.

School personnel are no longer taking phone calls to schedule specific times for conferences. Teachers will be posting their schedules on their doors on Monday, October 20. Parents are encouraged to drop in and fill their name in an open time slot. This can be done any time Monday through Thursday, October 20-23 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

"Urban Sprawl" Affects All Areas Of Minnesota

During the past six years, the population of Minnesota has been the fastest growing of any state from the Midwest to the Eastern Seaboard.

Between 1990 and 1995, the Minnesota Office of Strategic and Long-Range Planning projected that 49 counties in the state would lose population (the same number that lost population between 1980 and 1990). During those five years, however, 28 of the 49 counties gained in population and, as a group, the 49 counties increased their population by one per cent.

These are a couple of a number of facts presented by the Land Stewardship Project, an organization which promotes internal urban development, concentrated living and protection of farmland and undeveloped territory. The Land Stewardship Project promoted the Community-Based Planning Act which passed the 1997 session of the legislature and was signed into law by Gov. Arne Carlson. This act provides the technical tools and funding for communities to adopt their own comprehensive plans with a strong emphasis on local citizen involvement.

The act established an 18-member advisory council which is now conducting a series of informational meetings throughout the state. Two of the closest ones to this area will be October 28 at Bemidji State University's East Ballroom and October 29 at Crookston's North Star Inn. At both locations, separate sessions will take place from 1 to 4 and 6 to 9 p.m.

Land use planning is an extremely controversial topic that touches the nerve ends of a lot of different people and philosophies. It seeks to preserve agricultural land—which farmers should like, but in order to do so it would restrict development in rural areas—which property rights advocates and farmers who own lands that would be most valuable to developers don't like.

"The costs of suburban sprawl and rural abandonment are avoidable," a Land Stewardship Project fact sheet states. "Community-based comprehensive planning under a set of broad statewide goals is a powerful tool to provide for sustainable growth. It can also help communities avoid the negative and costly impacts of poor land-use decisions."

Another of the organization's fact sheets notes that compact development is cheaper to build and thus a greater value to buy. It also states that compact development can provide valuable neighborhood assets such as easy walks to parks and shops, good schools, sociable town centers, narrow streets and protected open space —all of which reportedly rank highly in housing consumer preference surveys.

The Land Stewardship Project (LSP) treats as myths a number of beliefs, such as everyone wanting a big house on a big lot in the country. Less that half of all American families today have children under 18 living at home, and of those that do, one third are single-parent families. Aging population and shrinking family sizes require different housing types and different development patterns than in prior years.

Higher density doesn't mean more crime and congestion, the LSP claims. A diversity of housing types and densities and a diversity of people of different ages, incomes and cultures who get to know one another put more "eyes on the streets" and make community policing easier. Higher density also makes mass transit more affordable and reduces use of personal automobiles.

Rather than preserving rural culture, two and three-acre lots and five and 10-acre "farmettes" cut up traditional landscapes, ruin country vistas and make natural, economically productive uses in rural areas (such as farming or timbering) impossible to sustain, the LSP contends.

It is true that there is a leap-frog effect to uncontrolled development where people from urban areas keep moving further and further from developments to find "unspoiled" territory in which to live, only to spoil that situation by their own development and their presence. The lakes area of central Minnesota is an example. The flow of people has rolled past the Mille Lacs and Alexandria areas to Park Rapids and Bemidji. For example, from 1970 to 1990, the population just outside the city limits of Bemidji nearly doubled.

The problem, according to LSP, is in the public's perception and viewpoint. Portland, OR, is viewed as an example of making concentrated living work. An article in the St. Paul Pioneer Press noted on Nov. 22, 1996, that "While Portland's Metro Council debates whether 18,000 acres is too much land to hold 650,000 people, the Twin Cities Metropolitan Council wonders if 130,000 acres is too little for the same number."

While we Minnesotans do like our elbow room and our freedom and an opportunity to express our individuality, we must be aware that we are creating some problems by accomplishing those objectives through sprawl.

In the 10 years between 1982 and 1992, more than 250,000 acres of land were converted from rural to urban uses in Minnesota. If concentrated, this land would be larger than Scott county or nearly 6.5 times the land area of the city of Minneapolis. Currently Minnesota loses 24,000 acres of farmland every year—65 acres a day or 2.7 acres an hour. Urbanization is the single biggest cause of loss to forestland in the state, particularly in central and southeastern Minnesota.

This is not to say that we embrace the views of the Land Stewardship Project nor that we accept all if its concepts. We are not familiar with the organization's full agenda. It is not improper, however, for the organization to warn against what it considers to be a damaging trend that likely cannot continue indefinitely.

We do agree without reservation that it is critical for citizens to participate from the outset of the planning process, so that the final product reflects a true community vision for the future. Without such consensus, any planning is doomed to failure.

Proper planning—good planning—requires vision and common sense adoption of regulations to achieve objectives. A good start for average citizens as well as local government officials might be to attend the Bemidji or Crookston meeting and learn a little more about the law and its application. In its present form or modified, we can expect the Community-Based Planning Act to be a controlling factor in much of what communities choose to do in the future. The better local citizens are equipped to make and carry out their own plans, the less they will have to deal with higher levels of government. And that isn't a bad situation at all.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Border controls are opposed by Senator Rod Grams

Proposed new border controls are being opposed by U.S. Sen. Rod Grams of Minnesota and Sen. Spencer Abraham of Michigan. At issue is Section 110 of the new U.S. immigration law which would require extensive tracking of every entry and exit of visitors at the U.S.-Canadian border.

Section 110 would require the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) to develop an automated entry and exit system to document the entry and departure of "every alien" arriving in and leaving the United States. The term "every alien" has been interpreted by INS to include both Canadians and American permanent residents who cross U.S. land borders with Canada.

In 1996 alone, more than 116 million people entered the United States by land from Canada and over 52 million Canadian residents and U.S. permanent residents entered Canada.

"The illegal immigration law passed last year focused on those persons who enter our nation illegally," Sen. Grams said, "not those who come here legally to make a better life for themselves and their families, let alone those who visit family here on a regular basis or help carry out our crucial, ongoing trade with Canada.

"These border controls would be devastating for the people and economy of northern Minnesota. It is my hope that Congress will take the time to closely consider these problems and conform the act to reflect current policy and our special relationship with Canada," he added.

Parent, teacher conferences at FMS Oct. 22-23

Parent, teacher conferences at Franklin Middle School will take place between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. October 22 and 23.

School personnel are no longer taking phone calls to schedule specific times for conferences. Teachers will be posting their schedules on their doors on Monday, October 20. Parents are encouraged to drop in and fill their name in an open time slot. This can be done any time Monday through Thursday, October 20-23 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Prowlers stop EGF streak

First three possessions produced touchdowns, setting the stage for a high-scoring shoot-out in a Thief River Falls vs. East Grand Forks regular season high school football finale Wednesday. However, somebody pulled the plug along the way – both on the point-production and the Prowler Field lights. The electrical problem was solved after a 15-minute first quarter blackout, but the two offenses kept blowing fuses the rest of the night as the Prowlers finished with a 14-7 win.

Results secured a No. 2 seed in the upcoming Section 8AAAA playoffs for 6-2 Thief River Falls, and spoiled a bid for an unbeaten season for 7-1 East Grand Forks, already assured of being the top seed in Section 8AAA.

It was a high-energy, spirited confrontation from start to finish. The Green Wave went 72 yards in a quick 2-minute, 5-play drive to start the game, and were at the Thief River Falls 18-yard line at game's end.

The Prowlers, meanwhile, turned two East Grand Forks mistakes into back-to-back touchdowns to win with their lowest point total of the season.

"That was a great high school football game," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "That's as intense as you can get. We've lacked intensity at times this year, but East Grand Forks brought it out of us tonight. I thought we played very, very well."

East Grand Forks quarterback Tyler Palmiseno set the stage for what would be a 15-for-33, 194-yard passing night by laying the ball in the hands of Travis Lueck for 34 and 32-yard gains on the first series. The 6-4 Lueck out-jumped a smaller Thief River Falls defensive back for the first catch, then pulled in Palmiseno's strike as he was streaking down the left sideline for a touchdown on the second throw. Scott Mack's kick made it 7-0 with 9:47 to play in the opening quarter.

Thief River Falls responded with a 10-play, 58-yard game-tying touchdown drive. Andy Harbott, who has played regularly at linebacker but little in the offensive backfield this fall, skirted the right side off the line and nosed his way across the goal line from two yards out with 5:48 on the clock. Levi Kraft added the kick. The drive benefitted in a major way from a 15-yard East Grand Forks penalty that wiped out a Green Wave fumble recovery at the 30.

Another East Grand Forks error led to the second Thief River Falls touchdown when a punt snap was dropped, resulting in a 10-yard loss to the Green Wave 44 with 4:24 remaining in the first quarter.

The Prowlers scored eight plays later when Wade Chiodo stepped through the right side of the line, pulled out of the grasp of an East Grand Forks tackler at the 18 and hit the end zone on a 25-yard run. Kraft again added the kick for what would prove to be the final point of the night on the first play of the second quarter.

Despite the slick, muddy playing conditions, both teams had chances to add points the rest of the night. But nobody was able to cash in on the opportunities that were set up by the passing of Palmiseno, Lueck's 6-catch, 111-yard yard receiving night, or Chiodo's 26-carry, 147-yard rushing effort.

Best East Grand Forks chance followed the second Thief River Falls touchdown when a 33-yard run by Jeff King helped take the Green Wave to the Prowlers' 11-yard line. But an illegal procedure penalty on a fourth-and-inches put the visitors back to the 16, and Palmiseno's pass was broken up at the 8.

Back-to-back Thief River Falls third quarter drives stalled on downs at the East Grand Forks 19 and 9.

"I maybe got a little too conservative with my play calling – again," confessed Mumm about the Prowlers' season-long troubles scoring once they hit the Red Zone (inside the 20).

East Grand Forks' final shot followed a Thief River Falls punt that set the Green Wave up at their 45 with 1:43 to play. Four Palmiseno completions carried to the Thief River Falls 18, but the next four attempts were either knocked down by the Prowlers' defensive backs, or fell incomplete – the final one with five seconds to play.

"The defense came through when they had to," said Mumm. "They (Green Wave) have got probably more athletes than we've seen all year, but our kids stayed with it. Nobody broke down."

Paul Frank had a pair of interceptions for the Prowlers.

TRF hosts Little Falls Tuesday

Second-seeded Thief River Falls will host No. 7 Little Falls Tuesday in the opening round of the 1997 Section 8AAAA high school football playoffs. Game time is 7 p.m. at Prowler Field. Admission is $3 for students and $5 for adults. No passes will be accepted.

Detroit Lakes earned the No. 1 seed based on a regular season points system, followed by No. 2 Thief River Falls, No. 3 Alexandria, No. 4 Sauk Rapids, No. 5 Rocori, No. 6 Fergus Falls, and No. 7 Little Falls.

Fergus Falls will be at Alexandria and Rocori visits Sauk Rapids in other Tuesday match-ups. Detroit Lakes will have a first round bye.

Saturday, Oct. 25 semifinals will have the Sauk Rapids-Rocori winner playing at Detroit Lakes, while the Thief River Falls-Little Falls winner will face the Alexandria-Fergus Falls winner at the site of the highest-seeded team.

Championship game will be played Friday, Oct. 31, at 8 p.m. at the Fargodome.

Little Falls is 2-6. The Flyers opened the season with a 24-13 win over Fergus Falls, then lost to Rocori 27-7, Brainerd 50-13, St. Cloud Apollo 42-13 and St. Cloud Tech 37-22 before surprising Alexandria 24-15. However, the victory over the Cardinals in Week 6 was followed by a 62-0 thumping at the hands of Sartell, and a regular season-ending 28-15 Wednesday night loss to Willmar.

Thief River Falls is 6-2. The Prowlers lost to Sartell 21-20, beat Detroit Lakes 27-20 in overtime, Crookston 20-14, Virginia 40-22 and Bemidji 20-18 before falling to Grand Rapids 29-20. The regular season ended with wins over Fergus Falls 21-0 and East Grand Forks 14-7.

St. Cloud Tech over Thief River Falls girls . . .

Tigers top Prowlers in 8AA tennis meet

Highly-regarded St. Cloud Tech did a number on Thief River Falls Tuesday, knocking the Prowlers out of both the team and individual portion of the 1997 Section 8AA girls high school tennis tournament.

The Tigers, third in last year Class AA state tournament, shut out the Prowlers 7-0 in the team final that matched the North and South Sub-Section 8AA winners.

And in the individual portion of the Section 8AA tournament that followed, Thief River Falls qualifiers Katie Harbott and Lesley Ihle fell in a quick rematch with Tech's Andrea Lundeen and Summer Thelen 6-1, 6-2.

"I was satisfied with the way we played," said Thief River Falls coach Sylvia Sjoberg. "They (Tigers) are good. We've never seen a team that hit that hard."

The Prowlers played competitively in a number of matches, according to Sjoberg, especially at No. 4 singles, where Jenna Tsukichi lost a three-set match; No. 3 singles, where Reva Young fell 6-2, 6-1; and No. 3 doubles, where eighth graders Heather Hanson and Beth Padilla lost 7-5, 6-4.

Tech, which has only lost once this fall (to Edina), also filled three of the four individual Section 8AA state tournament qualifying spots.

Stephanie Lacika of Tech beat Christina Kaergaard of Moorhead 6-4, 6-[illegible] in the Section 8AA singles final. Kaergaard then joined Lacika as a state qualifier by beating Laura [illegible] of Tech 6-4, 2-6, 6-2 in the true second match.

Lundeen and Thelen defeated Lyndsi Harworth and Jamie Huskie of Fergus Falls 6-1, 6-1 in the Section 8AA doubles finals. Karlie Gerser and Allison Huver of Tech joined their teammates in the state field by beating Harworth and Huskie 6-2, 6-0 for true second

Mooney leads TRF into 8AA race

Becky Mooney will lead Thief River Falls' delegation to the 1997 Section 8AA boys and girls high school cross country meet Thursday at Sartell. Meet time is 4:30 p.m.

Team and individual qualifiers will move on to the Class AA state meet Saturday, Nov. 1, at St. Olaf College in Northfield.

Mooney has had a memorable senior season for the Prowlers, winning seven races and finishing second in the three meets she did not win.

The Mooney success story included championship efforts in the Prowlers' final two meets – the Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal Invitational Oct. 9 in Hawley and the Tri-County/Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Marshall County Central Invitational Tuesday in Karlstad.

Thief River Falls girls ran those last two races without No. 2 runner Amber Klinker, whose senior season was cut short because of illness.

"The girls ran pretty well," said Thief River Falls first-year head coach Teri Ueland, "but without Amber, our team score suffered. The boys are capable of running stronger. They need a taste of success to see how good they really are."

Eighth grader Janae Harlow stepped into the varsity line-up for Klinker. "She (Harlow) is doing a great job," noted Ueland. Another eighth grader, Jacki Mooney, already a varsity regular, was the Prowlers' second runner at both Hawley and Karlstad.

Rob Russillo led the Thief River Falls boys with a 13th place effort at Hawley and a fourth place showing at Karlstad.

"We're looking forward to the sectional meet," said Ueland. "We've got some work to do, and we'll miss Amber, but I have faith that this team will do their very best."

Blue Devils fall to Storm 25-6

Two Stephen-Argyle fourth quarter touchdowns broke open a close game Tuesday as the Storm completed an unbeaten Top of the State Conference title-winning high school football regular season schedule with a 25-6 win over Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke. The game was played in Grygla.

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, losing for the third straight time, will take a 3-5 record into the Section 8 Nine-Man playoffs. The Blue Devils will face Kittson County North in a 3:30 p.m. post-season opener at Lancaster. The Cougars won 20-14 when the two teams met in a Sept. 12 regular season encounter.

Stephen-Argyle led only 6-0 at halftime and Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke was still within 12-6 heading into the fourth quarter before the Storm put together a drive for a two-touchdown lead and turned field position into a clinching score.

"We played them tough for a while," said Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Darwin Hagen, "but they had too many weapons."

The Storm held the Blue Devils to just 122 yards worth of offense. The 106-yard total on the ground was led by Alex Anderson with 55 yards on 17 carries. Quarterback Jared Eidelbes was 3-for-7 passing for 16 yards.

Anderson, who plays in the secondary, and Ben Hanson, who plays in the line, were the Blue Devils' top defensive players, according to Hagen.

B/G-MR volleyball squad is beaten by Wolfpack, Wildcats

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River lost a 3-2 Monday match at Kittson Central and a 3-0 Tuesday match at home against Tri-County to close out the 1997 regular season high school volleyball schedule.

The Wolfpack came from behind to beat the Gators 14-16, 13-15, 15-4, 15-9, 15-10.

"We started with great intensity," reported Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Christine Adrian. "We played well at the start, but then we let up the next two games. We got back in it in the fifth game, but it was too late."

The Gators' balanced attack featured Tiffany Hagen with 18 kills, Merri Reese 16 and Kelsey Foldesi 15. Stefanie Sparby came up with 30 assists.

Tri-County swept Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 15-12, 15-9, 15-8.

"It was not the same intensity level," acknowledged Adrian. "We really struggled with our passing."

The Gators head into tournament play with an 11-14 record.

Northland volleyball squad eyes playoffs

Landing a state tournament berth remains a Northland goal heading into the final week of the 1997 Minnesota Community College Conference regular season volleyball schedule.

Northland stayed in the playoff race by beating Itasca 15-8, 15-7, 12-15, 15-4 Tuesday at Grand Rapids.

Top four regular season finishers in the two MCCC divisions advance to the state tournament. Fergus Falls had a near-lock on the Northern Division title with an 11-0 record heading into the sixth week of the seven-week schedule, followed by Vermilion at 8-3, Rainy River 7-4, Central Lakes 6-5, Northland 5-6, Mesabi 4-7, Hibbing 2-9, and Itasca 1-10.

The victory over the Vikings put the Pioneers at 6-6 in MCCC play and 8-9 overall. They have two division-counting matches left – Monday vs. Fergus Falls and Thursday against Central Lakes. Both will be played in the Northland gym.

Monday's Northland-Fergus Falls match will be part of a triangular that also includes the Concordia College junior varsity. Northland and Fergus Falls will play a regulation 3-out-of-5 game match at 5 p.m. Concordia will play 2-out-of-3 game matches against the Spartans at 6:30 and the Pioneers 7:30.

The Thursday Northland-Central Lakes showdown will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Fergus Falls started the week 20-1 overall. Fergus Falls stood at 11-7.

NCTC Leaders vs. Itasca

● Kills - Naomi Wilebski 12, Lara Hendrickson 7, Mackenzie Malwitz 5, Jami VanEngen 5; assists - Paula Hovda 14; aces - Rayna Benson 1; digs - Hovda 18, Wilebski 12, Hendrickson 11; blocks - Wilebski 4, VanEngen 3

Thief River Falls is 3-0 winner at Fergus Falls

Regular season high school volleyball schedule will end Monday when Thief River Falls hosts Roseau – a match moved up from its original Tuesday date on the schedule to avoid a conflict with the first round of the football playoffs.

The Prowlers put in a bid for the No. 2 seed in the upcoming North Sub-Section 8AA volleyball tournament with a 15-9, 15-9, 15-11 sweep at Fergus Falls Tuesday.

Thief River Falls, 16-6-2 overall, is 3-1 against North Sub-Section 8AA teams with wins over Bemidji, Moorhead and Fergus Falls, along with a loss to Detroit Lakes.

Unbeaten Alexandria, the No. 1-rated team in the Associated Press Class AA state poll, will be the top seed in the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament that starts with first round matches Thursday, Oct. 30, when No. 6 will be at No. 3 and No. 5 plays at No. 4. Top two seeds receive first round byes.

Thief River Falls jumped out to an early lead on Fergus Falls and never looked back.

"We were steady," reported Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "Nothing flashy. We just went out and got the job done."

Roche and co-head coach Bruce Jean made use of the Thief River Falls bench against the Otters. "We got a chance to play everybody, and they all did a nice job," noted Roche.

Lisa Dicken and Taya Hunt led the winners with eight and seven kills, respectively. Hunt also had 15 assists and four aces. Desirae Alberg added three aces to the Prowlers' total, while Erica McGeary picked up nine assists and Lindsay Drury had two blocks.

agreements among adjacent communities, and to coordinate planning to ensure compatibility of one community's development with development of neighboring communities.

3. Economic Development: To create sustainable economic development strategies and provide economic opportunities throughout the state that will achieve a balanced distribution of growth statewide.

4. Conservation: To protect, preserve and enhance the state's resources, including agricultural land, forests, surface water and groundwater, recreation and open space, scenic areas and historic and archaeological sites.

5. Livable Community Design: To strengthen communities by following the principles of livable community design in development and redevelopment, including integration of all income and age groups, mixed land uses and compact development, affordable and life-cycle housing, green spaces, access to public transit, bicycle and pedestrian ways, and enhanced aesthetics and beauty in public places.

6. Housing: To provide an adequate supply of affordable and life-cycle housing throughout the state.

7. Transportation: To focus on the movement of people and goods, rather than on the movement of automobiles, in transportation planning, and to maximize the efficient use of the transportation infrastructure by increasing the availability and use of appropriate public transit throughout the state through land-use planning and design that makes public transit economically viable and desirable.

8. Land-Use Planning: To establish a community-based framework as a basis for all decisions and actions related to land use.

9. Public Investments: To account for the full environmental, social and economic costs of new development, including infrastructure costs such as transportation, sewers and wastewater treatment, water, schools, recreation and open space, as well as plan the funding mechanisms necessary to cover the costs of the infrastructure.

10. Public Education: To support research and public education on a community's and the state's finite capacity to accommodate growth, and the need for planning and resource management that will sustain growth.

11. Sustainable Development: To provide a better quality of life for all residents while maintaining nature's ability to function over time by minimizing waste, preventing pollution, promoting efficiency and developing local resources to revitalize the local economy.

Elkins said the goals are exceptionally broad, to allow for flexibility within the diverse situations found in counties throughout the state. He also emphasized that local planning under the act is voluntary, although one of the Land Stewardship Project's goals in supporting the legislation was to make it mandatory.

And while the act stresses community based planning, incentives are intended to create consistency throughout the state. If a community chooses to plan, funding is provided by the state to develop the plan. It is then submitted to the stage Office of Strategic and Long Range Planning for review and comment in its consistency with the 11 goals stated above.

If the plan is found to be inconsistent, the community may make the changes suggested by the state agency or enter into binding dispute resolution with the state. If the community chooses to ignore Minnesota Planning's comments entirely, it may implement its plan but must return the funding to the state.

It is considered critical that local citizens participate from the outset of the planning process so that the final product reflects a true community vision for the future. One of the first steps in that involvement would be attendance at the Bemidji or Crookston meetings.

TRF Magnet Arts program receives excellence award

Northern Expressions School of the Arts, a Magnet Arts program designed and implemented by School District 564 at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, has received an Academic Honorable Mention in the Profiles of Excellence Award Program conducted by the Minnesota Rural Education Association.

Northern Expressions provides "advanced students from northwestern Minnesota in-depth study in the arts without requiring them to leave their home area," noted Lincoln principal Terry Soine. In addition, the program is "a model of best practices in arts education."

A tuition-free public school, Northern Expressions is open to juniors and seniors interested in drama, music, creative writing, dance and visual or media arts. Individualized programs are offered that allow students to progress to their highest abilities.

"MREA's Profiles of Excellence Award recognizes unique, innovative educational programming in its 155 member districts. MREA's mission is "to strengthen education in Minnesota through leadership in legislative action, communication and collaboration."

To The Editor:

A recent editorial in the Minneapolis Tribune suggested that the current Minnesota Legislature might be remembered as the one that allowed the Twins to leave Minnesota by refusing to build a new stadium with public money. Let's hope so.

I prefer to believe that they will be better remembered, with strong appreciation, as the Legislature that refused to be coerced or bullied into acting against the stated wishes of their constituency. And, as having the wisdom and foresight to recognize that the commercial sports industry, through the greed of players, owners and promoters, has worked itself into a situation where it simply cannot operate as a practical business and is looking for public bail-out.

In spite of a booming economy, historically low unemployment and a continuing public love for good sports, this industry has already priced itself out of desirable attendance levels, and as the greed spiral continues to accelerate, this condition will only worsen. Building a new stadium or playing one community against another can at best provide only a temporary fix and no substitute for common sense.

I am not opposed to investing public funds or support where there is a benefit to the community and a broad cross section of those paying the bill. If we're using public money, instead of building one stadium, for one sport, in the Metropolitan area, for $500 million, let's take $100 million and expand and enlarge golfing facilities around the state (metropolitan area included), with special reduced green fees and playing time for youth.

Let's take another $100 million and increase and upgrade hiking, biking, skiing, inline skating and swimming facilities. Concession stands do not all have to be in one stadium.

Let's use another $100 million for fine arts, music, theatre, etc. Give our youth a chance to participate, let them entertain themselves and us.

Let's take $50 million and establish a program for academic competition with truly worthwhile rewards. Then we could compete with communities like Charlotte in a positive manner, where all competitors gain and do not attempt to force somebody out.

With just a few tens of millions from what is left, maybe we could arrange a few bass fishing tournaments or similar local events that have special attraction for children and youth.

Goofy ideas? Remember when the called Governor Rudy Perpich "Governor Goofy" when he proposed the Mall of America? Think about it, and support your local legislators in their stand for some common sense.

Sincerely,
Cy Carpenter

Benefit dinner Oct. 26 for Avory Erickson

Plummer Lions and Lioness clubs are sponsoring a benefit dinner Sunday, October 26, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for Avory Ross (Arlt) Erickson who was born August 24 with spina bifida and hydrocephalus to Amy Arlt and Dwight Erickson.

Grandparents are Lowell and Cindy Arlt of Plummer and Duane and Kate Erickson of Bagley.

The dinner of grilled turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes with gravy, cole slaw, vegetable, dinner rolls, dessert and beverage will be served at the Plummer community hall.

Free-will donations will be matched by Plummer branches 2444 and 10105 of Aid Association for Lutherans. Donations may also be sent to the Avory Erickson fund at Northwest Community Bank at Plummer, MN 56748.

Groundbreaking Sunday for Our Saviour's Church

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Our Saviour's Lutheran Church on property off Highway 59 South in Thief River Falls will take place Sunday, October 19, at 12:15 p.m. following morning worship services and Sunday School at the present church.

Preliminary construction work has begun on the $719,000 building project with the expectation that footings and foundation will be completed within the next week or so and heat cable installed before the concrete work is covered with sand. Construction would resume in April.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF THE MEMBER/SHAREHOLDERS OF OKLEE FARMERS COOPERATIVE ELEVATOR ASSOCIATION; RED LAKE COUNTY COOPERATIVE, INC.; AND BROOKS FARMERS COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a joint special meeting of the voting members of the Oklee Farmers Cooperative Elevator Association, Red Lake County Cooperative, Inc., and Brooks Farmers Cooperative Association will be held on Tuesday, October 28, 1997, at 9:00 a.m. at the Oklee Community Hall in Oklee, Minnesota (Breakfast to precede said meeting); and on October 28, 1997, at the Red Lake Falls Community Hall basement in Red Lake Falls, Minnesota, at 1:00 p.m. (noon lunch to precede said meeting), and on October 28, 1997, at 7:30 p.m. at the Erskine Community Center in Erskine, Minnesota (lunch to follow said meeting). These meetings are essentially identical, are considered one meeting for purposes of voting on this plan, and the members should attend only one of said meetings. You will be given a ballot for each of the co-ops of which you are a voting member, but you will be entitled to vote at only one of the meetings.

The purpose of the meetings will be for the voting members of these coops to consider and vote upon the unanimous resolutions of the boards of directors of all three co-ops to consolidate said cooperatives into a new cooperative to be known as "Riverland Cooperative Association." All three boards have duly considered the advantages and disadvantages of this propose consolidation. It is the unanimous resolution of all three boards that this consolidation is in the best interests of all three co-ops and all three boards unanimously recommend that this proposed consolidation be approved. The meetings on October 28th will each commence with an informational meeting and, upon conclusion of any discussion, will proceed to a vote

Fact sheets on CRP enrollment now available

Fact sheets intended to take the complexity out of the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) enrollment process are now available at numerous state and county offices, according to Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator.

Improving Your Bids for Enrollment in CRP is a two-page fact sheet highlighting the major components landowners should focus on when offering land for enrollment, including establishing beneficial cover, limiting offers to selected lands and lowering the bid price," Person said.

The publication was prepared jointly by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Minnesota Board of Soil and Water Resources, University of Minnesota Extension Service and Pheasants Forever. It is available at county extension offices and county Farm Service Agency and Natural Resource Conservation Service offices.

Glenn Schafer, director of the Pennington county FSA office, said that the fact sheet is only one of a number of informational items available at his office, some of which have detailed information on the CRP signup.

Schafer said that the recent information meetings on CRP in the area drew considerably smaller crowds than the first round of meetings earlier when the 15th sign-up was announced. There were about 60 people at the Thief River Falls meeting and 20 at the session in Goodridge. A similar meeting in Grygla had about 50 in attendance.

Interest was expected to decline when it was learned there was little or no change in the criteria from the 15th sign-up to the 16th sign-up which opened October 14 and will continue through November 14.

Person said the 16th sign-up is designed to encourage new bids as well as provide another enrollment opportunity for landowners whose offers were rejected during the 15th sign-up or whose contracts expire this fall or in 1998.

UMC included in largest university bond initiative

Crookston campus of the University of Minnesota is included in the $249 million bond package unveiled Monday at the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis—the largest bonding initiative in the history of the university.

The 1998 bonding package recommended by Gov Arne Carlson includes $4,624,000 for the following improvements at the Crookston campus:

- $518,430 to fill in the old, unused swimming pool to make an athletic multipurpose room for team meetings, reviewing game films and meeting with parents;
- $528,220 to replace the welding lab at Owen Hall and create a one-stop service center for students, including offices for registration, admissions, business, counseling and career center, student health, academic assistance and disability services;
- $1,065,892 to add 5,000 square feet to the University Teaching and Outreach Center (UTOC) to create new stalls for horses, breeding area and storage for bedding materials;
- $1,229,898 to build a new Early Childhood Development Center where the White House is currently located and linked to Dowell Hall annex. External Relations, currently located in the White House, will be moved to property east of the UTOC.

Other funding would include health and safety issues including an elevator in Kiehle Hall, hazardous waste storage, general air quality, heating plant and classroom renewal.

Chancellor Donald Sargeant of UMC was present at the Minneapolis campus when the announcement was made. Dean McCleary, vice chancellor for finance at UMC, said the funding is very preliminary but "it does have the support of the Governor, and this appears to be positive news for UMC."

Bonding initiatives recommended by Governor Carlson will be introduced in the 1998 legislative session.

Evening services at Telemarken

Rev. Erling B. Huglen of Roseau will speak at a spiritual emphasis series of evening services Sunday through Tuesday, October 19, 20 and 21 at Telemarken Lutheran Church seven miles southwest of Goodridge. Each service will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Huglen recently retired after serving Moe Lutheran in Roseau for almost 35 years. In September he and his wife Rhoda made a three-week trip to Scandinavia, primarily Norway, to visit relatives.

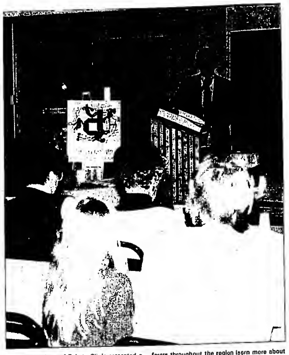
There will be special music at each of the services, scheduled as a spiritual emphasis for the congregation and all interested friends. A fellowship lunch will be served following each service.

Rev. Raynard Huglen of Newfolden is pastor of Telemarken Lutheran.

Levy information meet rescheduled

Because of the Lincoln High School Prowler football play-off game Tuesday, October 21, in Thief River Falls, the special levy informational meeting scheduled for the same evening at the North town hall has been rescheduled for Wednesday, October 22, at 7 p.m.

Supt. Jerry Robicheau will present information on the levy, explain the 80 percent state share and respond to questions and concerns. North town hall is located west of Thief River Falls on Highway 1. Everyone is welcome to attend and participate in the meeting.



Dr. Don Matthees of Dakota Clinic presented a program on asthma at the Best Western in Thief River Falls recently. Over 70 people attended the free event. Its purpose was to help asthma sufferers throughout the region learn more about asthma, understand it, and control it with the goal of improving their quality of life.

New program seeks to help those with asthma

by David Hill
Associate Editor

A new wellness program recently demonstrated in Thief River Falls seeks to help asthma sufferers develop and implement long-term goals consistent with new treatment guidelines from the National Institute of Health. The program was also developed in response to regional research indicating that many asthma sufferers in the region are using drugs designed to relieve the immediate affects of asthma, for long-term treatment.

Eight months with asthma sufferers and data from Blue Cross and Blue Shield seemed to show that a lot of asthma sufferers were using medication to relieve instead of control symptoms. The data led Clinical Pharmacist Mary Kuzel, and Pharmacy Doctor Rick Melbye to perceive a problem and develop a new wellness program which is supported by Dakota Clinic and pharmaceutical companies.

Last week, Melbye and Kuzel brought the program to Thief River Falls. According to their previous experiences, based only in Fargo, the response was phenomenal — not just from the standpoint that 40 people were registered and 72 showed up for the event, but because of the participation and interest shown by physicians and pharmacists in the community.

Melbye and Kuzel break down the type of medication used by asthma sufferers into two categories — relievers and controllers. Controllers are broncho-dilaters that relieve acute attacks to stimuli. Controllers are mostly steroid-based drugs that control reactions and or immune response to stimuli. Based on their research they believe a lot of patients have been using the short-term relievers for long-term treatment.

Kuzel said they had perceived the problem and were working on a solution when Melbye started his residency as a pharmacy doctor. It was decided to incorporate the wellness program into his residency.

Melbye explained that the program calls for visits with doctors, nurses and pharmacists in a community to provide an update on research and medication.

Kuzel said they were impressed that so many pharmacists in the community were genuinely interested in the program and new treatment guidelines.

Kuzel and Melbye believe controlling asthma is a wellness issue because it involves quality of life issues. It is important for those involved with the treatment of the patient — physicians, nurses, pharmacists and patients — to be aware of treatment goals and new research developments.

Another element of the plan involves presentation of a community education program for asthma sufferers and their families. The first wellness program in the region was held in Thief River Falls last week. About 40 people registered for the program in advance and 72 actually attended the event. The clinic was presented by Dr. Don Matthees of Dakota Clinic. Its purpose was to help asthma sufferers learn about asthma, understand it, and control it with the goal of improving their quality of life.

Kuzel and Melbye were very pleased. Of the 72, 40 were patients and many of the others in attendance were family members. Kuzel and Melbye believe family participation is important.

Learning to live with asthma and setting goals not only help patients but families too. Kuzel said that it helps a parent not have to worry about a child, for example, or a patient to participate in sports.

Tuesday's meeting was the first community meeting held in Northwest Minnesota. Because of its success, Kuzel and Melbye expect other communities will soon be asking for a program to be presented in their communities. They also anticipate another clinic on asthma next spring.

The clinic was presented at no cost to participants. It was sponsored by North Dakota State University, the Dakota Clinic Medical Foundation and pharmaceutical companies.

Among the participants in the program Tuesday night were three sisters who suffer from asthma — Deb Korczak, Laurie Hamness and Shellie Mekash all of the Greenbush area.

All three sisters said the program presented Tuesday night was very informative. They may have known a lot of what was presented at the program, but all thought it was good to hear it again.

Korczak said she first learned she had asthma at about age 7 or 8. At that time, she said, they treated asthma completely differently than they do now. That's a good reason, she said, why people with asthma should be informed. New and better methods of treatment are found all the time. She said the program answered a lot of her questions.

Korczak said that as a child she did what she pretty much wanted to do. Knowing her two other sisters had asthma really didn't have an impression on her. It was something they just worked around. As an adult and parent, she said, her concern changed because, although her children don't have asthma, she said, two of her sister's children do have asthma.

Hamness, the youngest of the three sisters, said she was about 5 years old when she learned she had asthma. She believes that she had the most severe asthma of the three sisters.

Allergies are a trigger for Hamness as well. Knowing that certain allergies triggered her asthma attacks has taught her to limit her activities to avoid those situations.

Hamness believes all asthma can be life threatening if not controlled. Though it is more of an inconvenience for her now, her reactions were much more severe when she was young. Part of that, she said, also had to do with the fact that they didn't have the type of drugs to control asthma that they do now, and they didn't have the accumulated knowledge through research either.

Hamness doesn't know of any support groups in the region for asthma sufferers, but advises anyone with asthma to work with their physician, and be a self-advocate — "do your own research and be responsible," she said.

Shellie Mekash said the program was very informative and definitely a benefit to people in the area. She added that it dispelled some of the misconceptions. "There isn't a lot of information out there about asthma," she said. For example, asthma is treatable but it can also cause death.

Mekash said she learned she had exercise induced asthma while she was attending high school. With medication she was able to continue participating in high school athletics, such as basketball and track. However, she learned what triggered her asthma and had to make adjustments.

Like her sisters, her asthma is also triggered by allergies. She has come to realize that she can cope with asthma, even though she lives on a farm. She knows, there are some things she must avoid, and she does avoid doing them.

Although there are some things she doesn't do because it would trigger an asthma attack, Mekash said it hasn't limited the goals she has set for herself professionally.

Mekash said having two sisters with asthma helped her cope with it and its impact on her life, especially now that her daughter and Laurie's daughter also have asthma. It helps that it's a family problem that they work out together as a family.

Mekash said she hopes they continue to hold the clinics because it's good to continue learning more about asthma and new research.

Memorials

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved Clarice Rolandson Auld who left us 2 years ago, Oct. 19.

She shall never be forgotten,
Never shall her memory fade.
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger,
Around the grave where she is laid.
No one knows how much we miss her
No one knows the tears we've shed.
But in heaven we hope to meet her,
Where no farewell words are said.

Sadly missed by her family

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU

I would like to thank the Grygla Fire Department and those of you that helped in any way when my house burned. Thanks to everybody that donated money and clothes. Special thanks to Art Randal, Darrin Belcourt, Alvin Holte and Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Nelson. Thank you all.

NOTICE

Parties who anticipate requesting Pennington County to snowplow their driveways this winter are encouraged to stop by the Pennington County Highway Department. While signing up for snowplowing their driveway, they will be provided a "flagged lathe" which they are to install near their respective driveway when they want their driveway plowed. This should minimize a motor grader operator from back tracking to plow a driveway which he may have passed. Your cooperation on this matter will be greatly appreciated.

eagerly went to the grooming area with Rudy. I stayed behind to visit with Mary in the reception area.

In addition to the grooming business, Rudy and Mary raise and show West Highland white terriers. Originating in Scotland in the 1600's, the terriers were bred to drive game out of holes in the ground. For that reason, their coat is wiry and their skin is thick. Over the years, the Gundersons have shown American champions, and they are particularly excited about a new ten-month old terrier that won Best in Sweepstakes at a dog show in Winnipeg in August.

Ideally, Rudy and Mary groom their customers' dogs from the time they are pups. Because they own their home and don't have to pay rent for a place to conduct business, they are able to take as much time as needed for the animal to have a pleasant experience. They believe in teaching the dog slowly using lots of praise and a firm "no" when the situation warrants it. "Usually by the third sitting, the dog is an 'old pro'," Mary said.

I thought that grooming would amount to a haircut and bath. That's not how it is at Theo-Mar Kennels. The whole dog is cared for – nails are clipped, teeth are cleaned, and the ears, mouth and anal glands are checked. They go over every inch of the dog making certain that the animal is healthy, and if they find a suspicious growth or something else that concerns them, they encourage the owner to take their pet to see a veterinarian as soon as possible.

The length of time required to groom an animal depends solely on the individual dog. Mary and Rudy like to think of their business as a canine specialty spa where the dog and its comfort are top priority. Safety is also a factor with everything cleaned and disinfected after each grooming session is finished.

Mary's nursing background makes her a firm believer in preventative medicine and natural remedies. The kennel carries high quality natural food and vitamin products that contain no preservatives. They also have a variety of dog care tools for sale.

The Gundersons groom all breeds of dogs with the exception of the chow and Rottweiler. Their customers come from near and far, and those who move a long distance away often bring their pets back for Rudy and Mary to groom.

A photo album shows the variety of breeds that they work with. Some interesting "before and after" pictures reveal that not all animals are brought to them in the best of condition.

Generally, owners do not remain at the kennel while grooming takes place. Every owner does, however, receive a "pep talk" when they return for their pet on how to take care of the animal between professional groomings.

Mary is a 1975 graduate of the Academy of Dog Grooming having completed an intensive three-month course of study in St. Petersburg, FL. She has also attended educational seminars and is one of the founders of the Thief River Falls Kennel Club. Mary has made presentations to various groups on grooming, obedience and general canine education.

The Gundersons are strong advocates of responsible breeding. They advise those thinking of getting a dog to first do careful research about the breed, its characteristics and how that animal will fit into their family. Anyone desiring advice is invited to call them.

Over the years, Mary and Rudy have taken in strays, nursed them back to health and found good homes for them.

October is Adopt-a-Dog Month. The Gundersons encourage people to check their local pound before adopting a dog. A dog rescued and adopted from a pound receives its first grooming free at Theo-Mar Kennels.

As I took in all of this information from Mary, I could hear the buzz of the clipper and Rudy talking almost continually to my dog. His voice was soothing as he told her over and over what a good dog she is. Every once in awhile his tone would change to a quick, firm "no" followed again by immediate praise. Occasionally I peeked around the corner, and Sam seemed to be enjoying all the attention.

When Sam was done with her "spa" treatment, she looked wonderful. Because she is a hunter, the fur on her chest and the back of her legs was left a bit longer for protection while the rest of her coat had been cut short. Rudy found no visible tumors and reported that she appeared to be a healthy animal. That news and the fact that she'd been a good dog during the session caused me to breathe an inward sigh of relief. Evidently, one can teach an old dog new tricks.

I got my "pep talk" like all new customers, and as I paid the bill felt I had gotten more than my money's worth. If Sam could talk I'm sure she'd agree.

Rudy and Mary Gunderson from Theo Mar Kennels are passionate in their profession whether the dog they are giving their special treatment to be a purebred from championship bloodlines, a stray mutt, or a puppy from the pound.

S.D. 564 plans to give agriculture its due

Since agriculture was cut as a curriculum option by the budget ax in the last decade, the Thief River Falls School District has been without an ag education program or a local Future Farmers of America Chapter. District 564 Superintendent Jerry Robicheau says that is a disservice to children and to a community dedicated to agriculture, and the new superintendent of schools says it's time to give agriculture its due, as a science, a business, and an emerging technology.

Robicheau has put "ag education" high on a list of promised returns with the passage of a special levy in the Thief River Falls School District on November 4. "We have no one on staff who has the background to spearhead and develop an integrated ag program for students at Franklin Middle School and Lincoln High School. We need to actively recruit a dynamic individual and budget for curriculum materials to integrate a successful program that will prepare students for the many career opportunities in agriculture and ag related fields."

Robicheau says agriculture is a prime example of communities involved in education. "Just look at the field classroom opportunities. We have some of the finest farms in the country right here in our school district. As an applied science, ag education should be a very successful curriculum offering at both the middle school and high school."

Robicheau says it's also important to reorganize a local FFA chapter. "Several people have talked with me and with the board of education about the need to build associations through a local Future Farmers of America Club. It creates friendships for children and families involved in agriculture, gives agriculture another voice locally, and is an important sponsorship for businesses involved in agriculture."

Unfortunately, Robicheau says ag education is one of several goals that cannot be met without passage of a special levy in November. "The district has my personal promise, and the commitment of the school board to reestablish ag education and increase vocational offerings, continue to lower class sizes, especially in kindergarten, and keep pace with advancing technology. Our goals are very clear, however, we need the district's support to keep our priorities from being just a wish list, instead of reality for our children."

Robicheau will be available at public information sessions, scheduled:

- Thursday, October 30, at 7 p.m. at the Northwest Grain meeting room in St. Hilaire; and
- Tuesday, October 28 at 6:30 p.m. at Challenger Elementary school.

Fires destroy cars in Crookston

Crookston - Fires which took place in 12 cars and destroyed five between 2:50 and 6:30 a.m. In an eight-block area of northeast Crookston on Saturday have been officially ruled arson.

A witness at the scene gave authorities the descriptions of two young men who may have set the fires.

The City of Crookston is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the identification and arrest of anyone involved in the fires. Crookston Daily Times

Roseau woman attends dedication for memorial

Roseau - LeMae Lundbohn left her home more than 50 years ago and traveled to Washington, DC to serve her country.

She returned to the nation's capital recently along with an estimated 30,000 other women veterans to attend the dedication for the Women in Military Service for America Memorial at Arlington National Cemetery.

The memorial is a tribute to nearly 1.8 million American women who have defended the nation in nearly every conflict, from the Revolutionary War through Desert Storm. Roseau Times-Region

Thief River Falls native Fosston's new postmaster

Fosston - Duane Dicken was named postmaster of the Fosston Post Office recently.

Born and raised in Thief River Falls, Dicken began his postal career in 1985 as a clerk and then as a mail carrier and supervisor of clerical operations. In 1994 he became postmaster in Alvarado.

He and his wife Lonae have two sons, Brandon 14 and Austen 11. The family will move to Fosston after they have sold their home in Alvarado. The Thirteen Towns

Ghost Out held at Tri-County School

Karlstad - Ghost Out, an activity used to make students aware of how many people are either killed or injured by drunk driving in a year, was sponsored recently at Tri-County High School.

Throughout the day the faces of students and staff members were painted white to illustrate the fact that on the average someone dies every 32 seconds and someone is injured every 30 seconds in an alcohol-related accident. Scenarios explaining the cause of death or injury to the ghosted out students was read as they filed into an assembly at the end of the day.

Lee Erickson, author of Through Krista's Eyes, spoke to the student body about what it was like to lose his young daughter to a drunk driving accident. Local funeral director and volunteer rescue worker Pat Collins parked his hearse at the front door of the school and explained to the student body what it was like to inform a parent that their son or daughter had been killed in an accident. He also challenged the students to make the choice to be a leader and decide not to drink and drive. North Star News

NMPA issues bonds of $147.9 million

Northern Municipal Power Agency (NMPA), with offices in Thief River Falls, is issuing $147.9 million of tax exempt bonds to refinance $135.9 million in bonds previously issued at higher interest rates, according to NMPA president John T. Anderson of Thief River Falls.

Anderson says the bond issue will also provide approximately $10 million in new monies to finance capital projects for the Coyote generating plant and transmission system over the next five years.

NMPA serves a group of 12 municipal electric utilities including Bagley, Baudette, Fosston, Halstad, Hawley, Roseau, Stephen, Thief River Falls, Warren and Warroad in Minnesota and Grafton and Park River in North Dakota.

Average interest rate on the new bonds will be 5.4 percent, compared to the average rate of 6.2 to 7.5 percent for earlier bonds, which were issued in 1989 and 1992, according to Dalene Monsebroten, NMPA secretary-treasurer.

The refinancing to take advantage of lower interest rates will produce interest savings of more than $27.8 million between 1998 and 1016. The savings over the 19-year period have a present value of $13.7 million, Monsebroten said.

Savings resulting from the reduced interest rates will help stabilize electric rates within the joint electrical system that was formed in 1981 by NMPA and Minnkota Power Cooperative of Grand Forks, ND.

The joint system was formed when NMPA purchased Minnkota's interest in the Coyote lignite-fired generating plant near Beulah, ND. Because the arrangement provides for Minnkota to purchase any Coyote power not needed by NMPA, the interest savings benefit consumers served by both the 12 Minnkota associated cooperatives and the 12 municipal systems.

The 1981 bond issue to finance NMPA's purchase of the Coyote share had an interest rate of 12 percent. This is the fourth time since then that refinancing has been done to achieve lower interest rates.

Participants involved in the current bond issue are the 12 NMPA cities listed above, NMPA and Minnkota Power Cooperative. Underwriters involved in the bond issue are Morgan Stanley & Co.

Much work is left to be done on the exterior and interior of the new Cozy Corral Bar & Grill in Brooks before it will be ready to open its doors for business next week. Owners Mark Parenteau, Perry Morinville and Steve Massmann have been pleasantly surprised by the number of townsfolk who have shown up to help with the renovations. The establishment, built sometime between 1916 and 1918, has had many owners through the years including Parenteau's uncle about 40 years ago.

"Cozy" name retained for renovated bar in Brooks

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Opened sometime between 1916 and 1918, the bar at the corner of Wisconsin Avenue and Main Street in Brooks has changed ownership many times but has remained "cozy" for a very long time.

If you find Brooks, a village of about 160 people located just off the intersection of Hwys. 59 and 92, you probably won't need the street address to locate the bar and grill.

The establishment has changed hands and what has been known as Rose's Cozy Bar & Cafe will now be called Cozy Corral. Recently, Mark Parenteau and Perry Morinville from Brooks and Steve Massmann from Winger purchased the business from Rose Marie Jolly.

The business is closed for extensive remodeling, and Parenteau and his partners hope to have the doors open by Halloween next Friday. There's much left to be done, and to accomplish their task, they have their work cut out for them.

While there is nothing unusual about a small business changing hands and undergoing major renovations, only in a small town do you find volunteers showing up on a regular basis to help complete the job.

The old building was completely gutted, and the facelift was not only desired but necessary. Parenteau commented that he is surprised no one had fallen through the kitchen floor. No blueprint was made. "It was plannned on a cocktail napkin," he said.

The new concrete floor was poured in an afternoon. The contractors were aided by a number of volunteers who simply showed up to help. "Pushing wheelbarrow after wheelbarrow, the workers looked like a colony of ants," Parenteau said.

While he couldn't name names for fear of leaving someone out, Parenteau said about 35 people have volunteered their time and variety of talents to get the doors of the business open again.

Cozy is about all the new bar and grill will have in common with its predecessor. With a double-door entry, cold winter winds won't blow anyone off his or her stool. The floor plan has been reversed, and the U-shaped 27-foot bar has been rebuilt on the other side of the room. Booths will be replaced by tables and chairs.

Mark Parenteau hangs knotty pine on the overhang above the bar of the new Cozy Corral in Brooks. Mark along with partners Perry Morinville and Steve Massmann recently purchased Rose's Cozy Bar & Cafe from Rose Marie Jolly. Volunteers have shown up on a regular basis to help the new owners and contractors with the major renovation project. Parenteau hopes to have the doors of the bar and grill open for business by Halloween.

The bar is contructed of a variety of attractive woods. Wood laminate flooring was used on the base, the strips laid in an interesting pattern. The same material will be used on the dance floor. An oak rail surrounds the bar, and knotty pine will complement the lighted overhang and wainscot the sheet-rocked walls.

Lighting will be provided by a combination of canned and shiny brass and glass fixtures.

A stone-look ceramic tile has been laid in the entry and around the bar. The remainder of the floor will be covered with a level loop commercial grade carpet in a tan-blue-mauve color combination.

Pennington County Fair reelects officers

Directors of the Pennington County Fair Association reelected all officers for another term at a meeting following the annual membership meeting Monday, October 20, in the Pennington county courthouse meeting room.

Officers include Mike Sorteberg, president; Bill Ulrich and Bud Homme, vice presidents; Donna Harder, secretary; and Ray Safranski, treasurer.

At the membership meeting, five directors were elected for three-year terms to represent the five districts comprising the board area. Reelected were Linda Homme from District 1, Floyd Erickson from District 2 and Michael Sorteberg from District 3. Linnae Enge was elected to succeed Lorraine Steiger in District 4 and David Lee was elected to succeed Pat Swanson in District 5. Linda Homme and Mike Sorteberg each have eight years of board service and Erickson has 13 years of service.

Other directors whose terms did not expire and the number of years each has served on the board include: Donna Harder (20) and Bud Homme (3), District 1; Mitch Swanson (2) and Al Hanson (2), District 2; Laverne Hamre (25) and Anita Cardinal (5), District 3; Deb Quesnell (5) and Bill Ulrich (14), District 4; Kermit Finstad (11) and Ray Safranski (5), District 5, Norma Hanson (14), Goodridge; and Sharon Iverson (2), St. Hilaire.

Dates for the 1998 Pennington County Fair were set for July 14-19 and the Rogers Brothers Funland was contracted as the carnival for the 1998 exposition following its well-received performance at the 1997 fair.

Professional Bull Riders Association bull riding was tentatively scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, July 17 and 18, as one of the main attractions for the fair. No final decision has been made on the contracting of a major entertainer for a Thursday night grandstand show, July 16.

Contracting of entertainment for the free bandshell program schedule is likely to take place at the state convention of the Minnesota Association of County Fairs January 16-18 in St. Paul.

Operations Report

For the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1997, the Pennington County Fair Association had total receipts of $184,108 and expenditures of $176,374, leaving an ending cash balance of $9,020—the best balance in a number of years.

Operations in 1997 were helped greatly by generally favorable weather throughout the fair, which contributed to an all-time high of $28,105 in association receipts from carnival operation. The Rogers Brothers Funland carnival made its first appearance in Thief River Falls for the 1997 county fair and received many positive comments from people attending the fair.

Grandstand receipts and fundraising totaled $63,104, an increase of nearly $9,500 from the previous year. Auto parking increased slightly to $3,611, state aids were up nearly $1,000 to $5,208 and county aid of $19,000 compared with $8,000 in 1996 and $14,000 in 1995.

Donations of $49,975 were up from $31,050 the previous year and resulted primarily from community support of Bullride 97 and a $10,000 donation from the Hartz Foundation to assist with payment of debt on the horse barn constructed a few years ago.

These increased receipts helped offset declines in space, booth and equipment rent from $15,210 a year ago to $11,506 in 1997 and a drop in premium book advertising from $2,559 to $28.

In 1997 the county fair association paid out $10,618 in premiums, down a few dollars from the previous two years, and paid $34,400 in various prizes—up sharply from $20,482 in 1996 and due largely to increased prizes for riders in Bullride '97.

From a purely operational standpoint the county fair showed a net loss of $3,463 based on revenue from operations of $79,404 and expense from conducting the fair of $82,868. This compares with an operational loss of $17,108 in 1996 and $5,049 in 1995. For 1998 the

Fires destroy cars in Crookston

Crookston - Fires which took place in 12 cars and destroyed five between 2:50 and 6:30 a.m. in an eight-block area of northeast Crookston on Saturday have been officially ruled arson.

A witness at the scene gave authorities the descriptions of two young men who may have set the fires.

The City of Crookston is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the identification and arrest of anyone involved in the fires. Crookston Daily Times

Roseau woman attends dedication for memorial

Roseau - LeMae Lundbohn left her home more than 50 years ago and traveled to Washington, DC to serve her country.

She returned to the nation's capital recently along with an estimated 30,000 other women veterans to attend the dedication for the Women in Military Service for America Memorial at Arlington National Cemetery.

The memorial is a tribute to nearly 1.8 million American women who have defended the nation in nearly every conflict from the Revolutionary War through Desert Storm. Roseau Times-Region

Thief River Falls native Fosston's new postmaster

Fosston - Duane Dicken was named postmaster of the Fosston Post Office recently.

Born and raised in Thief River Falls, Dicken began his postal career in 1985 as a clerk and then as a rural carrier and supervisor of clerical operations. In 1994 he became postmaster in Alvarado.

He and his wife Lonne have two sons, Brandon 14 and Austen 11. The family will move to Fosston after they have sold their home in Alvarado. The Thirteen Towns

Ghost Out held at Tri-County School

Karlstad - Ghost Out, an activity used to make students aware of how many people are either killed or injured by drunk driving in a year, was sponsored recently at Tri-County High School.

Throughout the day the faces of students and staff members were painted white to illustrate the fact that on the average someone dies every 32 seconds and someone is injured every 30 seconds in an alcohol-related accident. Scenarios explaining the cause of death or injury to the ghosted out students was read as they filed into an assembly at the end of the day.

Lee Erickson, author of Through Krista's Eyes, spoke to the student body about what it was like to lose his young daughter to a drunk driving accident. Local funeral director and volunteer rescue worker Pat Collins parked his hearse at the front door of the school and explained to the student body what it was like to inform a parent that their son or daughter had been killed in an accident. He also challenged the students to make the choice to be a leader and decide not to drink and drive. North Star News

Since agriculture was cut as a curriculum option by the budget ax in the last decade, the Thief River Falls School District has been without an ag education program or a local Future Farmers of America Chapter. District 564 Superintendent Jerry Robicheau says that is a disservice to children and to a community dedicated to agriculture, and the new superintendent of schools says it's time to give agriculture its due, as a science, a business and an emerging technology.

Robicheau has put "ag education" high on a list of promised returns with the passage of a special levy in the Thief River Falls School District on November 4. "We have no one on staff who has the background to spearhead and develop an integrated ag program for students at Franklin Middle School and Lincoln High School. We need to actively recruit a dynamic individual and budget for curriculum materials to integrate a successful program that will prepare students for the many career opportunities in agriculture and ag related fields."

Robicheau says agriculture is a prime example of communities involved in education. "Just look at the field classroom opportunities. We have some of the finest farms in the country right here in our school district. As an applied science, ag education should be a very successful curriculum offering at both the middle school and high school."

Robicheau says it's also important to reorganize a local F.F.A. chapter. "Several people have talked with me and with the board of education about the need to build associations through a local Future Farmers of America Club. It creates friendships for children and families involved in agriculture, gives agriculture another voice locally, and is an important sponsorship for businesses involved in agriculture."

Unfortunately, Robicheau says ag education is one of several goals that cannot be met without passage of a special levy in November. "The district has my personal promise, and the commitment of the school board to reestablish ag education and increase vocational offerings, continue to lower class sizes, especially in kindergarten, and keep pace with advancing technology. Our goals are very clear, however, we need the district's support to keep our priorities from being just a wish list, instead of reality for our children."

Robicheau will be available at public information sessions, scheduled:

- Thursday, October 30, at 7 p.m. at the Northwest Grain meeting room in St. Hilaire; and
- Tuesday, October 28 at 6:30 p.m. at Challenger Elementary school.

NMPA issues bonds of $147.9 million

Northern Municipal Power Agency (NMPA), with offices in Thief River Falls, is issuing $147.9 million of tax exempt bonds to refinance $135.9 million in bonds previously issued at higher interest rates, according to NMPA president John T. Anderson of Thief River Falls.

Anderson says the bond issue will also provide approximately $10 million in new monies to finance capital projects for the Coyote generating plant and transmission system over the next five years.

NMPA serves a group of 12 municipal electric utilities including Bagley, Baudette, Fosston, Halstad, Hawley, Roseau, Stephen, Thief River Falls, Warren and Warroad in Minnesota and Grafton and Park River in North Dakota.

Average interest rate on the new bonds will be 5.4 percent, compared to the average rate of 6.2 to 7.5 percent for earlier bonds, which were issued in 1989 and 1992, according to Dalene Monsebroten, NMPA secretary-treasurer.

The refinancing to take advantage of lower interest rates will produce interest savings of more than $27.8 million between 1998 and 1016. The savings over the 19-year period have a present value of $13.7 million, Monsebroten said.

Savings resulting from the reduced interest rates will help stabilize electric rates within the joint electrical system that was formed in 1981 by NMPA and Minnkota Power Cooperative of Grand Forks, ND.

The joint system was formed when NMPA purchased Minnkota's interest in the Coyote lignite-fired generating plant near Beulah, ND. Because the arrangement provides for Minnkota to purchase any Coyote power not needed by NMPA, the interest savings benefit consumers served by both the 12 Minnkota associated cooperatives and the 12 municipal systems.

The 1981 bond issue to finance NMPA's purchase of the Coyote share had an interest rate of 12 percent. This is the fourth time since then that refinancing has been done to achieve lower interest rates.

Participants involved in the current bond issue are the 12 NMPA cities listed above, NMPA and Minnkota Power Cooperative. Underwriters involved in the bond issue are Morgan Stanley & Co.

Much work is left to be done on the exterior and Interior of the new Cozy Corral Bar & Grill in Brooks before it will be ready to open its doors for business next week. Owners Mark Paronteau, Perry Morinville and Steve Massmann have been pleasantly surprised by the number of townsfolk who have shown up to help with the renovations. The establishment, built sometime between 1916 and 1918, has had many owners through the years including Parenteau's uncle about 40 years ago.

"Cozy" name retained for renovated bar in Brooks

Opened sometime between 1916 and 1918, the bar at the corner of Wisconsin Avenue and Main Street in Brooks has changed ownership many times but has remained "cozy" for a very long time.

If you find Brooks, a village of about 160 people located just off the intersection of Hwys. 59 and 92, you probably won't need the street address to locate the bar and grill.

The establishment has changed hands and what has been known as Rose's Cozy Bar & Cafe will now be called Cozy Corral. Recently, Mark Parenteau and Perry Morinville from Brooks and Steve Massmann from Winger purchased the business from Rose Marie Jolly.

The business is closed for extensive remodeling and Parenteau and his partners hope to have the doors open by Halloween next Friday. There's much left to be done, and to accomplish their task, they have their work cut out for them.

While there is nothing unusual about a small business changing hands and undergoing major renovations, only in a small town do you find volunteers showing up on a regular basis to help complete the job.

The old building was completely gutted, and the facelift was not only desired but necessary. Parenteau commented that he is surprised no one had fallen through the kitchen floor. No blueprint was made. "It was planned on a cocktail napkin," he said.

The new concrete floor was poured in an afternoon. The contractors were aided by a number of volunteers who simply showed up to help. "Pushing wheelbarrow after wheelbarrow, the workers looked like a colony of ants," Parenteau said.

While he couldn't name names for fear of leaving someone out, Parenteau said about 35 people have volunteered their time and variety of talents to get the doors of the business open again.

Cozy is about all the new bar and grill will have in common with its predecessor. With a double-door entry, cold winter winds won't blow anyone off his or her stool. The floor plan has been reversed, and the U-shaped 27-foot bar has been rebuilt on the other side of the room. Booths will be replaced by tables and chairs.

The bar is constructed of a variety of attractive woods. Wood laminate flooring was used on the base, the strips laid in an interesting pattern. The same material will be used on the dance floor. An oak rail surrounds the bar, and knotty pine will complement the lighted overhang and wainscot the sheet-rocked walls.

Lighting will be provided by a combination of canned and shiny brass and glass fixtures.

A stone-look ceramic tile has been laid in the entry and around the bar. The remainder of the floor will be covered with a level loop commercial grade carpet in a tan-blue mauve color combination.

Mark Parenteau hangs knotty pine on the overhang above the bar of the new Cozy Corral in Brooks. Mark along with partners Perry Morinville and Steve Massmann recently purchased Rose's Cozy Bar & Cafe from Rose Marie Jolly. Volunteers have shown up on a regular basis to help the new owners and contractors with the major renovation project. Parenteau hopes to have the doors of the bar and grill open for business by Halloween.

Pennington County Fair reelects officers

Directors of the Pennington County Fair Association reelected all officers for another term at a meeting following the annual membership meeting Monday, October 20, in the Pennington county courthouse meeting room.

Officers include Mike Sorteberg, president; Bill Ulrich and Bud Homme, vice presidents; Donna Harder, secretary; and Ray Safranski, treasurer.

At the membership meeting, five directors were elected for three-year terms to represent the five districts comprising the board area. Reelected were Linda Homme from District 1, Floyd Erickson from District 2 and Michael Sorteberg from District 3. Linnae Enge was elected to succeed Lorraine Steiger in District 4 and David Lee was elected to succeed Pat Swanson in District 5. Linda Homme and Mike Sorteberg each have eight years of board service and Erickson has 13 years of service.

Other directors whose terms did not expire and the number of years each has served on the board include: Donna Harder (20) and Bud Homme (3), District 1; Mitch Swanson (2) and Al Hanson (2), District 2; Laverne Hamre (25) and Anita Cardinal (5), District 3; Deb Quesnell (5) and Bill Ulrich (14), District 4; Kermit Finstad (11) and Ray Safranski (5), District 5; Norma Hanson (14), Goodridge; and Sharon Iverson (2), St. Hilaire.

Dates for the 1998 Pennington County Fair were set for July 14-19 and the Rogers Brothers Funland was contracted as the carnival for the 1998 exposition following its well-received performance at the 1997 fair.

Professional Bull Riders Association bull riding was tentatively scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, July 17 and 18, as one of the main attractions for the fair. No final decision has been made on the contracting of a major entertainer for a Thursday night grandstand show, July 16.

Contracting of entertainment for the free bandshell program schedule is likely to take place at the state convention of the Minnesota Association of County Fairs January 16-18 in St. Paul.

Operations Report

For the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1997, the Pennington County Fair Association had total receipts of $184,108 and expenditures of $176,374, leaving an ending cash balance of $9,020—the best balance in a number of years.

Operations in 1997 were helped greatly by generally favorable weather throughout the fair, which contributed to an all-time high of $28,105 in association receipts from carnival operations. The Rogers Brothers Funland carnival made its first appearance in Thief River Falls for the 1997 county fair and received many positive comments from people attending the fair.

Grandstand receipts and fund-raising totaled $63,104, an increase of nearly $9,500 from the previous year. Auto parking increased slightly to $3,611, state aids were up nearly $1,000 to $5,208 and county aid of $19,000 compared with $8,000 in 1996 and $14,000 in 1995.

Donations of $49,975 were up from $31,050 the previous year and resulted primarily from community support of Bullride '97 and a $10,000 donation from the Hanz Foundation to assist with payment of debt on the horse barn constructed a few years ago.

These increased receipts helped offset declines in space, booth and equipment rent from $15,210 a year ago to $11,506 in 1997 and a drop in premium book advertising from $2,559 to $28.

In 1997 the county fair association paid out $10,618 in premiums, down a few dollars from the previous two years, and paid $34,300 in various prizes—up sharply from $20,482 in 1996 and due largely to increased prizes for riders in Bullride '97.

From a purely operational standpoint the county fair showed a net loss of $3,463 based on revenue from operations of $79,404 and expense from conducting the fair of $82,868. This compares with an operational loss of $17,105 in 1996 and $5,049 in 1995. For 1998 the

Huffing and puffing won't blow straw home down

White Earth - After studying the concept for two years, Dean and Pam Kroulik, are building a house of straw.

Straw bales not only hold the structure but provide a very cost-effective insulation. While the average insulation put in a house has an R-factor of 19, straw insulation has an R-factor of 60. The higher the R-factor, the better insulated it is.

While the Krouliks got the idea for the straw house in Washington State where they lived for 18 years before moving to White Earth, they discovered in their research that straw houses have been around in Europe for nearly 700 years. The Mahnomen Pioneer

Bemidji Jaycees named No. 1

Bemidji - State Jaycee President Kelly Bevens delivered good news to the Bemidji Jaycees at a recent meeting.

Going into the October meeting the Bemidji Jaycees knew that they would be recognized as one of the top 10 chapters in the nation. Bevens attended the meeting to bring the even bigger news that the chapter was named No. 1 in recognition of its outstanding community involvement, success in recruiting new members and its business structure.

The Bemidji Water Carnival project is recognized nationally for the amount of involvement by local members and the proceeds that are raised that are filtered back into the community. The Pioneer
